THE JOHN J. FORD, JR. EXPERIENCE

By Jon Hanson

Shrewd, balding JJF (with bid card craftily displayed to auctioneer G. Bennett), watches Cal Steinberg (at left rear) run him up on lot #2064. Mrs. Steinberg innocently observes!

As a pre-teen—and crazy about coins, especially early American ones—I started attending California coin shows in the mid 1950s. While attending a PNG pre-show at the old Statler Hilton with my Dad, I was drawn to this individual "conducting court" behind the New Netherlands Coin Co. bourse table. Now, I had heard of the great JJF (as he liked to be called) but I had no idea what he looked like. I remember to this day the very first time I set eyes on him—a tall, dominating figure surrounded by dealers and collectors: talking, answering questions, and generally barking orders to folks counting stack upon stack of currency behind the table. It seemed that everyone wanted to talk to and schmooze with this person who was the absolute center of attraction. This loud and gregarious man simply stood out, yet I had no idea who he was. I asked someone (I think it was Walter Breen), "Who is this?" and Breen or someone else replied, THAT'S JOHN FORD! I couldn't take my eyes off him, and I hung around, captivated by his style, expertise, pontifications, and "gift of gab!" It immediately became obvious that this guy was special and that he had knowledge and expertise well beyond that of the general coin dealer and collector, on just about all American numismatic subjects. While I was well aware of NN sales, I quickly understood the connection—IT WAS OBVIOUS. Even Walter Breen lighted up at the mention of Ford, his employer, sponsor, and occasional adversary.

Anyway, I was introduced to John and I found him to be very friendly and incredibly interesting. We got on famously and after a year or so I attended coins shows not only to hunt for rare coins and sleepers but particularly to "hang around" the great Ford, to get first shot at NN coins being offered, and to "carry his bags." This "bag carrying" might sound strange to some, but being around him—hanging on every word— was a constant source of information and knowledge, insight, and fun (and, yes, I used to actually carry his bags when the occasion arose). For good reason, John and my Dad also became friendly, and I was in. I also remember once running into him in the late 1950s between connections, after he had left a coin show and was flying to Las Vegas: the non-stop chatter never stopped. JOHN WAS SIMPLY THE MOST ENTERTAINING PERSON I HAD EVER MET. Shortly thereafter he nickednamed me "Kid," which later became "Junior," or occasionally "Boy Wonder." Soon he became my mentor.

These coin show encounters became more frequent and were high points of the year for me. I was almost always the first person at the NN tables; however John always had his own way of doing things, much to the aggravation of Charles M. Wormser, (principal of NN) who always wanted JJF to dig out the goods and to make sales. John always seemed to be doing "other" things at these shows—reading, inspecting some coin or historical medal, proofreading something, researching or taking notes, writing in that damned day-timer of his (where he kept track of everything costing over 10 cents), and, as usual, getting constantly interrupted and answering hundreds of questions from friends, rivals or "newbies." One of the problems is that JJF was unable to give short answers. He would bark out to Wormser, "I'm in no hurry; we can always sell this stuff"; or, "I'm too busy right now, I'll get started after lunch when the bourse quiets down"; or "Patience, Maillert (Charles's middle name), can't you see I'm busy?" John lived for the action, but only on his own terms, and he could be very blunt, aggressive and sarcastic (as in addressing Charles by his middle name). The interesting thing was that people always seemed to be bringing him something to grade, authenticate or buy. John always remarked to me that I was the spitting image of him as a youngster, that I lacked patience (he often referred to it as "impetuous youth"), and how he, too—so wound up the night before a coin show that he couldn't sleep—always was the first one at the bourse door, panting before it opened and then racing in to hunt for bargains. A funny thing is that as he got older he changed his tactics and often remarked, "These boobs don't know what the good stuff is—it will still be there after the opening"; or "why kill myself in this rat race, 'the boys' usually bring it to me anyway because they don't know what the hell it is!" As the shows quieted down I usually got my first shot at the new material dug out of NN's vaults and, after lunch and "cleaning up" on great buys, downtime was spent answering questions from John. After several years at conventions, the New Netherlands bourse table became the classroom: John asking the questions, me answering them. "Homework" was a buzz word of his and I always did mine. John had great difficulty catching or stumping "the kid," as he usually called me, on questions concerning the regular U. S. series. Occasionally, we hotly debated—this was John's style. He loved playing the role of teacher but I really got to him once on another matter. While buying a group of United States coins I admitted to him that I had decoded the NN price and cost codes as a teen—that really got his attention (NN used three levels of codes, including the price they wanted, the minimum for Charles if JJF wasn't around, and their true cost). Wormser was in shock! And, of course, John ran me through the gauntlet, questioning me thoroughly to see if I really had figured out the complete code! At first he thought I was pulling his leg but he soon found out that I wasn't. The code was one which Charles's father, Moritz, longtime A.N.A. President, had devised and I still use it to this day. Although Charles was the principal of the company began by his father in 1936 John ran things most of the time while Wormser handled the financial details. John Ford brought in the customers, created the business and set the standard for excellence in the rare coin business—he was New Netherlands Coin Company.

As time went on, I began staying with John at some of the coin shows and I cannot tell you what an experience that was! The very first time I stayed in a hotel with him we stayed up until after 3:00 AM comparing notes. He was also doing things in the room I couldn't believe—I had never heard of such things. You see John was a clean fanatic about everything (probably due to living in New York). It ranged from lining the hotel drawers with towels, to wiping off the silverware, seat and table at restaurants, specially folding his clothes, setting up the bath, scrubbing everything down in the "john," stepping from his shoes into those slippers he carried with him (God forbid he touch the floor with bare feet!). Everything, including his dress, where he walked in the street, how and what he ate, and the home antics (including repair and maintenance)—even money seen lying in the streets of The City. His theory was "never touch a penny or a nickel in the dirty NYC streets"; a dime, "think about it'"; and a quarter, "grab it!" This was unbelievable to me, and as a first-time observer most of it was not only incredible but simply hilarious. It really took some getting used to, as he actually lived his life that way full-time! One of the classic Ford stories occurred on one of the many times that John and I had dinner at an Italian restaurant in Grand Central Station called Trattoria. One night, John, always dapper, decided to wear a brand new smart dark red and black plaid sport coat that he was rather proud of, though his wife Joan didn't particularly like it. John and I sit down to dinner and he proceeds to line the front of himself with linen napkins, tucking them in everywhere to protect his new jacket. We order some Italian dishes and John instantly becomes worried about the red tomato sauce and he, as was his custom, bends way over while eating so as not to splatter. After dinner he asks me, "Junior, did I get anything on the jacket?" "No, John," I reply after inspecting it thoroughly. "Are you sure?" "Yes, John—don't worry about it." So what do you think he said the next morning, after I arrived at the NN office? "Junior, you know that new red plaid jacket I wore last night? I couldn't stop worrying all night after our meal, so I took it in to the cleaners this morning just to be sure I didn't get anything on it!" Incredible, I thought, but that was classic JJF. Joan and I had one heck of a laugh about that one! John had his own ways and opinions on just about everything. I used to think that much of this was "crazy" but after the years passed I began to fully understand the significance of many of his ideas and teachings. I remember one day at a coin show how John began lecturing me on Life Saving medals and the importance of history, and how much he loved both. I remember thinking that this was crazy, especially when there were so many great coins out there to be hunted, acquired and collected. But John knew what he was doing and he was usually well ahead of the herd. In the mid-1980s, I started collecting Life Saving and presidential watches presented to captains for heroics at sea. John often referred to such unexpected insights as "graduation." John was unique in so many ways, though some of his fans could take only so much. As I get older, many of his sayings, remarks and ideas reverberate in my mind, and other things I thought odd or ridiculous at the time have proven to be absolutely true over 48 years of association with the great "Father" Ford (an endearment I started using when addressing John; it caught on and became popular with several other collectors and dealers of my generation). After a while he actually liked it!

You must understand that John was a great showman and that he had a great sense of humor—even when he was serious he was funny—sometimes incredibly funny either with his antics or remarks. One of these Fordisms occurred at his home when the late Freddie Werner brought some "boob" (a favorite term of John's) over to show John a coin. At John's house on Hendrickson Avenue in Rockville Centre you would have to remove your shoes in the mudroom before proceeding into the family room area (above his famous bomb shelter). So this "boob" removes his shoes per John's instructions but there is a hole in his sock and John promptly sprays the guy's foot with a disinfectant! John was serious, though most people who hear the story for the first time either roll on the floor or cannot believe such behavior.

John's stories never seemed to cease. He could discuss just about any subject, including politics, economics, history, building construction, medicine, health, the military, government, business, the stock market, famous people—you name it. Often well into the night, in person or via the telephone. John loved to yak on the phone and it got so bad in 1966 at New Netherlands, after he hired me to take over for Breen and then Taxay, that Wormser put a time limit on the company phone as well as John's home phone (by this time he worked at home about 80% of the time since I was handling things at the office). John and I literally spent months on the telephone, fine-tuning the style and phraseology of New Netherlands Coin Co. catalogues, beginning with the 59th sale, my first. It culminated with the 60th sale which he always considered his finest. John was always so occupied with detail that he simply did not have the time to write the many books and monographs he had planned. His personal correspondence and letters reflect his many interests. He occasionally commented that, of all his possessions, his library was the most prized among his vast collections. Knowledge was king and he practiced what he preached. John simply loved books and catalogues, and was a prolific researcher. His memory was second to none and he often quoted famous people such as Teddy Roosevelt and Winston Churchill, or his numismatic friends and mentors such as Wayte Raymond, Fred Boyd, and even his father. John had a number of favorite sayings, including "He couldn't sell a hungry man a sandwich"; "I'm buried up to his eyeballs"; "I'm working around the clock"; and "I'm fighting against time." John often spoke about "when the coin business was fun" (and still is). But he was responsible for all the fun!

One of the greatest JJF stories occurred when John and I went out to dinner in the early 1970s after working late at NN. John was always a fastidious dresser. On this particular early fall night, he was all dressed up: suit, tie, overcoat, etc., and he took me to a very fancy restaurant in the theater district. As we walked to the restaurant, John picked up a newspaper and, in his usual manner, selected one from the middle of the stack in the newspaper pay rack, in order to get a "mint, clean one" to read on the train ride home. When we arrived, the maitre d' seated us in a booth and we began looking through the menu. John was seated across from me and the booth was a large one with plenty of room, which he always requested. As we began reading the menu, accompanied by the usual Fordisms (comments about the menu, the cleanliness of the restaurant, the crowd, etc.), I casually looked over at him, and as I did, you will never believe what I saw—a giant cockroach over two and a half inches long and fat, slowly crawling up the wall above the table and towards John's side of the booth. I couldn't believe it, especially in this high class restaurant with many couples dressed "to the nines" in evening gowns and tuxedoes. I shouted, "John, look, there's a cockroach!" as I began to bust a gut, not having any idea what John might do. John looks up from the menu and starts to stare at the cockroach—speechless—and the damned cockroach stops dead in his tracks, as if John had hypnotized it. With that, John yells out: "This place is infested with cockroaches!" and the tuxedo-clad maitre d' rushes over and says, "What's the matter, what's the trouble," and John yells at him: "Look, there's a cockroach!" I start laughing, really laughing, while John continues to stare down the cockroach as the maitre d' reaches down beside John and picks up his "minty, unused" newspaper and smacks the cockroach, splat, on the wall. At this point I am laughing uncontrollably, doubled over sideways in the booth. Ford is bewildered, the restaurant is bedlam, some lady in an evening gown falls to the floor, and one of those flaming dinners nearly sets off the place. John is screaming about his newspaper and by this time I am laughing so hard that my sides hurt. The final comment from the maitre d' was: "We usually get some of these this time of year!" We left and my sides ached all night from laughing so hard. John was irate and this story spread like wildfire. I still tell this story (it's funnier in person) and still laugh at it myself. It has become so famous that even my college buddies, other numismatists and Ford fans, as well as my watch collector pals, often ask me to retell it. And, I am sure, John is still in disbelief! As the stories and his fame spread, friends of mine, even non-coin people, began to ask about "Father" Ford. I could tell hundreds of Ford stories and his antics. But many of the very best Ford stories were ones John himself told—he is one of the best story tellers of all time. John should have written a book on his life—it probably would have been a best seller. Besides being a great numismatist, the guy was just plain funny.

Some time after John hired me as his chief cataloguer (upon graduation from the University of Southern California in 1966) some of the younger crowd and I began referring to John as "Father." Being Catholic, he rather liked the term and I addressed him as such for many years. Long nightly conversations with him were a highpoint for many numismatists, especially after the usual "Father" Ford commentaries on personal and current events were delivered, which generally took up to 35-45 minutes. Then came the lectures—he was truly a teacher at heart. John had great ideas and interesting angles on many issues, and he was also tough, but if he liked you he would advise you to the nth degree; others not so fortunate, he would "straighten out" as he used to put it. John was very generous with his time, information, and counsel, almost to a fault. I particularly remember a famous coin deal he secured—the machinations he employed were pure genius. Upon learning about the ramifications, I remember thinking—this is unbelievable strategy! John was a great influence on me, but the one thing that sticks out is that he had a particular set of ideals and that he lived by them. He loved the coin business and the action, but he steadfastly believed in making money with items in which he believed. He was fanatical about correct attributions, descriptions, and grading. His idea was to paint a word picture for those who could not examine or view the items to be sold and he often remarked that it is expensive to sell a coin twice. My first effort, the 59th sale, produced absolutely no returns and he was quite pleased. The company handled huge hoards of 'Guidebook" material, as he called it, including proof sets, dollar bags, gold, commemoratives, rolls of uncirculated Lincoln cents, bags of large cents, even uncirculated early American coins by the roll—some of which were left over from the old Frossard, Wayte Raymond inventories. Continuing to handle the "crap or garbage," as he referred to it, was not his style. John loved to deal in history; Betts and other American medals were a favorite. I also remember speaking to him about pioneer gold collecting and he advised: "Buy the key coins of a sexy historical series, because you can always buy the common stuff. Own the key coins and you have the series!" He possessed a particular collecting philosophy, which he adhered to for decades. His incredible success and sense of timing have been proved right.

There was never a dull moment at the office, located in the old Longines Whittnauer Building at 1 West 47th (corner of 47th & 5th Avenue), #401 (the stories I could tell about that oldfashioned office; it was like going back in time). Another famous JJF saying around the New Netherlands office during arguments with C.MW was that Charles' contribution to the New Netherlands auction sale catalogues was selecting the color of the cover! The very first time I heard him say this, I remember thinking—how does he get away with it? Mrs. Neary, Charles's longtime secretary, was always appalled by these types of remarks. John was simply blunt and he usually said what he thought. The guy could be rough, but around the ladies and in non-business or mixed company JJF was the model of good manners and was invariably respectful. Another funny episode occurred in France when John took me to Europe for three and a half weeks. I remember thinking: how will I be able to stand being on an airplane for eight hours; then I remembered it would be with the great JJF. In no time we arrived, as John entertained me with nonstop talk nearly the entire trip. John loved to smoke big Havana-type cigars, and openly boasted how he at one time had one of his contacts smuggle them in from Cuba! Anyway, one Sunday in 1989 while in Paris, both of us dressed up in suits and seated in a fashionable restaurant. John remarked that quite a few of the patrons in for brunch were smoking cigarettes; so John asks me: "Kid, do you think they would allow me to smoke a cigar? (not wanting to make a stink). " I replied, "I don't know, John, but I'll summon the hostess and ask!" So this great looking 40ish hostess in four inch spike high heals with fabulous legs is beckoned over and I ask, "My friend wants to know if he can smoke a cigar?" Irritated, and looking annoyed at such a question from an obvious American, this lady slouches one hip to her side, places both hands on her hips and, in a deep, deep sexy French accent replies: "THIS IS FRANCE, YOU CAN SMOKE ANYTHING YOU LIKE!"As he lighted up, John was totally flabbergasted and we talked about this gal and her response the rest of the trip! He thoroughly enjoyed himself that morning and often remarked: "that lady was something!" John liked France and the language, and actually took French lessons many years prior to that trip. I'll never forget that Sunday—John spent the rest of the day in the hotel proofreading some numismatic manuscript, while I spent the day out on the town and had a great time, particularly since we were there during the 100th anniversary celebration of the Eiffel Tower. Upon my return, we went to dinner and John quizzed me on my day and added historical flavor to most of the places I visited—he knew them all. Boy, was he well versed.

John had an angle on just about everything from trading to cleanliness. The very first thing JJF gave me upon my arrival in New York City in September of 1966 was a box of handiwipes, which John constantly used throughout the day. He even had the individual packets lettered, "Compliments of clean living from John J. Ford, Jr.", or some such saying. One night in 1973, John took me out to an Italian restaurant on Long Island which he especially liked, and we were discussing the purchase of his house in Long Island, as he eventually wanted to move to Arizona. (What a coin person's dream that house was, with a good sized walk-in vault and safes sunk in the walls beside the separate bomb shelter, which was designed to be encapsulated in water during a nuclear attack on the basement! The condition of the house was absolutely immaculate—I know, having lived there in 1966 for nearly a month. John was an expert on construction and maintenance; he actually kept an exact record of every dime spent on the place. I believe it was the only time he lost money, except for a few cheap stocks.) Anyway, we are sitting in this restaurant, and we begin eating a large antipasto salad. John was a particular eater (he hated butter, bread, anything fatty or greasy; and everything had to be prepared just right; occasionally he even inspected the kitchen!) and I am one too, each of us liking certain things in the salad. John (much to the utter disbelief of the waitress) decides to begin trading the ingredients in the salad, something like: I'll trade you these two radishes for three olives but you can give me the mushrooms for half the green peppers, etc., etc. True to form, this continued until the salad was entirely finished. This was classic JJF, but I was used to it and actually liked the "trading" as it was part of the game! Another "deal" occurred in California when John asked me to buy at auction an early walking cane owned by a famous pioneer gold personality. I bought the cane for John and, guess what? It prompted a state sales tax audit! The state board of equalization thought that I had used my resale tax number to buy a collectible for my personal use, when in fact I bought it on commission for JJF and had mailed it to him. Can you imagine explaining to some tax auditor the numismatic significance of an historical cane as an association item? During the audit, while explaining about JJF, producing postage receipts, etc., etc., I suddenly remembered a verbose letter from John (he could write them) and its last sentence was: "And whatever you do, kid, don't break the cane." Letter produced. End of audit!

A life filled with the John J. Ford Jr. Experience—the association, the friendship, the philosophy, the education, the deals, the antics, and the fun—has been an unmatchable one! Where did the time go—it went by much too quickly; but I could go on here for days. John is one of a kind, totally unique. There will never be another.

March 2005, on JJF's 81st birthday

NUMISMATICA FORDIANA: MEMORIES OF JOHN J. FORD, JR.

By Q. David Bowers

What to say about John J. Ford? There is so much to contemplate, but so little space. Here are some remembrances of things past, to which others can certainly add comments as to things present, as John, although not in good health, is very much with us today. Years ago JJF anticipated that I would write a book-length biography, and we had a number of recording sessions. The tapes, as yet untranscribed, await the future.

In the meantime a good deal of Ford-iana can be found in my Commemorative Coins of the United States: A Complete Encyclopedia, 1992, and in Silver Dollars and Trade Dollars of the United States: A Complete Encyclopedia, 1993. An excerpt from the Commemorative book, JJF speaking:

> I was born in Hollywood, California. My father had moved out there in the early 1920s and was quite flush with money as he was involved with the United Artists film people—Charlie Chaplin, Mary Pickford, Douglas Fairbanks, Sr.—as a money raiser or money man or something....
> We moved to New York about 1926 because in 1925-1926 he had some business misfortune in California. So, our family had these commemoratives, but I didn't know what they were. I was only two years old at the time. By 1932, when the Depression got really bad, we were living in Jackson Heights in Queens, which is about four or five miles from New York City. My father's partner had committed suicide in 1929, and my father was wiped out. He was really scrounging. Money was very, very tight in 1932, when I was eight years old. I went to a parochial school, St. Joan of Arc, and on the way home from school there was a German bakery, and we used to buy our bread and rolls there.

John and I were and still are each fond of P.T. Barnum, and each of us enjoy promotions (in a nice way where everyone has a good time). At the recent R.M. Smythe & Co. sale of the Schingoethe Collection, Part II, I was underbidder at about $6,250, on a currency note from Bridgeport, CT, picturing Barnum and his opulent Iranistan mansion. Today, Barnum is one of the most misunderstood figures in American history.

In some ways, JJF is misunderstood as well. I probably know him as well as any numismatist living today, and may be the only one who has kept notes of the many interactions we have had for years. I like to think that he is like the proverb of the blind men describing an elephant: one touched its trunk and said it was like a hose, another touched its side and said the animal was similar to a wall, and a third came into contact with the tail and concluded that an elephant was like a rope.

Briefly, JJF is one of the most important, most influential figures in American numismatics. It is an irony that John has not been inducted into the ANA Hall of Fame, nor did he appear on the list of "Numismatists of the Century" compiled by COINage magazine, from a survey conducted a few years back. While the COINage survey is historic, I herewith nominate JJF to the ANA Board of Directors for inclusion in the Hall of Fame.

And yet, JJF has had his share of controversy. The "situation" concerning certain Western ingots and assay bars is still a matter of study and debate—and must be mentioned here, lest readers overlook the main thrust of this article and wonder why I didn't mention it. So there!

John might be but a footnote in numismatics today, had he not miraculously walked away from an airplane crash in the late 1940s. At one time he was a photographer, and he was on an assignment, when things went terribly wrong. However, he was lucky.

At another time he worked for Lever Brothers, the maker of soap and household goods. Among his anecdotes concerning this stint was the day that he was dispatched to call on a lady who had written to the firm, stating that part of a razor blade had protruded from a bar of soap, and that in bathing she had cut her arm and shoulder. Company emissary JJF arrived at her home with a nice box filled with gift soap, and all was well. (Try that today!)

Returning to the "most influential" part, JJF single-handedly revolutionized the techniques of American coin catalogues—introducing, with the help of Walter Breen, many comments about history, mintage techniques, numismatic tradition, and more. If you are in the slightest doubt of this, take a New Netherlands catalogue from, say, 1955, and compare it with the catalogues of anyone else. There is no comparison in readability or the transmitting of information.

In 1958 when I wrote the first issue of Empire Topics (which over a long period of time evolved into, sort of, the Empire Review, the Rare Coin Review, and the present-day Numismatic Sun), both JJF and Walter Breen critiqued it. The publication was an instant success, and in short order had such contributors as Breen, Eric P.

Newman, and Ken Bressett. JJF promised an article, but never got around to do it. In fact, he did not have time to do much of anything that reached print, except New Netherlands catalogues. Perhaps that is why he wanted me to write a book about him. Heaven knows, I have enough anecdotes. I guarantee that if the book is ever published, it will be interesting—not because of my writing it, but because of the subject.

The Early Days

I first met John in the early 1950s, in late 1952 or early 1953. By the latter year I had been immersed in numismatics for all of a year, had read voraciously, had a small but decent library, and had come to know the players in the field of numismatic research and history—this being a special interest. I've always enjoyed "coin people" and their experiences. Once, I suggested to B. Max Mehl that he write his autobiography. "Why don't you do it for me," he suggested. I never did. Probably a mistake.

Among the numismatic figures I met in the early days of my interest, John Ford was especially prominent. I had admired his recent but now discontinued "Numismatica Americana" series in The Numismatist, as readable today in 2005 as a half century ago. The catalogues he co-wrote (with Walter Breen) for the New Netherlands Coin Company were still very much in progress in the mid-1950s, and it was always a treat to receive one in my mailbox. After sampling a few, I determined to get them all. The firm had been founded in 1936, and some of the publications of the early years were scarce. I soon learned that I could live without these rarities, for the new era of New Netherlands cataloguing style began with the 1952 ANA Convention, and it was easy to bring my library up to date from there.

John took an instant liking to me, and vice-versa. At an early time he said he reminded me of himself in his youth—starting as a teenager, learning everything there was to know about pattern coins (in particular), and going around to different dealers buying patterns that were not identified as such. We both came from families without much money, although his was virtually destitute, while mine at least had basic comforts of life.

This lack of security prompted John to look out for himself at an early age. In later years he considered his financially deprived childhood to have been a great advantage. I have to agree. It has been my observation that some of the most dynamic people in numismatics and in life are those who have cut their way through. I recall Ambassador R. Henry Norweb, a man with great inherited wealth, saying to me that being born with a silver spoon (although he did not use those words) was in many ways a disadvantage.

Seeking Knowledge in the 1950s

In the 1950s, basic information about rare coins was difficult to locate easily, apart from what might be found in the current edition of the Guide Book. Building a library of old books (there were not many new ones) was not an option, it was a necessity for anyone interested in gaining knowledge and expertise.

Most dealers were not interested in such things, which provided great advantages for those who were.

So it was in the early 1950s, when the only book on patterns was the Adams-Woodin text of 1913, and most dealers did not have a copy. By that time I had almost memorized the contents, and already I could point to quite a few finds made at regional coin shows, in which a coin posing as a regular issue was in fact a pattern—such as an 1859 Indian cent with the reverse having an oak wreath and shield, not supposed to be there on a regular issue, or a Liberty Seated silver coin of 1863-1865 with the unexpected motto IN GOD WE TRUST on the back side.

In my early conversations with JJF, he mentioned that the Adams-Woodin book was a key to his early financial success. Abe Kosoff in particular handled a lot of coins, but knew very little about patterns. Ford cherrypicked many rarities from him and from other New York City dealers. In the late 1930s and very early 1940s he made the rounds of various shops and offices and bought unusual "stuff" that dealers had purchased in connection with collections and bulk lots.

The situation had not changed much in this regard. Those who were aware of pattern coins, unusual varieties of colonials, obscure tokens, and the like could buy them cheaply. When sold to the small community of specialists in these series, handsome profits could be made. And yet, there were many areas overlooked. I recall that on occasion my customers would pay for their invoices with quantities of old large-size National Bank notes, at face value. A typical comment was: "I've been saving these things, but I don't know why. Maybe you can use them."

John liked to call me "the Boy Wonder," because, he said, that is what people called him when he was a teenager, and I reminded him of this.

At the Office

As time went on I got to know John Ford better, often immersing myself in conversations regarding tokens issued in New York City, or the United States Assay Office of Gold in San Francisco, or numismatic literature—these being but several interests we shared. He invited me to his home on numerous occasions, and also into his back office at New Netherlands Coin Company, located on the fourth floor at the corner of Fifth Avenue and 47th Street, New York City, the old premises of the Scott Stamp and Coin Company.

Perhaps there are some readers today who can remember the New Netherlands layout. The premises were, shall I say, somewhat basic and minimal—probably not having seen the hand of a decorator for a generation. After alighting from the elevator and walking across a hard asphalt-linoleum type floor for a few feet, the visitor was confronted with a frosted glass pane, illuminated from behind, leading to New Netherlands' office.

Upon opening the door a counter was seen, done at a right angle, the form of a carpenter's square or ell, with several chairs arranged in front, in the inside corner. The counter was low, and under a glass top were seen various tokens, sheets of obsolete paper money, and other items of interest.

A protective wall was behind the counter at both angles, with a one-way mirror permitting a view of the goings-on out front by anyone who wished to view from the back.

The staff basically consisted of three people: Charles M. Wormser, the president of the company and the greeter of most customers (unless they had a technical numismatic interest), his secretary, and John Ford. Ford's office was in the back.

Walter Breen had a desk close to the back side of the one-way mirror, but was rarely there. Instead, he worked by making notes in the office and doing his writing in his local apartment. However, on occasion he was on the premises to examine and classify coins or to meet selected clients.

Walter Breen could not sell his way out of a paper bag, so to speak, but John Ford was a consummate salesman and promoter—likely a candidate to sell a refrigerator to an Eskimo or a laptop computer to Bill Gates.

Born with a natural gift for enthusiasm and salesmanship, Ford could make just about anything seem interesting, and he did. I was a ready customer for all sorts of things of which I knew very little. A rare token would be explained, price given, and I would buy it, scarcely having been aware of such an item earlier.

John was a virtual walking encyclopedia of numismatic knowledge. It would be very difficult to mention anything in the American or Canadian series for which he did not have information. He had other knowledge as well—from literature and history, although he never was educated beyond high school. He enjoyed tweaking dealers who did not recognize what he was saying. With great savoir faire he told a prominent Midwestern dealer that he was "mendacious," and the listener basked in the compliment. On another occasion he told a New York City dealer that his business methods were Machiavellian. Again, the recipient was flattered at receiving such praise. These stories are from JJF, as I wasn't there when they happened. I suppose this was in the best tradition of P.T. Barnum, who invited people to go to the "egress," seemingly a new attraction.

New Netherlands catalogues were prepared by describing the coins on sheets of hand-written notes (Walter Breen's favorite) and typed notes. After some checking back and forth the information was sent to the printer, who in time returned long white galley proofs. These were marked up by hand by JJF and Walter, sometimes with notes from an outsider (a few were sent to me), then returned to be corrected and printed.

At the Home

Each day during this era John Jay Ford was a commuter on the Long Island Railroad, to and from New York City. He and most others grew used to the procedure and even enjoyed it, providing time for reading and catching up with inner thoughts and plans. He lived at 176 Hendrickson Avenue, Rockville Centre, out in Long Island, with his wife Joan and, eventually, three daughters. Somewhere in a New Netherlands catalogue there is a "Henderson Consignment," thinly disguising the owner, JJF.

The Ford home was comfortable and sort of typically American—what one might find on small lot on a street in a suburb where space is precious. In later years he drove a Lincoln Continental, often parked in the driveway on the right side of the house. In the 1950s and 1960s, when there was a national movement to build bomb shelters, to stock emergency provisions, and the like, John built a huge and expensive shelter/coin vault underground, far exceeding the original cost of his house. In it he kept most of his rare coins and paper money. Few were allowed into the inner sanctum.

Numismatic books, newspapers, correspondence, and files were tucked here and there in Ford's home, usually in piles, but not sorted or arranged. John always talked of the future—of books he was going to write, projects he was going to do.

The Standard Catalogue

John J. Ford's two mentors in later years were Wayte Raymond and E.C.C. Boyd. Both lived in the area (Raymond in New York City, with a summer place in Montauk, on the tip of Long Island) and Boyd in New York City and New Jersey.

Raymond had founded the Standard Catalogue in 1934. In the 1950s, with a thought to posterity, he hired Walter Breen to do research and transferred certain of his publishing interests to Ford. After Raymond died, on September 23, 1956, many if not most of his American coins, tokens, and medals were purchased by John J. Ford, Jr., for his personal collection, and the New Netherlands Coin Co.

Ford, captain of the Standard Catalogue, put out one edition after Raymond's passing, the 18th, which appeared in 1958. It was envisioned that the Standard Catalogue would be vastly improved and issued on a regular, rather than on an occasional, basis. This never happened. This project and others were under the aegis of Ford Numismatic Publications, run by Ford, but with funds provided by a local automobile dealer, Werner Amelingmaier. In time, this new firm would update and publish reference books on most American series, many volumes to incorporate the scholarship of Walter Breen. This never happened. However, in 1958 Ford Numismatic Publications issued a new version of Early American Cents, retitled Penny Whimsy, with Walter Breen and Dorothy Paschal contributing to the original Sheldon work.

Ford's other mentor, actually more of a numismatic pal, was E.C.C. Boyd (1886-1958), who in his twenties and thirties had been a leading dealer in rare coins. Later, he was an executive for the Union News Co. By stint of his own efforts he became a wealthy man.

Boyd collected anything and everything in the American series. In the early 1940s he tired of certain specialties, and through Abe Kosoff and the Numismatic Gallery (Abner Kreisberg became a partner in 1944) he sold his patterns as a lot (Kosoff then sold them to King Farouk), while the silver and gold issues were auctioned under the title of "The World's Greatest Collection" in 1945 and 1946. If you ever want an eye-opening in regard to old and new scholarship, just compare Numismatic Gallery's catalogue style and descriptions with those of New Netherlands a decade later.

After Boyd died in 1958, JJF acquired many fabulous items for his own collection—including colonial and early paper, colonial coins, tokens, and medals.

Other Affiliations

In the meantime, a perfectionist by heart, Ford was occupied with the later New Netherlands catalogue or other matters of the moment. He never did find time to expand and dig into the many publishing projects he envisioned, although he did facilitate others. He was ever-willing to give advice to a few of his "pet" companies, including NASCA (Numismatic and Antiquarian Service Corporation of America), for which he was the guiding light, this being after his main activity with New Netherlands was left behind.

NASCA, based in Rockville Centre, was envisioned as being a numismatic Utopia—staffed by world-class experts and turning out catalogues that were masterpieces of scholarship. Indeed, several luminaries were on hand, including Douglas Ball, Carl W.A. Carlson, and Martin Gengerke, among others. JJF fed a steady stream of consignments to its auctions and in general dictated policy. I am not aware that it ever turned much of a profit. Today, its catalogues stand high for their scholarship and are a valuable addition to a fine library.

Stanley Apfelbaum formed First CoinVestors in Albertson, not far from Rockville Centre. This was a promotional outfit, mainly set up to sell coins to investors. However, for a long time Walter Breen was an icon on the staff and readily signed various certificates and assurances to buyers. JJF sold a lot of "deals" to Apfelbaum, mainly things he was able to buy in quantity through his numismatic connections. It was Apfelbaum who, when accused of selling vastly overgraded coins, blamed professional dealers, stating that he had been "taken." This sowed the seeds in the early 1970s for what became the American Numismatic Association Certification Service (ANACS). Apfelbaum worked with Abe Kosoff in the early planning.

In 1973, John J. Ford, Jr. became the first recipient of the prestigious Professional Numismatists Guild Founders Award, the highest honor bestowed on members by the guild.

Tweaking

From time to time John would have a favorite or pet researcher, with Walter Breen being the first of several. I was certainly in this category for a brief time, but I always was independent, and did not automatically agree with everything John said. This was a negative, for JJF wanted a strong loyalty, no questions asked. Actually, this was not completely the case, for if a favorite researcher correctly challenged Ford and introduced new material or scholarship, Ford would be lavish in his praise. Otherwise it was sort of, "be quiet and listen." On several occasions JJF asked me to be his business partner, the ultimate compliment, perhaps.

I often enjoyed teasing John, or "tweaking" might be a better term. Although the New Netherlands business was conducted in a first class manner, setting a high standard for authenticity, grading, and knowledgeable comments, it was fun to point out a few cracks in the façade, even though some searching was needed to find them.

Once John mentioned to me that he would never sell a reprint piece of currency from an old plate, and he vociferously decried someone else doing so. I then reminded him that years earlier in the New Netherlands showcase there were some modern reprints from old Chemicograph plates for Confederate notes. After turning slightly red and doing a double take, John, as always, had an explanation: that originals were not available anyway, these were for educational purposes, and the proceeds, or at least part of them, were going to a university library.

In another instance he mentioned that he had never had a coin returned because it was proven to be false. Well, just about any coin dealer in business has had a problem with the unknowing purchase of a forgery or fake, but not New Netherlands, or so it was alleged.

Scratching the deep recesses of my memory, I reminded John that he had told me that at one time he purchased a 1936 "Dot" Canadian cent, sold it, but later found it was a fake—and made an immediate refund. He seemed to have forgotten this. Of course, he was hoist on his own petard, as the saying goes, for I would not have known about it if he had not related the incident to me.

Anyway, this was good fun and good sport, challenging each other.

John had an interesting social persona. First and foremost he was a family man. Unlike many in the coin trade, he was never tempted by a lady of the night, nor did he lose his reason over too many glasses of ardent spirits. John did love red wine, had his favorite labels, and endeavored to educate others on the subject. John also loved cigars, preferably Cuban, and many were the boxes of such I paid for as a "tip" when he found me a rare colonial coin or piece of paper money, by spotting it in some dealer's stock and directing me to its purchase.

Now and again John and Joan would take a vacation trip—not often. Las Vegas was a favorite destination of Dave's, sometimes in company with Philadelphia dealer Harry Forman. He also enjoyed traveling around with Paul Franklin, who resided in Massapequa, not far from Rockville Centre, but who enjoyed poking around in old Western mining towns and the like.

Perhaps because of memories from his impecunious childhood, John would rarely treat others at a gathering of dealers. I recall that after one spectacular sale held by New Netherlands, JJF said to his dealer friends, perhaps a dozen in all the big spenders in the sale: "Let's all go to Mamma Leone's for a late-night dinner. I know the 'maitre' and will give him a call to make a reservation."

At the restaurant we all had a good time. Then came the moment: the presentation of the bill to JJF, who seemed to be the host. John took the bill, checked the math (he always did this), then said, "Dave, your share is such-and-such," around the table. About halfway through this, Abner Kreisberg, perhaps the most generous if not altruistic dealer I have ever met, stood up and said, "Hey, give me the check."

Over a long period of time I had many dinners at Mamma Leone's. He did, indeed, know the maitre d, who would always come by the table and chat—such as about a party or dinner the restaurant had done for the Eisenhowers out in Gettysburg, Pennsylvania, or for Jack Kennedy and friends in a private room on premises.

Over the Edge (Almost)

I made it a point to attend most of the New Netherlands sales in New York City in the mid-1950s. At one particular event there was a marvelous collection of Hard Times tokens, anchored by multiple examples of the rare variety known as Low-1, with the portrait of Andrew Jackson. John Ford was after some of these for his own account, and so was Donald Miller, the latter also being a fine friend of mine, and an attorney from Indiana, Pennsylvania.

This particular sale was held high on the penthouse terrace of a New York City hotel, in which there were meeting rooms and also a bar, a setting ideal for a wedding reception or some other event. Don had a few drinks too many, and while passing a $500 bill around to the bar patrons to whet their interest and curiosity, found to his consternation that it had disappeared—nowhere in sight, no one knew where it was. To this day it is probably still missing.

Miller was after one of the rarer sub-varieties of Low-1, as was Ford. I don't remember all the details, but whatever happened, the two became involved in a vicious argument and shouting match on the open terrace outside of the bar. Miller grabbed Ford and pushed him against a low wall at the side of the terrace, with the street visible many floors below. A great struggle took place, and it seemed that Ford was about to be thrown to eternity, when a bunch of bystanders, including me, rushed to the scene and pulled Miller away, in effect saving Ford. If Ford had nine lives and used one up in the airplane accident, a second was used here!

Luckily, calmness soon prevailed and the auction continued as planned.

John had what could be called a steel-trap mind, a memory for trivia. He was an avid buyer not only of standard numismatic books, but, delightfully, of related histories, directories, and just about everything else. Moreover, he actually read or at least skimmed through what he bought.

In Later Times

Fast forward to more recent times, about 10 to 15 years ago, John approached me with the idea of doing a biographical book on his career, this in connection with the planned sale of his numismatic collections—the scope and form of which had not taken place yet. During this time we conducted the recording and note-taking sessions mentioned earlier.

However, John's motto was, "Sell from the bottom," and every once in a while he would send a nice consignment our way. For example, we handled many of his Vermont copper coins, but these were his duplicates, not his main collection. We handled lots of other things, mostly sold anonymously or under the Boyd or Raymond names. For my own collection I bought whatever I wanted from the Raymond-Boyd-Ford collection of counterstamped coins, all of which I still have and enjoy. I made a great mistake in one purchase: I wanted to own an original copper-nickel 1861 Confederate cent. John told me he had seven of them (out of 12 said to have been struck), and sold me one. In a moment of temptation, or whatever, I sold it—immediately regretting what I had done. I asked JJF if he would sell me another, but there was no way!

Somehow, John found the time to copy-edit several of my books and to write the introduction to one of my favorites. Whenever I turned out a new volume I would send him one, often two, one for "keeping" and the other for reading. John was a perfectionist concerning the condition of books and catalogues. If perchance one of our auction catalogues, Rare Coin Review issues, or something else arrived with a slight crease on a corner, he would call to get a replacement. Like as not, this would be carefully packaged and sent between two stiff pieces of cardboard. Also, if there was an error of fact under Lot 2321 on page 327 of the catalogue, John would find it and not only tell me about it once, but remind me of it often! Of course, this today is a fond memory—and even at the time I appreciated the constructive criticism, even if not phrased gently!

There is so much more to be said about my friend John, one of the greatest numismatic figures of all time, but I hope you've enjoyed this brief sketch. Now, to the matter at hand:

George Kolbe's presentation of the Ford library is at once magnificent and a bit bittersweet, the last in view of the fact that at one time John Ford had so many ideas to utilize the volumes in books and other research publications, but these never came to pass. However, it is indeed fortunate that a new generation can share these treasures.

His books and catalogues are a reflection of what a numismatic library should be, but usually is not. The basic reference works and auction catalogues are there, but equally important to JJF were city directories, mining guides, and other Americana that often furnished inspirations and clues to numismatic research.

I cherish the purchases I have already made in the Ford Library Sale Part I, nearly all of which were obscure things, and I plan to be a participant in the next event. How exciting!

TERMS OF SALE

1. This is a public and mail bid auction sale. All lots will be sold to the highest bidder. Mail bids will be treated as limits and lots will be purchased below the maximums where competition permits. Lots will be sold on the date indicated.

2. Seven and three quarter percent sales tax will be added to the cost of all lots delivered in California.

3. All floor sales are final. No lots may be returned for any reason by floor buyers. Any claims for adjustment by mail bidders must be made within three days after receipt of books. No lot may be returned without our written permission. By submitting your bids you agree to the Terms of Sale herewith set forth.

4. Bidders unknown to us must supply acceptable credit references or a 25% deposit to assure entry of their bids. The prices indicated after each lot are estimates of value only and are intended solely as a guide. The prices realized may be higher or lower than these valuations.

5. A fifteen percent buyer's premium will be added to the cost of all lots. There is no additional charge or commission for executing your bids. We reserve the right to withdraw any lot prior to sale.

6. All postage, insurance and shipping charges will be added to your invoice. There will be a $3.00 charge per lot for packing and processing. A late payment fee of 2% per month will be charged on all accounts remaining unpaid thirty days after the date of the sale.

7. Terms of this sale are strictly cash in United States funds only. Foreign payments must be made in U. S. dollars and all checks must be drawn on United States banks. Bids from minors cannot be accepted without written and signed parental permission.

8. Lots to be mailed to addresses not in the United States or its Territories will be sent only at the risk of the purchaser. Where possible, insurance or registration will be obtained; it must be noted, however, that adequate insurance or registration is often not available by surface or air mail.

9. Title to all lots remains with the cataloguer until paid for in full. Payment must be made immediately upon notification or, at our option, upon receipt of material. The discretionary right to withhold delivery of lots until full payment has been received is reserved.

10. All books are as described. We acknowledge the possibility of errors or typographical mistakes, and any errors on our part will be cheerfully corrected. We cannot be responsible for your errors; please check your bid sheet carefully.

Unless stated otherwise, all books are bound; all periodicals and auction sale catalogues are in the original paper covers. Books without descriptions of condition or format may be assumed to be nice clean copies in the octavo range. Sizes are not always noted for auction catalogues and periodicals. All serious defects are noted.

Small book labels incorporating the "JF Logo" have been affixed to the inside covers of most volumes

1003 • [American Newspapers]. SEVEN EIGHTEENTH AND NINETEENTH CENTURY NEWSPAPERS FEATURING CONTENT OF NUMISMATIC INTEREST. As follows: The Massachusetts Gazette, Boston, November 7, 1786, a bit discolored, mounted on a blank sheet at gutter margin; The Minerva, & Mercantile Evening Advertiser, New-York, April 12, 1797, once bound; General Advertiser, Philadelphia, November 29, 1799; Portland Gazette, and Maine Advertiser, Portland, January 13, 1806, minor waterstaining; The New York Journal of Commerce, New York, December 1, 1835; The Daily Union, Washington, December 19, 1849; The Democrat, Bangor, July 26, 1864. Various newspaper formats. Generally very good. Also included are photostatic reproductions of the June 27, 1776 The New-York Journal; or, the General Advertiser and the July 3, 1776 The Pennsylvania Gazette. (150.00)

The 1786 Gazette includes an early printing of the October 16, 1786 "An Ordinance for the Establishment of the Mint of the United States of America, and for Regulating the Value and Alloy of Coin"; the 1797 Minerva features a Rickett's New Circus advertisement, as does the 1799 Advertiser; the 1806 Portland Gazette notes that "A medal in honor of the memory of Washington has been struck at Philadelphia, under the direction of J. Reich…Proof impressions in gold are sold at 50 dollars, silver at 5. A description follows…"; the 1835 Union includes an article from the Philadelphia Gazette entitled "Old American Coins," describing "a small collection (10 pieces) of American copper coins issued before the establishment of the present government…"; the 1849 Union features a long article comprising "California correspondence from an Overland Emigrant" from Sutter's Fort with much of numismatic and gold rush interest, such as "There is a private mint established at San Francisco which pays $16 per ounce for dust, and makes money at that. In coining and circulating it," describing a well executed Miner's Bank piece "except the milling on the edge," a detailed account of Mormon gold, particularly the "Double eagle," etc.; and the 1864 Democrat features a long, salacious account of "Corruption at Washington!" The Treasury Building a House of Prostitution" disclosing "a mass of immorality and profligacy, the more atrocious as these women were employees of [Spencer] Clark, Superintendent of the Note Printing Bureau [,] selected in the printing bureau for their youth and personal attractions."

1004 • [American Newspapers]. THIRTY NINETEENTH CENTURY CALIFORNIA & WESTERN NEWSPAPERS. As follows: Daily Pacific News, San Francisco, April 5, 1851; The San Francisco Daily Herald, San Francisco, July 29, 1851, November 14, 1852, January 24, 1853, February 20, 1853, March 17, 1853, March 22, 1853, March 28, 1853, & December 25, 1849; Marysville Herald, Marysville, December 18, 1851; Daily Alta California, January 25, 1852, January 29, 1852, February 11, 1852, April 28 1854, November 7, 1854, & November 14, 1854; The California Farmer, San Francisco, July 27 1854, & October 30, 1857; New-York Tribune. For Circulation in California, Oregon, Sandwich Islands, &c., April 5 1855, & May 5, 1855; Sacramento [Daily] Union—Supplement, July 2, 1859, & August 22, 1859; Sacramento Daily Union, July 2, 1859, July 27, 1859, August 1, 1859 Double Sheet, September 28, 1859, & December 24, 1859 Double Sheet; Mercantile Gazette and Prices Current, San Francisco, May 28, 1860; The Daily Arizonan, Prescott November 2, 1879; Mechanics' Fair Daily, September 6, 1882, including single sheet supplements. Various newspaper formats. Generally good or better. Also included are a printed facsimile of The Guaymas Courier, Sonora, April 22, 1865; photostatic reproductions of pages from 1850 issues of the San Francisco Daily Journal of Commerce containing articles of considerable numismatic interest; and multiple photostatic reproductions of two contemporary newspaper pages concerning the 1866 San Francisco Nitro-Glycerine Explosion. (500.00)

A treasury of information. The 1851 Daily Pacific News features a fascinating article on "Private Coinage", the San Francisco Daily Herald includes articles concerning the November 24, 1852 arrival from Panama of the Winfield Scott, interesting mining news, an 1853 article on "Correction of the Sea Passage Tables—Gold Ingots—Seigniorage," etc.; the 1851 Marysville Herald features an advertisement of the "U. S. Assay Office, Montgomery Street, San Francisco. Moffat & Co… under the supervision of Augustus Humbert…"; the Daily Alta containing multiple items of gold discoveries, the loss of the Steamship Arctic, and much of general interest; in the October 30, 1857 is a notice that "Business in this city in San Francisco will be closed to-morrow, to prepare for the general settlement. No gold will be received and the mints will not be open." The 1859 Sacramento Daily Union features much interesting mining news, Banking and Assaying Houses advertisements, etc.; and The Daily Arizonan contains a column on "Mining Notes"

1005 • American Numismatic Association. ORIGINAL CONVENTION PHOTOGRAPH: "ANNUAL BANQUET, AMERICAN NUMISMATIC ASSOCIATION, HOTEL PENNSYLVANIA, OCTOBER 4, 1939, NEW YORK CITY." New York: Drucker-Hilbert, [1939]. Original photographic print. 47.5 x 28 cm. Paper backing a bit browned. Image very fine. (150.00)

Apparently the first of many annual American Numismatic Association conventions attended by John J. Ford, Jr., who is depicted here, well to the background as a serious appearing looking fifteen year old. Then as now, numismatics was an older man's game and many, if not most, attendees depicted herein are well into their 50s or older. Few if any are in Ford's age group; some of the more youthful faces include a Benjamin-looking Denis Grunthal, a dapper James Kelly, Abe and Molly Kosoff, and a svelte Hans Schulman. This photograph is depicted on page 529 of the November 1939 issue of The Numismatist where Ford's visage is scarcely identifiable.

1007 ⌖ Belden, Bauman L., Director, American Numismatic Society. CORRESPONDENCE, ETC., SENT TO HILLYER RYDER CONCERNING THE 1914 AMERICAN NUMISMATIC SOCIETY EXHIBITION OF UNITED STATES AND COLONIAL COINS. New York, 1913-1914. Five typewritten items, described below, on 8.5 x 11 inch sheets. Letters on official stationery, signed by Belden. Some fold marks. Generally fine or nearly so. (250.00)
A unique and interesting assemblage, documenting details surrounding this landmark American numismatic exhibition, the most important yet held. Included are: 1) Belden's September 30, 1913 letter, reading in part "We have finally decided as to time and other details of the exhibition for next winter, and are now ready to talk business, as you will see from the enclosed memorandum. Can we have your collection of New Jersey Colonials, and various other good things that no one else has? Knowing your good nature, and willingness to help along the cause, we are banking on your assistance."; 2) the aforementioned two page memorandum from Belden, outlining in detail the parameters of the exhibit, concluding: "Should it receive the support it hopes to obtain from the collector, this exhibition will be the greatest collection of United States coins ever assembled, and will, no doubt, do much to stimulate the interest in this branch of numismatics."; 3) a December 9, 1913 letter from Belden, enclosing "herewith two copies of a list of the coins that you have so kindly loaned for the exhibition. I would be glad if you…would note the values for the purpose of burgulary (sic) insurance on one of the copies, and return it to me…I reached New York all right with the coins…I enjoyed the day spent with you very much indeed…"; 4) Ryder's copy of the four page "list of the coins," including his collection of New Jerseys, Vermonts, and various other highlights, including the Good Samaritan shilling; and 5) a February 19, 1914 letter from Belden: "As directed by the Council, I take pleasure in presenting you one of the Archer M. Huntington medals, which please accept, with the compliments of The American Numismatic Society in recognition of your kindness in contributing to the Exhibition of United States and Colonial Coins."

"Some day I will be dead, but if the book is helpful to collectors after that, I will rest in peace!"

1009 ⌖ Bolender, M. H. & Ford, John J., Jr. 1950 CORRESPONDENCE CONCERNING BOLENDER'S SILVER DOLLAR BOOK AND OTHER TOPICS. Freeport and New York, June-November 1950. Over thirty sheets, standard letter and other formats, mainly comprised of original Bolender letters, signed, on printed stationery, and carbon copy Ford responses. Generally fine. (250.00)
On June 3, Bolender writes that "my book on THE UNITED STATES EARLY SILVER DOLLARS FROM 1794 TO 1803 is in the press and should appear between July 1 and July 15. I have your name down for one of the first autographed copies…." He also notes that "Some day I will be dead, but if the book is helpful to collectors after that, I will rest in peace!" Ford thanks Bolender for the complimentary example, inquires about purchasing several additional copies, and notes that "Before the war, I purchased a number of coins from your extensive sales, and was always quite pleased with your cataloguing, particularly in regard to condition." In an "Announcement to Dealers" flyer listing book discounts to dealers, Bolender notes that "I'm getting only 1000 printed." On July 2, Ford reports: "Your bids in my June 19th sale were generally high, but you missed the boat…Your wide spread advertising concerning your book as well as your statements offering to buy at full Catalog have created a terrific demand here for the Dollar series." Bolender replies: "Glad to hear your sale was a success, and bidding better on the early dollars. Mehl writes that his sold unusually high too. I did not mean to bull the market on them, but they have been too cheap lately…I am willing to take several bushels of them." In a July 13 letter, Bolender notes difficulty in obtaining 'certain fine blue cloth" and on July 21 reports that "There has been a delay in the book binding…" In a July 24 letter terming Bolender 'one of the most honorable men in the Coin game," Ford asks "Do you think that this is the right time" to become 'a full time dealer in New York City.' Bolender responds on July 27 that "If you have saved up some money for capital, and if you are not expected to be called in the drafts that are almost sure to come, then, I advise you to open a coin shop in New York…Good education, and good conduct and character will bring you a fortune in N. Y. in a period of years." At the end, Bolender notes of his book: "The kind of cloth for binding that I wanted, held the books up these few days. Now they are finished, and just in." On August 3, Ford exults: "The Dollar book is everything I expected it to be…you have simplified a series that needed breaking down badly, and most of all, you have made additions and included actual degrees of rarity…The printing and binding jobs are obviously of the highest quality." In a wonderful two page letter written on August 8, Bolender touches on many topics, including the widespread acceptance of and acclaim for his book, his original intention to issue it with photo graphic plates and displeasure with the quality of the actual plates, and permission for Ford "to use the original negatives for three sets of photographic plates only, one for you, one for the ANS, and one for me." He encourages Ford to pursue his dream of becoming a full time coin dealer, noting that "Raymond, Mehl, the Chapmans, Johnson, and I all started in young. You should too. There will be other dealers really quite jealous of you and your firm, you may be sure. There will be unkind things. When I started up many years there was a jealous and unscrupulous old fellow William Heaslein dealing in coins in Boston. He circulated false literature about me, said he sent me coins and that I substituted a coin for one and returned it to him, and made up lies. A few of his subjects of course believed him, and I fought it out with the old fellow, and cut in on his business all the harder with it sales one year, to show him his competition. A couple of these fellows that believed in him changed their ways sharply when they learned who was the real criminal, when they were cheated and defrauded out of a total of $10,000.00 for coins they had consigned at his sale this last sale; Heaslein was going suddenly, and left the country. The $10,000.00 was gone too, with Heaslein. Moral:- Just paddle your own canoe, and tend well to your own business... I have worked hard at the business in my many years... I have plenty of money... perhaps 40 years from now you will recall some things from this letter. I hope so!" The remaining correspondence discusses the possibility of issuing a larger edition of photographically illustrated dollar books, the success of the 1950 A. N. A. convention ("$1400 for the 1799 over '98 cent, unc. finest known"), and other interesting topics. In Bolender's final November 9 letter, he writes: "I realize that my book is not perfect, and I have yet to see the first one that is. I could have done better had I had still more time. But I wanted to get the much needed work out, before my own time was up. One can never tell when. It answers the purpose, and has already stimulated interest in the series very noticeably."

FREEMAN, WILLIAM L. CLARK, LAUREN BENSON, AND A. F. PRADEAU. Various places, 1931-1958. Seventeen letters in all, some handwritten, others typed. Generally fine. (150.00)

An interesting collection, touching on a wide variety of topics, from mostly major numismatic figures of the day. A few brief excerpts follow: Hill 1931 San Francisco-"What do you think of the 100 doll. Florida bill— isn't it a great rarity? And it may be Unique. If the Cont. 1000 & 500 bills (No 1 & 2) are worth $25.00 and $50.00 and more each what should my Florida Bill be worth? If you would dangle some choice coin, or coins, before my eyes…I might consider trading it."; Cerny 1935 Denver-"Have you any of the Hudson Comm. / dollars on hand?" (Cerny discusses various Pedley Ryan tokens and offers them in trade); Cerny 1936 Denver-"will send you description of all the Pedley Ryan Tokens .. One variety I got, which I'm sure is not in your collection, about which I'll tell you later"; Hill 1936 San Francisco "I expect to be in New York early in June on my way to Europe and will hope to find you at home so I can see all your wonderful Coll. Of Mex. Coins. Will bring some coins and bills with me which I surely think will int. you…"; Windau 1941 Cleveland "Enclosed please find rubbing of the 1742 Mexican 8 R Pillar Dollar in silver, mint master F [present here]"; Noe 1948 New York "Your recent gift of the Perkins Pattern Piece and the collection of Box Thalers …We have tentatively valued…at $300.00"; Freeman 1949 Baltimore "I am working on a biography and catalogue of the medallic works of Charles Cushing Wright…but the final, long, hard task is to trs. and locate some pieces which I know he did …would it be possible for me to see the Catalogue of the Smith Collection of Washington Medals?"; Freeman 1954 Vermont Beach-"I also note that you evidently house your collection in the same type of binders that the late C.O.I. Green used. Do you by any chance have any of these binders…?"; Freeman 1955 Ormond Beach-"Did you bid on any of Spinos material in Schulman's sale? I ordered about thirty odd bids and obtained only six, so evidently some one is interested in New Jersey notes"; Freeman 1955 Ormond Beach-"A lad contacted Mrs. Spinos right after his death to see if she would sell but some friend of Schulman's had been to see her first."; "Parke-Bernet-New York-"I am in Vienna herewith a full present here of the encased stamps in the Society's collection…"; Noe 1957 New York-"Just a few MORE months to go before I can resume work from Fred Rabbin saying that he would let us have the Crosby C.I. Oak Tree piece for fifty dollars and not a penny more. Nothing…"; Icon 1957 Davenport-Mrs. Wayte Raymond suggested that I write you relative to the possible purchase of your coin collection for the Iva M. Rayfield stock." Pradeau 1958 Los Angeles-"It pleases me to know that I was instrumental in providing you many interesting items. My success is due to the assistance of numismatic friends such as yourself and the many numismatic authors upon the living and I have appreciated your note very sincerely"-etc.

1019 ⊹ [Boyd, F. C. C.]. St. Louis Stamp & Coin Co., B. G. Johnson, Prop. F. C. C. BOYD: B. G. JOHNSON, ST. LOUIS STAMP & COIN CO., INVOICES, CORRESPONDENCE. St. Louis, circa 1934 to 1948-1949. Preceding information derived from black ink note on a file folder containing these materials. Approximately 100 sheets in all, usually typewritten, sometimes annotated. Mostly 28 x 21.5 cm. Generally fine. (1,000.00)

A remarkable grouping. Interesting, unique, and of considerable importance. From it one can begin to comprehend the vast, indeed unparalleled, quantity of rare and desirable American coins that passed through the hands of B. G. Johnson, including—though far from being limited to—the extensive Brand family, Newcomer, and Colonel Green holdings. It also emphasizes Boyd's role as a major collector and dealer of the day, and will certainly provide numismatic researchers the opportunity to extend provenances for many rare American numismatic items. A brief chronological overview follows. A four page 1934 invoice lists over one hundred Mexican coins (1810-1914) and a few other pieces, including several rarities, totaling $750.15; another 1934 invoice lists over sixty "O" and "CC" United States gold coins; several 1930s' invoices featuring proof half cents; a 1936 invoice of thirty Hard Times tokens totaling $8.11.75, including a very fine Low 106, along with an undated list featuring a Low 62 in silver and a Low 102 in brass, both of which appear, according to a July 20, 1936 letter from Johnson, to have belonged to Armin Brand; in the letter just cited, Johnson also notes that "I would be very glad if you could get out here for a few days. I really thing you would find quite a lot of stuff you could use, because it is utterly impossible for me to guess everything you are interested in. Furthermore, we can do more work together in a couple of days than we can by mail in a month…"; a 1937 invoice of pioneer gold totaling $3,303.00 includes a very fine 1849 Mormon $20.00, a $16.00 Moffat & Co. bar, a "No date. No name" $5.46 bar, etc.; more rare Mexican coins are featured in a two page $1,816.75 1937 invoice; a 1938 invoice features a "Book containing Die of Fractional Currency formerly owned by E. S. Sears" for $650.00; another 1938 invoice lists seven rarities totaling $2,675.00, including Parmelee's 1774 Virginia Shilling, uncirculated 1796 and 1797 half dollars, and a "Proof" 1823 quarter dollar; a May 31, 1938 invoice features two dozen United States gold coins totaling over $6,000.00, including a very fine small eagle 1797 half eagle; a June 30, 1939 invoice lists an "Uncirculated, steel color, with glossy surface" 1838-O half dollar @ $1,000.00; choice patterns are featured in a December 10, 1940 invoice, including A-W 1403 @ $1,100.00 and A-W 1406 @ $1,000.00; patterns are also featured in a July 16, 1941 invoice, along with silver Civil War tokens and including a "Set of three copper Gobrecht Dollar Patterns"; over fifty Haseltine varieties of 1794 and 1795 half dollars are listed in a 1942 invoice, as well as a 15 stars 1796 "Die break at point of bust. Another extending through bust. Unc., with proof surface" @ $600.00; twenty-two pieces of fractional currency comprises a $1,277.50 1942 invoice; an April 22, 1943 invoice lists a "1913 U. S. 5¢ Nickel. Liberty head Proof" @ $1,000.00; an 1841 "Brilliant proof" quarter eagle @ $1,075.00 is featured in a 1943 invoice; a four page 1943 $5,582.00 invoice features many 1850s cent patterns, three dozen different 1877 half dollars, in silver and copper, priced from $25.00 to $55.00, and 2¢, 3¢ silver, and 5¢ nickel pieces; a September 21, 1943 Johnson letter notes that "These are the first Colonial coins that I have ever taken out of the Newcomer-Green Collection," and the accompanying one page invoice, totaling $5,041.75, includes a silver engrailed edge and "Bril. Proof" 1792 Washington half dollars, along with Parmelee's "Washington Pattern Cent or / dollar"; a two page $5,092.50 September 27, 1943 invoice includes "10 U. S. Panama Pacific Patterns, Philadelphia Mint," @ $1,000.00; six 1865-1879 "U. S. Pattern Double Eagles" and an 1861 A-W 334 totaling $8,050 are listed in a 1944 invoice, the last piece as a pencil addition; 1776 Continental Dollars are featured in an August 29, 1944 invoice, including the Newcomer-Green "E. G. FECIT. In Silver" specimen @ $1,500.00 and the "E. G. FECIT. Unc. In tin. CURRENCY spelled CURRENCEY" @ $325.00; colonials, including a New Hampshire copper, Excelsior copper, Immunis Columbia, "Born in Virginia," and other rarities in a 1945 invoice; rare colonials in an undated 1948 or 1949 invoice include "Crosby VIII-17. Finest known specimen of Granby coinage" @ $850.00, a Rosa Americana (1722) Excessively rare penny with Rose bush on rev. Crosby III-16" @ $500.00; etc; etc.

1020 ⊹ Boyd, F. C. C. et al. NEW JERSEY COPPERS, ETC.. Manuscripts, photographs, correspondence, etc. Generally fine. (1,500.00)

An important assemblage of mostly unique items, including: a fine, original set of Stephen K. Nagy's four 8 x 10 inch circa 1920 photographic prints depicting varieties of New Jersey state coinage; a cover page and seven page carbon typescript from the "Boyd Papers" listing "Copper Cents of New Jersey" valued at $817.25 and noted by John Ford as possibly belonging to T. J. C[larke]; an original three page typescript of "New Jersey Coins in Garrett Collection at The Johns Hopkins University," often including pedigrees and notes on varieties; five large ruled sheets comprising an inventory by Maris variety written in pencil, with an ink note apparently by Walter Breen at the top reading "New Jersey Cents, Believed by Homer K. Downing"; four photographs taken for Walter Breen; approximately 4.5 x 3.5 inches, reproducing illustrations and text from a Dutch numismatic work depicting and describing St. Patrick pieces; a handwritten eleven page listing by F. C. C. Boyd, comparing New Jersey pieces in his collection and the collections of Maris, Bushnell, Earle, Cleneay, Parsons, Winsor, and Warner; an October 26, 1987 letter, with enlarged photographs and an x-ray spectrographic test result report, from Michael Hodder on Bowers and Merena stationery, pertaining to a "Gold St. Patrick's Farthing"; and an undated handwritten letter from Damion (Douglas) to Boyd on "Clean Government Republican" stationery, recording a dozen or so New Jersey pieces, "the only ones I have seen in better condition than yours…"

1021 ⊹ [Brand, Virgil]. BRAND COLL. File folder, captioned as above, containing various materials. (250.00)

An interesting assemblage, including: List of Rarities, a 35 page photostatic reproduction of choice American and foreign coins and medals, described in an attached note written by John Ford as a "List – From F. P. Newman, ex B. G. Johnson, 9/58, Marked 'H. L. Brand' et al." and featuring choice American and foreign coins, each described under columns headed "Appd Value, Date, Country, Denomination, Description, Cond., and Ser. No."; Rarities Still on Hand, a similar 21 page photostatic reproduction described by Ford as a "List – From E. P. Newman, ex B. G. Johnson, 9/58, Marked – 'Rarities on hand ending December 31, 1938 with A. W. Brand' "; original Horace Brand duplicated is pescripts, comprising "Descriptive List of United States and Foreign Rarities, Collection A-1" (9 leaves, annotated with prices and items sold, including the names of a few purchasers), "Descriptive List of United States and Foreign Rarities, Collection B-1" (4 leaves, annotated with several prices and the names of two purchasers), two copies of "United States Very Great Rarities Collection #20" (each on one leaf), "United States Rarities, Collection #22" (3 leaves, annotated with several prices and the names of a purchaser), and a carbon copy "Descriptive List of Canada Rarities Collection - 28R" (1 leaf, annotated with several prices and availability); a January 17, 1982 New York Times article entitled "Coin Auction May Bring $10 Million"; Ford's carbon copy of a note sent to Mike B. Zeddies on a $5 National Bank note signed by Michael Brand, with two photocopies of the note; a fascinating article from Coins and Medals (July 1967 by L. S. Forrer entitled "Collectors I Have Known"; and 1967 correspondence with Leonard Forrer and Heather Salter, Deputy Editor of Coins and Medals, requesting permission to reprint the article describing Spink's long and fruitful relationship with Virgil Brand

1022 ❖ (Breen, Walter). COINS NEEDED FOR COMPLETION OF THE ELIASBERG COLLECTION (DATES, TYPES, MAJOR VARS. ONLY). Circa 1953. Carbon typescript, annotated in pencil and pen. Three 8.5 x 11 inch leaves, stapled together at upper left corner. First leaf a bit sunned. Near fine. (100.00)

A fascinating bit of Numismatica Americana, providing unusual insight into the state of this landmark collection in the early 1950s. In a note following the title cited above, Breen further defines the most prevalent criterion for inclusion as follows: "Major varieties are defined as in the Standard Catalogue for 1953." His detailed list includes several half cents, over two dozen large cents, three dimes, one quarter dollar and one double eagle. Breen writes that "It has been suggested that 1793, G-3 (Crosby 2-A) be bought to replace coin now needed that was wrongly purchased as G-2. He notes that "the finest of four or five uncirculated specimens presently known to me" will be sold in the upcoming Hillyer-Roder collection of half cents, as well as "an 1805 Large 5, stems, in mint state," another coin on the list. Breen comments that "The 1795 strawberry leaf is now divided to be a pattern issue, hence unnecessary." He lists the 1794 starred reverse cent and notes, "This one is also a pattern but was put into circulation. Use your own judgment on whether to pay the high price which will be asked. The very large cent desiderata now is the 1799. Perfect date. One is urgently needed to replace the false specimen now owned. I know only a few specimens for sale in this year." One of the ones listed is the Abbey cent, for which Breen provides a detailed pedigree chain of 22 owners from "Penniless Beginner" to "Present owner Thomas P. Warfield... This cannot now be sold." Breen has crossed out the last sentence and notes in pencil: "Flasberg now has it." Breen concludes the list with a "Middle grade" Sets Project (see the Kline 1956 coined—see 1953 Standard Catalogue. A regular issue, and a major type. Except for the 1796 quarter, which may still not have been sold (which has gone a-begging at that figure) and a specimen in ANS, and another which Mavin Lippman owned (now in Maryland) or else in the J.W. Garrett estate. I do not know of the whereabouts of surviving specimens. Myself. All the rest I've contracted for or purchased. I may be obligated for under the $750 figure, but if he finds out that you are the prospective purchaser he will ask $1,000 or $1,500 for it. This price—you imbue the 1873 C. dime without arrows. It may be better to buy through a dummy or possibly under other circumstances. Breen concludes: "It is very probable that the sale of the duplicates in your collection will go very far towards paying for the rest of the comparatively few specimens still required for completeness of this first-line collection."

Walter Breen's U. S. Rare Coin Portfolio

1025 ❖ Breen, Walter. FIRST COINVESTORS PRESENTS THE WALTER BREEN U. S. RARE COIN PORTFOLIO. No place or date of publication, "Copyright 1973 First Coinvestors Inc." imprinted at the base of a number of leaves. Housed in two volumes, as follows: Volume 1) Narrow plasticized leaf with die-cut removable pressure-sensitive labels for Vol. 1 through Vol. 5; title leaf incorporating a circular halftone portrait of Breen in profile; preface leaf; 2 glossary leaves; 80 leaves (numbered erratically, or not numbered) devoted to TYPE COINS, preceded by a tab sheet; 1 leaf devoted to COMMEMORATIVES, preceded by a tab sheet; PREFERRED SILVER DOLLARS tab sheet; 2 leaves devoted to COLONIALS, preceded by a tab sheet; PREFERRED GOLD COINS tab sheet; MISCELLANEOUS tab sheet; blank sheet. Volume 2) title leaf incorporating a circular halftone portrait of Breen in profile; preface leaf;

2 glossary leaves; 2 leaves devoted to COLONIALS, followed by a tab sheet; 73 leaves (numbered erratically, or not numbered) devoted to TYPE COINS, followed by a tab sheet; 6 leaves devoted to PREFERRED SILVER DOLLARS, followed by a tab sheet; 2 leaves devoted to COMMEMORATIVES, followed by a tab sheet; 12 leaves devoted to PREFERRED GOLD COINS, followed by a tab sheet; MISCELLANEOUS tab sheet. Printed throughout on rectos only, in brown ink on stiff tan sheets, halftone circular vignettes printed in upper right corners of descriptive sheets. Housed in two official padded three ring binders, the first with a plush blue cloth spine, the other with a blue suede spine, both with a blank recessed panel at the top of the spine, grained tan leatherette sides and grained black leatherette inside covers. FIRST COINVESTORS, INC. stamped in gilt at the base of both front covers. Essentially as new. (750.00)

Not in the 1994-1995 Bowers and Merena sales, nor the Bass Library sales. Though portions of the text appear to be duplicated in the two volumes, sometimes it is entirely different, and in most, if not all cases, the relevant leaves comprise different printings, one sheet often being dated and/or numbered while its apparent equivalent does not share the same characteristics. The only other substantially complete example we have ever heard of or encountered, housed in one binder with no "duplication" and less complete than here, was initially sold in the June 24, 1995 Money Tree sale to John W. Adams. It was apparently Breen's own copy and was subsequently sold in the March 22, 2002 Kolbe sale @ $700. According to the 1995 Money Tree catalogue, "(t)hese pages were created for the Type Coin Program offered by First Coinvestors, Inc. (FCI). In theory, each month, the customer would receive one United States coin from this program. With the coin was one of these cards which gave accompanying numismatic text." The effusive preface, presumably written by FCI principal Stanley Apfelbaum, notes that "(t)he professional who wrote the descriptions of all the types of United States coins in your album is Walter Breen…Walter Breen is one of the few individuals in the entire world about whom the word professional can be used without any reservations whatsoever. His reputation is so great that even other professionals consider it a privilege to be in his company for a few minutes…Whenever a rare coin expert doubted his own judgment about a rare coin…that was the time to turn to Walter Breen. Whatever he said would be accepted instantly by that expert…It was no small achievement for First Coinvestors, Inc. in getting Walter Breen to sign an exclusive lifetime contract to devote his knowledge and his talents in the rare coin field to the service of our clients." The two page glossary is curious. While a smattering of useful everyday numismatic terms are included, the relevance of obscure heraldic terms such as langued, gules is questionable. The texts are vintage Breen, filled with important and interesting information, from arcane to ordinaire. Almost certainly the work never reached the stage of full distribution to First Coinvestor clientele, and the example offered here is likely the most complete extant.

1026 ◆ Breen, Walter. THE RARE GOLD MANAGEMENT INVESTMENT PORTFOLIO OF _____ WITH SPECIAL MONOGRAPHS BY WALTER BREEN. No place or date of publication, "Copyright 1973 First Coinvestors Inc." imprinted at the base of a number of leaves. Printed title leaf; preface leaf; 2 glossary leaves; 29 printed leaves, each with a halftone circular vignette printed in the upper right corner depicting a mining scene. Printed throughout on rectos only, in brown ink on stiff tan sheets. Housed in an official padded three ring binder with tan suede spine with a blank recessed panel at the head, grained tan leatherette sides, grained black leatherette inside covers. RARE GOLD MANAGEMENT stamped in gilt at the base of the front cover. Essentially as new. (250.00)

The only example we have ever heard of or encountered. The preface appears to be essentially identical to that in the preceding lot, though the glossary present here includes definitions of a number of terms specific to the topic covered. The text appears to cover the entire range of federal issues, from gold dollars to double eagles, and concludes with a sheet devoted to commemorative gold coins and one on "California Fractional Gold."

Splitting The Numismatic Atom

"I have hoped since 1947 to cover, alone or in collaboration, every unfinished series which will be worth the effort…and have indeed done research on just about every one of those…"

1027 ◆ Breen, Walter H. & Ford, John J., Jr. BREEN CORRESPONDENCE & NOTES, 1950-51. Preceding information derived from a handwritten note on an Ansco X-Ray Safety Film box, containing approximately two hundred seventy sheets of correspondence and manuscripts, mainly original or carbon typescript, a few handwritten, generally on 8 x 10.5 inch paper (original Breen typescripts and holographs) or 8.5 x 11 inch paper (carbon copy Ford typescript responses), some Breen letters typed on both sides. Generally fine. (5,000.00)

A remarkable archive of early Breen/Ford correspondence, including a June 16, 1947 letter written from San Antonio, Texas by Walter Breen to Wayte Raymond— the earliest of Breen's numismatic writings ever encountered by your cataloguer. Unique and of utmost significance. Since his passing, it has become fashionable in some quarters to bash Walter Breen for factual and conceptual errors present in his numismatic magnum opus, Walter Breen's Complete Encyclopedia of U. S. and Colonial Coins, and, to a lesser degree, in his more specialized works in Breen's later years, perhaps because of the passage of time—more likely the result of a chaotic, disorganized lifestyle—he clearly had lost complete recall, and he did appear to "make it up" at times. When these missives were rather frequent, Breen was at the height of his prodigious intellectual powers, and the penetrating, in-depth researches into American coinage on display herein are all the more remarkable since, numismatically speaking, he was "a babe in the woods," and access to primary numismatic research data was fraught with difficulty. Among the more instructive aspects of this unparalleled archive is the sheer numismatic virtuosity displayed by John J. Ford, Jr. Breen, still a kid at the time, and Ford, in his early twenties, were numismatic peers. Breen, 30/30: more than a modicum of deference in his early letters, a favor later returned by Ford as it became clear to him that Breen's analytical powers might well, as indeed they did, revolutionize American numismatic research. It is not entirely hyperbolic to say that, at the middle of the twentieth century, and a few short years after the Manhattan Project changed the world at large, events were set in motion leading to a quickening of pace in the field of American numismatic research. Though clearly the beneficiary of a century of study in the field and allied with an unusually talented group of other researchers, Walter Breen brought the scientific study of American numismatics to critical mass for entire team would embrace (we have, if possible, some excerpts from this remarkable body of correspondence and notes follow). Though little extremely, they shed but faint light on the true materiality of these documents. On January 27, 1950, Breen writes from "cashing W. Hospital in Pennsylvania" loss to "Dear Mr. Ford," ordering several coins from Ford's advertisement in that month's Numismatist, and moving to a boardinghouse postscript. Toward the market for several pounds. I also collect early U. S. or all kinds below silver dollars." In his February 8 reply to "Dear Mr. Breen," Ford writes: "Early Proofs before 1858 are widely in appearance. A Proof coin of this period is one through Sex presentation issues. Lintel press. Some are brilliant proofs, all have some evidence of a wire edge. The Half Dime that I have enough you to quite liquidated and coated in order to put coved with a little clear ammonia and pure bicarbonate of soda. I sometimes clean coins for my collection, but never touch coins that I resell. . . Drop me a line whenever you need information or coins. I am always willing to help someone." In a letter dated March 3, Breen acknowledges receipt of the coins, noting that "I regret that I was not up and around when you were here. . . Are you still with Bureau?" Primarily so that those are two very rare dates in proof: "In a post-script dated four days later, Breen [to Ford]: "How's your arm?" Breen discusses the scarcity and importance of receipt and overstruck dies, notes Sheldon and Crosby, and observes: "The coining [press] during [the] period ca. 1800-1850 are a mute testimony to the early dark hours of the Mint, when, because, repeatedly, mistaken recommending abolishment of the Mint. . ." In a March 6 letter, Breen requests that a proof set, and can be sent complimentary from "that some dealers consider me hard to please—but I think your price reasonable and as you don't subscription, and that's all I ask." Further March 27 correspondence discusses in some detail the so-called Dr. Dickeson counterfeit, including its rare varieties. A letter dated [illegible] 1950 to "Dear Mr. Ford" is assigned for U. S. Cent #942. "In a seven page May 8, 1950 letter regarding coin condition of the "Dexterous type dollar," Breen includes a somewhat rather remarkable, "first draft of a table of equivalents for [coin] grades, different terms, and values. He observes that the [following] work . . . is almost unobtainable" and that the Beistle work is "frequently counterfeited." Continuing: "I am thinking seriously of incorporating a section of Beistle's inept descriptions of many varieties, some of which I must be very careful to illustrate correctly." To a remarkable detailed May 22, 1950 letter on the topic, Ford proposes some sort of an article on "Counterfeits of the United States." "This could not be American paper, and would probably take a couple of years. What do you think of the idea?" In one of many dozens Breen responses and letters concerning the forthcoming Encyclopedia, Breen writes from Georgia in August of 1950: "Ford's Book is one [copy] of U. S. numismatic research [that] may be able to help some that as you have already helped me. . . Some [coin] grading terms or qualifications . . . [illegible] [illegible] [illegible]

Downing, Breen shares "the information I have on all three of the false-metal impressions or trial pieces of the 1804 cent so-called restrike." Perhaps the most notable missives, however, are three September-October 1948 letters discussing patterns from William Guild to the "old Maestro himself," Wayte Raymond, and a 16 June 1947 letter by Walter Breen to Wayte Raymond, written on Bexar County National Bank of San Antonio, Texas stationery. The Guild letters discuss the nature of specific pieces and, more importantly, touch upon the collaborative research going on at the time "on this question of attempting the revision of the A.W. pattern list…so far an exhaustive research job has been done covering several hundred sales catalogues, some going even as far back as the 1860's…One of the most important points that seems to me before the final proof reading is completed is to arrive first as a definition of the word Pattern as well as a definition of the terms Trial and Experimental pieces, and you will be glad to know that Dr. Judd, Colonel Curtis and I and Walter Breen made quite a good deal of progress in this direction." Walter Breen's June 16, 1947 letter to the doyen of American numismatics is striking. In it, he appeals to "one of the best-informed authorities on the subject of U. S. coins for answer to some questions which have come up and have heretofore been (to me) unanswerable." At this early date, Breen already exhibits in the formulation and depth of his queries a mastery of the die varieties of United States half cents and cents, as well as an intimate knowledge of patterns, presumably based largely on access to the important collection formed by early mentor William Guild. Returning to Breen/Ford correspondence, in a July 7, 1950 letter Breen carries on the discussion about 1943 silver cents and related pieces, suggesting that they could be pieces de caprice: "remember your friends at ANS agree that Sec'y Snyder is a would-be Woodin." During the summer of 1950, Breen writes numerous further installments of his essai notes, which are present here. Ford also snipes at fellow dealers: "I place Hollinbeck in the Kosoff class—in other words, a lot of noise, beating of drums, and so on, coupled with an extremely limited knowledge of coins or numismatics as such…The Kagin boys are much worse than Abe, the latter having some interest in learning something." In an August 4, 1950 letter, Ford further elaborates: "I agree with you that Kosoff means well. However, Kreisberg knows less about coins than you do about refining oil. Mehl carries on as he is damn independent, but of late he feels that he is King. His catalogs are a travesty, as the cuts are generally of coins sold years previous, the descriptions are little more than a play on words, and the condition descriptions are really a farce…" In the same letter, Ford notes that he is sending Breen an original Crosby priced at $25.00 and a presentation copy of Bolender's new dollar book, also observing that "Your library seems somewhat limited, if you do not mind my saying so. I am a bug on books. I have all of the standard works on Cents, except the 1869 Dr. Maris on 1794's, the 1793 Levick Plate and the first, 1881 edition of Andrews. I am complete on the balance of standard U. S. Standard texts, with the exception of Wurtzbach on Massachusetts Silver, for which I will pay $10.00. My Auction Catalogs include sixteen of the twenty two Large Chapmans, all being with plates and uniformly bound. There are a number of gaps to fill, particularly in the early catalogs, a number of plate catalogs, W. W. Wilson, Betts, and many others, including the Levick sale, etc. I have the Numismatist, with a few gaps back to 1908, and so on. I need the entire set of A.J.N. badly. To give you some idea, I have spent nearly $1000 on books, on U. S. only, since 1946. I'm going to keep my eyes open for anything decent in Numismatic books. If I find anything that I feel you would like I'll let you know. Books are not only knowledge, but a damn fine investment." In an undated letter, Breen comments upon 1950 A. N. A. politics: "Shades of NUMISMA with its backbiting and gossip! I hoped that poison-pen writers in numismatics had gone out with the Victorian Age." In a broader political context, Breen observes: "I have been predicting World War III for 1952…it has become increasingly apparent that the Russkis will not hesitate to precipitate global war…while our best troops are detained in trying to hold a beachhead during this Korean debacle…I don't fear the Russians as much as I do the armed socialist government that we will certainly have if war is declared…" In a fascinating August 8, 1950 letter, Breen goes into detail concerning errors in Wayte Raymond's Standard Catalogue section on patterns, brought to his attention by William Guild and Breen and extensively recapitulated in this letter, as well as the dispersal of essais from the F. C. C. Boyd collection: "As you probably know, Kosoff had it first for sale at fixed prices…Mr. Guild got the bulk of the rarities…Then one Sol Kaplan heard about the windfall and bought the remainder of the collection intact…lacking up the prices 50% to 175% across-the-board. Guild never bought any more from that collection…Now of course that was the same collection WR had access to for his pattern sections of Standard Catalogue…some of Woodin's collection had gone to F. C. C. Boyd, therefore another connection with this WR story…The whole WR business…was going to lead up to a Standard Catalogue of U. S. Patterns…" In an undated letter from Framingham, Breen writes: "There has come some unwelcome but not unexpected news: I am to be discharged from the Hospital on or about the 25th of August, and at present I don't know just what I will be doing…I'll let you know my new address as soon as I find out what it will be; until then, Cushing Hospital will be sufficient address. Do you, as far as that goes, know where I could get in with my numismatic knowledge??? I very definitely will be needing a job…" Ford responds on September 2, 1950, apologizing for not doing so earlier: "During the past few days I have had long talks and discussions with Wayte Raymond. Please Walt, keep anything that I tell you in this connection highly confidential. To begin with, I have been planning to enter the coin business as a full time dealer in New York City. WR, and others, were lined up to assist me…This is all gone for the present anyway. The Army is hot on my neck…All I can do is wait. Part of the deal with WR was for me to assist him in the complete revision of the Standard Catalog…I told WR about you. As Patterns, et al, will appear in the new Standard Catalog…You can help here. Also, you could make up the entire section on 'Restrikes' and similar pieces. This would include Colonials as well as the regular U. S. series…There will be a few bucks in it for you, as WR intends to pay for any help given him. I do not know what to tell you about a job. To prostitute your knowledge and ability with the average dealer is just plain foolish." Breen responds forthwith, enclosing twelve pages of dense typescript with a September 7 letter, comprising "the first installment of a rush job on the notes on Regular Issues and kindred fields." Later in the month, Breen sends eighteen additional pages, comprising "Installment 10 of Essai Notes" and "Installment 2 of Regular notes." He also proposes that Wayte Raymond, "in the CCI…issue a reprint of Browning." Entrepreneur Ford replies on September 26 that "I am way ahead of you on reprinting Browning. Raymond has sold me the copyright and I have the original glass negatives from which the plates for the book were made. I intend to publish a limited edition with genuine plates, mounted on linen, to be sold for $10.00 or so. Please keep this highly confidential." The letter closes with a request for personal information: "Tell me if you have any other income or if you came down here how you could add to the part time dough that WR would give you. Also let me know how you got into the hospital. None of this is my business, but I would like to help you and need facts to build up a picture." Two days later, Breen writes to congratulate Ford "on the Browning. Mum's the word." He also encloses several pages of updated quarter dollar data and a seventeen page "Trial list of PIECES DE CAPRICE, basis for eventual listing in 1951 STANDARD CATALOGUE." He responds negatively to the first part of Ford's closing query: "No other income of a regular kind" and continues rather reluctantly:

"Now don't be shocked or scandalized when I tell you in answer to your question: My stay of slightly under 2 weeks at Cushing Hospital (VA) was in the psychiatric wards. Obviously not all that time was spent locked up, or I never could have gotten in touch with you to buy coins—or anything else. Suffice it to say that in 1948 right around time of Boston ANA Convention or little after my institutional and a couple of other things produced a mild nervous breakdown. The doctors say I am OK now and have been for some time. Certainly NO relapse is expected. Unfortunately, service-connection hasn't been established, so no pension is forthcoming." In an October 1, 1950 letter, Ford supplies further information on the upcoming Browning reprint ("I dislike the term 'Reprint' as it only brings to mind the trash turned out by Kelly and Green in recent years"), proposes to enclose Breen's "Haseltine-Browning notes" with it in a leaflet ("As I'm working close on the Haseltine-Browning deal I will not be able to pay you for your work…I will give you the Proof Dime I mentioned sometime back for your efforts if I actually print and use the leaflet idea"), and reassures Breen: "Do not feel at all concerned about your hospital stay." Marvelous data are present in a twenty page single-spaced typescript devoted to half dollar varieties, "Notes on MIN I REPORTS," and data on silver dollar varieties. On November 4, 1950, Ford writes: "Wayte Raymond will be located in New York for the season come November 20th or 22nd, and I think that would be a good time to see him. Perhaps you can talk him into carfare and lunch money for a careful examination of the secrets of Washington, D. C." In a January 9, 1951 letter written in Washington, D. C., Breen writes that he has "Arrived and started with Mr. Mosher as I told you, and some of the unpublished data to be found at the Smithsonian were themselves worth the price of the trip to Washington…Also the Mint Collection has much unrecorded material; I have attributed this in toto as matter only of about 3 or 4 days in all), and I don't think Mr. Raymond could object to this since he did not set me a deadline for starting or finishing this Archives assignment…" On January 26, 1951 Ford writes: "I am damn sorry that I have not written you earlier, but I ganged forces with Charlie Wormser on January 8th and am now actively connected with the New Netherlands Coin Co. Inc. Since our getting together I have been busy as hell getting coins into shape and cataloging material for our next sale. In the meantime, I have discussed your progress with WR, and have noted with great interest the very evident progress that you are making. Make WR's money last as long as possible and dig out anything and everything that looks meaty. You seem to have an eye for juicy material. In the meantime, I will talk to WR and others and find out all available information concerning your contemplated position at the A. N. S.… Incidentally, the 1907 Standard catalog is on the stands, and our article on 'Restrikes' looks like a million dollars…Keep up the good work. WR seems quite pleased. Lastly and last of all, that you could break the story of the 1804 Dollars and prove that they were first struck in the period 1840, 42." Breen responds on January 29: "Are you telling me to dig out everything??? Ye gods, what can one do in one month? As is, unless WR decides to hold me over for the rest of February, I will have to return before the 15th of that month—saving the chance of spending by way of stopping [at] Philadelphia, a few days in St. Petersburg with W. Could. Even so, of the some 16000 documents seen, all I have been able to do is to note certain dates for further searches (e.g. on Mint medals since before 1820, the New Orleans scandals, the mechanical improvements at the Mint) amounting to one Franklin Postage as result of his trip around Europe in the 1820–30's." The letter continues with more questions, and Breen concludes that "All in all this trip (if it is not cut short) will have been immensely profitable in terms of DATA." The final letter from Breen preserved is undated (though apparently written shortly before Easter 1952), is the first sans formal heading, being headed only "Dear Ed—," bears the apparently catalogued and a returning a 'Remarkable collection' of early silver dollars, for sale to "I record book to a select clientele since the appearance of all of these as they are now." Also I suggest, for aesthetic and psychological reasons, that you did not let the 1804 go (the coin that you have been using as coins that still retain them)." Intending to visit New York in late April, Breen requests: "Anything you have to show me, or bring up, etc., as to what sort of material I will be attributing. Do you really expect to have the 1907 restrikes on hand by then? If so, send them to the Library. Will I be expected to do the pedigreeing, etc., at that time?"

"You have a boy on the ball Walter, but you must listen to me…You need the A. N. S, you need W. R., and you need N. N. They all need you, but they want something to say about the terms, and they are not sure that they need you, on your terms. It is as simple as that."

Title derived from handwritten label on front of a large file containing over two hundred sheets of early 1950s correspondence, manuscripts, printed materials, photographs, etc. Mainly original documents, some handwritten, usually on letter sheets. Correspondence from Ford to Breen in carbon typescript. Generally fine. (2,500.00)

A fascinating insider's view to Breen's notes and research materials, along with many other items. Much of it pertains to Breen's research in the Mint and Archives, but the material here can support research matters on a bewildering variety of numismatic and personal topics. Those manuscripts or typescripts not specifically mentioned below may be assumed to have been authored by Breen and sent to Ford. A brief, chiefly chronological overview of material present here follows. [SEE ORIGINAL FOR FULL DESCRIPTION] Items present here include: Notes on the 1794 "LIBERTY" half eagle; a November 21, 1951 letter to Wayte Raymond discussing future contributions to the "Standard Catalogue of Coin Production"; copies of Director's Mint annual report titled "Account of Expenditures for the Mint Cabinet…"; a 1953 letter from Breen to the Mint Director requesting and needing to fill; Ford mostly detailing research in the archives ("Have just begun to hit your pet vein"; "along with your thesis"). The general opinion among collectors seems not to vary: Mr. Wormser is a thorough gentleman…I only hope that he can be successful as we need just the firm all the good will it had…"; "I think that the people who owned the Mint records [at] Philadelphia proper are primarily responsible for the damage to NN's reputation…they resented being 'high-pressured into selling for much less than the coins were really worth,' and that this opinion was forced into existence by reports of how much you got for them. I do not disagree, but I do not agree"; "Startling fact most is that the Katz boys may benefit by the business NN loses…"; another confirms Breen's continuing research finds and quotes Jefferson's declaration of independence: "To hell with my social life. I do not see where anything I do outside numismatics can ever give me a WW-type of MW has agreed with me on this"; friendly 1950–1951 correspondence between Ford and Eric Newman wherein each is still addressing the other as "Mr."; a two page typescript on Ford stationery entitled "Background and history of the NEW JERSEY WASHINGTON CENT especially prepared for Mr. Melvin Fuld, Baltimore, Md. January 27, 1951"; handwritten notes recording a hoard of counterfeit British halfpence, Connecticut coppers, etc., apparently pertaining to "the Fairfield County hoard" discussed in a July 11, 1951 letter: "The fratelli have agreement in their separate stories on this much: the hoard was found during excavations in tearing down an old barn in 1950, in an iron pot; it consisted of 200-250 pieces, all copper, all bought by Ben Stack for $250 for stock; out of the lot have so far been sold 8 Vt. And 27 or so Ct. cents, all br. Unc." (much additional information follows); several 1951 letters relating finds in the Archives, gossip, etc.; a July 6, 1951 letter from Ford beginning: "Before talking numismatics, may I inquire concerning your personal problems? How is your beard- and do you plan to regularly visit a barber? Also, do you own a pair of nail clippers and if so, do you use them. Remember your promise in this respect." … and ending: "HAVE YOUR HAIR CUT REGULARLY. KEEP YOUR NAILS CLEAN. KEEP YOUR CLOTHES CLEAN. WASH EVERY DAMN DAY. Don't laugh, I'm a SOB."; a typescript on "Fabrications & Struck Copies (Colonials) etc."; a three page typescript listing "Sources etc. for Important Pieces in Bushnell Sale"; research on the "Washington Liverpool Halfpenny" and "Provenance & History & Pedigree: George Clinton Cents"; a listing of "Early Plated, Priced & Named Catalogues in A. N. S."; an undated 1951-1952 letter, in which Breen notes "I'm now in line for congratulations. Just got the news that I've been elected to Phi Beta Kappa, most unexpectedly!" and also including a five page "revised and corrected list of Downing assignments of Rty. & Basal Values, featuring fascinating commentary; in a May 14, 1952 letter, Ford writes that "I had a little talk with the people at the A. N. S. I had the story wrong about who you sassed. It seems that it was the guy at the door. They are all steamed up about it, and after a lot of talk, decided to put it all in my lap. They want me to talk to you, and if I can get you to conform, they will give you one more chance. That is all very nice, unless West or Ives go haywire. I also talked to W. R. about things in general, and he agrees with me that you will have to look like, dress like, and sound like a 'Social Lion.' I know this burns you up, and that you hate discipline…Unfortunately, you will have to do a lot of things that you think are nonsense…Once you get use[d] to 'conforming,' it isn't so tough…You have a lot on the ball Walter, but you must listen to me…If they want it that way, we'll give it to them. You need the A. N. S, you need W. R., and you need N. N. They all need you, but they want something to say about the terms, and they are not sure that they need you, on your terms. It is as simple as that."; in an undated 1952 letter, Breen writes that "I do want you to and will greatly appreciate the proofs of the entire ANA Conv. Catalogue…we want this thing to become a standard reference, like the Bushnell, Jenks 1921 or Crosby catalogues…Now about the ANS. Evidently the character you speak of is the little short mesomorphic guard that has a habit—a black and nasty one—of yelling at people…I am not weeping any tears of Holy Contrition for sassing that somatorotic fool…I am not going to back down. Now are you going to tattle that to ANS? As for looking like a 'Social Lion,' to use your cliché, I can't do that with the money I have left—the squeeze is getting tighter, and will have to be relieved…If I have sounded particularly irate in this letter, blame it on old fussbudget at ANS. No ill will to you, of course."; brief typescripts on Struck Copies, Wyatt's Copies, Idler's Copies, Edwin Bishop, Robinson' Copies, Idler Mules, Dickeson Copies, Somer Island Mules, Edwards' Copies, and Wuesthof; a typewritten review of the 1953 Standard Catalogue; a handwritten numismatic article by John Ford; a typescript on the "Paquet Reverse $20 of 1861," concluding that "No good argument, therefore, appears against the claim that 1861 proof $20's from the Paquet die were issued as bona fide regular issues by the U. S. Mint."; a three page typescript for the June 1954 Numisma "Question Box"; a sheet of handwritten Ford notes pertaining to "Reference Information on Bars & Ingots, etc."; In a December 17, 1954 letter to "Dear John" Ford, Eric Newman writes: "I am sure you would be interested in knowing that I outbid Mr. Mehl for his own merchandise and obtained the Confederatio small stars [termed a "Fake" in a handwritten note by Ford]…The interesting thing about Mr. Mehl's auctions is that you always get the item at your highest figure. I told him so and also told him that I did not wish to bid against him."; a twenty-one page typescript titled "Gold and Silver Coinage Revision: Southern Branch Mints"; a handwritten ten page listing with values in an unknown hand of the "Newcomer Collection of Pattern Cents"; a three page, nine page, and eleven page "Preliminary Report on Proofs, Essais, Restrikes and Related Material (Archives)," accompanied by a February 7, 1951 letter to Wayte Raymond reading in part: "Herewith I enclose a preliminary report on my findings on PROOFS…So far I have examined about 45,000 documents…the 1849 [double eagle] story is cracked…Some of the material enclosed may be at variance with previous theories. I can supple documentary evidence for all…"; typescript corrections for various Breen articles; etc.; etc.

Clain-Stefanelli 950. Important and quite scarce.

1030 ⌖ Chapman, S. H. & H. [S. H. & H. CHAPMAN]. CATALOGUE OF A VERY FINE COLLECTION OF ANCIENT GREEK AND ROMAN, GOLD, SILVER AND BRONZE, FOREIGN AND UNITED STATES COINS AND MEDALS, THE PROPERTY OF AND CATALOGUED BY S. H. & H. CHAPMAN. New York, October 9, 1879. (2), 33, (1) pages, 604 lots, 4 fine phototype plates, priced throughout in black ink. 23.5 x 15 cm. Original printed light blue paper covers a bit worn and dusty. Very good or better. (300.00)

Ex R. W. Shipman, so inscribed on upper cover. The first Chapman sale issued with plates. The fine plates were prepared by Gutekunst, a famous early American photographer who was also responsible for the famous Maris New Jersey plate. The first plate depicts ancient coins; the second illustrates foreign and American coins and medals; and the last two depict choice large cents from the Chapmans' own collection.

1031 Chapman, S. H. & H. [SAMUEL A. BISPHAM]. THE COLLECTION OF MR. SAMUEL A. BISPHAM, OF PHILADELPHIA, CONTAINING MANY FINE AND RARE PIECES. New York, February 11–12, 1880. (4), 38 pages, 1024 lots, priced throughout in pencil with floor buyers' names or initials and other annotations. Original gilt-printed white paper covers a trifle worn and dusty, once folded. Very good. (200.00)

Captain John W. Haseltine's sales room copy. Unique. Inscribed in black ink at top of front wrapper: "Bids/J. W. Haseltine/1225 Chestnut St/Phila." Unique and most interesting. Haseltine is clearly supporting the early efforts of his proteges. A few on the last page records no less than three dozen collectors on whose behalf Haseltine was bidding. While he takes exception to the stated condition of some lots, there is no meanness in his appraisals. Included is a pencil sketch of a bearded and mustachioed male with a cap, perhaps a sale participant? A sketch of a macheté is found elsewhere. A note pertaining to lot 123, a 1799 silver dollar selling at $18.50 to Cogan, reads: "Send one as good to Sampson at $6.00." A number of other interesting notes are also present.

1032 Chapman, S. H. & H. [CHARLES IRA BUSHNELL]. CATALOGUE OF THE CELEBRATED AND VALUABLE COLLECTION OF AMERICAN COINS AND MEDALS OF THE LATE CHARLES I. BUSHNELL, ESQ., OF NEW YORK. New York, June 20–24, 1882. 142, (2) pages, 3000 lots, 12 fine phototype plates [one or more illustrations cut from the first nine plates], partly priced in black ink, Samaritan Shilling Supplement laid in. Quarto. Contemporary marbled boards, spine missing internally fine apart from the plates noted as being defective. (500.00)

Chas. Sedelchi[illegible] Adams V.— Defiance Colonials, medals Washington material and tokens. Many unique pieces, some made ex mint." The following plates are missing and very fine: V, each of the United States gold and silver coins and patterns; XI & XII large cents and half cents.

1033 Chapman, S. H. & H. [CHAPMAN COLLECTION]. CATALOGUE OF THE CHAPMAN COLLECTION OF FINE ANCIENT GREEK AND ROMAN, ENGLISH, FOREIGN AND AMERICAN COINS AND MEDALS. UNITED STATES COINS, INCLUDING 1804 DOLLAR. Philadelphia, May 14–15, 1885. 67, (1) pages, 1253 lots, 3 most attractive tinted photographic plates, priced in black ink, prices realized list. 24.5 x 16 cm. Original gilt-printed white paper covers a trifle worn and dusty. Near fine. (500.00)

An important sale featuring numerous large cents and half cents, silver dollars, and other rare American coins. The visually appealing plates are printed in appropriate hues from engravings of gold, silver and copper and depict ancient coins, colonials, early silver dollars, [illegible] coins, 1796 and 1804 "gobs o' dollars," a few European rarities, etc.

1034 Chapman, S. H. & H. [COLE & EATTESON]. CATALOGUE OF A COLLECTION OF UNITED STATES COINS AND PATTERN PIECES, ETC., OF A PROMINENT PHILADELPHIAN [DU BOIS] NOW DECEASED... COINS OF THE UNITED STATES, GOLD, SILVER AND COPPER, GEORGE EATTESON... Philadelphia, April 16-17, 1903. (4), 72 pages, 1392 + 2 (274a & 1358a) lots, priced throughout in pencil, annotated. Original gilt-printed white front paper cover loose and a bit soiled, rear cover not present, internally near fine. (100.00)

THE COLLECTIONS OF THE LATE EMANUEL WERTMAN, ESQ., OF PHILADELPHIA AND OTHERS. Philadelphia, November 19, 1910. iv, 51, (1) pages, 908 lots, priced in pencil with most buyers' names or initials, other annotations. 22.5 x 15.5 cm. Original white cloth and paper boards, gilt, ruled leaves bound in at the end. Very fine. (250.00)

A specially bound copy, perhaps annotated by the firm. Unique. Though not as detailed as the bid book, sold in Ford I, the catalogue at hand nonetheless features much interesting and useful information, including buyers, text corrections, etc. Adams B: "Willow tree 12c. Low 1, Low 85 in white metal. Low 161. RR Canadian medals."

Lacking covers, contents fine. (250.00)

Apparently Samuel Hudson Chapman's sales room copy. Unique. Beyond the names of buyers and prices paid, recorded herein are the original cost and occasionally the source for a number of pieces, virtually all of which brought far less at the sale, along with a few critical comments on condition or authenticity. Adams A: "Superb English gold and silver. Extensive European, middle ages to 19th century. 1895 gold proof set." The "Extremely rare" 1895 set of United States "Brilliant proof" gold coins was purchased by "Von Leben" for $44.50, or $7.00 over face.

1041 • Christie, Manson & Woods Ltd. [LORD ST. OSWALD]. CATALOGUE OF ENGLISH, FOREIGN AND IMPORTANT AMERICAN COINS, THE PROPERTY OF MAJOR THE LORD ST. OSWALD, M.C. REMOVED FROM NOSTELL PRIORY, WAKEFIELD, YORKSHIRE. London, October 13, 1964. 28, (2) pages, 177 lots, 4 fine plates, American section, lots 137-169, priced in red ink with buyers' names. Original printed green card covers. Very fine. (150.00)

Acquired as mementos of a trip to America at the end of the 18th century, the great importance and superb condition of the run of 1794 large cents and the 1794 and 1795 silver coins (including two mint state 1794 dollars) in this noteworthy sale were not fully appreciated by Christie's at the time. Consequently, the print run was not large and copies of this remarkable catalogue are infrequently available.

New York, September 14-15, 1990. First Printing. 310, (2) pages, 2102 lots, numerous color and monochrome illustrations, prices realized list, heavily annotated. Quarto. Original printed card covers. Very fine. (250.00)

John Ford's annotated sales room copy of the catalogue including a great many starting prices, prices realized, and bidder numbers; detailed notes on condition and specific information on the content of group lots for the many lots of interest to Ford; and numerous other interesting observations. A unique and important record. The title has been inscribed by five attendees, including James Lamb, head of Christie's Coin department, "To the aging boy wonder"; Jim Hasby: "To John Ford, 'a legend in his own mind' "; Neil Shafer: "Best wishes to the one and only JJF a friend for many years"; W. Allan: "To John, A real 'collector' "; and Russell Rave: "To a great numismatist, and a new friend." Loosely laid in are 10 four hand-written notes of detailed information on various lots; 2) a listing of three dozen or so lots bought by Ford totaling about $7,000.00; 3) photocopies of "my list of the bidders that I was able to identify" sent to Dennis Forgue and [illegible]; 4) a photocopy and a miscellaneous note.

An interesting typescript of Clapp's list of the "Big Three of the Big Cents," being perhaps the copy sent to Henry C. Hines, who, along with Howard L. Newcomb, comprised the entire membership of this elite fraternity so named by Dr. William H. Sheldon. Some fifty new varieties were described and assigned the appropriate Andrews numbers.

1044 • Clapp, Geo. H. TWO LETTERS TO WAYTE RAYMOND, TYPEWRITTEN ON PRINTED STATIONERY. Sewickley, April 27, 1943 & February 5, 1948. [illegible] I have to say in part: "... here is a little more on the Hines cents just in from Jim Clarke ... He has been told that Sheraton's of Boston have gone out of the coin business and that their stock will be sold at the A. N. A. convention in August." Clarke's "somewhat disappointed" opinion is that "... 50% or 60% is as Clapp to observe that 'I certainly will not pay any fancy prices for 'improvers,' Dr. Sheldon, as I told you, turned Simonson's and he claimed he had both of the '93's' which he bought from Carl Wurtzbach for $2,000.00 and Sheraton's offered them at $2,500.00 easily. It will take all to straighten out the conflicting Hines stories." Excerpts of the second letter follow: "Thank you for your very appreciative letter of ... January 5th. It does make me feel that I did not waste the over twenty years it took me to complete the book." Agrees with you that the plates are the best ever ... In answer to your question about illustrating 1804-1814 I have been thinking for some time that it would be a good idea to illustrate all of the varieties of large cents 1793-1814, with the new and old numbers, and some explanatory notes. If we can get plates equal to my new ones it should be a 'best seller.' My collection at the A. N. S. contains all known varieties with the exception of three interested edge letter on Head ... I think plates of these years will last for a long time ... Should it be decided that the publication is worthwhile and practical I would want to go to New York to pick out the cents to be photographed." Presumably—and unfortunately—nothing came of Dr. Sheldon's publication of Early American Coins the following year led Raymond to abandon this grand proposal. The representation would have served, at least to a modest degree the later depredation of Clapp's collection.

1052 ✦ Cohen, Jerry & Ford, John J., Jr. 1964 CORRESPONDENCE CONCERNING THE CHAPMAN HOARD OF AUCTION CATALOGUES, BID BOOKS, ACCOUNT SALES, ETC. Baltimore and New York, July-September 1964. Two letters from Jerry Cohen and two carbon copy responses from Ford, accompanied by a five page general inventory and a three page "List of Bid Books and Account Sales," both annotated in ink by Cohen. Generally fine. (250.00)

The Chapman catalogues enumerated here clearly comprised the basis of the February 4, 1970 Harmer, Rooke Million Dollar Book Sale. On July 30, 1964, Cohen, then apparently in the employ of the Baltimore firm Maintenance Chemicals Corporation, writes: "Thought you might be interested in the following: Chapman catalogues. 1. Private bid books and account sales. Total of 82…58 bid books (33 are bound) and 24 account sales. 2. Catalogues, large loose plates, misc. Price lists…Over 1600 catalogues…some with 1, some without plates…163 large Chapmans. "I have an inventory of all of the above broken down by sale, date, etc." In an August 6th reply, Ford writes that he is "very much interested" and asks Cohen to send the inventory before he leaves "for the A. N. A. convention and to make various visits around the country on Thursday, August 13th." Cohen responds on August 10th: "Suddenly it's spring! Everybody and his brother wants copies of my Chapman inventory. Because of the short time between the arrival of your letter and your leaving for ANA…What I have done…is send out my work sheets and inventory control sheets, i.e. the carbon copies with personal notes." Three sheets of carbon typescript and one ruled work sheet are attached, comprising Cohen's "work sheets." Five separate "inventory control sheets" on oblong ruled accounting sheets provide a listing of regular Chapman catalogues, large and small format, prices realized lists, loose plates and engravings, etc. (including copies of Jackman catalogues, 150 Clercq prices realized lists, 89 1929 McKean sales, 8 plated Boeing-Bridgman sales, etc. Replying belatedly on September 29, 1964, Ford initially expresses interest but his ardor appears to have cooled, perhaps because it had become clear that the items listed had already been "picked over" by Ford when the Chapman catalogue inventory was the property of Ed Rice. In any case, described as "A Numismatic Treasure Now Offered For the First Time at Public Sale," the "82 personal bid and private account sale books" were offered for sale on 8 September 1967, a full page Numismatist advertisement by Bernard and Bruce Gimelson for $3,500.00. Between 1966 and 1969, 56 Harmer, Rooke sale 2 full sheets bid books appear to have been acquired by John Ford. Signaling perhaps the early beginning of the modern frustrations in the rare coin market, Harry W. Bass, Jr. purchased the bulk of the remaining fifty-two Chapman bid books in the Harmer, Rooke sale (though from a modern viewpoint, at undeniably bargain prices [approximately $10.00 per catalogue on average]). The remainder of the hoard appears to have largely been absorbed by the numismatic literature marketplace in the intervening years. On numerous occasions, Jack Collins and your cataloguer purchased several hundred small format Chapman catalogues from this cache, perhaps around the time that John Adams & Annie's quantity of 1918 Jackman and Bement catalogues to be wedded with new impressions of the plates from the original plates remaining in his possession via John Ford, at the time.

1053 ✦ [Cohen, Joshua I.]. ORIGINAL JUNE 23, 1868 HOLOGRAPH LETTER FROM BRANTZ MAYER, PRESIDENT OF THE MARYLAND HISTORICAL SOCIETY, TO THE HONORABLE REVERDY JOHNSON, UNITED STATES SENATOR, CONCERNING THE DISPOSITION OF THE COLLECTION OF COLONIAL AND CONTINENTAL CURRENCY FORMED BY JOSHUA I. COHEN. Baltimore, June 23, 1868. Single ruled oblong sheet, folded in half to form four pages, written on resulting first three pages. Folded size: 25 x 20 cm. Originally tri-folded for mailing. Some separation at folds, no loss. Also included is a typewritten copy, on three sheets of Faris C. Pitt stationery. (150.00)

An interesting letter proposing that Cohen's collection housed in fifteen folio volumes, be acquired by the government. Mayer's missive begins by stating that "I have lately had an opportunity of examining thoroughly the superb Collection formed by Dr. Joshua I. Cohen of this City during the last forty years, of the Colonial and early Continental or Congressional Currencies of North America." An interesting account of the collection, comprising "nearly three thousand specimens," follows, and Mayer's letter concludes: "As mere curiosities these fifteen important volumes would be of inappreciable value to any enlightened Collector. But, as an unique assemblage of American Currency during our early periods, an assemblage, which it will not be possible to duplicate hereafter, I regard the set as a National Historic Work which, if Dr. Cohen parts with it, should not be suffered to pass into any other collection than that of our Government. Congress should be eager to obtain it. If now neglected, in a few years our successors will be surprized [sic] at the indifference of an ancestry which allowed such a record to escape it. I beg leave, most respectfully, to call your attention to the matter, as I understand Dr. Cohen would be willing to relinquish it for such a national destination." Those successors who witnessed the difficulties experienced exactly a century later over Josiah Lilly's gold coins finally became part of the national numismatic collection might not be as surprized as Mayer imagined that his proposal would fail to reach fruition. Cohen's collection was ultimately sold by auction, at the beginning of the Great Depression in 1930 for $8,250.00 by Anderson Galleries (vide lot 133 in the 2004 Ford I library sale). A Baltimore native, Brantz Mayer (1809-1879), was a noted lawyer and author, as well as an accomplished numismatist. Some of the valuable specimens in the 1878 Strobridge sale of the Snow Select Cabinet came from his collection and George Massamore's March 1-2, 1888 auction sale catalogue bears his name. Constitutional lawyer and diplomat Reverdy Johnson (1796-1876), was likewise a native of Maryland, whose political career during and after the Civil War was quite notable if fraught with inconstancy caused by sympathy for the South yet a strong belief in the preservation of the Union.

Rarely offered. Few copies appear to have been retained, given the work's preliminary nature, expressed as follows by the Committee at the base of the title: "Collectors having pieces not mentioned herein, will confer a favor by sending a full description thereof to either one of the Committee appointed by the Numismatic society of Philadelphia, to prepare for publication a work on the subject of the medals, medallets, and private coinage of the United States." The proposed work never appeared, presumably due to the appearance of Charles Bushnell's more detailed 1858 work on the topic, which, according to his Advertisement, had "been ready for the press for more than two years." The work at hand, however, would seem to be easier to use, being arranged alphabetically by merchant, rather than the geographical method employed by Bushnell.

1055 • [Confederate Coins & Tokens]. Zinsmeister, H. T. CONFEDERATE STATES OF AMERICA: KNOWN COINS & TOKENS. Cleveland, August 26, 1959. An original typewritten letter to John J. Ford, Jr., accompanied by 4 sheets of data arranged in columns, accomplished in pencil. The letter and 3 leaves of the listing are on 8.5 x 11 inch sheets; the remaining leaf is 12.5 x 20.5 cm. Loose, minor staining/discoloration. Very good. (also) Rareshide, Clarence. THE CSA HALF DOLLAR. New Orleans, September 12, 1964. A handwritten three page letter to John J. Ford, Jr. on printed stationery. Bottom of one page slightly clipped, else fine. (also) Ruder, Lucius S. COPPER NICKEL CONFEDERATE CENT AND THE APRIL 12, 1862 BOND WITH THE MEMMINGER NOTATIONS. Clearwater, September 25, 1956. A handwritten four page letter to John J. Ford, Jr. on printed stationery, along with Ford's one page November 30, 1956 carbon copy reply. Fine. (also) Guerrant, W. M. 1861 CONFEDERATE STATE OF AMERICA COPPER-NICKEL CENT. New York, January 13, 1958. Typewritten one page letter to John J. Ford, Jr. on printed stationery, responding to Ford's one page January 2, 1956 carbon copy also present here. Fine. (250.00)
Zinsmeister writes that "I am certainly glad to know that you are making up a complete listing of all Confederate Metallic issues for the forthcoming issue of the Standard Catalogue…I started a listing of my own, back about 5 years ago. At that time I did considerable research on the subject. The enclosed listing is a culmination of this effort." The detailed listing, on two sheets includes columns for Denomination, Date, Type Metal, Description: Obverse/Reverse, Original or Restrike, Coin or Token, Minted By, Amount Struck, and Designer or Engraver. A third sheet comprises Rarity and Source of Information columns for the thirty pieces listed on the preceding two sheets, and the final half sheet lists five replicas and tokens. Rareshide's letter recounts "research once conducted by an elderly fellow attorney here" on the Confederate half dollar, discusses his current collecting interests, and also mentions other topics. Ruder's interesting letter touches on the topics noted in the above description, and Ford's reply notes that "I am very much interested in your copper nickel Confederate Cent and the April 12, 1862 bond with the Memminger notations." He expresses interest in "a possible trade for your CSA Cent" and at least the opportunity to view the bond. In Ford's letter to Guerrant, he writes: "As you know, I own the defaced dies for this coin and would like very much to acquire your specimen for purpose of display and exhibition. I am willing to trade my proof impression in silver of the Confederate Cent even for your specimen, or to offer you an example in copper plus $100.00 for your coin…" Guerrant responds that "I appreciate your generous offer, but I am not in the market at this time to dispose of this item." A most interesting assemblage.

1056 • Confederate States of America. TREASURY CIRCULAR NO. 12. Richmond: Treasury Department, September 21, 1861. 16 pages. 21.5 x 13.5 cm. Self-covered and sewn as issued, perhaps once bound. Fine. (250.00)
Secretary of the Treasury, C. G. Memminger's message on the first page reads in part: "The special attention of Collectors of the Customs is directed to the following Acts and parts of Acts, of Congress, passed at the several Sessions of the same, designated by numbers and dates which will be found upon the succeeding pages…In regard to the kind of funds in which the revenue from Customs is to be collected specie and the Treasury notes issued by authority conferred upon the Treasury Department, as a general thing, are alone receivable. The law, however, makes one exception, and that is the export duty on cotton. For this, only specie and the interest coupons are receivable. Treasury notes being by law excluded from being received for this export tax." Appended are the texts of several acts, including the one adopted February 28, 1861 authorizing an issue of up to fifteen million dollars in "certificates of stock or bonds." Another act of numismatic interest establishes that "the following gold coin shall pass current as money within the Confederate States of America…The Sovereign of England…the Napoleon…the Spanish and Mexican Doubloons, and specifies rates, fineness, and minimum weights.

Invaluable reference source to those interested in the study of early American history and, in the context of numismatics, a key source of documentary information on Spanish and British activities in the Americas as they existed by European entities.

1062 ❖ Daycius Galleries, Martin Nathaniel. [B. MAX MEHL]. MARTIN NATHANIEL DAYCIUS GALLERIES ANNOUNCES PUBLIC AUCTION SALE BOOKS AND CATALOGS ON COINS & SUNDRY ITEMS. Fort Worth, Texas, on Wednesday the first of April 1992 at 1204 Magnolia. Original duplicated typescript on light blue stock. Single 8.5 x 11 inch sheet. Horizontal fold-mark, once stapled together. One margin reinforced with clear tape. Very good/near fine. (100.00)
With leaves to left for mailing use side comprised space for postage and an address, this example featuring John J. Ford, Jr.'s mailing address, neatly typed in capitals. The piece is franked with a 1¢ W. F. B. DuBois 29¢ stamp, and, to the left, a 21¢ Texas postmark, partially obliterated by a "Return to Sender" Morning, Victoria postmark. Stapled to the upper left corner are two tax transaction report slips, presumably documenting the disposal copies of the five to sell [sic] in Dallas, Texas coin dealer John Rowe on March 25th and to Beth Deisher, editor of Coin World on April 1st. Our other sole exception to the "no title of which is cited above and the subsequent text of which follows: Many items of rare records discovered from A long deceased dealer. Old coin books. Many old catalogs in beautiful leathers, though a number contained in the process of restoration. Also known as a number lots of old records and invoices also. Several box lots of old coin envelopes, sheets and covers. Large one of old envelopes, a few going back to the 1820's. TERMS OF SALE: CASH ONLY. ALL ITEMS MUST BE PAID FOR AND REMOVED AT TIME OF SALE. M.N. Daycius, Auctioneer, Carrollton, Texas." Your cataloguer vividly remembers receiving Daycius' offering of miscellaneous numismatic stuff, and [was] John Ford who was convinced that the items to be sold were a portion of the B. Max Mehl inventory. However, Daycius' broadcast-postcard with other recipients who had noticed the All Tools Day sale date and the "mendacious" [quotation] account of more than a ton of Mehl stuff, John Ford was finally persuaded to believe that the five might promise less than it seemed. "Mendacious" quotation from Autumn/Summer 1981 [sic, 1991] and Spring 2004 issues of The Asylum provide light on the M. N. Daycius five and subsequent events, though the Daycius auctioneer seemed to part from what are considered by some to be mistaken assertions.

1063 ❖ Dillistin, William H. et al. NATIONAL BANK NOTES CORRESPONDENCE. A collection of correspondence and other materials generated mainly by Dillistin, circa mid to late 1940s. Well over two dozen letters, comprised of Dillistin's carbon copies and original responses, along with accompanying materials. Housed in a file folder. Fine. (250.00)

A unique assemblage of very interesting correspondence from and to this important student of American paper money and General Auditor of the Federal Reserve Bank of New York, including: letters to and from the Treasury Department, Albert Grinnell, The National Archives, W. A. Philpott, Jr., Bureau of Engraving and Printing, Barney Bluestone, the Deputy Comptroller of the Currency, and others, concerning Dillistin's in-depth research on "the early issues of national bank notes, that is, those which were placed in circulation between 1863 and 1883."; a typewritten compilation comprising the "Aggregate Number, by Denominations, of National Bank Notes Issued up to November 1 in Each Year, From 1868 to 1885"; a photostatic 8 page typescript reproduction of a November 26, 1964 Congressional report on the "Printing Bureau of the Treasury Department"; a four page typescript on "Preparation of Plates" sent to the Bureau of Engraving and Printing, along with Director A. W. Hall's "slight changes" in typescript "with respect to paragraphs numbered one to five, inclusive."; a four page typescript comprising a "Resume of Statutes with Respect to Denominations of National Bank Notes and Limitations as to Notes of the Denomination of Five Dollars and Less"; two pages of handwritten notes from W. A. Philpott, Jr., on national bank notes "not on your list"; a two page typescript of "$1 and $2 National Bank Notes from Collection of W. A. Philpott, Jr. Showing Neither Prefix Nor Suffix to Treasury Serial Number: All Seals Are Small Red With Rays"; etc.

1066 ◆ (Downing, Homer K.). 1795 JEFFERSON HEAD CENTS. No place or date of issue. An original compilation in ink and pencil, on a 5 x 8 inch ruled file card, accompanied by cut photographs, approximately 3.5 x 1.5 inches, depicting both sides of specimens numbered 2, 4, 10, & 11, namely those in the collections of WHS, HKD, HCH, and OP. Photographs housed in an oblong coin envelope. Fine. (100.00)
Downing lists fourteen specimens, sequentially though randomly numbered (probably added at a later time), with current and, when known, prior owners, also noting diameters, weights in grams and grains, along with other observations including those cast, holed, overstruck, and electrotype specimens.

1067 ◆ Drowne, Henry Russell. CORRESPONDENCE SENT TO HENRY CHAPMAN, INCLUDING "A COPY OF MY UNLISTED CONTINENTAL AND COLONIAL NOTES." New York, May 17 & May 21, 1917. Two holograph letters, written on 20 plain sheets, in black ink. 21.5 x 14 cm. Loose. Very good/fine. (100.00)
The first letter is on a single sheet, accompanied by a 16 listing, arranged by colony. In it, Drowne writes: "I am sending you herewith, as promised, a copy of my unlisted Continental and Colonial notes but I fear many are taken from lists, and I regret to state that at this late date I have no means of verification. As information, however, this material may be of some value so please accept it for what it is worth. You will also please note the correction of some errors as to dates in Mr. Low's list of 1889." In the second letter of three pages, Drowne notes: "I am pleased to hear that you thought the information sent, of some use." He goes on to congratulate Chapman for "the great number of the rare notes you have obtained," and discusses the sources of his data, including several important named collections. He concludes with: "If I can assist you any further in perfecting your list I will be pleased to."

1068 ◆ Eglit, Nathan N. COLUMBIANA: THE MEDALLIC HISTORY OF CHRISTOPHER COLUMBUS AND THE COLUMBIAN EXPOSITION OF 1893. Chicago, (1965). 144 pages, text illustrations. Original printed card covers. Very fine/near new. (200.00)
Autographed by the author. An indispensable reference. Very scarce. From 1954 until the end of 1967, Arlie Slabaugh was associate editor of the Numismatic Scrapbook, though not so credited in the publication, and was also employed by Lee Hewitt as an author and printer. It was Slabaugh, who "put into shape and printed" Columbiana, and nearly all of the many serial articles by Boosel, Fuld, and others, that were subsequently reissued in booklet form.

1069 ✣ Eidlitz, Robert James. MEDALLIC PORTRAITS OF MATTHEW BOULTON AND JAMES WATT. New York:, 1928. (12), 13, (3), 7 very fine collotype plates. Quarto. Original blue cloth, gilt. Near new. (200.00)
No. 56 of only 200 copies printed. A handsome production; the only substantial work on the topic.

Henry Chapman's Priced and Named Gschwend Catalogue

1070 ✣ Elder, Thomas L. [PETER GSCHWEND]. CATALOGUE OF THE EIGHTEENTH PUBLIC AUCTION SALE OF A SPLENDID COLLECTION OF AMERICAN AND ENGLISH COINS, THE PROPERTY OF PETER GSCHWEND, ESQ. New York, June 15–16, 1908. 83, (1), (2), (2) pages, 1097 lots, plus lots 1098–1108 and 28 additional Addenda lots designated A-BB, largely priced in pencil with buyers' names and other annotations. Small quarto: 27 x 18 cm. Original gilt-printed dark brown card covers somewhat worn, internally near fine. (500.00)
Henry Chapman's sales room copy, inscribed in ink at head of upper cover: "Private, Henry Chapman, Philadelphia." Unique. Adams A+: "Superb colonials: Rosa Sine Spina, Higley's 2d, Virginia shilling, Castorland in gold, Disme, silver center 1s. Choice Washington patterns & silver. 1865 proof set, 5c to $20 in copper. Palmetto medal. First rate copper." Chapman's annotations include interesting notes on condition and defects, underbidders (as in example, on lot 66, the 1774 Virginia "shilling" purchased by Chapman, he notes "Wurzbach 1 @ $480 . "RWB" $300, and the winner: "I only bid $505."), and other interesting observations. Additionally, of the "Castorland Half Dollar in Gold" which brought $1,450, he notes "Brand against Wurzbach" and "Restrike," he corrects the dates of the last four Addenda lots in the sale, from 1881 to 1888 (an obvious pattern: dollar, half dollar, quarter, and dime), etc.

1071 ✣ Elder, Thomas L. [JAMES B. WILSON]. CATALOGUE OF THE TWENTY-FIRST SALE. MAGNIFICENT RARE COIN COLLECTION OF THE LATE JAMES B. WILSON, ESQ., OF NEW YORK CITY. New York, October 5–7, 1908. 72, (8) pages, 1409 lots, 28 fine photographic plates, prices realized list laid in. 23.5 x 16.5 cm. Original gilt printed tan card covers a little dusty, small portion of bottom of front cover torn off. Very fine. (350.00)
Adams A+: "Gold proof sets, 1795 Silver, Superb silver: 1838 D 50c, 1827 25c, MS 1802 5c & MS 1805 5c. Magnificent cents: MS 1804, 1806, 1808 [illegible] plus good 5 to superb. Completion Pond $2.50. Rarest Bechtler. Summer six pence. Oriental." A truly notable sale of American coins, especially important for large cents. At the head of the section Elder terms it "THE FINEST COLLECTION EVER SOLD," in various and notes that "about two hundred plates were purchased by Mr Wilson at the Frothingham sale in May, 1883. Several are from the Parmelee collection." Two pages of the 28 plates are devoted to the private gold collection, "one of the best that has ever been offered." Eight of the plates illustrate large cents. While primarily United States gold coins, there are four plates of silver dollars, two of halves and one each of quarters and dimes, two plates of copper, pattern silver dollars and fractionals, a full dimes, three plates illustrate ancient, medieval and modern European coins and two plates depict pattern gold pieces.

1072 ✣ Elder, Thomas L. [LEWIS C. GEHRING]. PUBLIC AUCTION SALE OF THE IMPORTANT RARE COIN AND PAPER MONEY COLLECTION OF THE LATE LEWIS C. GEHRING, ESQR., OF BROOKLYN, N. Y....RARE UNITED STATES, PRIVATE AND FOREIGN GOLD COINS FROM FIFTY DOLLARS TO SMALLEST SIZE; CHOICE UNITED STATES SILVER AND COPPER COINS; FOREIGN SILVER COINS, MEDALS; UNITED STATES GREENBACK PAPER MONEY, STATE BILLS, BROKEN BANK BILLS, ETC., ETC., A TOTAL OF OVER 1600 VARIED LOTS, INCLUDING MANY OF THE GREATEST INTEREST TO COLLECTORS AND IN THE FINEST PRESERVATION OBTAINABLE. New York, August 26-27, 1921. 76, (4) pages, 1609 + 1 ("6902 a $50 Slug-round" @ $330.00) lots, portrait of Gehring, priced and annotated in pencil, including a number of buyers' initials or names, and occasional other notes. 23 x 15.5 cm. Original printed tan card covers. Fine. (100.00)
[illegible] Valuable sale from estate of W. with his name and address written in pencil on the front cover. Adams A: "Biography of Gehring. Near complete $1 to 5 gold many varieties many proofs, and high condition. Excellent private gold: Bechtlers, fractional, Mormons. MS early dimes 1795 5c, 1801 5c, 1807 50c. Choice copper. Proof sets 1855 following. Extensive paper. U. S., fractional and Confederate." The first offering as noted by P. Scott Rubin, to feature an extensive offering of mint marked United States gold coins.

1073 ✣ Elder, Thomas Lindsay. PHOTOGRAPHIC PLATES OF TOKENS AND MEDALS. Twenty original photographs depicting an extensive array of superb early American merchant tokens, Hard Times tokens, political tokens and medals, etc. 10 x 8 inch prints, in varying sepia tones. Comprised of sets: one photograph depicting obverses, the other depicting corresponding reverses. Very fine. (750.00)
A most remarkable series of original photographs, presumably taken by Edgar H. Adams, and displaying the same characteristics as the superb plates issued to accompany a number of late teen and early twenties Elder auction sale catalogues. Whether these plates were originally prepared for inclusion with Elder auction catalogues, whether they record a major private acquisition by Elder, or whether they were prepared for another use remains unknown at present. Thanks are due to Bob Schuman for reviewing these photographs. Dr. Schuman did observe that some of the illustrations present here are identical to halftones found in the relevant sections of the 1940 and 1941 editions of Wayte Raymond's Standard Catalogue of United States Coins. All are contained in a file folder inscribed in ink by John J. Ford, Jr.: "Thomas L. Elder Photographic Plates." It also included, and they are also present here, three additional modern 10 x 8 inch prints, perhaps copies of original Elder photographs, or possibly later productions, all depicting rare Benjamin Franklin medals and tokens. A brief overview of the original Elder photographs present here follows: three pairs of sepia photographs, designated 671A, 693A, & 695A for the obverses and 692A, 694A, & 672A for the reverses, depicting 30, 27, & 30 early New York merchant tokens; three "very" sepia sets of plates depicting 62 Andrew Jackson medals and tokens, including some peace medals and Hard Times pieces; a "semi" sepia set of plates depicting 26 Jackson and other political medals and tokens (three prints of the obverses and two of the reverses are present, apparently being different exposures); a "semi" sepia set of plates depicting 24 Jackson and other political medals and tokens (two prints of the obverses are present, apparently being different exposures).

1074 ✣ Elder, Thomas L.; Hines, Henry C.; & Chapman, S. H. CORRESPONDENCE CONCERNING THE 1794 "HAYS 38" CENT. New York & Philadelphia, circa 1917-1922. Included are three Elder letters to Hines, one Chapman letter to Hines, a photograph depicting both sides of a 1794 cent, and an auction catalogue description. The Elder letters and catalogue description are trimmed to size. Very good/fine. (200.00)

A unique, interesting, and highly entertaining assemblage. On October 4, 1917, Elder writes: "I have made a new discovery in 1794 cents, a new obverse, or a new muling. A very fair specimen, parts good. Could be termed almost good, some would call it good. This coin is unique so far as known. Mr. Gilbert concurs and calls it a new number. I will sell it for $100.00. If I don't hear from you soon, it will go into my first Nov. sale to be sold." In an October 12, 1917 missive, Elder continues: "Referring to the 1794 cent, new variety—look at the date, no other has such a wide date or the figure 1 so far from the 7. Mr. Gilbert states this is the deciding positive mark of its difference, and there are others. I have several inquiries for it, also if you do not wish it, kindly send it back to me as I intend to place it in my next sale. It is unique so far as known. If you keep it, the price is $100, as stated. Rev. 31 41." In a signed 1922 note at the bottom, S. H. Chapman observes: "It is only a 59 beyond all doubt." On November 21, Elder responds: "This new 1794 cent is positively Not 59. The curl in 59 is not so round, and the direction of the 1 is different in date, the circle at top part of figure 9 is different also…Mr. Gilbert has made a careful examination of it and says it is positively not Hays 59. It is going to be sold in my sale of Dec. 6 7-8, together with 400 other lots of cents (probably 300 of them in very fine state). The plate catalogue is going to be well worth while, the plates even better than Millers, -only $1.50." In another 1922 note, Chapman confirms that "It is 59 beyond all question." In an August 3, 1922 letter on official stationery, Chapman writes: "I thank you for sending photograph of the Cent Elder offered. It is Hays 59." In a handwritten note, he adds: "Have an uncirculated from Dr. French & 2 others." The sepia photograph depicts the coin, a rather miserable specimen. The auction catalogue description of lot 723, described in an ink note as "Stack sale 7.26.39," also features the following observation: "This was H 39 Clapp-not H 38."

1075 ✣ Essay-Proof Society. THE ESSAY-PROOF JOURNAL: DEVOTED TO THE HISTORICAL AND ARTISTIC BACKGROUND OF STAMPS AND PAPER MONEY. VOLS. 1-50. Jefferson et al., 1944-1993. A complete set of two hundred issues, except for twelve later numbers, as follows: Nos. 160-166, 185, 186, & 192-194. Original printed card covers throughout, illustrated, many annual indexes loosely laid in. Generally very fine. (650.00)

Clain-Stefanelli 555. Unfortunately, this remarkable journal ceased publication in 1993. Over a half century its many thousands of pages of text and illustrations touched on virtually every aspect of the topic. Primarily a philatelic publication, it nonetheless comprises a major and often exclusive source of indispensable information relating to American banknote engraving and paper currency.

1076 ✣ Ford, John J., Jr. DETERGENT ETC. Circa 1946-1956. A file of various papers, correspondence, etc., titled as above in pencil. (100.00)

An interesting body of documents pertaining to early efforts by John Ford to formulate and market detergents and other products. Included are: a typescript of a formula for "Hand Cleaner"; seven sheets of duplicated 1946 technical reports from Molnar Laboratories to Ford Chemical Co. testing various properties of "Ford's Sulphur Solution"; formulae and directions for use of detergent, hair remover, etc. in a Ford Research Foundation envelope; various other typescript formulae, metric conversions, etc.; an August 26, 1954 legal agreement between Ford, Leslie L. Beach, and W. Kenneth Chave for the purpose of authorizing Beach and Chave to sell to the United States Government, namely the Army, Navy or Air Force, Ford's secret formulas for "a certain liquid germicide and fungicide…and also an all purpose liquid detergent known at "IT"; a February 27, 1956 Agreement between Ford and Beach for the latter to experiment with and make samples of "SULDURM" and "FORD'S SULPHUR SOLUTION," along with the formula; a carbon copy of a December 24, 1955 letter to Charles P. Harriman concerning detergent, also noting that "While I do not feel personally obliged by my father's obligations, I do feel that I should attempt to do something…if anything at all can be done with the Detergent, you will definitely be in the picture."; a detailed carbon sketch for a detergent manufacturing facility; an envelope entitled "Sources of Supply" containing various 1950s invoices; etc. A fascinating glimpse of an alternate universe wherein John J. Ford, Jr. the entrepreneurial chemist would have been formulating athlete's foot remedies and collecting royalties instead of, or perhaps in conjunction with, engaging in a numismatic career.

1077 ✣ Ford, John J., Jr. CORRESPONDENCE, ETC., WITH ERIC P. NEWMAN, JOSEPH BROBSTON, DONALD MILLER, ED RICE, HORACE L. P. BRAND, ABE KOSOFF, ABNER KREISBERG, AND OTHERS. New York et al., circa 1948-1953. Well over one hundred sheets, mainly comprised of original correspondents' letters, and Ford's carbon copy responses. Generally fine. (500.00)

Included are: an original November 12, 1948 Ford typescript of "Proposed terms concerning the writing and subsequent publication of a reference book on U. S. coinage to be written, compiled and illustrated by J. J. Ford, Jr. and to be published under the auspices of J. B. and Morton Stack," accompanied by a typescript sample page of the book listing values for half cents 1793-1810 in four states of preservation, and carbon copy versions of same; 1948 correspondence with Mrs. Thomas Elder; an August 14, 1951 letter from Eric P. Newman to "Dear Mr. Ford," with a handwritten postscript, reading "Your articles from time to time are swell — keep it up. I hope to meet you next visit to New York"; and a decade and most interesting 1952-1953 correspondence with Eric P. Newman on colonial coins, tokens, and other early issues, along with information on items sent to New Netherlands by Newman to be sold at auction to determine their "exchange value"; two October 1950 letters to Joseph Brobston and his two replies concerning half cents, including Brobston's comment that "I agree with you that the half-cent has been the most neglected of the United States series. I have made a very careful study of all those listed in Gilbert and have just finished writing a monograph on the subject."; interesting 1950-1952 correspondence with Donald M. Miller, mainly on Hard times and other tokens; 1950 correspondence with Ed Rice, including the carbon copy of Ford's introductory March 13 letter ("Homer K. Downing introduced us at Hans Schulman's sale back in February... Both he and Ray Gallo tell me that you have a large number of Henry Chapman's old sale catalogs. Perhaps you'd go together [with Ed Rice – Mason] to recycle [sic] [illegible] and me a list of what you are interested in. ..."), Ford's April 3 letter ("You received our circular ... On new items [which is] acquisitions including 2 Bushnell Catalogs, 1 with Plates and Prices... $4.00"); and a dozen or so postcards and notes; 1950 correspondence with Abner Kreisberg, including original typescript of "Description of lot to be sold at Public Auction – Collection #24" and "United States Rarities, Collection #22," along with three letters from Brand and Ford's responses ("It seems to me that you could do much better with the material that you are contemplating to sell if you would have each coin thoroughly described including history and pedigree and illustrated on full page photographic plates. ... You are Mr. Brand, you are trying to sell many rare and little known rarities to people who know little or nothing about them. ... Anywhere you'll be exposed. ... If you were going to sell your car, would you rather go to a used car dealer or to a person who knew all about cars and their owners and their background. I realize that your brother was one of the greatest if not the greatest numismatist in the history of this country. I'll be glad to help you in any way you can."); correspondence with Louis Hoverath, including a handwritten January 16, 1951 letter ("I'm glad you associated yourself with Charlie Wormser who I think is a credit to numismatics. A perfect gentleman even though he called me Mr. Stack..."); interesting, contentious and entertaining 1950-1951 correspondence with A. K. "Usher" Baldwin relating to Ford's salutation in the first letter present here, but mostly about Kreisberg in the early 1950s and Abe Kosoff in the late 1940s pertaining to Numismatic Gallery's December 15, 1950 book sale and guidelines on the auction thereof ("If it is not too much trouble, would you mind going over the following lots... I like to know conditions. ... K — [opening] [illegible] with regard to your inquiry. As stated it is utterly impossible ... Haven't even numbered the lots yet. ... Hi — I am returning the following lots to you as totally unsatisfactory. ..."); K: "We make no secret of the fact that your manner in handling your auctions seems to us to be somewhat unbusinesslike and even distasteful to us."); "I was somewhat amazed upon receipt of your letter. ... I honestly believe I was entitled to acknowledge your catalogue errors particularly when I wrote, previous to the sale, requesting detailed information relative to the exact condition of the books involved... Your removal of my name from your mailing list seems somewhat childish and indicative of very poor sportsmanship."); 1950-1951 correspondence with James Kelly concerning "Manly Medals and Dies" and other topics, including a note from Schulman: "Saw that it would be desirable for the dies to be in the American Numismatic Society but expressing an unwillingness to pay the price desired ("If the owner paid $500, for them it seems to us [including Messrs. Chapman and Ford" that is good enough"), etc. A wonderful body of early Ford correspondence.

Included are: a July 13 letter from Joan M. Ford, in response to an order, reading: "My husband has been called on a two week tour of active duty with the United States Marine Corps Reserve. He will send you your coins upon his return July 31st."; interesting correspondence with Stuart Mosher, editor of The Numismatist, concerning a disagreement with Abe Kosoff over the rarity of recut date 1840s silver dollars ("Mr. K, upon occasion, climbs out on a limb, and I take great delight in shaking the tree."); interesting correspondence with J. V. McDermott "concerning today's rough situation in the coin game" wherein McDermott observes that "Here's another way I look at it, I was offered $5,000.00 for my 1913 – Lib. – Head – Nic. – Nov. 19th at the Chicago North Shore Shindig – suppose I had sold my Nic. In 44 or 45 and could have gotten $3,750.00 for it – I figured I could have bought just as much for $3,750.00 then as I could for $5,000.00 to-day."; correspondence with Abe Kosoff and Abner Kreisberg wherein Numismatic Gallery offers Ford several four figure Territorial Patterns, to which Ford conveys thanks but notes that "my interest waned in the series, as your prices proved to me that such material was too rich for my blood."; correspondence with Charles Wormser concerning a 1918/17 overdate nickel sent to Ford for inspection wherein Wormser observes that "I must confess that I was rather surprised to learn the fact that you intended to show this coin to a 'client', for I had assumed that you had retired from the coin game long ago..." Included are: delightful correspondence with B. Max Mehl concerning Mehl's Golden Jubilee sale, including listings of Ford's commissions, his bid sheet (where he scolds Mehl: "when are you going to answer my many requests and look around for Chapman Sale Catalogs with Plates...Also, I need...nearly two hundred other U. S. Numismatic Books and Catalogs...Your Sale Catalogs are magnificent, but why don't you offer special editions with actual photographs..."), Mehl's sale invoice and cover letter, the carbon copy of Ford's June 6 letter to Mehl expressing dissatisfaction with his purchases ("For some time I have heard rumors concerning your erroneous and somewhat fallacious cataloging..."), and Mehl's devastating response ("In my younger days you would have gotten a pretty hot letter from me in response to yours...I have had fair clients differ with me on the classification of the condition of coins and I always feel that they have as much right to their opinion as I have to mine, but no one has a right to place himself on a pedestal and say that he alone is an authority on the classification of coins just as you have done in your letter...Out of a total of sixty bids, most of them ridiculous, which we had to take the time to enter, you received three lots...You seem to take pleasure in writing an insulting letter. Of course, I realize you must be a great expert according to your bids and your knowledge of the value of coins...On lot #776 you bid $60.25 and the coin sold for $132.50; Lot #770 you bid $40.20 and the coin sold for $120...and so on down the line. So, I think, Mr. Ford, there might be a little question as to your absolute authority on numismatics."); correspondence with Philip Chase; Sawyer McA. Mosser's letter informing Ford that he has been "unanimously elected an Associate Member of the [American Numismatic] Society"; a holograph letter from Mrs. Henry Chapman, reading in part: "With great enthusiasm I read your August article in the Numismatist about my husband's cataloguing. I was pleased to know of one who appreciated his work for many, many nights he would work until one and two, always particular to describe a coin accurately. If you should like any of the catalogues, Mr Edward Rice, Cranbury New Jersey, bought them..."; a great deal of correspondence related to Ford's 1950 fixed price list and mail bid sale, including Norman Shultz's copies of the March-April price list and the June 7 mail bid sale; interesting correspondence with Norman Shultz concerning Mormon gold and numismatic books and catalogues; a letter to Stephen Nagy, in which Ford recalls a 1940 or 1941 purchase "including a number of 1817 Uncirculated Cents"; a thank you from Doug Smith Ford "for your dope on the 1799, the Abbey cent"; a response by William Poizner of Far West Stamp & Coin Co. to a letter from Ford concerning "minor Gold dies cut by Albert Kuner, where he writes that "nearly 6 years [ago]...I sold these dies to Abe Kosoff...It is just possible that I may have a trace of other similar dies..."; a letter to Ralph Lathrop where Ford writes: "I am not interested in coins as a means of making a 'Quick Buck.' My main interest in the hobby or science is based upon my love of the subject"; interesting correspondence with Lee Hewitt; interesting correspondence with Louis Horowitz; correspondence with Burton Saxton of The Numismatist, including Ford's ad copy for the Browning quarter dollar re issue. The "Manuscript Complete" folder includes: numerous Breen (possibly some by Ford) typescripts, often including handwritten notes by Breen, entitled "Restrikes of United States Coins," "Confederate States of America," "Revised notes for the Massachusetts Silver," "Large Cent additions and changes in the 1953 Standard Catalog," "Further Large Cent additions and changes…," etc.; proof sheets of the colonial section annotated by Ford; proof sheets of the half cent introductory text; handwritten Breen work sheets; interesting Ford/Raymond correspondence on book details and other topics (F: "Breen has…been helping me with the Downing Cents. He just about loused up the entire operation yesterday, and has been getting into trouble at the A. N. S. Breen has the ability to rub people the wrong way and of course, he can't take any kidding or adverse comments…I can handle him, but he has all the ear marks of true genius and needs 'kid glove' treatment."/W: "All the copy for the Catalogue must be in the printer's hands by July 1st."; several sheets of handwritten Ford notes, along with typewritten notes; etc. The PAGE PROOFS include extensive pencil corrections and commentary by Ford, including: on the title verso Ford proposes that "Massachusetts and other revisions by John J. Ford, Jr." be changed to "Associate Editor, John J. Ford, Jr." and that "Introductions by Walter Breen" be amended to read "Research by Walter Breen," with a side note in red pencil reading "Make this so they can see it, you will never regret the plug"; a side note in red pencil by the copyright notice at the base of the title verso reads "This should be larger too, Yeoman should see it"; etc. The many corrections, additions, and other changes in these page proofs proposed by Ford amply display both an encyclopedic scope of numismatic knowledge and the keen incisiveness of his mind.

1083 ⟡ Ford, John J., Jr. APPRAISAL OF THE HOMER K. DOWNING COLLECTION OF UNITED STATES LARGE CENTS. New York, 1952. Included are: an April 18, 1952 cover letter from the law offices of White and Simms; Ford's copy of the "Affidavit of Appraisal"; a three page April 15, 1952 carbon "Copy of HKD Appraisal," covering 1793-1814, and a five page carbon typescript of the later dates. Present as well is Ford's New Netherlands Coin Co. carbon typescript copy, annotated in pencil, of a far more detailed listing of the collection, featuring columns for Sheldon and Crosby Nos., Rarity, Basal Value, Condition, and Book Value. Also included are a few Ford carbon typescript letters pertaining to Downing's obituary in The Numismatist. Generally fine. (250.00)

The affidavit states that the "true market value" of Downing's large cent collection was $7,954.00 on the date of his death, May 29, 1951. According to the expanded listing present here, listing only Downing's 1793-1814 cents, the "Total Book Value of Collection" comes to $18,461.70. Ford's pencil notes generally reduce the book values a bit and, at the end, the yearly cumulative values are drastically reduced to arrive at the appraised value stated above.

1084 ⟡ (Ford, John J., Jr.). RECORD BK OF LESHER DOLLARS HANDLED BY NN AND OTHERS. [CONFEDERATE CENTS]. (New York), circa mid-1950s. Original handwritten compilation, recorded on the first fifteen and last two leaves of a ruled dictation Hi-Grade Line Note Book. 23 x 15 cm. Original printed spiral-bound stiff card covers. Very fine. (100.00)

A unique and interesting compilation, recording data on multiple specimens of Lesher Dollars arranged, one per leaf, by Zerbe numbers 1-15. Recorded are Boyd specimens sold in various New Netherlands sales; Abner Kreisberg, Leo Young, Jerry Cohen, and Kosoff sales; specimens from the Allen-Brand, Chicago Brand, and American Society collections; etc. A note on the inside front cover records the sale of sixty-nine Lesher Dollars, numbered, identified in the text by red asterisks, to Art Kagin. Individually priced at $47.50, the group was sold to Kagin on November 15, 1954 for $3,277.50. The last two pages record known specimens of gold, silver, and copper-nickel Confederate Cents, in the collections of Fred M. Bennett, M. Burgett, Lucius Ruder, James F. Lindsay, and Eric P. Newman, some with earlier pedigrees and other notes.

1087 ⋄ Ford, John J., Jr. OLGA E. RAYMOND, PUB., ETC., CORRESPONDENCE. A voluminous file of 1956-1959 correspondence between Raymond, Ford, and others. (250.00)

A Cornucopia of information regarding the many details involved in the publication of the final 1957 edition of The Standard Catalog of United States Coins along with detailed discussions on many other interesting matters. Negotiations between Ford and Mrs. Raymond concerning the disposition of Wayte Raymond assets were often involved and sometimes difficult. The disposition of Raymond Obsolete Currency, as well as the Hans Schulman auction; Olga recounts the "'Pirating'...done by Yeoman...people with no numismatic knowledge, even recruiting tools...compiled by pioneers"; negotiations with Meghrig for rights to the Standard Catalogue are mentioned; various comments praising Ford's second most interesting 1956 letters from Eric P. Newman to Olga Raymond, and an original letter to John Ford at 20 Dove Street from Eric P. Newman in the publication of the Standard Catalogue; Ford notes the 1958 sale of 1,459 C under tokens from the Hillyer Ryder collection to Art Kagin for $1,900 as well as a New York Hotels invoice records the 1958 sale of nineteenth century tokens to Mrs. R. H. Norweb for $3,000 or $2,000 less 33⅓ rebate. Ford writes, "The 1904 Issue is probably the under-statement of the year. Yesterday morning, I returned from several days in Boston, where we were told by the Navy tour, and that of course was preceded by a completely rejuvenated 'Numisma' and a convention building in Baltimore. I have and am publishing Penny Whimsy' remodeling my kitchen, painting my house, along with a few thousand other items on my agenda to get back to buying and selling coins"; Olga Raymond writes a rather caustic 1958 letter to John Pittman in reply to his proposed revival Raymond publications; and much, much more.

1088 ⋄ Ford, John J., Jr. NUMISMATIC CORRESPONDENCE, 1957. A substantial assemblage of various papers, correspondence, etc., two inches thick, housed in three folders. (1,000.00)

Included are: correspondence with Philip Whitelev concerning Lesher Dollars; a letter from Emery May Norweb concerning coin prices in London; and the possible acquisition of Ford's Canadian collection"; correspondence on Confederate currency; a letter from "Ghost Hunter" Dan David Wise, a collector Frank Cumanus, who notes that he read in Cosmopolitan that Ford was interested in "buying Fugio gold, early gold pieces...and any other type of gold coin are good." to which Ford replies at length, also noting that "There is another action which I have begun in behalf of which is by far the best bet for you, if you want to go looking. From 1849 to about 1904, various Assistant Heads of Mints, Assayers, Coiners, Chief Clerks, or even business firms, made gold, gold and silver mixed, or silver bars or ingots...I collect these bars or ingots. There are several people looking for the clues and ingots for me...I enclosed you will find a photo of a typical gold ingot. Once this one is worth about $250. to me."; a letter to Mrs. Norweb in which Ford notes the $8,000 sale of "the Sacramento Kohler hoard, and don't tell Dad, but during an hour at the 54th Street Court, he was not invited to write an article for the "Centennial publication of the year" which should have been a golden opportunity to give the history of the 1861 Philadelphia Paquet Double Eagle" [when ultimately written for the American Numismatic Society, with Michael Hodder and P. Scott Rubin, its reception was hardly more positive]; CRAWFORD WOODS and various miscellaneous correspondence with Clarence Criswell, including Ford's acknowledgement of "The pre-assembly copy of your book" and his opinion of it: "I like it because it will help the hobby...However, I do not think it is anything like the last word on the subject" to which Clarence Criswell takes exception in a subsequent letter, also concerning negotiations on the Kerksis manuscript; interesting correspondence with Fred Marckhoff; a fascinating letter concerning "Operation Big Boy," the Norwebs' acquisition of F. C. C. Boyd's Brasher Doubloon, featuring the story of its original 1897 discovery and subsequent sale to the Chapman brothers, along with subsequent provenances and, also, those of the other four known specimens with "countermark on the eagle's wing," as well as the unique Garrett specimen; a letter to F. C. C. Boyd recapping "your money situation," including "$11,000. 'Brasher' credit"; correspondence with R. Bruce McPherson concerning a Kohler Pattern Eagle; the carbon copy, corrected in ink, of Ford's tribute to "Wayte Raymond – The Man and the Era," along with an earlier original typescript of it, accompanied by correspondence with Elston Bradfield pertaining to its publication in The Numismatist; interesting correspondence with Henry Clifford; correspondence with Harry Forman, wherein Ford observes: "Why do you write letters like Dochkus? (both of you probably left school at tender ages!)"; a letter to Max Justus acknowledging receipt of a "C. S.A. copper-Nickel Cent" for $300.00; correspondence with R. Gaettens, including the proposed purchase of gold and bronze Hitler medals; a copy of the printer's bill for 9,240 copies of the 18th edition of the Standard Catalogue, totaling $12,804.60, along with reviews and congratulatory letters; a letter from Al Overton complaining about a note in the 1957 Standard Catalogue "stating that the 1817 over 14 Half Dollar in the Eliasberg Collection first appeared in the Catalog of California Stamp Co. in 1934, you not only cannot prove this statement, but you know that it is not true…Just why would you rather give false credit to a defunct stamp company, than to give the true account and credit for this coin (Eliasberg Coin) to me for discovery," to which Ford replies: "The facts are exactly as I printed them…you can contact Mr. Richard Braden (sic), my good friend and Librarian at the American Numismatic Society. Dick, I am sure, will send you a photostat of page 52 [of the 1934 National Catalogue of U. S. 1089 ⌖ Ford, John J., Jr. DICK YEOMAN CORRESPONDENCE, 1958. A file of six typewritten letters from Yeoman, signed, on Whitman stationery, accompanied by carbon copies of Ford letters to Yeoman. (250.00)

A fascinating body of correspondence concerning Whitman Publishing Company's acquisition from Olga Raymond, via Ford, of publication rights and data pertaining to various Wayte Raymond publications on foreign coins, as well as Whitman's accommodation to Ford for "borrowing" data from Ford's groundbreaking 1957 edition of The Standard Catalogue of United States Coins. A September 29, 1958 letter from Ford begins: "Enclosed you will find a release for publication concerning your recent deal with Mrs. Raymond, and including dope on my acquisition of the Standard Catalogue (which is not generally known), together with a little data on my future plans." Attached is a proposed press announcement to be released by Yeoman. Ford's letter details his plans for the future direction of the Standard Catalogue, observing that "I believe that we understand each other on the primary missions and scope of the Guidebook and Standard Catalogue. While initially burned up at what your 'Contributors' borrowed from me to put in the Guidebook, I feel that rather than run to the lawyers, we can work out the problem like gentlemen. In that vein, I feel that we can leave what you already have where it is, and in exchange you could discreetly give the Standard Catalogue some credit in the Guidebook for certain advanced data, and even recommend the Standard as an advanced book…The net result of our working together is that you will have an abridged version of the Standard (but including some dope the SC will not have), for a mass sale to the popular market. As I told you, I only want to cover the top 10-15% of the field, and am more interested in 'education' than making money in publishing…In the past I have been stupid, and have even been known to condemn the Guidebook, while you have ignored the Standard Catalogue. I am sure, that from here on in, positive thinking (and action) will do us both good." The remaining correspondence comprises a congenial give and take between the two, culminating in an agreement by Yeoman, present here in photostatic copy, reading in part: "With the understanding that certain listings and/or technical numismatic information currently appearing in '1959 A GUIDE BOOK OF UNITED STATES COINS' (by R. S. Yeoman) originally appeared in the 18th and earlier editions of 'THE STANDARD CATALOGUE OF UNITED STATES COINS'…I agree to include the acknowledgement shown on the Preface page or other suitable space of the '1960 A GUIDE BOOK OF UNITED STATES COINS'… ACKNOWLEDGEMENT: Selected listings and related material in this edition are from THE STANDARD CATALOGUE OF UNITED STATES COINS…"

1090 ⌖ Ford, John J., Jr. NUMISMATIC CORRESPONDENCE, 1958. A substantial assemblage of various papers, correspondence, etc., three inches thick, housed in three folders. (1,000.00)

Included are: a substantial body of fascinating correspondence with Eric P. Newman on an Immune Columbia 'gold specimen" uncovered by Ford, and other topics, including a Christmas 1957 typewritten paper entitled "Preliminary comments on IMMUNE COLUMBIA Pieces" signed "Eric," with a handwritten postscript, wherein Newman notes that "For a coin classified as a forgery to turn out to be a restrike from genuine dies is in the 'man bites dog' category," and later notes: "It seems to me that the Smithsonian gold IMMUNE which Stickney obtained the day before he traded it for the 1804 dollar is a restrike from genuine dies and so is the gold piece with the Edwards reverse. Nobody got hurt in the trade as it was fake for fake."; much correspondence on Confederate currency; a letter from F. C. C. Boyd, beginning: "Enclosed please find cigar cutter – this cutter was used by a good friend of mine for over 40 years. I have had it for 15 years. I hope you use it for another 75 years"; correspondence with Sydney Kerksis concerning the sale of his Confederate currency library to Ford; correspondence with A. Kosoff, wherein Ford writes that "Enclosed you will find a Proof impression of the 1853 $20 U. S. Assay Office of Gold, 900 Thous. We managed to locate a couple of these, which were held by the same family since their manufacture. The pieces were wrapped up in an old handkerchief, which had written upon it (opposite each coin) the weight and (in this one instance) the notation 'Also Copper ...", and in which Kosoff replies: "I've been looking at this $20.00 U. S. Assay Office. Frankly, I'm not convinced of it being a proof. I have checked my notations on the Farouk piece – I don't know where you got the information that it was a polished up coin. According to my notes, it was a choice piece although it had a few hairlines. I'm not at all certain about your coin being a proof – the Farouk piece definitely was. I am returning it herewith. The Mehl inventory is out of my control. The Library will probably be available but I just can't say when."; a letter from Alma K. Schneider, Superintendent, United States Mint, noting that "My interest in preserving gold coins came about, following a deposit of some $10,000 worth of uncirculated gold coins which were found in a safety deposit box during the settling of an estate here. Many were rare and of great numismatic value. I tried every way to save them, but of course eventually had to have them melted."; a carbon typescript of "January Scrapbook – 1959 Coin Market predictions" by "John J. (Tongue in cheek) Ford, Jr."; interesting correspondence with Henry Clifford on pioneer California gold; fascinating if contentious correspondence with John J. Pittman concerning the "1853 $20 U. S. Assay Office pieces," wherein Pittman writes that "I was quite perturbed when I began to hear tales about these pieces that you had offered and especially intimations that the dies were still in existence. I was also very much bothered when one of your 'friends' got drunk at one of the conventions and intimated that...the pieces may have been manufactured in the eastern part of the U. S. within the last several years by Paul Franklin for you, and moreover, that you had been bragging that you had taken me for a pigeon...," to which Ford methodically answers Pittman's "various questions," offering a refund "should any statements made by me herewith be proven untrue. This guarantee is absolute and without limitation," and also notes: "I hope all of this makes you happy, John, but to me it is one big goose in the neck. I am surprised that you value Mike Kolman's opinion so highly, or is it that of some other expert? I told all of my 'friends' to bid not to put up or shut up. I am still waiting for the first 'Master of Intimidation' to question the coins in writing. Barroom gossip does not bother me in the least."; Ford's signed copy of a "Trade Agreement and Acknowledgement" with Stack's wherein Ford agrees to "trade and transfer a Diana $20 gold coin together with a Gold Tablet for $80.40 of JUSTH & HUNTER, Marysville, Calif., to Stack's...for 195 U. S. gold coins of Numismatic Value"; Ford's copy of a receipt on Stack's stationery, reading: "Received from Stack's, 319 Double Eagles in exchange for: 1 U. S. Assay $7.36 coin 1853/2?, 1 U. S. Assay $50, 1853, piedfort"; John Ford's copy of the "Revised Agreement Draft" and two other drafts concerning the Olga Raymond to Ford ownership of publication rights to the Standard Catalogue, along with Ford's copy of the final Agreement, signed by both parties; R. S. Yeoman's original signed November 29, 1958 letter on Whitman stationery, reading, in part: "With the understanding that certain listings and/or technical numismatic information currently appearing in '1959 A GUIDE BOOK OF UNITED STATES COINS' by R. S. Yeoman originally appeared in the 18th and earlier editions of 'THE STANDARD CATALOGUE OF UNITED STATES COINS'...I agree to include the acknowledgement shown on the Preface page or other suitable space in the 1960 'A GUIDE BOOK OF UNITED STATES COINS'...ACKNOWLEDGEMENT: Selected listings and related material in this edition are from THE STANDARD CATALOGUE OF UNITED STATES COINS."; a printed flyer from Ford Numismatic Publications announcing that the twelfth edition of the Standard Catalogue is currently being compiled under the direction of John J. Ford, Jr."; correspondence with Ford, Jr. concerning Gem Uncirculated Coin Folders, medals, etc. Other correspondents represented here include Bob Medlar, Henry Hilton, Edo Mannweiler, Paul Koppelman, Eleanor Criswell, David Bowers, Philip Whiteley, David Spink, Olga Raymond, Earl Parker, Norman Shultz, Lee Hewitt, Robert Vesenyak, and others.

1091 ✦ Ford, John J., Jr. NUMISMATIC CORRESPONDENCE, 1959. A substantial assemblage of various papers, correspondence, etc., three inches thick housed in three folders. (1,000.00)

Included are: typescript of an article submitted to The Numismatist entitled "Reporting the New York Coin Market," in which it is noted "Here the Dow-Jones...1957 'Net Settlements' is a startling innovation in public coin sale purchasing was introduced by dealer Richard Picker, who 'crossed out another dealer' on the long distance telephone."; Ford's copy of a letter to John J. Pittman, refunding a $200 deposit and acknowledging receipt of the Proof 1907 Assay Office Double Eagle"; a letter to Michael Zeddies in which Ford writes: "It is my understanding this uncirculated Proof is again awaiting negotiations for your grandfather's Brasher Doubloon. You might remember that I bid on that with you but only [illegible] and bought it in 1953. To save further time, I would like to buy the coin now!...$10,000 or so is not nickels and dimes – a long letter-line, Paul to V. Clain-Stefanelli "concerning numismatic bars and ingots," and enumerating eight "American numismatic issues and their types"; correspondence with Abe Kosoff pertaining to a sizeable purchase of coin books; correspondence with O. Tevis Bowers concerning the Robert King collection of Washingtonia; correspondence with the Meriden Gravure Company relative to the publication of Ford's 1959 "The Wisconsin Gold Numismatic Bars and Ingots Wanted!" flyers, one with the imprint: "Write to John Rowe, South Carolina Trade Representative to John J. Ford, Jr." the other: "Write to Paul Franklin, Collector's Representative...", a series of postcards from John Rowe to Ford listing the towns all over the west visited and occasional numismatic acquisitions made by Rowe on behalf of Ford, whose instructions to John Rowe detailing the arrangements and methods "John Rowe is to use on his 'sweep trip'"; a mimeographed printed "Western State Trip Book Information" checklist "for John Rowe, 6/59," based on the experience of previous trips made by Ford and Paul Franklin; an interesting letter from John Willem, explaining "my method of handling" publication of my book on the Trade Dollar," adhered to the notes: "I may as well learned to write the book in my own way. This has nothing to do with interest. You are correct that price controls probably might be very enough about putting the story together in some other way. In order to pay for the book, I hopefully have to charge some per copy. In view of the fact that the bills are paid, I am in no hurry to sell the full complement of the copies. You may be afraid that I am dumping the extra copies to public libraries and educational institutions...The Mint's control, however inefficient or negligent, is being combated."; correspondence with O. David Bowers concerning research for a new edition of the Standard Catalogue (1952 Early Dime Section); Ford's instructions along with "Price List No. 1, Numismatic Literature"; etc. Other correspondents represented here include Kennedy, Palmer, Paul Mascioli, Roland Swett, Henry Clifford, Arlie Slabaugh, Oscar Schilke, Philip Linhoff, Louis Eisenberg, Norman Shultz, Maurice Gregory, Olga Raymond, John Murrell, Helen Boyd, J. Doyle DeWitt, V. L. Arrington, George Fuld, J. Douglas Ferguson, John Willem, Nathan Hale, and others.

Includes: a nine page carbon typescript featuring colonial currency, gold medals, etc; a similar ten page duplicated typescript with interesting notes in red pencil; a forty-three page duplicated typescript, with pencil notes, featuring colonial notes, rare American coins, colonials and other rare early pieces, uncirculated sets of Barber coins, various proof coins, Indian peace medals, ancient coins, fractional currency, United States paper money, foreign coins, etc.; and a photostatic reproduction of same.

1093 ⌖ Ford, John J., Jr. STD. CATALOG, NEW COPY, HTT: POLITICAL TOKENS, N. S. SUBSTITUTES, BUSHNELL TOKENS. Title derived from handwritten note on front of a file containing page proofs, manuscript compilations, a typescript, etc. Generally fine or better. (100.00)

An interesting assemblage, including: 1) a two page Ford inventory of "Std. Catalog Photos" of tokens on hand from 7/16/59 to 11/14/59; page proofs 162-171; a four page typescript entitled "The Hard Times Politicals: Historical Background"; an 8.5 x 17 inch photographic reproduction of a typescript on "Hard Times Tokens"; a few odd page proofs; a handwritten sheet of notes; a set of page proofs of "Hard Times Tokens of 1832-1844," by A. Z. Reed, pages 181-216, with pencil notes; and another set of page proofs, pages 181-216, with pencil notes, with several illustrations removed.

1094 ⌖ Ford, John J., Jr. EARLY MERCHANTS TOKENS, ETC. A file folder containing typescripts, correspondence, articles, etc. on the topic. Some typescripts a little browned. Very good or better. (250.00)

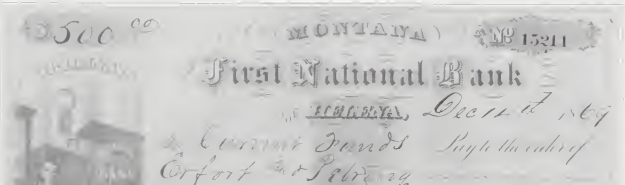
An interesting assemblage, including: 1) a five page typescript of introductory text on "Early Merchant Tokens, 1789-1858," with ink corrections in Ford's hand; 2) a twenty-three page typescript catalogue titled as above, with pasted-in illustrations, handwritten notes, and typesetter's instructions written in various colors of ink; 3) six 3.5 x 4.5 inch photographs of tokens; 4) interesting 1960 correspondence with Eric P. Newman concerning tokens; and 5) various handwritten notes on tokens, etc.

"The big thing in the coin world at the moment, is that bags of the formerly RRR 1898 'O', 1903 'O' and 1904 'O' silver dollars have just appeared…All hell is breaking loose!"

1095 ⌖ Ford, John J., Jr. CORRESPONDENCE WITH Q. DAVID BOWERS, DON TAXAY, WALTER BREEN, MARION ZIMMER BRADLEY BREEN, KENNETH BRESSETT, AND OTHERS, ETC. Various places, 1960s. Forty or so sheets, mostly standard letter format. Ford letters present in carbon copy, the others generally typewritten on printed letterheads, signed in ink. Fine. (500.00)

An interesting assemblage, including: three 1960 letters from Q. David Bowers, a July 18 one accomplished on Empire Coin Company stationery, August 3 and 8 ones on Bowers Coin Co. stationery (in the August 3 letter, Bowers writes that "I have been extremely busy setting up new offices, etc." In his response, Ford extends congratulations "for your recent marriage" and "for your establishment of the 'Bowers Coin Company, Inc.' To begin with, I strongly believe in marriage at an early age, personally, and on the other hand, while I think I have been unfair to Jim in the past, I have wondered about the compatibility of both yourself and friend Ruddy."); in an August 18, 1969 letter, Bowers thanks Ford "for the dinner you bought for Mary and me the first night of the show…you are one of the few people I know who really has a tremendous in depth knowledge of American numismatics…I have begun a personal collection of Vermont copper coins…"; in an interesting November 21, 1962 handwritten letter, Don Taxay thanks Ford for his "excellent introduction" (of which a typescript version corrected in ink is present here) written for his upcoming Counterfeit, Mis-Struck and Unofficial U. S. Coins, noting that "I have taken the liberty to polish the diction in places and I enclose a copy herewith…I have corrected all the proofs and returned them…so I assume that the presses will now start to roll…Thank you for all you have done in connection with the MS…I told Newman that I am going to say in a caption that Bashlow's coins were struck from transfer dies but this does not mean that I am going to disparage them or deny them status as restrikes…I don't know why he (Eric P. Newman) keeps his knives sharpened for Bashlow…What happened to the Walton estate?"; Ford's December 5, 1962 response, written to Taxay in Poona, India agrees with the changes in the introduction and writes that "Newman has accepted chairmanship of a committee on Ethics, for the TAMS (Token and Medal Society) and is apparently going on a witch hunt, now that he is Chief of the Vigilantes…The big thing in the coin world at the moment, is that bags of the formerly RRR 1898 'O', 1903 'O' and 1904 'O' silver dollars have just appeared…All hell is breaking loose!" present here are two December 1962 New Netherlands Coin Co. postcards addressed to Ford advertising BU 1898-O and 1904-O silver dollars for sale (@ $305.00 and $275.00 per hundred pieces respectively); replying to an undated letter from Walter Breen present here, Ford writes on January 22, 1965 that "I feel very happy for you since your marriage and the birth of your baby. These two events are probably the greatest events in your life…I feel good that some real happiness has come into your life and that you really have something to live for. This might sound a little corny, but it is how I feel."; on February 24, 1966 Marion Breen writes to Ford, thanking him and Mrs. Ford: "The box of gifts for Moira arrived this morning and Walter and I couldn't wait until we got home--we sat in the car on Shattuck Avenue and opened it then and there. We were thrilled –

the little dress and sweater are absolutely lovely…And of course Raggedy Ann is beloved…this sweet little critter will be Moira's first doll…Patrick still loves the little music box you sent…"] a handwritten postscript from Walter Breen thanking the Fords as appended to the letter]; in a June 4, 1965 letter, Willard C. Blaisdell writes that "I have a frame of electrotypes from the Spiro Collection which is a replica of the Maris plate, the outside dimension of which is 22"x26". There is another in the N. J. Historical Society…" ; in an August 7, 1968 letter, Ken Bressett notes that "In talking with Taxay the other day he mentioned his book, but it doesn't sound as if it will be a competitive item. We really must discuss the Standard Catalogue next time we meet"; in a November 27, 1968 letter to Herman Hoist, Jr., concerning encased postage stamps, Ford observes that "I personally own the largest and most complete collection of this series extant. I know, because I selected the best pieces from such collections as that of E. H. R. Green, W. F. Dunham, T. J. Clarke, F. C. C. Boyd, and Josiah Lilly"; in a most entertaining letter to "Dear Hustler" Ion Hanson, Ford writes: "You took off without saying goodbye to me, or, in fact, much of anything…other people tell me that you think New York is 'where the action is,' although your heart is (ugh!) in Beverly Hills. Since you left I really do not know what is going on. I'm sitting in my ivory tower right in the middle of the action (as you put it), and I don't know what is going on. There is nobody to keep Charles awake! There is nobody to argue with! Breen, as you have probably heard, came east to work jointly for N.N. and the great Merkin…Now, the bearded genius is working exclusively for the great Merkin…Your old friend Worner made it legal a couple of weeks ago and married for the second time…[handwritten postscript] Will trade Alvord Bid Book + for Bashwell Bid Book!" Among many other interesting, previously unmentioned, letters present here, written "when the coin business was run", are Walter Breen's 1963 comments on Don Taxay's upcoming book ("There are so many errors in this Taxay blueprint that I've had to mark them in black pencil…"), an original letter by Ford on the 1913 liberty head nickel; correspondence with Father F. P. Prucha, etc., a 1964 letter in which Walter Breen complains about not being paid for reviewing a New Netherlands sale ("I did it with much grinding & groaning, there's etched over the result of such wretched backwork") and to which Ford replies ("Charles tells me that you are full of beans, so you won't be paid for the 'hack job' that you did for our sale in August. He would refer you to the last check that you received…"), etc.



1096 ✦ [Ford, John J., Jr.] PHOTOGRAPHIC PRINTS AND NEGATIVES, OFTEN ENLARGED, DEPICTING A WIDE VARIETY OF COINS, MANY COUNTERFEITS, OBSOLETE WESTERN BANK NOTES, FINANCIAL DOCUMENTS, AND VARIOUS OTHER ITEMS. Circa 1960s–1970s. A large white cardboard gift box, 52 x 28 x 19 cm., containing hundreds if not thousands of photographic prints and negatives of numismatic items, housed in photographic or manila envelopes, on which typed or handwritten descriptions are present. (500.00)

Contents include: a print and negative of an 1869 First National Bank of Montana Territory $500 Bill of Exchange, "Important as it shows Cook & connection" and ingots in front of bank; "Earliest dated (1849) known contemporary illustration known to me showing ingots in bank use"; "Matthew Boulton's Original Model" photos and text; a photo of a sterling silver and gilt spoon acquired from Q. David Bowers circa 1960 and "an impression (gilt) of the lower obverse (to an 1852 Liberty Dollar's photos of nineteenth and twentieth century Italian and other coins, many counterfeit; prints of a "centrifugal cast" 1876 and 1904 $2½ both "prop. J. H. Murrell"; prints of a "centrifugal cast" 1796 25-Borrowing a "mint to coin for Wayte A. Prattle"; ektacolor prints of a "Wells, Largo & Co. Bankers AU ingot 1854 $325. 18.27 oz. 858 fine"; an 1908-S Lincoln cent, "partly double punched date, mostly filled, triple-punched mintmark"; prints and a negative of "Plate VII: Numismatics, Encyclopedia Britannica, Mexican Ingot, Pioneer gold"; ektacolor prints and negatives of "Bank of California AU ingot, 1867, $102.00 990 Bullion"; prints and negatives of "San James King of William] cast" from John H. Murrell; an interesting letter, dated "6/6/66," from Hal Birt, Jr. to Ford saying, "Hemphillian Mining Co. Tubas" simulated notes"; photographs of "Armed guard with large ingots, allegedly of 'Silver King' mine"; facsimiles of San Francisco Mint documents; several different groups of photographs of Oaxaca 60 pesos gold pieces; etc.

1097 ❧ Ford, John J., Jr. THE CONFEDERATE STATES TREASURY DEPARTMENT – "16 COINS, A FEW HUNDRED PIECES OF STAMPED BULLION, VERSUS 1,500 MILLIONS OF PAPER DOLLARS!" Present here are: 1) John Ford's typewritten copy on printed stationery of a three page March 22, 1961 letter to Mrs. Pritchard of American Heritage; 2) an eight page carbon typescript with pencil corrections of the proposed above article: another version of the article in photocopy. Fine. (100.00)

Above title derived from Ford's letter, in which he writes: "I am enclosing herewith the original rough drafts (2) of my articles re 'hard' and paper currency of the Confederate states, for Mr. [Bruce] Catton's consideration…My article concerns itself primarily with the very, very limited 'hard money' (coins and specie ingots) bearing the stamp of the Confederacy." After an interesting discussion of his paper and related topics, Ford concludes: "You can keep (or throw out) this letter but please return my rough draft if you see absolutely no merit in it. Thank you for reading this far!" Despite his disclaimers, Ford's paper is extremely well written and most interesting; both versions present here conclude with: "Sixteen coins and literally millions of Treasury notes make strange bedfellows indeed, but they are not the only intriguing parallel in the fantastic history of the Lost Cause."

A Remarkable Body of Correspondence, Establishing, Among Other Things, Ownership of Certain Walter Breen Manuscripts and the Involvement of Q. David Bowers in the Proposed Nineteenth Edition of Wayte Raymond's Standard Catalogue

1098 ❧ Ford, John J., Jr. NUMISMATIC CORRESPONDENCE, 1961-1966. Various papers, correspondence, etc., housed in a file folder. Above title derived from handwritten note on front of file. (2,500.00)

Included are: illuminating May 15-July 18, 1961 correspondence, mainly between Q. David Bowers and John J. Ford, Jr., concerning the nineteenth edition of Wayte Raymond's Standard Catalogue which, sadly, never came to fruition. In the carbon copy of Ford's first letter, a May 15 missive to Q. David Bowers, Ford demolishes the myth, sometimes perpetuated by Walter Breen, concerning the ownership of certain Breen manuscripts. Ford cites a letter from Olga Raymond, a copy of which is enclosed, noting that she has "more or less decided to sell me the book outright. Her price is more than the package is worth, and I can do better with the money numismatically. Not wanting to let the book go, and also not having the kind of money required for outright purchase, I called in my publishing partner (the man who went in on 'Penny Whimsy' with me, and who angeled [Ford corrects "angled" in ink] Walter's Half Cent and Jersey Cent manuscripts, which were purchased outright last Fall). He is willing to buy the book in conjunction with me, but does not want any additional partners. If the 'Standard Catalogue' purchase goes through, I am willing to let our deal stand on a modified basis indefinitely. The main change is that you will not own a monetary interest in the book. However, I am willing to make you a permanent part of it, as 'Associate Editor,' giving you as much glory as possible, and reimburse you for your work by opening the books to you, and making you a prime distributor of catalogues at cost…Operationally you and I would run the book; my 'money man' would have nothing to say about policy. Money wise, outside of the 'Standard Catalogue,' I'm in deep. My 'house addition' will run to $15,000. - $17,500., and Joan just decided we needed a new car. Also, of course, I owe a few dollars for guns." Changing topics, Ford writes: "I have received permission to let the CSA Cent dies go. As a unique Confederate item, owned successively by J. W. Haseltine, Judson Brenner and Virgil Brand, I value them at $5,000. However, I will let them go for a fast $4,500." In his May 17 two page reply, written on Bowers Coin Company, Inc. stationery, Bowers responds that "It is a financial interest in the Standard Catalogue that interested me most…this is very disappointing to me personally." And, capping things off, Bowers notes: "The price you mention for the CSA dies seems extremely high." Ford responds with a five point proposal: "Here is the mess as I see it: 1. Mrs. Raymond will undoubtedly renew her deal with me, if I give her a GUARANTEED date of publication. 2. Because of the mess I'm in at home…I cannot do very much on the book, outside of the Pioneer, and much editing. 3. If you can give up attending every two-bit Convention, and work on nothing but the SC, AND give an agreement in writing to me, re the date the material goes to the printer, I can get an extension from Mrs. Raymond I'm sure. 4. On the above basis, we can go back to our original deal. 5. As a further incentive to you, I'll up the deal to 40% of the book, when I get control (after the 19th and 20th editions)." Idyllically, Ford writes: "The Standard Catalogue can grow into an income producing deal over the years that would permit both of us to devote less time to chasing a buck, and more time to research, writing and publishing…something that I believe you enjoy as much as I." He also notes that he "sent out the dies today," though he appears not ready to negotiate on the price. In a letter to Olga Raymond, Ford recounts his proposed arrangement with Bowers, "in which he will do most of the work for the 19th Edition," and promising that, "regardless of what happens, that I am going to publish the 'Standard Catalogue' or even a reasonable facsimile of it, if I never do another thing on this earth." The 1961 correspondence concludes with Ford's request, and Bowers' confirmation, that Bowers return "all of the material that I gave you in connection with the Standard Catalogue…I need this material, to put together with what I already have, so that I can sit down and suitably impress Mrs. Raymond's lawyer." The denouement is summarized in a handwritten note to Ford from Olga Raymond, to which is attached Raymond's carbon copy of a January 2, 1962 letter to Bowers, and the carbon copy of Ford's January 3, 1962 letter to Bowers. Olga writes that "I really am pleased & with all our fighting I am at peace!…I am enclosing copy of letter to Mr. Bowers. I hope you approve.' Raymond writes to Bowers that "After my telephone conversation with you this morning I received a letter from John Ford wherein he informed me that he was agreeing to purchase the St. Catalogue at my price." Ford's interesting letter to Bowers confirms the deal: "to make a long story short, I bought the book lock, stock and barrel, yesterday afternoon." Much other interesting and important correspondence is present here, including: fascinating letters between Ford, Arnold Perl, Myron W. Bradbyer, and Eric P. Newman, concerning possible publication of "the [W. W.] Bradbeer manuscript on continental and colonial currency." It begins with a Nov. 5, 1962 letter from Perl to Ford (wherein Perl proclaims that "The more I read of it, the more I am convinced it is a work of real importance"), to which are attached early photocopies of typeset page galleys and typescript chapters on Delaware and New York. Ford makes a November 21, 1962 proposal to publish the book but,

by June 20 of the following year, insults are flying. Perl writes: "I have long known it's pointless to take you to task for gross irresponsibility and grandiosity, but you've managed to do it again on the Bradbeer ms." Ford shoots back that he finds Perl's "stupefying somewhat amusing. I am glad you are so concerned about my sitting on the Bradbeer Manuscript for eight or nine months, and are not at all concerned about Myron Bradbyer sitting on it for some twenty-five years…If you will calm down, and talk to me, you will see that all is not black, and that we can make every body happy, including your apparently tormented self. I showed your letter to Charles, but we get crank letters from time to time, and Charles knows that I am an S.O.B., so it made little impression upon him." On July 11, Perl requests return of the manuscript, noting "Let's put aside all recriminations and wisecracks. I can't compete with you." Further correspondence expresses John Bressett and Whitman Publication's interest in the manuscript and includes a most interesting August 14, 1963 letter to Ford from Eric P. Newman, who writes that "You are getting into an unnecessary complication, in my opinion, as to the Bradbeer manuscript. Its quality is worse than poor." Brief snippets follow of some of the additional interesting correspondence present here: Ford to Newman, January 19, 1962 – "we hired Shorth before the first of the year, a young man named Don Taxay…I finally purchased 'outright the 'Standard Catalogue'…I have asked Breen to…write a general introduction to the History of U. S. Coins…but if you are actually willing to tackle the job, I will call off Breen, as I consider your work far superior…"; Walter Breen to "Your Holiness," undated – "I need the 5 to pay rent, phone bill & income taxes. There does not seem to be much chance of making it without more cataloguing. Noncentsical material should go faster…The additions & corrections for the Crosby ms. will take a fair amount of time…"; Ford to Breen, March 13, 1964 – "…you presently have, in your possession, the original manuscript of your book on United States Half Cents. In accordance with an agreement between us, dated, 1960, this manuscript is my property – you presently have, in your possession the complete manuscript, less about six pages, of your 'comments, notes and revisions' to S. S. Crosby's 'Early Coins of America'…As per an agreement and business transaction worked out between R. Bashlow and myself, ownership of this manuscript is held by me." Breen to Robert Bashlow, October 30, 1964 – "I enclosed are JJF's immoral propositions about the 1/2s and Crosby mss. Following are my objections…" Ford to Newman, May 17, 1965 – "I would like you to return to me, the Breen manuscript on New Jersey cents. I gave this to you some time ago, in the anticipation that you would be able to do some work on it…"; Ford to Kenneth Bressett, August 4, 1965 – "You do not know how hard it is to get and be a dealer to do research, to read everything that is published, to collect photographs, to live and reform the numismatic climate to keep from getting a heart attack, and to raise a family." Ford and Barnsley to Walter Breen, in carbon copy, January 13, 1966 – "Dear Walter: Of Lafayette say Daddy because it is certain that by now you are a proud and happy father."; Barnsley to Ford, April 5, 1966 – "I sent down Ed Grange that you have returned OK from the west coast, and are no doubt all hept up over the Crosby reprint job, which I hope there will be a big demand. Haggling did." Ford to Barnsley, April 7, 1966 – "The 'Standard Catalogue' is not dead; far from it. I have solid [illegible] corporation of Wertenig and Walter and I are working on it."

Preceding information derived from black ink notes on a red foil cardboard gift box, 32.5 x 23.5 x 5.5 cm., filled with the materials enumerated. (250.00)

A most interesting collection of photographs depicting important American and other coins. The 8 x 10 inch Mehl photographs [illegible] intact, cut-up or half eagles appear to depict coins from Colonel Green's collection.

1101 ✦ Ford, John J., Jr. et al. ILLEGAL GOLD COINS, COUNTERFEITS, ETC. Correspondence, etc., circa 1965-1968. Generally fine. (100.00)

As follows: 1965 correspondence including a May 25, 1965 letter from Professional Numismatists Guild President A. Kosoff to Ford asking him to "accept the co-chairmanship of the Authentication Committee of which Dick Picker has been chairman" and to handle "taking up the matter of a bogus 1861 double eagle with the Secret Service"; the carbon copy of Wormser's June 2 reply to Kosoff, noting that Ford is in Paris and will respond upon his return and a June 2 letter to Ford from Manuel Lipson, the owner of the coin, expressing his willingness to cooperate with the Secret Service; an April 4, 1967 letter from Professional Numismatists Guild President Leo Young, headed "Illegal Date Gold," concerning the importation and sale of modern date gold coins, and asking "What stand John, do you recommend P. N. G. takes"; 3) 1967 correspondence including a four page 8.5 x 11 inch flyer from Magic Valley (Frontier Jewelry) of West Covina, California depicting both sides of forty-eight "authentic replicas of rare Colonial Coins and numismatica – as shown in the latest Red Book," priced at $ .40 each or $35.00 per hundred (sic) postpaid"/a May 23 letter from Leo Young enclosing "two letters [also present here] for your information and action," one from Dan Brown regarding "replicas of Colonial, Confederate and Pioneer pieces being manufactured and issued by Frontier Jewelry," the second from Ronnie Carr pertaining to "several attempts" by George Lenbridge "to sell fake Moffat and Company Ingots at $220.00 each"/a May 26 letter from Carr to Ford correcting the price asked for the ingots to $2,200.00/and a May 29, 1967 letter to Ford from Dan Brown, in which he encloses the Frontier Jewelry brochure already described, noting that "A party was in here about a week ago with one of the pieces thinking it was genuine…"; 4) a carbon copy of a letter to Leonard Forrer from Richard Margolis who, with Ford and Leo Mildenberg, were members of the I. A. P. N. Anti-Forgery Committee, suggesting that "with nothing concrete emanating from the Anti-Forgery Committee, would it not perhaps be advisable to issue to the membership John's admirable and instructive, if lengthy, outline of the Anti-Forgery program…?"; and 5) photographic negatives of both sides of seven key date Lincoln cents, including 1955 doubled die, marked "counterfeit articles Lincoln 1¢" in the envelope housing them.

1103 ✣ Ford, John J., Jr. PHOTOS OF FAMOUS NUMISMATISTS. Title derived from handwritten note on front of a file containing a number of original photographs, photographic reproductions, etc. Generally fine. (1,000.00)
Included are: an original very fine 7.5 x 9.5 inch sepia photograph of an older Wayte Raymond viewing a screw press [depicted above]; an original very fine 1965 8 x 10 inch photograph of Stack's and staff (also depicted above); a very fine original 4 x 6 inch photograph of December 3, 1968 New Netherlands sale attendees; a charming original 4.5 x 2.5 inch photograph of Henry Hines examining coins, taken "Sunday November 12, 1939," according to an ink note on the back; a delightful 5 x 7 original color snapshot of Jacques Schulman in front of his business establishment in Amsterdam, doubtless taken by John Ford; three sets of two 8 x 10 inch photographic copies, and copy negatives, of circa 1909-1912 American Numismatic Association convention gatherings; an 8 x 10 inch photograph of a portrait of Virgil Brand; a 4 x 6 inch photographic copy of an older Wayte Raymond; three original engraved 6.5 x 4.5 inch portraits of Matthew Stickney; a photographic reproduction and copy negative of the 1939 Hines photograph; a fine photographic reproduction of a halftone image of Sylvester S. Crosby; three photographic 5 x 7 inch copies depicting George Clapp at ages twenty, fifty, and eighty; a superb small engraving of an unidentified numismatist; photographic copies of nine nineteenth century American coin dealers via the American Numismatic Society, namely E. Attinelli, H. Chapman (also a copy negative), E. Cogan, G. Cogan, G. Harzfeld, I. Low (2 different), G. Massamore, and J. Scott; an 8 x 10 inch photographic copy of an older John W. Scott; a copy negative of a miniature of Christian Gobrecht; a photographic copy of an engraving of Charles Bushnell; and a 6 x 9 inch photographic copy of Montroville W. Dickeson and an Indian friend, circa 1869-1870, from Bob Wester, with an inscription to Ford. Also present is the 3 June 1981 American Numismatic Society invoice for "Prints of nine 19th century coin dealers, one third of the total order price, to be shared by Mrs. M. Russell, and G. Kolbe"; a March 10, 1982 note from Ford to Jack Collins concerning a photograph of Wayte Raymond sent to Collins; a November 20, 1994 letter from Pete Smith concerning numismatic portrait photographs, including a newly discovered one of Howard Newcomb; and a note from George Kolbe returning nine photographs and thanking Ford for lending them for use in Adams II.

"The total value of your Chapmans comes to $105,675.00"

1104 ❖ Ford, John J., Jr. NUMISMATIC LITERATURE: S. H. & H. CHAPMAN AUCTION (SALE) CATALOGUES, 1879-1932 (+ COLLINS LISTING), ITEMS AVAILABLE FROM THE HUNTER COLL., DEC. 9, 1920 SALE, S. H. CHAPMAN, ETC. Title derived from handwritten note on front of a file containing listings, photographs, etc. Generally fine or better. (500.00)
A most interesting assemblage, including: 1) a handwritten February 14, 1967 letter on both sides of printed "Shadowlawn" stationery from Helen Chapman Areedt, reading: "It is of great interest to me that I have just discovered that you wrote an extensive biographical account of my father, Henry Chapman and his brother Samuel Hudson Chapman for the 1950 August issue of the Numismatist. Would it be possible for me to buy a copy today as I am so anxious to read about our famous father and to pass on to our children and grandchildren this knowledge of their illustrious predecessor. He was such a vital person, so full of the spring of life which overflowed in his business, his family life and amongst his friends. How proud and happy he would be today to know of his monumental contribution to the numismatic world"; 2) a seven page typescript compiled by Jack Collins listing S. H. & H. Chapman Auction Catalogs, dated "2/80" in ink; 3) a photocopy of same; 4) Ford's "orig." copy of the seven page compilation "from Jack Collins 2/80," featuring Ford's detailed notes written in black ink, listing one or more copies of the catalogues in his library, including provenances, original covers or later bindings, "bid book," "handpriced," "priced & named" and other specific attributes where applicable, etc.; 5) John W. Adams' 1984 copy of Ford's annotated listing, with his notes in red ink on values, including a general note that "Bid books are, of course, valuable to scholars but their commercial worth is a highly variable quantity"; 6) a two page typewritten listing of eighty-five different Chapman catalogues and duplicates accompanied by a typewritten November 13, 1984 letter to Ford from Jack Collins in which he writes: "I certainly hope that you are in a better mood than the tone reflected in your last note to me. Perhaps the attached will brighten your spirits some. It represents considerable time and research and should be as good of a guide to the values of your Chapmans as can be made. I hope that all of this work is appreciated. Some things may seem high or low, but I've tried to judge what their fair market value should be today. The total value of your Chapmans comes to $105,675.00. I hope that you will be willing to co-operate with us on the research for the new revision of the Sheldon book and [illegible] is now working on"; 7) photocopies of March 10, March 14, and October, 1921 listings by S. H. Chapman of various medals available from the Hunter collection; 8) a 5 x 7 inch photographic reproduction of the 1933 S. H. Chapman "Sale of the Lyman Collection" and an 8 3/8 x 6 inch duplicate copy negative of same; and 9) 8 x 10 inch photographic reproductions and copy negatives of Henry Chapman's 1912 "Sterling Sale" collection of Colin of George H. Earle, Jr."

1105 ❖ Ford, John J., Jr.] Breen, Walter. U. S. LG. SIZE NOTES, CONTEMPLATED 61ST SALE, NEW NETHERLANDS COIN CO., ORIGINAL CATALOGING BY WALTER BREEN, 1969. Title derived from handwritten note on front of a file containing 1) 32 leaves of original typescript, on 8.5 x 11 inch sheets, with numerous handwritten corrections by Breen and Ford, along with substantial editing by the latter; and 2) a photocopy of same in reduced format on tinted paper. Original typescript just a trifle browned. Fine. (500.00)
The "61st Sale" that never was. The remarkable manuscript is explained in the following lot. Comparison of it with the two following lots provides a fascinating insight into the combative relationship between John J. Ford, Jr. and Walter H. Breen, and reflects favorably upon the numismatic sagacity of both. Consumers before these sale lots reach 100 will be offered as a single entity.

The New Netherlands Paper Money Sale That Never Was

1106 ❖ Ford, John J., Jr. U. S. LARGE SIZE NOTES, CONTEMPLATED 61ST SALE, NEW NETHERLANDS COIN CO., LOTS 1-104, AS CATALOGED BY JJF (FROM BASIC WORK OF WALTER BREEN), 1969-70. Title derived from handwritten note on front of a file containing 46 leaves of original typescript entitled Extraordinary Collection of United States Paper Currency. Featuring notes from the Albert A. Grinnell, James M. Wade, Wayte Raymond, and Robert F. Schermerhorn collections, on 8.5 x 11 inch sheets, often with corrected text pasted over earlier descriptions, sometimes resulting in oversize sheets, with typesetter's instructions noted throughout in red and black ink and with many last-minute corrections written in black ink. Also present is a photocopy of same in reduced format on tinted paper. Original typescript just a trifle browned but fine or better throughout. (500.00)
An exceptionally written and researched manuscript, cataloguing for sale at auction a notable collection of large size United States paper money, purchased for New Netherlands by John Ford, circa 1960. For whatever reason, the notes were not included in New Netherlands' 1961 first sale. When Ford left New Netherlands in January 1971, he waived all interest in the collection to Charles Wormser. In the late 1960s, Mrs. Wormser sold the collection privately, and shortly thereafter it appeared for sale in a Stack's fixed price list. Ford's original manuscript of the collection begins: "The present offering is remarkable for the excellent preservation of even the rarest issues (we can especially point with pride to the uncirculated Demand Note and $20 Compound Interest Note), for the presence of seldom offered items from some holdings, and for several specialized groups of early issues never before properly described at auction. For the first time, sense can now be made of the confusing groups of varieties in Demand and 1862-63 Legal Tender Notes. This was not earlier possible because [illegible] missing link' notes had never before been recognized as such. Full details are given in the unorthodox order of presentation here adopted and in the 6-point explanatory notes following certain lots." As might be expected, the Ford catalogue is beautifully written, extensively footnoted, and, in the New Netherlands tradition, filled with interesting and important information then, and perhaps even now, not to be found elsewhere.

1107 ⌖ Ford, John J., Jr. U. S. LARGE SIZE NOTES: CORRESPONDENCE AND DATA RELATIVE TO THE CONTEMPLATED 61ST SALE, NEW NETHERLANDS COIN CO., 1969-72. Title derived from handwritten note on front of a file containing original and carbon copies of correspondence between Walter Breen and W. A. Philpott, Jr., John Ford and John S. Tainter, Charles Wormser and Amon Carter, also Morey Perlmutter, Louis Van Belkum, Aubrey Bebee, et al., along with manuscript materials. Approximately three dozen sheets in all. Generally fine. (250.00)
An interesting assemblage, including: Ford's original work sheets and a photocopy of a "Table of Series of 1878 Silver Certificates"; Breen's signed carbon copy of a three page August 6, 1969 letter to Philpott, enumerating eighteen queries and noting that "I am cataloguing an immense collection for New Netherlands [and] I have run into a few problems that only you are in a position to solve…The above [questions] are fairly important – not to the catalogue so much as to the state of numismatic knowledge."; a carbon copy of Philpott's August 21, 1969 response, in which he responds to every query; Ford's carbon copy of his August 31, 1969 letter to Tainter concerning that latter's 1969 Numismatic Scrapbook article on silver certificates, requesting "information in an attempt to unravel the ancient mystery of what exists and what does not exist so far as 1878 and 1880 silver certificates are concerned."; Tainter's September 10, 1969 three page response; an interesting September 8, 1969 letter from Perlmutter to Wormser concerning 1878 and 1880 silver certificates; a September 8, 1969 letter from Philpott to Wormser on the same topic and a similar September 10, 1969 one from Tainter; a September 8, 1969 letter to Wormser from Amon Carter with many handwritten notes by Walter Breen, along with Wormser's follow-up letter posing further questions from Breen; Morris Loewensterns' September 17, 1969 response to Wormser on the same topic; a long and detailed September 22, 1969 response to Wormser from Van Belkum; Breen's response to this letter on behalf of Ford, who was "indisposed," reading in part: "I am gratified to see this kind of co-operation in a piece of scholarly research…It goes without saying that to date nobody else has provided anywhere near as helpful material as you have."; Ford's copies of two 1970 New Netherlands invoices of rare notes sold to Philip Lampkin; etc.

New Netherlands and the Wilkison Gold Patterns, Etc.

1108 ⌖ Ford, John J., Jr. ADAMS-WOODIN, JUDD LISTINGS (BASIC), U. S. GOLD PATTERNS; WILKISON COLLECTIONS, TRANSITIONAL COINS (IN U. S. PATTERN SERIES). Title derived from handwritten note on front of a file containing a large number of coin photographs, clippings, listings, articles, correspondence, etc. Generally fine. (750.00)
An important, extremely interesting assemblage of various items, including: 1) carbon copies of five 1970 New Netherlands Coin Co. letters written by Charles Wormser or John Ford to Dr. J. E. Wilkison, a two page September 1, 1970 letter from Dr. Wilkison, and two pages of computations written by Ford, all of which pertain to the sale of Wilkison's fabled collection of forty-three gold patterns, of which a few details follow: after a telephone conversation on July 27, Wormser writes that "I look forward to receiving your list together with the (trade) valuations you place on the pieces"/in a September 1 1970 letter handwritten by Wilkison he hurriedly lists the pieces in his collection and gives "exclusive agency" for sixty days to work out a trade in double eagles for the collection/two Ford work sheets compute the value of the "43 on list 9/1/70"/on September 25, Ford requests a set of color photographs and the number of double eagles required to make the trade/on October 15 Wormser again inquires about the number/attached to Wormser's October 28 letter is the figure required, "14000," which @ $60.00 totals $840,000, which Wormser terms "a rather rotund figure"; 2) Wayte Raymond paste-up and cut-to-size photographs, including nine sets (one of obverses and the other of reverses) of 8.5 x 11 cm. photographs of over one hundred mostly minor denomination patterns from the "Major Lohr" collection, each with a slip of handwritten descriptions; 3) an October 30, 1959 letter from Q. David Bowers including the original six page typewritten "copy covering the U. S. transitional coins for the Standard Catalogue," and "a copy of the original 'Transitional Coins of America' article"; 4) ten sheets of William H. Woodin stationery on which are mounted halftone illustrations of various patterns, many accompanied by pencil notes; and 5) a great variety of additional related materials.

1109 ⌖ Ford, John J., Jr. 1972 CORRESPONDENCE CONCERNING "MEXICAN INGOTS," ETC. Three letters: 1) June 22, 1972 "Air Letter" from T. V. Buttrey, Clare Hall, Cambridge; 2) June 22, 1972 letter on Bank Leu stationery from Leo (Mildenberg), Zürich; and 3) April 5, 1972 letter from Wendy J. Smith, Editorial Assistant, on Encyclopædia Britannica stationery, Chicago, with an attached photocopy of a letter, and printed coin plates V & VI from the Encyclopædia Britannica. Fine. (200.00)
In the first letter, Buttrey writes in part: "Thanks for your long and circumstantial letter, and for the indications of the whereabouts of the Mexican ingots…I'd like to do a Corpus of these interesting pieces, perhaps with some historical tie-ins with Mexico in the time of Philip V. I greatly appreciate you offer to show me your records. It would be very helpful to have a historical context for the ingots, such as a registered find…I would be delighted to see your files and discuss them with you. I confess complete ignorance as to where Rockville Centre is, but when I return to the States in September I will consult the maps and then get in touch with you for an appointment."

Portions of Muldenberg's letter follow: "This is a friendly answer to your letter of June 15th concerning the Mexican gold coins. It was not me, but you who revealed your name!...I had already written to Mrs. Thompson and Mr. Buttrey that the dealer handling the pieces was a friend of mine and a most reliable man, specialised (sic) in this field...In your long letter to Mr. Buttrey you give two hints only. That you made a non destructive analysis of the composition...Further, you mention the excellent observation made by Mr. [illegible] to me but not in the letter to Mr. Buttrey...I should highly recommend that you try to find the non-destructive analysis and send a photostatic copy to Mr. Buttrey. At the same time you should send a photostatic copy of the important note from Mr. [illegible] in Scales Bulletin. Only this makes it probable that Mr. Buttrey will stop his action." In the remaining correspondence, a letter from Hollis N. Cook, Supervisor, Arizona State Parks, is referenced by Ms. Smith, wherein "he questions the 1707 Tubac Gold coin ingot caption since Tubac was not mentioned in contemporary Spanish histories until 1726 and since the Jesuits did not have a mission at Tubac."

1110 ✦ Ford, John J., Jr. CANADIANA IV: DECIMAL COINAGE, PATTERNS. File folder, captioned as above, containing various materials. (150.00)

An interesting assemblage, including: photocopies, annotated in red and green ink, of a January 2, 1973 cover letter and detailed six page inventory of an "Offer of collection of Canadian Patterns and Proofs" sent to Sheldon Carroll at the Bank of Canada with a handwritten May 1, 1973 note in blue ink at the end signed by Carroll, reading "Received from John J. Ford Jr. all items encircled in red ink, plus items on May 1st invoice (Ford's carbon copy is attached), pages 7 & 8. Total - $48,000.00"; Ford's original carbon copy of the January 2, 1973 cover letter and detailed six page inventory; January 24, February 28, and May 28, 1973 letters from Carroll to Ford pertaining to the offer and ultimate purchase; a note and documentation concerning "Allen-Bland Cost of Canadian Lot $455.08"; several handwritten sheets of ruled paper in Ford's hand; appraisals concerning the Bank of Canada deal; a 1972 invoice from Jess Peters to Charles Wormser; Ford's carbon copy of an interesting June 6, 1985 note sent to Coin World, correcting the provenance of the Norweb 1921 half dollar, which sold for $110,000: "It was purchased from a pawn shop trade in Ireland by Sam Eisenberg at 'the local equivalent of 60¢,' sold to Ford at "about 40% and sold to [by Norweb in 1947 for $250]"; fourteen B. C. Johnson coin envelopes once containing rare Canadian coins sold on November 17, 1993; and assorted Xerox copies and other coin envelopes once containing rare Canadian coins, often with handwritten annotations by the Wayte Raymond.

1111 ✦ Ford, John J., II. THE NUMISMATIC LIBRARY OF JOHN J. FORD, JR. REGISTER SHEETS NOS. 1-43. No place of origin noted, May 10-July 1, 1975. Forty-three pre-printed ruled 8.5 x 11 inch sheets, holed for a three-ring binder, completed by Ford in black ink, with later notes in pencil, green, and red ink. Loose. Fine. Accompanied by two pre-printed sheets not filled in. (150.00)

Unique and interesting. The present lot was conceived with printed columns for ITEM NO. and DATE, TITLE and AUTHOR, REMARKS, DATE PUR. and PRICE, and [illegible] and DATE and [illegible] detail value. Though the sheets present here comprise barely the start of an inventory of Ford's numismatic library, specifics are provided for a number of rare titles. Details of a few entries follow: Ford's set of Milford Haven (lot 67-70 and 1 of 71) was purchased in 1968 for $143.60 and was valued a $600, along with a later value of $1,460; the Waldo Newcomer inventory (lot 99-101 = $13,560) is not a set and cost and was valued at $450; the Colonel Green inventory (lot 538 = $42,550) is not complete, cost only $10,000 and was valued at $15,000; Lucien Hoard set of Phillips of early American paper money (lot 747-66 = $4,830) cost $334 in 1967 and was valued at $5,000.

"Ford touches on a number of interesting numismatic topics and personalities, and also provides little known biographical and other details of his numismatic career"

1112 ✦ [Ford, John J., Jr.] United States District Court, Central District of California: Willis duPont, Plaintiff, vs. United States of America, et al., Defendants. James Lecuw, Plaintiff in Intervention, vs. United States of America, et al. Defendants in Intervention. DEPOSITION OF JOHN J. FORD, JR. Los Angeles, Friday, April 1, 1977. 144 + 1 sheets of duplicated typescript, (7) sheets of duplicated documentation and coin illustrations, handwritten corrections and changes in photocopy. 8.5 x 11 inch sheets, bound together within clear plastic covers. Very fine. (500.00)

Accompanied by a July 18, 1978 letter to Mr. Ford from Willis duPont's counsel, the Law Offices of Poindexter & Doutré, signed by Alfred H. Doutré, reading, "Pursuant to our agreement I enclose a copy of your deposition. It is the photocopy showing your corrections." The present fascinating deposition – vintage John J. Ford, Jr. – concerns duPont's Kellogg $50 that was stolen in 1967, turned up in the hands of Victor Kreisberg and Jess Cohen in early 1975, and was subsequently confiscated by the Federal Bureau of Investigation a few months later. Ford's testimony that the Kreisberg/Cohen coin was indeed the one stolen from duPont is extensive, repetitive and extremely tendentious at times, yet utterly captivating throughout. In the course of his expert testimony, Ford touches on a number of other interesting numismatic topics and personalities, and also provides little known biographical and other details of his numismatic career.

"the bizarre ANS imbroglio over the Rubin-Ford-Hodder paper…"

1113 ✠ Ford, John J., Jr. 1861 DOUBLE EAGLES WITH PAQUET REVERSE. Title derived from handwritten note on front of a file containing typescripts, photographs, correspondence, clippings, listings, etc., relating to the topic. Generally fine. (also) Ford, John J., Jr. 1861 PAQUET. Title derived from handwritten note on front of a file containing photocopy articles, listings, correspondence, and photostatic facsimiles. (also) Ford, John J., Jr. THE HODDER-FORD-RUBIN RESEARCH PAPER, A. N. S. COAC MEETING, NOV. 4-5, 1989; WITHDRAWAL OF PAPER. Title derived from handwritten note on front of a thick file containing voluminous correspondence, articles, photographs, and other documentary materials. (1,000.00)

A remarkable archive featuring early research, along with documentation of later contributions made by John J. Ford, Jr., culminating in the 1991 publication of The 1861 Paquet Double Eagles by Michael J. Hodder, John J. Ford, Jr. and P. Scott Rubin. THE FIRST FILE CONTAINS: two extremely interesting early (circa 1950s?) carbon typescripts on the topic, of 15 and 2 pages, annotated in pencil and/or ink (one apparently by Walter Breen, the larger article perhaps a collaborative effort by Ford and Breen); a file card with the photograph of the Farouk specimen, handwritten notes on its acquisition by New Netherlands and its sale to the Norwebs, along with the original 1950 sale invoice from Spink; August 23 & September 1, 1988 letters from Q. David Bowers concerning details of the Norweb coin to be sold, including galley proofs of the description with very interesting annotations, one entirely in photocopy; 1975 and 1988 Coin World articles on the topic; photocopies of early listings, including a 1943 invoice from St. Louis Stamp & Coin Co. to F. C. C. Boyd and the relevant portion of the 1897 M. A. Brown sale bid book; two sets of photographs and enlargements depicting both sides of the coin; photocopies of two September 1, 1988 letters from Michael Hodder to Walter Breen "concerning the 'discovery'… made about the 1860 Proof and 1861-P and S Paquet reverse $20 gold pieces."; etc. THE SECOND FILE CONTAINS: a July 13, 1954 two page letter to Ford from Stuart M. Mosher, Acting Head Curator, on Smithsonian Institution stationery, reading in part: "I have looked over the account book of the Mint Cabinet here in the library and I have selected 9 pages which have been Photostatted [also present here]. This may sound like an excessive number but in my opinion those pages which contain no pertinent information on the Paquet double eagle will give you an idea of how the early accounts were kept."; and photocopies of articles and old invoices. THE THIRD FILE CONTAINS: extensive correspondence and other materials pertaining to the authorship and eventual publication by Michael Hodder, P. Scott Rubin, and John J. Ford, Jr., of a paper on the topic, including Ford's copy of a October 21, 1988 note to P. Scott Rubin concerning the Brand purchase of the M. A. Brown specimen and the possibility of it being inadvertently spent by Horace Brand "to cover the expenses of handling Virgil's estate," ending up "in a Swiss Bank hoard to surface in 1965"; an August 1, 1989 letter to Ford from Michael Hodder, noting that "Since you are now an official co-author of the ANS COAC paper in the 1861-P Paquet $20, I thought you had better have copies of the correspondence and outlines that Scott and I have been working on," with two versions of an "Outline for 1989 C.O.A.C. Paper: The 1861 Paquet Double Eagle," and a photocopy of Hodder's response to Rubin's critique of the outline; photocopies of interesting Hodder correspondence with R. W. Julian providing "the solution as to how San Francisco successfully struck the Paquet reverse design"; a "final draft copy" of the research paper; a September 28, 1989 letter from COAC Chairman William E. Metcalf, with a printed "Preliminary Program" listing the three authors; a 1989 COAC "List of Registrants" and one for "Contributors," with Hodder and Rubin's names, but not Ford's; the final printed "Program," listing the paper and its three authors; Ford's Coin World and Numismatic News articles reporting on the presentation of the paper, subsequent critiques by Gerald Bauman, and the decision not to publish it; fascinating letters between Ford and Q. David Bowers concerning controversial aspects of the paper; a December 7, 1989 American Numismatic Society fundraising letter sent to Ford, signed by R. Henry Norweb, Jr. and Allen F. Lovejoy, with a typewritten postscript signed by Margo (Russell); a photocopy of Hodder's December 15, 1989 letter to the American Numismatic Society expressing distress on "the Society's decision to refuse publication of the paper," and noting that "John Ford's name properly belongs beneath the title…I do not understand the grounds upon which the Society bases its belief that it has the right, or even the interest, in determining the proper authorship of a numismatic paper…I would appreciate…your written confirmation of my withdrawal of the paper from the published COAC volume."; a photocopy of Hodder's December 21, 1989 letter to Carl Carlson, noting that "I and my fellow authors are very pleased that you have accepted our paper 'The 1861 Paquet Double Eagles' for inclusion in the 1990 ANA Anthology volume"; a photocopy of Hodder's remarkable three page December 28, 1989 letter to Eric Newman, in which Hodder requests that "a copy of this letter be given to [the Council of the American Numismatic Society], so that the Council members may better understand my own position in this regard [I would not wish the Council of the ANS to believe that my decision to include Ford's name as a co-author violated standards of appropriate editorial criteria or intellectual accuracy]"; a December 29, 1989 letter from David Alexander to Ford concerning "the bizarre ANS imbroglio over the Rubin-Ford-Hodder paper…"; Ford's original handwritten five page January 4, 1990 letter sent via fax to Beth Deisher, her January 10 response, and original Coin World tear sheets of the published version—"Striking the Issues," in the January 17, 1990 issue—and Hodder's "Controversy of the Same Kind" letter to the editor in the same issue; a photocopy of a January 17, 1990 note from Ford to Q. David Bowers expressing deep disappointment, along with Bowers' original January 29 response; a photocopy of an interesting January 19, 1990 letter from Michael Hodder to Eric Newman, along with Hodder's original cover letter; another fascinating three page "Personal and Confidential" February 2, 1990 three page letter from Q. David Bowers to Ford discussing, among many other things, the possibility of "politics, and repressed scholarship in its worst form," and concluding that "The Paquet paper is one of the finest pieces of numismatic scholarship I have ever seen (although I do disagree with a few minor points.)"; a February 22, 1990 letter from Hodder and "Photocopies of the galleys for our article…"; supportive correspondence from John Adams; several photographs and enlargements of related coins; a June 12, 1990 letter from Hodder and "a photocopy of the way our article will look like in the Anthology;" and an April 30, 1991 letter from Michael Hodder and offprints of the published article, one inscribed in ink by Hodder: "Even though we had to wait a long while before this article finally saw print, our cause was righteous and we won in the end."

1114 ❖ Ford, John J., Jr. CANADIAN TOKENS AND JOHN LAW RELATED: FRENCH COINS, 1719, 1720 BASED UPON COMPAGNIE DES INDES' POSSESSION OF THE COINAGE RIGHT FROM JULY 25, 1719 TO JAN. 5, 1721; MINTAGE FIGURES; RECORDED DATED OF RECEIPT OF DIES; AND REGENCY COUNCIL EDITS. The annotations include many critical notes on condition. A key to three collectors for whom the Chapmans were bidding is written in black ink on page 71.

1125 ✣ Fuld, Dr. George. "A ROUGH DRAFT OF THE PROPOSED OPUS ON BOOKS" SENT TO JOHN J. FORD, JR. Wakefield, Massachusetts, February 3, 1960. Typewritten cover letter, dated as above, accompanied by a carbon typescript, annotated in ink. Letter on printed stationery: 17 x 14 cm. Typescript on various types of 8.5 x 11 inch sheets of lightweight paper. 29 leaves in all, variously numbered. Stapled together at upper left corner. Fine. (250.00)

A pioneering effort to compile a American numismatic bibliography, including values. Unique and most interesting. Fuld's letter reads: "I am enclosing herewith a rough draft of the proposed opus on books—obviously not complete but it never will be. Now there are several important things still missing, namely the books on transportation tokens (which are coming from Coffee), the list of U. S. catalogues and price lists—please see Johnson's pgs. 71 to 75 for this. I did not include until I hear from you. Also, have not made list of auction sales—you're better qualified than I—make a suggested list by names and I'll try to complete. Now there are a number of places where I didn't have the number of pages and/or plates—most of these are in your upstairs library—what you can't find, I'll have dad chase in Balto. Please make all the necessary notes, especially as to format—I hope the next typing will be the last. Remember this little piece, even with help of Johnson's list took four full days to type (12 hour days too!!). The list runs 29 pages, about 15 per page!! I also checked which items we own, (from memory) which might be of some interest to you. If you have dups of the open ones, let me know, please. Had hoped to be at big sale Sat. but of course the mumps preclude this." This excellent effort is well organized in sections, including the following main categories: Colonial Coinage, Minor Coinages, Silver Coinages, Gold Coinages, Commemorative Coinages, Other Related subjects to U. S. coinage, United States Mint, Bibliography and Dictionaries, Pioneer and Territorial Gold, Medals, Masonic Coins and Medals, Tokens, Colonial Paper Currency, and Paper Money. The ink annotations, apparently done by Ford, include a number of additions, occasional added data, price changes, etc. Fuld's check marks reveal that he already possessed an excellent numismatic library, though some of the entries present when his remarkable library was sold in 1971 by Frank Katen were yet to be accessioned. Fuld provides commentary on various titles, mainly pertaining to their utility and scope, and his draft is incisive, trenchant, and, even today, extremely interesting. Despite his disclaimer, a few key auction sale catalogues are cited, and Ford has also added one or two. While weighted for usefulness, the valuations appear to be accurate for the time, though it one utilized the appropriate average multiplier to determine current prices, many of the great rarities would be woefully undervalued.

1126 ✣ Gengerke, Martin. AMERICAN NUMISMATIC AUCTIONS/CONSIGNORS TO AMERICAN NUMISMATIC AUCTIONS. Woodside, 1990. Eighth Edition. Stiff limitation leaf, vii, (1), 368 pages. Quarto. Original green leatherette, gilt original printed blue card covers bound in. Near new. (350.00)

Limited Deluxe Edition. One of only 30 copies issued. A comprehensive and indispensable reference work, listing over 13,000 American numismatic auction sale catalogues. Only these thirty hardbound copies of the eighth edition include the important 96 page index (comprising pages 271-368, entitled "Consignors to American Numismatic Auctions." Comprising over 6,000 entries, this index is an indispensable tool when only the collector's name is known.

1127 ✣ Glendining & Co. (HERBERT PELTZER) CATALOGUE OF THE PELTZER COLLECTION OF AMERICAN COINS. London, June 20-24, 1927. 127, (1) pages. 1391 lots, 14 fine plates, almost entirely priced in pencil with buyers' initials or names, manuscript index on back of last plate. Handsomely bound in green polished quarter calf, green cloth sides, spine lettered in gilt, sides ruled in gilt, marbled endsheets, original printed green card covers bound in, contents a little foxed. Fine. (350.00)

Choice, scarce (only 1957). An important collection of Latin American coins and medals, featuring a select number of choice colonial and early American coins, pioneer gold, etc. This remarkable sale appears to have decimated the top rank of coin dealers in America during the 1920's, with coverage leading to and from London and attendance at the sale, would have required. New World attendees included Chapman, Low, and Conrad, who competed with Spink, Baldwin, Seaby, Schulman, and others to acquire the many rarities present in the Peltzer collection.

1128 ✣ Granberg, H. O. NUMISMATIC CORRESPONDENCE AND PRICE LISTS SENT TO F. C. C. BOYD, ETC. Oshkosh, 1932. A number of original typescript fixed price listings, often accompanied by carbon copies of same, along with several typewritten Granberg letters, signed, on various printed stationery, and a handwritten letter from Boyd to Granberg. Twenty-one sheets in all, mainly 8.5 x 11 inches. Very good or better. (250.00)

Priced listings present here include the following headings: Colonial and Continental Currency; United States Fractional Currency; Full Set of As-av Pieces by Director Bureau Printing & Engraving; Full Set of Uncancelled Fractional Currency; Autographic Signatures of Rec. and Treas.; The Earliest Perfected Specimens from United States Treasury; Assorted List of Early Treasury Notes, Freaks? And Great Rarities; The Rare and Exceptionally Unique Currency Bills; Fractional Currency Specimens Etc. These price lists are often annotated in pencil and ink, with prices, etc. Granberg's letters mainly pertain to the items being offered for sale, often including items not included in the above headings. Some are written on Hartman Gold Mining Company of Oatman, Arizona (Granberg was a Director and Secretary-Treasurer). Others are headed "H. O. Granberg, Salesman for Select Investments," and list various affiliations: Life Member of The American Mining

Congress, Life Member of The American Numismatic Society, Member of the American Numismatic Association, President of the Hahns Peak Gold Mining & Milling Co., President of the Granberg Silver Mines Corporation, and Secretary of The Hartman Gold Mining Company. A few miscellaneous observations on the contents of the items present here follows: the price lists are often cumulatively numbered and totaled by hand; important items include "1 DEMAND Note NUMBER 1 Payable to Bearer at Treasury New York Price $1,000"/"Valuable Historical Document, Being An Original ORDINANCE by The United States Continental Congress Passed for THE ESTABLISHMENT OF THE UNITED STATES MINT Originally Autographically Signed by Chas Thomson, Secretary of the Continental Congress…$100.00"/"1 Volume of the Annual Reports of Francis E. Spinner…with engravings of the Secretaries of the treasury from 1789 to 1884 include. Inserted are 44 portraits and engravings…$300.00"/"all the Published Books and Catalogs bearing on the Currency, Bills, Bonds, Treasury, Postal and Revenue Departments; also the Bureau of Printing."/"1 Mahogany and Walnut (sic) Cabinett (sic) owned and made for De Will [Witt] Smith of Lee, Mass whose Collection I bought"/"One Beautiful Gold Medal issued by City of San Francisco to Mrs. E. H. Wills for an ode 'California' on the year of its Statehood 1850. $1,000"/a wealth of rare fractional currency, etc. In a February 8, 1932 letter, Granberg notes: "Now let me call your especial attention to the 1 Dollar Bill No. 1.- I bought another 1 Dollar Bill No. 1, for $2500.00…sold it for $5,000 thru G. H. Blake…THIS No. 1 is made Payable to the Assistant Treasurer at New York and is a real difference between this and the other…I believe when this No. 1 is resold it will bring $2500.00 and if it comes back to me I will hold it at that price. The ORDINANCE OF THE FIRST ESTABLISHMENT OF THE UNITED STATES MINT, is a Document that is Worth $1,000 just as well as a hundred and you will be apt to see it bring that as it is unique. The Other Numbered Specimen[s] Elmer Sears can post you on as we bought them from the same party while we we[re] together, we paid $50.00 a piece for them from Protzke (sic). 5 Pieces Each all different. That Proof with Gilt large letters is a real U. S. Gem-none other ever showed up at any convention. Well you are a good judge of these things. I expect I have to listen to a low bid. I will send you tomorrow a few sets of Patterns and mixed lots of Fractional Currency." In Boyd's February 11, 1932 letter, he lists his offers for certain items and observes that on "#1 Note your price $1000.00 can't get a decent offer." In Granberg's February 15 reply, he writes: "I have your list of reductions of No. 1 list and realize that The Demand Note Bills in Proof Condition are rarer in My opinion than low numbered Notes of Same issue (as they were made first) but price is not considered as they were. Therefore I et it go as you have marked it…Please return to me the One Dollar demand Bill Number 1; also the Chas Thomson Mint ordinance. The list as per sheet I now enclose to you lists to $316.25 which kindly send me check for as I am rather heavily obligated in expectation of greater sales."

1129 ❖ Griffin, Clarence. THE BECHTLERS AND BECHTLER COINAGE AND GOLD MINING IN NORTH CAROLINA 1814–1830. Forest City, 1929. (4), 15, (1) pages, illustrated. 22.5 x 15.5 cm. Brown leather-grained cloth, lettered in gilt. Very fine. (125.00)

Clain-Stefanelli 12471. Rarely offered. The author notes that this was "the first complete sketch of the Bechtlers ever published." In his survey of the previous literature, Don Kagin wrote: "The fascinating issues of North Carolina were covered by Clarence Griffen's (sic) comprehensive account…to which comparatively little has been added."

1130 ❖ Gwynne, (John A.) & Day, (Clarence S.), Bankers. THE DESCRIPTIVE REGISTER OF GENUINE BANK NOTES, FOR THE DETECTION OF SPURIOUS AND ALTERED BILLS, CONTAINING ACCURATE, ELABORATE AND PLAIN DESCRIPTIONS OF THE NOTES ISSUED BY EVERY BANK IN THE UNITED STATES AND CANADA, CONVENIENTLY ARRANGED FOR REFERENCE, PREPARED UNDER THE SUPERVISION OF THE PUBLISHERS, WHO ACKNOWLEDGE THEIR INDEBTEDNESS TO THE SEVERAL FIRMS NOW COMPRISING THE AMERICAN BANK NOTE COMPANY FOR MUCH VALUABLE INFORMATION. New York, 1859. First Edition. 142; (2) pages, a few illustrations and diagrams. Quarto: 30 x 21.5 cm. Original intricately blindstamped brown cloth, gilt. Very good. (150.00)

Ex Rhode Island Historical with perforated stamp on title. The last unnumbered leaf comprises a Supplement to the Descriptive Register.

1131 ❖ HARD TIMES TOKEN PHOTOGRAPHS. No place or date of issue. 64 modern 10 x 8 inch glossy photographs, each depicting one side of a token greatly enlarged (7 inch diameters). Two sets of superb photographs, slightly different exposures, depicting both sides of 16 superb Hard Times tokens. As new. (250.00)

Pencil notes on the back of the prints identify by Low numbers the obverse and reverse of each token depicted, as follows: 24, 25, 26, 26 Brass, 26d, 27, 41 Thick, 41 Thin, 41A silver, 42A silver, 43, 70, 70A silver, 71, 71 silver, and 71B brass.

1132 ❖ HARD TIMES TOKENS. A manila file folder, captioned in ink as cited, containing various reference materials. (400.00)

A most interesting assemblage, including: a July 10, 1914 letter, signed, to Carl Wurtzbach from Lyman Low, reading: "The enclosed slip was pasted in my book of H. T. T. I found it loose today, and will be very much obliged if you will kindly tell me what number it refers to." The slip is attached to the letter and, Wurtzbach's handwritten reply, signed, at the bottom saying he does not recall, prompting Low's note of disappointment after receiving Wurtzbach's reply; "The above represents the value of some information?"; July 24, 1905 letter from John H. Ward to E. Hallenbeck concerning James H. Cochrane of Batavia, New York, and his "40s" Bell Foundry, where "each Saturday he used to make tokens . . . do not imagine that he made many of them"; a price catalogue, annotated, of Stamp & Coin Exchange, Richmond Hill, New York City; several sheets of pencil lists and schematics pertaining to tokens, perhaps by Homer Downing, including "Bushnell and Lyons Frauds" per Proskey; a sheet of Henry Hines stationery written in ink, headed "Degree Low Token Rarity?"; two most interesting original typescripts, perhaps written by Ford, perhaps Breen, entitled "Natural Specie Substitutes" and "Hard Times Tokens"; several original Adams photographs of tokens, and portions thereof; four interesting 1955 letters from Charles V. Kappen to Ford describing details of "My reprint of Low's Hard Times Tokens," also including two pages of notes derived from a copy of Low "marked on the cover 'HOME USE' [believed to have been one of Mr. Low's copies"; Kenneth Rendell's token fixed price list with the following handwritten note by Ford dated August 23, 1957: "Pieces checked represent those unsold by Don Miller, Indiana, Pa., and still Available."; a set of loose Quarterman reprints of the Adams plates, accompanied by Ford's carbon copy of an interesting July, 1980 letter to Al Hoch, and a December 1, 1980 letter from Hoch to Ford; Koutsoures' 1981 work on Low 120, inscribed to Ford; 1981 correspondence to and from Dr. Ernest Beerstecher, and a draft of his manuscript on "The Genetics of Low 54a"; token listings excerpted from catalogues; a 1998 typescript by Robert Schuman concerning Low's magnum opus on the topic; token articles; interesting correspondence from Howard Richoux concerning Scovill Hard Times Tokens; etc.; etc.

1133 ❖ Hart, Charles Henry. CATALOGUE OF THE ENGRAVED PORTRAITS OF WASHINGTON. New York: The Grolier Club, 1904. xxv, (1), 406, (2) pages, very fine mezzotint frontispiece portrait, text facsimile engraving, 19 fine photogravure plates with descriptive tissue guards. Large thick quarto. Original vellum and blue boards, gilt, deckle edges, small stain at the top outer corner of the frontispiece. Very fine. (250.00)

Armorial ex libris Count Alexandre Orlowski, engraved by Tiffany & Co.; acquired 9/7/75 @ $125.00. One of an edition limited to 425 copies. A quarter century earlier the author had collaborated with William S. Baker on his classic work The Engraved Portraits of Washington. Hart's work points out errors and omissions in Baker and notes that the earlier work stimulated interest in the field, enabling him to describe "880 distinct plates and 634 different states, making a total of 1514 individual prints personally examined and recorded." A useful table printed in red and black lists Baker numbers 1-408 in all [and corresponding Hart numbers. A handsome production, printed by the De Vinne Press on fine American hand-made paper.

1134 ❖ Heath, Laban. HEATH'S GREATLY IMPROVED AND ENLARGED INFALLIBLE GOVERNMENT COUNTERFEIT DETECTOR AT SIGHT. . . Boston, 1866 (July 2, 1867 on upper cover). Second (Pocket) Edition. 39, (1) pages, (4) pages featuring Laban Heath microscope illustrations printed on the two facing pages, 17 numbered finely engraved plates of bank note design elements, interspersed out of numerical sequence in the text, plate 15 comprising a finely engraved folding Heath bank note facsimile, plate 16 comprising a finely engraved folding counterfeit bank note facsimile, plates 2 & 5 serving as frontispieces, plate 5 printed in green ink, no plate numbers over-printed. 16mo. 12 x 9 cm. Original blindstamped violet cloth, spine and upper cover faded to tan, front cover vertically lettered in gilt, plate 5 from another edition pasted to inside front cover, counterfeit $100 National Bank of Darien note strengthened at fold, pasted to inside back cover, pencil annotations. Near fine. (350.00)

Scarce. [Not apparently recorded. It appears to most closely resemble Newman 2-P-55-6, since none of the plate numbers are over-printed, no folding plate exists, and the present [the classic] plate is not [, and the latest endorsement date is January 15, 1867. A few of the pencil annotations are quite interesting: "rare all plates and so"; Mr Darley told me he drew the vignettes for the greenback 'unreadable word]."

1135 ❖ Heath, Laban. HEATH'S INFALLIBLE GOVERNMENT COUNTERFEIT DETECTOR AT SIGHT, ILLUSTRATED WITH ENTIRELY NEW PLATES OF BOTH GREENBACKS AND NATIONAL BANK NOTES. . . Boston, 1877. Twelfth Edition: Banking House and Counting Room Edition. 38, (2) pages, finely engraved title preceding the printed title, 9 numbered finely engraved plates of bank note designs bound in following the text, depicting large portions of the fronts of National Currency and United States Notes. Small quarto: 25 x 18.5 cm. Original maroon cloth, decoratively lettered in gilt, covers a bit spotted. Near fine. (300.00)

Newman 12-BH-7. The final subsequent editions are accompanied by new plates devoted entirely to United States Notes and National Currency, the text has also been completely revised.

1136 ❖ Hood, Jennings & Young, Charles J. AMERICAN ORDERS & SOCIETIES AND THEIR DECORATIONS. THE OBJECTS OF THE MILITARY AND NAVAL ORDERS, COMMEMORATIVE AND PATRIOTIC SOCIETIES OF THE UNITED STATES AND THE REQUIREMENTS FOR MEMBERSHIP THEREIN. WITH ILLUSTRATIONS IN COLORED RELIEF. Original blue cloth, gilt. Very fine/near new. (200.00)

Gillon Stefanelli 15709. Suetens 476. An exceptionally nice example of this handsome publication.

1137 ⌖ Hughes, Brent. U. S. COIN DATE AND RELATED VARIANTS: DRAWINGS BY BRENT HUGHES FOR A CONTEMPLATED EDITION OF THE "STANDARD CATALOGUE," CIRCA 1962-63. Preceding information derived from black ink note on brown paper wrapper, housing 18 + 15 pen and ink drawings, and 12 pencil sketches, often with pencil legends, occasionally accompanied by coin photographs, several with attached handwritten notes by John Ford. Generally drawn on white card stock, approximately 11 x 9.5 inches. (250.00)
A remarkable series of well-executed drawings depicting overdates, doublestruck coins, and other die varieties. Among the coins depicted are: 1840 1¢ small 18 over large 18 (N-2); 1873 1¢ closed 3 "double liberty" (accompanied by a greatly enlarged photograph); 1866 5¢ double date; 1828/88 1¢ (N-6); 1847 over 46 seated liberty half; 1814 50¢ "three leaves" reverse; 1861/1 $2½ gold (accompanied by 2 enlarged photographs); trade 1875 S/CC Type I; 1856-S 25¢ large "S" over small "S"; 2¢ 1867 double struck; $1 gold 1856 T.2 double "S"; 1938 D/S 5¢ (accompanied by 4 greatly enlarged photographs); fifteen 1873 Boosel varieties; etc.

Clain-Stefanelli 15477. Suetens 614. Mulder & Purves 1205. Purves 74: "...includes regimental battle honours, and the medals of the Royal Society and Royal Geographical Society." Scarce.

"The present market, of course, is being made up by speculators who are not collectors at all"

1139 ⌖ Johnson, B. G. THREE LETTERS TO WAYTE RAYMOND, TYPEWRITTEN ON ST. LOUIS STAMP & COIN CO. STATIONERY. St. Louis, May 24, July 8, & July 16, 1946. 27.5 x 21.5 cm. Last letter on two sheets, accompanied by Raymond's July 23 carbon copy reply. Very good/fine. (100.00)
The letters pertain to Johnson's input on pricing for the upcoming edition of Raymond's Standard Catalogue, though much else of interest is also included. A few excerpts follow: May 24-"At last I agree with you about prices. Can't help think of the fantastic prices brought at the Lawrence Sale which was the final end of that bull market in coins. It looks like one or two recent sales may be the same and forecast the end of the present up-turn...It is amazing to me that anyone starts collecting at this time. The present market, of course, is being made up by speculators who are not collectors at all...Another thing - it seems to me that there are too many people listed as assisting in the production of this catalogue whose names carry no weight at all...I realize that you have reasons sometimes for putting their names there but I cannot figure out how the opinion of say – William A. Gaede – can be of much value." July 8-"This switching of coins from one hand to another is entirely beyond me and it is rapidly assuming a comical aspect. Whether Bell consigned the coins to Kagin and what Fliasberg may or may not have to do with it is hardly likely to become public property as there is certainly some tax benefit somewhere." July 16-"This year's work of pricing the catalogue is the most difficult I have ever encountered. If one was to follow current auction prices on many things, I believe that five or ten years from now...everyone would be billed with wonder that such prices could have ever existed...I, frankly, disbelieve in some of the prices being realized at auction in New York which appear to me to be fixed by certain collectors and dealers and also probably by a few wealthy gentlemen who get excited or huy at much higher figures than are justified...There are hundreds of small dealers in this country who will disappear after the first bad decline. Mehl, you and I and, of course, Elder who has more or less retired, are about the only dealers in the country who remember the panics and declines in values which have taken place in the last forty years." July 23-"I have...received the marked catalogue and am thoroughly in agreement with you on most series...Early silver and copper does not seem to sell as well as it did twenty-five years ago as you will note from the prices Mehl secured in the Atwater sale...Mehl tells me that he didn't buy a single coin in the Atwater sale so it would seem that the prices can be pretty well relied upon."

1140 ⌖ [Kagin Collection]. ADDITIONAL KAGIN PIONEER GOLD CIBACHROME PRINTS. Title derived from brown wrapping paper accompanying twelve 8 x 10 inch color prints, each comprising a color enlargement of the obverse and reverse of the following six different pioneer gold coins: Miners Bank $10, Cincinnati Mining & Traders Company $10, Baldwin & Co. Horseman $10, Wass, Molitor & Company Small Head $20, Humbert 887 Thous. Target Reverse $50, and Kellogg $50. As new. (200.00)

1141 ⌖ Kentucky National Bank. PRESENTED BY THE KENTUCKY NATIONAL BANK, LOUISVILLE, KY. A COMPLETE LIST OF COUNTERFEIT NOTES. No place or date of issue. Single sheet, printed on one side in red and black ink. 25.5 x 20.5 cm. A trifle worn and dusty, tiny piece of bottom blank margin missing, a few pierce-marks at top. Good/very good. (100.00)

A rare broadside, the first of its kind that we have ever encountered. Following the heading cited above, printed in red ink, is "A Complete List of Counterfeit Notes," arranged in three columns and printed in black ink, including banks and the denominations affected, from $2 to $100 notes, in Connecticut (3), Illinois (10), Indiana (4), Kentucky (2), Maine (3), Massachusetts (7), Michigan (1), New Hampshire (1), New Jersey (2), New York City (28), New York State (28), Ohio (7), Pennsylvania (5), Rhode Island (3), Texas (1), Wisconsin (1), and Iowa (1). Footnotes following the Illinois listings caution that no $5 notes were issued by most of the banks (so designated by asterisks) and that, of a $5 note issued on the "First National Bank of Galena," that "There is no such Bank in existence." Printed in red ink at the base are diagnostic points for counterfeit greenbacks: "$500 Greenbacks—Ears on Adams's picture are not plain. $50 Greenbacks are stiff and oily and darker than genuine. $1 Greenbacks—Washington's head one-fourth inch less in width."

1142 ✣ King, Robert P. LINCOLN MEDALS. No place of issue, June 1, 1934. Original typescript, item numbers underlined in red ink. Title leaf, 186 numbered leaves, typed on one side only, 8.5 x 11 inch sheets, housed in an old black pebbled cloth three-ring binder. Very fine. (250.00)

The origin of this typescript is explained on the title: "This is a copy of Mr. Kings original manuscripts, giving both the new numbers and the original numbers. The new numbers are to be found in the Numismatists of Februarv, 1924, April, 1927, and August, 1933. Note:-Mr. King spent an afternoon with Mr. Clarke and John F. Jones, in February, 1934 and loaned Mr. Clarke his original manuscripts to make a copy of same." This arrangement records 718 medals, plus many bis numbers (i.e., 251A, 251B, 251C, 251D, 251E, etc.), 47 ferrotypes, 60 encased Lincoln cents, and 32 other pieces.

1143 ✣ Koin-X Change Shop (Rollo E. Gilmore), The. 1933 A. N. A. SALE]. SIXTH CATALOGUE OF RARE COINS. SECTION NO. 1...RARE COINS, INCLUDING MEDALS, TOKENS & PAPER MONEY. CURIOUS MONIES OF THE WORLD...SECTION NO. 2...RARE COINS, INCLUDING MEDALS, TOKENS, INDIAN RELICS, OLD NEWSPAPERS, LINCOLNIANA, WASHINGTONIANA, OLD PIANO FORTE SHEET MUSIC, AUTOGRAPHS, RELICS, NUMISMATIC LITERATURE & BOOKS. Poorly colored its scale (5¢ is sky-color) on. Is the highlight of the text may well be the original chorus to Coin Bug Blues, "A Song to the tune 'It Ain't Gonna Rain No More'": "Oh! It's Coin Bugs, Coin Bugs, Coin Bugs, Yes, Coin Bugs and still more. They fear to be together. And talk old coins once more."

The Charles Williams Collection of Territorial Gold Coins

1160 ⌖ Kosoff, A. & Kreisberg, Abner: Numismatic Gallery. [CHARLES M. WILLIAMS]. UNITED STATES TERRITORIAL GOLD. Beverly Hills: in Numismatic Gallery Monthly, January 1951. 12 pages (Williams listing comprising pages 2-9, 119 listings). Self-covered as issued. Near fine. Also included are: 1) a 16 page photographic reproduction of the original typescript listing of the collection, on 8.5 x 11 inch sheets, accompanied by 3 sheets of fine photographic reproductions of the original photographs depicting both sides of 37 pieces in the collection; and 2) a similar 16 page listing in photocopy, with additional sheets, annotated with items sold and often the buyers' names, along with other data, accompanied by photocopies of the illustrations (several missing). Both of the foregoing items, according to notes written by John Ford are from "Abner Kreisberg Files, C. M. Williams Coll., Ex Jack Collins, 6/25/79." (250.00)
An important source of information on this major offering of territorial gold coins.

1161 ⌖ Langdon, John E. CANADIAN SILVERSMITHS, 1700-1900. Toronto: The Stinehour Press, 1966. First Edition. xx, 249, (3) pages, well illustrated. Quarto. Original blue cloth, gilt. Virtually as new. (200.00)
One of only 1,000 copies issued.

1162 ⌖ Langford, John Alfred. A CENTURY OF BIRMINGHAM LIFE: OR, A CHRONICLE OF LOCAL EVENTS, FROM 1741 TO 1841. Birmingham: E. C. Osborne & London: Simpkin, Marshall & Co., 1868. Two volumes. First Edition. Mounted photographic frontispiece facsimile of the first issue of The Birmingham Gazette, xxxii, 513, (1), 4, 9, (1) pages; mounted oval photographic frontispiece of Matthew Boulton, ix, (1), 679, (1), 4 pages. 22.5 x 15 cm. Original matching blindstamped russet cloth, lettered in gilt, bindings a bit worn, hinges weak. Generally a very good set. (150.00)
Includes a number of numismatic references.

1163 ⌖ Lindesmith, Robert J. ORIGINAL U. S. MERCHANT TOKENS ISSUED UP TO 1857. Dayton, Washington, January 20 & February 13, 1969. Two original typewritten letters to John J. Ford, Jr., accompanied by 51 leaves of original typescript, with occasional ink annotations. 8.5 x 11 inch sheets. Loose. Very fine. (100.00)
In the first letter, Lindesmith writes that "I have just received the Miller listing of MT's from Russ. His letter and your last two, explains rather well what you have in mind...I believe with your and Mike Zeddies' help and the use of my reference listing on this series that I could turn out a creditable listing." Interesting content on the Scoville issues and muling and restriking follows. In the second letter, Lindesmith notes that "As usual, I have not followed instructions in respect to the method of indicating what I consider to be original U. S. Merchant tokens issued up to 1857. While it would have been simpler to circle the entries in the Miller listing, I believe the enclosed listing (work sheets) will give a clearer picture of my views on the subject...While I realize that in the final listing the descriptions will have to be brief, I have tried to include information in the work sheets (With the exception of the HARD TIMES TOKENS) that might help to identify the key identification points in respect to series such as the W. W. Wilbur tokens of South Carolina. I rather doubt that the Adams or Raymond listings are correct." The listing is arranged alphabetically by state and includes a description with legends, metal, size, scattered valuations, notes on restrikes, and other interesting and important observations.

1164 ⌖ MacLennan, George A. THE STORY OF THE OLD TIME COMMUNION SERVICE AND WORSHIP, ALSO THE METALLIC COMMUNION TOKEN OF THE PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH IN CANADA, 1772 . Montreal, 1924. 66, (2) pages, illustrated. Blue cloth, gilt, original printed front blue card cover bound in. Fine. (100.00)

Original printed blue wrappers a trifle worn. Fine. (100.00)

David Proskey's annotated sales room copy, marked "Private" on the front cover. Adams B: "Excellent 55: 1815, 1875, 1818. RR 1878 gold patterns plus Snowden letter. Season medal. Gem Mass. '/ c.'." It would be more understandable coming from the cataloguer, who served in the Confederate Army, when Proskey reveals perhaps the all too prevalent ethos of the day by commenting upon the legend of the famous Hard Times token: "Am I not a woman and a sister?," with: "no! you're a donkey." Elsewhere, Proskey identifies the surname of "Invoice I.," comprising lots 441-778, as "Collins," and records a number of other interesting numismatic, non-inflammatory, observations.

1168 ❖ Massamore, Dr. Geo. W. [S. A. CLICKNER]. CATALOGUE OF A VARIED AND INTERESTING COLLECTION OF FOREIGN AND AMERICAN COINS AND MEDALS, IN GOLD, SILVER AND COPPER, FORMED BY S. A. ALSO A LIST OF NUMISMATIC SOCIETIES, AUTHORS, PUBLICATIONS, ETC., ETC. Cincinnati, 1881. (2), 79, (1) pages, partly interleaved. 21.5 x 14.5 cm. Original printed blue paper covers. Very good or better. (200.00)

Ex from Bibliotheca Societatis Numismaticae Londinensis, 1901 library label of George Charles Williamson. Particularly useful for the 1,250 active listings of the names and addresses of contemporary collectors. Also appended are several interesting numismatic essays, including Edw. Eichelberger's J. Bull's Medal Cards and Tag Stubs comprising pages 36-41, with 42 main listings, and 14 mules. Apparently the more extensive than the 1884 edition which itself is uncommon.

1172 ⌖ Merkin, Lester. [LOUIS HELFENSTEIN]. LOUIS HELFENSTEIN COLLECTION OF LARGE CENTS, 1793-1857. New York, August 14, 1964. 64 pages, 332 lots, text illustrations, prices realized printed alongside each lot in blue ink. Original tan cloth, gilt, original full-color card cover mounted on front. New. (150.00)
Hardbound Library Edition; No. 31 of an edition limited to 100 copies. A landmark sale, both in terms of the superb quality of the coins offered, and the record prices achieved.

1173 ⌖ MISC. U. S. TOKENS, CARDS, MEDALETS, ETC. A file folder, captioned in ink as cited, containing various reference materials. (250.00)
Included are: a May 26, (18)66 holograph note, 20. x 12.5 cm, from J. A. Bolen, signed, to "Mr. Norton," reading: "I wish to contribute something to the Historical society. Will you please present (with my respects) The Enclosed Lincoln Medal and oblige…It is tin silver plated, I have struck more in other metals"; 9 sheets of 8.5 x 11 inch note paper featuring detailed handwritten descriptions by F. C. C. Boyd of Bolen Medals and Tokens, Fac-Similes, Presidential and Political Medals, Business Cards, and Masonic Medals; an original 5 page 8.5 x 11 inch typescript, annotated in pencil, by Thomas L. Elder entitled Jenny Lind; an 8.5 x 11 inch carbon typescript (title and 4 pages in blue wrappers), with ink additions entitled Jenny Lind Medals and Tokens From the Collection of Leonidas Westervelt, describing 12 pieces; ; four sepia photographs, circa 4 x 5 inches, perhaps taken by Edgar Adams, depicting both sides of 9 Jenny Lind medals; a duplicated typescript of a 1952 A. N. A. Convention Exhibit of Franklin and Lafayette Medals and Calendars Medals and Store Cards by George Fuld; and a photocopy of F. C. C. Boyd's annotated 1905 Descriptive Catalog of Bolen medals.

1174 ⌖ Mullen, A. L. T. THE MILITARY GENERAL SERVICE ROLL, 1793-1814. London: The London Stamp Exchange, 1990. First Edition. 726, (2) pages, 2 portraits. Quarto. Original red quarter cloth, gilt, marbled paper sides and endsheets, all page edges gilt. As new. (200.00)
Mulder 1252.

1175 ⌖ Nelson, Philip. THE COINAGE OF WILLIAM WOOD, 1722-1733. Brighton: W. C. Weight, 1903. 44 pages, text illustrations, 3 fine plates, addendum slip. Brown cloth, gilt. Very fine. (100.00)
A. H. Baldwin, Numismatist ink stamp at base of title. Drawing heavily on "Crosbie" and other works, Nelson notes in the preface: "I have endeavored in the following pages to bring together all that is now known concerning the life of William Wood, and also all the information I could glean concerning the various coins issued by him and his representatives subsequent to his decease." Still useful.

1176 ⌖ Nelson, Philip. THE AMERICAN COINAGE OF WILLIAM WOOD, 1722-1733. Liverpool: W. M. Murphy, 1905. 23, (1) pages, text illustrations, 1 very fine plate depicting various Rosa Americana pieces. 25 x 19 cm. Handsomely bound in recent maroon polished quarter calf, gilt, marbled endsheets. Very fine. (125.00)

Waldo Newcomer's Numismatic Holdings at the Time of His Death

1177 ⌖ [Newcomer, Waldo]. Schulman, M.; Raymond, Wayte; Mehl, B. Max. ESTATE OF WALDO NEWCOMER. COINS DISTRIBUTED BY B. F. NEWCOMER AND SAFE DEPOSIT AND TRUST COMPANY, EXECUTORS, TO ADELAIDE V. NOYES, MARGARET N. BARROLL AND B. F. NEWCOMER. No place or date of issue (circa 1934). (1), 281 sheets of carbon typescript, annotated. 33 x 21.5 cm. Contemporary red cloth-backed brown card covers. Very fine. (1,500.00)
A valuable record of Waldo Newcomer's numismatic holdings remaining at the time of his death in 1934. The main text on the cover page is cited above; the remainder follows: "Total Appraised Value $34,659.15, Less 15% Deducted to Represent Cost of Selling $5,198.88, [Balance] $29, 460.27; - Valuations Made as Follows – By M. Schulman or by Wayte Raymond, Items Listed on Pages 1 – 270; By B. Max Mehl – Items Listed on Pages 271 to 281; Note: Numbers in Left Hand Column of Sheets Represent Numbers Used by Executors to Identify Coins. The Numbers on Pages 271 to 281 Represent Numbers Used by B. Max Mehl for This Purpose." First listed are 5,686 coins of the world, arranged alphabetically and particularly rich in German coins, which are well described on pages 1 225. Pages 225-256 list nearly 700 carefully described "United States Patterns" by Adams-Woodin numbers. Ink notes suggest that extensive portions of this section were sold in December 1939, also some in 1940 and 1941, all presumably to Wayte Raymond. A small section of Latin American coins follows. Pages 261-270 summarily list some 650 low-value pattern coins. Pages 271 278 comprise B. Max Mehl's listing of Newcomer's remaining private, pioneer and territorial gold coins, Mehl having purchased the main collection a few years earlier. The remaining pages record Hard Times tokens and "U. S. Freaks, Etc."

1178 ❖ Newman, Eric P. TYPEWRITTEN LETTER ON EDISON BROTHERS STORES INC. STATIONERY, SIGNED, TO JOHN J. FORD, JR. St. Louis, January 30, 1963. 26.5 x 18.5 cm. Single sheet, two light fold marks. Very fine. Accompanied by a five page copy of "Code of Ethics on Reproductions." (100.00)

An interesting letter: "Thank you for the letter from Coin Reproductions. I immediately sent my committee copies and mentioned that you and Aaron Feldman had both sent them to me. These spark erosion die pieces are dangerous. If the new Confederate Half Dollar is a restrike, please send me back to 'OleMiss' to go to college. Don't compare Bashlow to Siegel or to Richardson. This is like getting into a moral discussion about whether burglary, robbery, or embezzlement is worst. I think these fellows are going to be very helpful to the TAMS committee in putting over our code. A copy of the code as I propose it is enclosed. I know I am wasting too much time riding with the Vigilantes, as you say, but copies of coins are just as irritating to me as having to watch a horse opera and not know who the bad guys and who the good guys are."

1179 ❖ Newman, Eric P. TYPEWRITTEN LETTER ON ERIC P. NEWMAN NUMISMATIC EDUCATION SOCIETY STATIONERY, SIGNED, TO JOHN J. FORD, JR. St. Louis, February 1, 1963. 28 x 21.5 cm. Two sheets, each with two light fold marks. Fine. (250.00)

Another interesting letter: "I could be induced to work on the catalogue of Colonial and Continental currency and to defer my other writings if I could be satisfied on certain matters, as follows: 1. I would want all of the Boyd Colonial and Continental paper money sent to me now for study, photography, and examination, and I mean ALL, including duplicates, sheets, signatures, associated items, etc. The bulk of these are still in your office, I presume. There is no use waiting for Taxay to go over them as it will be summer before I receive them if he has to work on them. I will list them if you have not done so already. 2. I will have to know from you, specifically, whether you are authorized by Mrs. Boyd, or the owner, to sell them. I will also want to know the bulk price of the collection or the prices by parts if they are for sale in parts. I would like to pay for them in installments to help the owners on taxes and to make working off the duplicates easier for both of us, but this is not a requirement. You are to disclose to me the price being paid to the owner. You can take your original profit in duplicates, valued as hereinafter suggested, or in money. I am a collector. You are interested in profit out of the collection. After I purchase the items I will authorize you to sell all the duplicates in the collection and all duplicates in the combined collection of mine and the Boyds. These duplicates will be a great collection for anyone to own. The prices to you will be allocated based on the total cost to me except for normal interest if I have to finance the transaction over a period. You will have made a profit on selling the material to me and another profit on resale of the duplicates and therefore should not expect as large a profit on the sale to me as you can make whatever you can on the resale to yourself just as I like a broker and not like a collector, an auction house, or a slicker, we will get along very well. Save your public talk for others as you and I actually think alike and greatly. Perhaps the Education Society will take over the acquisition of the paper money if it is financially sound. 3. As to the catalogue, I will have complete authority to use the Bradbeer material and any other [illegible] material which I choose and since I always give recognition to everything which everyone has contributed to anything I have written, I don't think there will be any problem in this regard. My one censor will be you. Prices in the catalogue or in a supplement to the catalogue will be your responsibility and not mine. You and I should be editor and I want you to be sure that this is what you want. Although you would be published, it might be interesting if I were shown as research editor and you were shown as valuation editor. My experience in getting books out of print to be edited is that I should be repaid out of the sale of the book. If there is any way the Education Society can get a small amount for research, it would be nice. I expect to make a trip to Greenfield Village, with my wife, to examine the Joshua Cohen collection which you were kind enough to arrange. This is real hard material. Digest this blast and write me. Just remember that I was helpful to you in getting you started. What more I do in the future will be directed to divert my energies in writing and research to your subject and away from my own. I have an open mind but want to give you the general background of my thinking."

1180 ❖ Newman, Eric P. COINAGE FOR COLONIAL VIRGINIA. New York, 1956. (8), 57, (3) pages, 6 fine plates. Original tan cloth covers. Fine. (100.00)

An interesting series of letters discussing various numismatic transactions, proposals, etc. A few excerpts follow (written by Ford unless otherwise identified): "I forgot to tell you, but a week ago, Don Miller called me up. It seems that the Dr. Hetrich collection was sold by a hick auction house in Reading. Miller, being a prince, called me after he had just bought the Hard Times tokens for $44 each. The tokens included Low 54a, the famous 152, the Bushnell pieces in Silver complete, the damn, damn Low 161 (which I think is the most interesting of all), and many other interesting pieces. Miller had the field to himself, bidding against Dr. Hetrich's son, when Ira Reed jumped in and started running things up… D. M. also bought the Civil War tokens…some 8,000 pieces. I surmise that specimens in gold were included."; "I spent a considerable time and effort on your freak notes in our forthcoming catalog. However, they are really the bastards of the paper money series…"; (Wormser) "The material consigned to our recent auction sale fetched $2,525.00, and I am therefore enclosing herewith our item in the amount of $2,020.00…"; "I had not realized until our conversation was over, that you were not too happy to talk on why I was apparently a monitored line."; "I am almost positive that I can get Brand rarities from [my friend in Chicago] on approval at 'steal' prices…We lost the Levy collection of Quarters to Abe K. Guess I don't know how to do business over cocktails (and won't cut out 30% commission!)."; etc.

1190 ÷ New Netherlands Coin Company, Inc. ORIGINAL PLATES, 47TH SALE. (New York, 1956). THE PINE TREE COINAGE OF MASSACHUSETTS. New York, 1952. 16mo & 8vo. Three well illustrated volumes, all in the original printed tan card covers. Very fine. (250.00)
American Numismatic Society Numismatic Notes and Monographs Nos. 102, 110, & 125. Catalogue portion of all three volumes annotated in pencil by Walter Breen. In the New England and Willow Tree volume, Breen corrects and greatly expands pedigrees, records new varieties, comments upon rarity, etc. In the Oak Tree and Pine Tree monographs, he assigns rarity numbers, appears to keep a running tally of known specimens, records examples in the Garrett collection, records new varieties and die states, expands pedigrees, downgrades rarity, etc. Also featured are later entries in at least one other hand. Unique and quite interesting.

1205 ❖ Noe, Sydney P. THE NEW ENGLAND AND WILLOW TREE COINAGES OF MASSACHUSETTS. New York, 1943. (also) Noe, Sydney P. THE OAK TREE COINAGE OF MASSACHUSETTS. New York, 1947. (also) Noe, Sydney P. THE PINE TREE COINAGE OF MASSACHUSETTS. New York, 1952. (also) Newman, Eric P. THE SECRET OF THE GOOD SAMARITAN SHILLING. New York, 1959. 16mo & 8vo. Four illustrated volumes, all in the original card covers. Very fine. (250.00)
American Numismatic Society Numismatic Notes and Monographs Nos. 102, 110, 125, & 142. No. 102 is inscribed on the half-title: "To F. C. C. Boyd with the cordial regard of Sydney P. Noe." Nos. 110 and 125 are annotated in pencil by Walter Breen, including occasional text corrections, assignation of rarity numbers, a record of examples in the Boyd collection (No. 110), new varieties and die states, expanded and corrected pedigrees, interesting observations, etc.

1206 ❖ Noyes, William C. UNITED STATES LARGE CENTS: 1793-1814. Bloomington: Litho Technical Services, 1991. Blank leaf, (386) pages, blank leaf, fine enlarged halftone text illustrations of large cents throughout. Quarto. Original green leatherette, gilt. As new. (also) Noyes, William C. UNITED STATES LARGE CENTS: 1816-1839. Bloomington: Litho Technical Services, 1991. Blank leaf, (296) pages, blank leaf, fine enlarged halftone text illustrations of large cents throughout. Quarto. Original maroon leatherette, gilt. As new. (250.00)
First volume inscribed in black ink on title: "To John J. Ford, Jr., who like the author is not afraid to say what he really thinks of fellow numismatists. Quick, Mr. Boyer, Cape Cod, Mass. '92." Second volume inscribed in black ink on title: "To John J. Ford, Jr., an oft outspoken numismatist and friend of numismatics for many years. Thanks, Wm. Noyes, Cape Cod, Mass. '92."

1207 ❖ Overton, Al. C. EARLY HALF DOLLAR DIE VARIETIES 1794-1836. Colorado Springs, 1967 & 1970. Two volumes. First & Second Editions. 349, (1); xii, 274 pages, illustrated. Both volumes in the original cloth, gilt, with dust jackets. Virtually as new. (150.00)
The two volumes are inscribed on the front flyleaves to John J. Ford, Jr. and are signed by the author. Included is a two page carbon typescript critical book review of the first edition, ascribed to Jon Hanson by an ink note written by Ford. Given its scathing—if highly entertaining—tenor, it presumably was never published. A few excerpts follow: "Just as a starving child will ignore the quality of his food, a hungry numismatist will buy just about any book about coins. Such indiscriminant reading was demonstrated this past year by sales of the Overton book on half dollar die varieties. Taken as a whole, it is this writer's opinion that Mr. Overton's book is entirely useless to the expert and extremely harmful to the novice." Included with the second edition is the Transition Table and January 1971 Premium Prices Paid flyer.

1208 ❖ Parke-Bernet Galleries, Inc. SPANISH MAIN: TREASURE OF THE SPANISH MAIN: MAJOR TREASURES RAISED FROM THE SPANISH PLATE FLEET OF 1715. New York, February 4, 1967. (12), 97, (1) pages, 315 lots (over two thirds of coins), 1 color plate, illustrated throughout, annotated. Quarto. Original blue card covers. Very fine. (100.00)
John Ford's annotated sales room copy of the catalogue, priced throughout with many buyers' names and often, when unknown, physical descriptions along with other interesting notes. Unique. Also included are several newspaper clippings reporting results of the sale and a lengthy ink note by Ford recording Mel Fisher's address, telephone numbers, and other details.

1209 ❖ (Phillips, Henry, Jr.). AN HISTORICAL SKETCH OF THE PAPER MONEY ISSUED BY PENNSYLVANIA, TOGETHER WITH A COMPLETE LIST OF ALL THE DATES, ISSUES, AMOUNTS, DENOMINATIONS, AND SIGNERS. BY A MEMBER OF THE NUMISMATIC SOCIETY OF PHILADELPHIA. Philadelphia: A. C. Kline, 1862. 40 pages. 23 x 14.5 cm. Original printed green wrappers a trifle worn and dusty, once folded, else a fine copy. (also) Macfarlane, C. W. PENNSYLVANIA PAPER CURRENCY. Philadelphia: Publications of The American Academy of Political and Social Science, No. 178, July 28, 1896. (49)-126, (2) pages, tables. Original printed tan card covers a bit worn and chipped, internally a fine copy. (150.00)

Newman page 363 (both titles). The first printing of Phillips' rare early work, comprising an historical sketch and catalogue of the various issues. As noted in the preface: "It is the first of a series [the author] contemplates preparing on the issues of the Colonies and of the United States." It was later incorporated into Phillips' landmark two volume compendium on Colonial and Continental currency. The Macfarlane work on early Pennsylvania paper money, the first we recall having handled, is an "attempt to sketch the history of this remarkable experience, from the first crude bill of 1723 to the final collapse of all paper money during the Revolution." Included are numerous tables, chronicling the prices of various commodities from 1720 to 1775.

1210 ❖ Raymond, O. E., Editor. THE STANDARD CATALOGUE OF UNITED STATES COINS AND CURRENCY FROM 1652 TO PRESENT DAY... New York, 1957. 18th Edition. 224 pages, text illustrations, interleaved throughout. Original blue cloth, gilt, printed dust jacket a trifle worn. Virtually as new. (200.00)

The Special Interleaved Edition. One of only a handful of such copies issued, and the second of two examples in the Ford library. The eighteenth and last edition. Wayte Raymond had died the year before publication, and his wife Olga was nominally assigned editorship, though the credits on the title verso are more informative in that respect: "Editorial Consultation and Supervision: John. J. Ford, Jr./ Compilation and Basic Research: Walter Breen/Promotion and Distribution: Alan W. Faxon."

1211 ❖ Raymond, Wayte. CATALOGUE OF A SUPERB COLLECTION OF QUARTER EAGLES AND MANY OTHER RARE UNITED STATES AND FOREIGN COINS. New York, December 8, 1910. 16 pages, 338 lots, handpriced in ink (except for Minor Proof Sets, lots 59-91, marked "These you don't care about" in ink). 22.5 x 15.5 cm. Original printed cream card covers a trifle dusty. Near fine/fine. (also) Raymond, Wayte. CATALOGUE OF A COLLECTION OF CHOICE CENTS AND MANY OTHER RARE UNITED STATES AND FOREIGN COINS. New York, April 14, 1911. 18 pages, blank leaf, 473 lots. 23 x 15.5 cm. Original printed gray card covers, bid sheet laid in. Very fine. (200.00)

Wayte Raymond's first two public auction sales. Both quite scarce. The first features an ink note at the head of the title: "Priced by W. R."

1212 ❖ Raymond, Wayte. A COLLECTION OF RARE UNITED STATES GOLD, SILVER AND COPPER COINS. ANCIENT GREEK & ROMAN GOLD & SILVER COINS. New York, April 6, 1926. 16 pages, 492 lots, almost entirely handpriced in pencil with buyers' initials or names, along with other annotations, including critical notes on condition. 25.5 x 19.5 cm. Original printed tan card covers a trifle dusty. Near fine. (150.00)

Inscribed in ink at head of upper cover: "Bid Book Private/Henry Chapman." Adams B: "Pinetree 3 p. 1792 Washington 50¢, AR 1797s10, small eagle. 1806-04 $2.50. XF 1797 10¢, 13 stars. MS 1793, 1794 half cents. 1794 1¢ varieties (3 mint states)."

1213 ❖ Raymond, Wayte. THE HISTORY OF THE STICKNEY 1804 DOLLAR. New York, 1931. (12) pages, illustrated. Two examples, both annotated, in the original decoratively-printed cream card covers, original silk ties, covers a trifle discolored. Fine. (100.00)

A scarce Wayte Raymond publication, comprising a detailed pedigree of the first 1804 dollar to pass into private hands. On the back covers of both copies present here are interesting pedigree chains written by their respective owners. The first, written in black ink, lists in some detail the pedigrees of thirteen or fourteen specimens. The second compilation, written in pencil in a different hand, is comprised of two main listings of six specimens, along with a single listing of three "Restrikes."

1214 ❖ Raymond, Wayte. [GIOVANNI P. MOROSINI]. IMPORTANT COLLECTION OF GOLD COINS FORMED BY THE LATE GIOVANNI P. MOROSINI. CHIEFLY ITALIAN AND OTHER EUROPEAN RARITIES, BELONGING TO THE ESTATE OF THE LATE GIULIA P. MOROSINI. New York: American Art Association Sale Number 3985, October 10, 1932. (8), 107, (3) pages, 374 + 4 lots (78a "Florenci?" @ 22.50 + 114a "Clement VII Double Fiore?" @ 10.00 + 221a "Spiel mark" @

5.00 + 296a "Similar" @ 50.00), well illustrated, annotated in pencil. Original printed tan card covers a bit worn and dusty, once lightly folded. Near fine. (150.00)

A priced sales room copy, featuring the great majority of buyers' names or initials, and also the weight of a few large pieces. Clain-Stefanelli 8009. Morosini formed a remarkable coin collection but, coming to sale in the depths of the Great Depression, results were generally poor.

Original printed tan card covers a bit worn. Near fine. (100.00)

Ex Wayte Raymond with his ink autograph at the head of the upper cover. Presumably Raymond's sales room copy, featuring prices realized in pencil, along with pre-sale estimates or, far more likely, reserves for valuable lots in the sale entered in ink or pencil, also with occasional buyers' initials and the weight of a few large pieces. A bid sheet, presumably with reserves for a number of lots, is also loosely laid in. Clain-Stefanelli 8009. Morosini formed a remarkable coin collection but, coming to sale in the depths of the Great Depression, results were generally poor.

1216 ✣ Raymond, Wayte, Cataloguer. [CHARLES P. SENTER]. EARLY AMERICAN HISTORICAL MEDALS. MEDALS PRESENTED TO INDIAN CHIEFS. ORDERS OF CHIVALRY, ART MEDALS AND PLAQUES. COLLECTION OF THE LATE CHARLES P. SENTER. New York: American Art Association, Anderson Galleries, Inc., Sale Number 4056, October 27, 1933. (8), 32, (2) pages, 248 lots, several pages of illustrations, neatly priced throughout in pencil. Original printed tan card covers. Fine. (150.00)

Adams 31: "Hurriedly written but significant medal sale. Betts series; Matanzas, Albemarle, Oglethorpe, 285 Vernons, U. S. Series; Stewart, Theban, Feltus, Britannia, Richmond pieces, Masonics, Happy While United, 1793 oval Washington, Astor and many more."

1217 ✣ Raymond, Wayte. SPANISH AMERICAN GOLD COINS...BEING A DETAILED LIST OF THE GOLD COINS STRUCK BY THE SPANISH KINGS IN AMERICA AT THE MINTS OF MEXICO, GUADALAXARA, LIMA, POTOSI, BOGOTA, POPAYAN, GUATEMALA, SANTIAGO WITH ILLUSTRATIONS OF ALL THE TYPES. New York, 1936. 48 pages, illustrated. 23.5 x 15.5 cm. Original red cloth, gilt, all page edges gilt interleaved throughout with graph paper, printed Stack's label affixed to base of title. Very fine/near new. (100.00)

Specific to Coward and not Ford.

1218 ✣ Raymond, Wayte. THE COINS AND TOKENS OF CANADA. AN ILLUSTRATED LIST OF ALL THE TYPES OF CANADIAN COINS AND TOKENS FROM 1670 TO DATE, INCLUDING THE OFFICIAL MINT REPORTS FROM 1858 TO 1936. New York, 1937. 21, (3) pages, text illustrations. 23 x 15.5 cm. Original maroon cloth, gilt, interleaved with graph paper, all edges gilt, red silk marker Very fine. The Special Interleaved Hardbound Edition. (also) Raymond, Wayte. 1911 CATALOGUE OF CANADIAN COINS AND TOKENS. South Norwalk, (1911). 8 pages. 22 x 15 cm. Self-covered, two horizontal fold marks, slight separation at folds. Very good. (150.00)

Not mentioned in Wayte Raymond publications. In his dark price list, Raymond notes that "Canadian coins are one of my specialties." The highlight is a gold 1969 Longpre Medal. "The only one known, priced at $200.00.

1219 ✣ Raymond, Wayte. THE SILVER AND MINOR COINS OF NORTH AND SOUTH AMERICA, EXCLUSIVE OF THE UNITED STATES, AS ORIGINALLY PUBLISHED IN FIVE PARTS. New York, (circa 1942-1943). 7, (1); 21, (3); 23, (1); 15, (1); 24; 44 pages, illustrated. Original blue cloth, gilt. Near new. (100.00)

Special Collected Hardbound Edition. Very scarce in the hardbound. Raymond writes: "It has always been the ambition of the author to publish a work containing all the types of coins struck in North and South America. The gold series was completed and published in 1937. The list of silver and copper coins has gradually been published in parts as follows— ...Canada ...Mexico ...Central America...West Indies...South America. It has been suggested by many of our collector friends that it would be a convenience to have these pamphlets bound in one volume as we have had a small number bound in this way. To the above pamphlets we have added a list of coins from the Spanish American mints."

1220 ✣ Raymond, Wayte. COINS OF THE WORLD: NINETEENTH CENTURY ISSUES... New York, 1953. Second Edition. 251, (1) pages, illustrated, interleaved throughout with graph paper. Original blue cloth, gilt. Very fine. (also) Raymond, Wayte. COINS OF THE WORLD: TWENTIETH CENTURY ISSUES 1901-1954... New York, 1955. Fifth Edition. 326 pages, illustrated. Original brown cloth, gilt. Very fine. (100.00)

Two pioneering works. The first volume is the Special Interleaved Edition, only of only a few such examples issued. Loosely laid in the second volume is a finely printed "With the Compliments of Wayte Raymond" card.

1221 ✣ Raymond, Wayte & Ford, John J., Jr. CORRESPONDENCE ON A VARIETY OF TOPICS. New York, 1950-1952. Over eighty sheets, mainly in standard or smaller letter format, generally comprised of original Raymond letters, signed, on printed stationery, and carbon copy Ford manuscripts, responses, listings, etc. Fine. (250.00)

In a July 27, 1950 letter Ford thanks Raymond on "behalf of Dick Kenney and myself...for a very enjoyable visit on Sunday." He discusses renting office space in Manhattan, possible contributions to the Coin Collector's Journal, and many ideas for improving the Standard Catalogue. Subsequent 1950 letters continue these discussions and touch on other interesting topics, including Ford's proposed new issue of the Browning quarter dollar book. Also included are Ford "Notes" to be inserted in the next Standard Catalogue, a Ford inventory of "Hard Times Tokens sold for the account of Wayte Raymond," and Ford articles on "Restrikes of united States Coins," "Large Cents," and "Early American Coins." In a June 29, 1951 letter, Ford writes: "Breen had more than a little trouble leaving the employ of the brothers. After having his teeth removed and a temporary bridge made, they obviously felt that he was heavily indebted to them...He took a train late last Friday night (June 22nd) and started classes in Baltimore on Monday. Enclosed you will find various bills indicating how I outfitted him. I gave him the small cash balance and he added to it and obtained three good quality sport shirts. All in all, he left town in pretty good condition- thanks to you." On October 1, 1951, Ford wrote: "Early in 1950, I stopped in to see old Steve Nagy at his fire trap on South 18th Street...Nagy told me that he had a lot of stuff on Gobrecht that he obtained from the family. This material included Drawings, papers, Models, Die trials, and perhaps, even coins. All is saw was a few papers and some trial impressions. Homer downing visited Nagy earlier, and saw a lot more." Much other interesting content is present herein.

1222 ✣ Raymond, Wayte & Macallister, J. G. AN IMPORTANT COLLECTION OF UNITED STATES GOLD, SILVER & COPPER COINS AND U. S. CURRENCY. New York, April 26, 1932. (4), 24 pages, 520 lots, largely priced in pencil, ink notes including a few buyers in the large cent section. Original printed gray card covers, "Mr Hines" written in blue pencil on upper cover, once folded, some interior spotting, with a sheet of James G. Macallister note paper loosely laid in, dated Feb. 1932, listing items "I have on consignment." (also) Raymond, Wayte & Macallister, J. G. THE SUPERB COLLECTION OF UNITED STATES CENTS FORMED BY THE LATE WM. FESTUS MORGAN OF COOPERSTOWN, N. Y. New York, June 16, 1932. 24 pages, 433 lots, largely priced in pencil, with some interesting pencil and ink notes in the large cent section. Original printed tan card covers, once folded. (also) Raymond, Wayte & Macallister, J. G. THE COLLECTIONS OF UNITED STATES COINS FORMED BY H. A. STERNBERG, DUNDEE, ILL., WM. R. NICHOLSON, JR., PHILADELPHIA, PA. INCLUDING A SUPERB LOT OF UNITED STATES CENTS, RARE EARLY SILVER COINS, 1823 QUARTER DOLLAR, 1828 HALF EAGLE AND A GENERAL SERIES OF GOLD, SILVER AND COPPER COINS. New York, April 7-8, 1933. 39, (1) pages, 874 lots, largely priced in pencil, including interesting notes and some buyers' names in the large cent section. Original printed tan card covers, once folded, with a sheet of Newark Athletic Club note paper loosely laid in, listing in ink the prices of most of the large cent and occasional other lots, with a few buyers. Three catalogues in all, generally very good. (200.00)

A trio of evocative sales room copies of notable large cent auctions annotated by the legendary Henry C. Hines.

1223 ✣ Raymond, Wayte & Macallister, J. G. [VIRGIL BRAND]. RARE UNITED STATES COINS. SELECTIONS FROM A GREAT AMERICAN COLLECTION. New York: J. C. Morgenthau Sale Number 311, October 18, 1933. 18, (2) pages, 290 lots, 6 halftone plates of coins. Small quarto. Three copies, all in the original printed tan card covers, some contents loose. Very good or better copies. (200.00)

Generally considered to be the first public sale of coins from the Virgil Brand collection. Each of the three annotated examples present here is interesting and unique in some respect; they appear to be linked to Wayte Raymond and/or James Macallister. One is priced throughout in pencil and features a great many buyers' names and occasional interesting annotations; another is similarly annotated, in greater detail, along with what appear to be pencil estimates and costs, also including a pencil note reading: "Where I have marked S (possibly "6,") before the lot, that is the price started at. There is no such combination as No 2 in Crosby. Miss C. mentioned it & I passed it up not wishing to be stuck. I wrote to Bitler asking if we could send him something.": and the final copy present here is marked "Priced Catalog/Mass Silver" on the upper cover, is priced throughout in blue ink, and features "Bids by TJC" in code and occasional other annotations.

1224 ✦ Raymond, Wayte & Macallister, J. G. [NEWCOMER & SANTOS]. AUCTION SALES FEATURING LATIN AMERICAN AND OTHER COINS. New York: J. C. Morgenthau Sale Numbers 345 & 375, 1935 & 1937. Two copies of each. Small quarto. Four catalogues, all in the original printed tan card covers. Generally fine. (150.00)

One example of sale 345, the first Waldo Newcomer sale, features pencil prices realized and a number of buyers' initials or names, including all of Wayte Raymond's purchases. The other copy of the first Newcomer sale of Latin American coins appears to be T. James Clarke's sales room copy, is inscribed "T. J. C./Priced" on the front cover and is priced throughout in ink with buyers' names or initials, and features occasional interesting annotations. It features a pre-sale letter and a postcard from J G Mac(allister). His letter is quite interesting, discussing the rare British Columbia pieces, and observing, among other things, that "I think the ordinary doubloons will go around $30. to $40. and there should be some good pickins in the lot as some of them are rare as hell…I did not attend Elder's sale, tho I was represented by a stamp dealer, and as usual got most of the good things, tho E. had no idea that I was even bidding." The postcard notes that "I find I was mistaken about the costs of the British Columbia pcs. Correct figures are: #145 cost $4000/146 cost 1000/147 cost 1350/148 cost 1000." These figures have been entered in the catalogue, where Clarke notes that "WR" bought all four, at $75.00, 165.00, 310.00, and 160.00 respectively. One example of sale 375, the Richard Santos collection of rare South American gold coins, is inscribed "W. R. & J. G. M." on the upper cover, and lots 1–358 are priced in ink with page totals. The other Santos catalogue is autographed by Wayte Raymond on the front cover, is priced throughout in ink with some buyers' initials and other notes, along with invoices from Morgenthau detailing sale expenses and Raymond' purchases at the sale.

1225 ✦ Raymond, Wayte & Macallister, J. G. [BURRAGE, NEWCOMER, PRICE, & NEWCOMB.]. AUCTION SALES FEATURING RARE UNITED STATES AND OTHER COINS. New York: J. C. Morgenthau Sale Numbers 348, 352, & 458, 1935–1945. Small quarto. Three catalogues, all in the original printed tan card covers. Generally fine. (150.00)

The catalogues present here are all autographed by Wayte Raymond on the upper covers. Sale 348 features coins from the collections of Russell Burrage and Waldo Newcomer, is priced throughout in ink and pencil, and includes invoices from Morgenthau detailing sale expenses and Raymond' purchases at the sale, along with a typed letter from John Balderston concerning his sale bids, though noting that "I am committing myself pretty heavily in the Trau sale in Vienna…" Sale 352 features the collection of Harrie B. Price, is priced throughout in ink, along with other annotations in ink and pencil, and includes invoices from Morgenthau detailing sale expenses and Raymond' purchases at the sale. Sale 458 features Howard Newcomb's collection of early date cents, along with "Rare United States Gold and Silver Coins." The $10 section is annotated in the example present here with pencil prices, occasional buyers' names, and the bids of "WS" on United States gold coins. Also present is a bid sheet, apparently listing William H. Schubart's purchases totaling $961.50, along with two pre-addressed envelopes to Raymond from Schubart detailing the extent of his participation in the sale.

1226 ✦ Rhodes & Co.; Bradford, Publishers. RHODES' JOURNAL OF BANKING. NEW SERIES. VOLUMES VIII-XII/ RHODES' JOURNAL OF BANKING AND THE BANKERS' MAGAZINE, CONSOLIDATED. VOLUMES LI-LXI. New York: Bradford Rhodes & Co., 1881–1885 & July 1895–December 1900. Sixteen complete volumes. viii, 912; viii, 968; (3)-1096; 1064, 15, (1); 952; (3)–1 8, 772; viii, 832; (2), vi, 760; vii, (1), 976; vi, (2), 946; vi, (2), 932; vi, (2), 1024; vii, (1); 928; vi, (2), 976, vii (1), 934; viii 984 pages, folding tables, text illustrations, fine portrait and other plates. Circa 24 x 17 cm. Attractively bound in matching dark green leather-grained quarter cloth, light green cloth sides, red spine labels, gilt, occasional minor faults. Generally very fine. (1,000.00)

A run of publications on American banking. Still highly important. Articles and features of numismatic interest include: Coinage of the Mint Under Dismal Swamp Mint; Confederate Bonds; Bi-metallic currency; Reports by John Jay Knox; Silver dollar coinage; Scarcity of Copperheads; Scarcity and new issues of silver dollars; Silver certificates and standard dollars; gold certificates; National bank circulation; Gold certificates; amount in use of silver dollars; Knox's History of Banking in the United States (serialized); etc.

1227 ✧ Risk, James C. A REPLY TO THE 1804 "ANSWER." (New York, 1969). A contemporary photocopy of a 13 page typescript with some corrections in photocopy and several original corrections and suggestions written in pencil. Loose, 8½ x 11 inch sheets. Fine. Accompanied by a May 18, 1970 letter from Risk to John J. Ford, Jr. on Coin Galleries note paper, along with a typewritten May 20, 1970 note from Risk to Ford on a small file card. (100.00)

Risk later comments on sending a "cleaner copy" of the main typescript, and his May 18 letter reads: "I am enclosing a hastily corrected first draft of my reply to Eric. Your comment would be appreciated. Ford's pencil corrections and suggestions are mainly grammatical. Risk's rebuttal, "Reply" ends in part: "In a discussion of the Class I 1804 dollar and proof eagle last November I considered Eric Newman's well known opinions about the coins and found them at fault in a number of respects. By excessive emphasis on the antedating of the coins he promotes a certain inaccuracy, thinking about the importance of dates back into an era when the matter was of relatively minor concern…The point-counter-point theory offered is a case of specious assumptions unsupported by facts and marred in the presentation by a series of contradictions…A couple of years ago, my initial thanks was for a response to these heretical comments. The first in the field was Mr. R. W. Julian…The main purpose of this paper is to consider the effectiveness of Mr. Newman's answer." A long, well reasoned discussion of the controversy ensues. Risk's "after-word" concludes: "And regardless of the swings of the pendulum in this small area of the battlefield it must certainly be admitted by everyone that the 1804 Dollar is one of the most unique numismatic toys and games than any other coins in history. Long may they continue to do so!"

1228 ⌖ Sampson, H. G. CATALOGUE OF SEVERAL CONSIGNMENTS OF ANCIENT AND MODERN COINS AND MEDALS IN GOLD, SILVER AND COPPER, A FINE COLLECTION OF CONTINENTAL PAPER MONEY, AND A FEW CURIOS, INCLUDING A FINE COLLECTION OF BIRDS' EGGS, A NUMBER OF BIRD-SKINS FROM CALIFORNIA, A HERRING COIN SAFE, TWO COIN CABINETS AND A FEW COIN BOOKS AND COIN CATALOGUES. New York, December 29-30, 1885. 40 pages, 858 lots, priced in pencil with buyers' names or initials, also with other notations. 24.5 x 15.5 cm. Original printed blue wrappers chipped at edges, first two leaves somewhat soiled. (100.00)

David Proskey's annotated sales room copy, faintly marked "Private" on the front cover. Adams C+: "1796/5 $5. 1823, 1824 $5. 1833, 1834 $2.50. 1880 $4. Goloid $1. RR 1878 pattern $1." According to Proskey, the items cited by Adams appear to have been part of "Newlin's lot." Overall, they did not fare well. The 1823 and 1824 half eagles are marked "out," apparently failing to meet their reserves, and the 1880 Stella and Goloid metric dollar were "passed," apparently for the same reason. The 1796 over 5 half eagle "from the Jenks collection, where it brought $28.00," was bought by Sampson for $25.25, and Frossard bought the "Morgan's pattern" 1878 dollar for $15.00.

1229 ⌖ Sampson, H. G. EXECUTOR'S SALE OF A VERY LARGE AND VALUABLE COLLECTION OF AMERICAN AND FOREIGN POSTAGE AND REVENUE STAMPS, TO WHICH ARE ADDED SEVERAL CONSIGNMENTS OF GOLD, SILVER AND COPPER COINS, PAPER MONEY, POSTAL CURRENCY, BOOKS, AUTOGRAPH LETTERS, NEWSPAPERS ETC. New York, May 19-21, 1886. 69, (1) pages, 1281 lots, large portions of the philatelic and other sections, and all of the numismatic lots, priced in pencil with buyers' names or initials, also with other notations. 24.5 x 15.5 cm. Original printed blue wrappers slightly worn and dusty. Fine. (100.00)

David Proskey's sales room copy, faintly marked "Private" on the front cover. Adams C: "900 lots of stamps. Arthur assay medal and little else."

1230 ⌖ Schulman, Hans M. F. [JACOB N. SPIRO]. UNRESTRICTED IMPORTANT PUBLIC COIN AUCTION. 75TH ANNIVERSARY, 1880-1955 [THE FAMOUS COLLECTION OF NEW JERSEY COINS MADE BY DR. JACOB N. SPIRO]. New York, March 18–19, 1955. Cover title and text heading cited. 136 pages, 2487 lots, 27 plates, annotated, prices realized list. Original printed paper covers a trifle worn and dusty. Very good/near fine. (200.00)

"NN Bid Bk" written in pencil on front cover. John Ford's annotated sales room copy of the catalogue, featuring a key to bidders being represented on the upper cover, a number of scattered prices realized and bidders' initials in pencil in the foreign sections, along with commission bids in code, critical notes on condition, corrections, etc. The colonial and continental sections are substantially annotated, recording F. C. C. Boyd's bids and purchases, many New Netherlands acquisitions, sometimes scathing critiques of stated condition, details of bulk lots, etc. Spiro's New Jersey coins are similarly annotated, including rarity ratings and some quite interesting notes in pencil apparently written by Walter Breen.

1231 ⌖ Scott & Company. [SPAETH & REMSEN]. CATALOGUE OF UNITED STATES AND FOREIGN GOLD, SILVER COINS; AND COPPER, INCLUDING A FINE COLLECTION OF U. S. CURRENCY AND FRENCH ASSIGNATS, AMERICAN AND FOREIGN SILVER AND BRONZE MEDALS, DECORATIONS, &C. THE PROPERTY OF CHARLES SPAETH. New York, May 28-29, 1883. (2), (217)-260 pages, 1084 + 122 lots, priced in pencil with buyers' names or initials, also with other interesting notations. 23 x 14.5 cm. Original printed blue wrappers a trifle worn, foredge of last leaf or two a bit stained, else fine. (also) TO BE SOLD TUESDAY EVENING, MAY 29TH, AFTER THE COLLECTION OF S. H. REMSEN. (New York), May 29, (1883). Single sheet addenda, lots 123-132. 23 x 14 cm. Foredge a bit stained. (100.00)

David Proskey's annotated sales room copy, marked "Private" on the front cover. Adams C+: "Half disme. Eccleston, other fine U. S. medals. Mormon $5. RR fractional currency." The first addenda, comprising pages 256-260 and an integral part of the catalogue, comprised "a small collection of interesting coins, &c. owned by the late Simeon Henry Remsen." The loose, single-sheet addenda present here appears to be rare.

1232 ⌖ Scott Stamp & Coin Co., L'd. STANDARD PAPER MONEY CATALOGUE. INCLUDING COLONIAL AND CONTINENTAL NOTES, CONFEDERATE BILLS, AND U. S. FRACTIONAL CURRENCY... New York, 1889. Third Edition. 47, (5) pages, illustrated, heavily annotated throughout in ink and pencil, perhaps in more than one hand. 24 x 15.5 cm. Contemporary maroon cloth and marbled boards, gilt, original printed wrappers bound, contents once folded. Good/very good. (100.00)

"Holland, Chestnut St." and "MHS=Mass Hist So" recorded on the front flyleaf, accompanied perhaps by a manuscript cost code key; ex Clarence Bement, with his autograph at the head of the upper wrappers, and with, apparently, his detailed annotations, recording a very important collection of continental and colonial notes, keyed to condition. Also included is extensive commentary on continental and colonial notes unrecorded by Scott but presumably in the collection, along with many other observations. Unique and most interesting.

1233 ❧ Scott Stamp & Coin Company, Ltd. AUCTION CATALOGUES OF COINS AND MEDALS. 122ND, 125TH, 127TH, 129TH, 130TH, 132ND, 134TH, 135TH, 136TH, 138TH, 139TH, & 141ST SALES. New York, 1893-1896. Twelve catalogues, bound in one volume. Sale numbers 122, 125, 129, 130, 134, & 135 neatly priced in red ink. Sale numbers 127, 132, & 134 issued with plates as called for. Contemporary black half leather, spine missing, internally fine. (250.00)
A number of important sales are present, highlighted by the superb Gerald E. Hart collection of Canadian rarities.

1234 ❧ (Sears, Elmer S.?). 1793 CHAIN, WREATH & LIBERTY CAP CENTS. 1793 HALF CENTS. No place or date of issue. Original typescript with annotations in black ink. Loose 8.5 x 11 inch sheets, once folded, apparently for mailing. Very good/fine. (100.00)
An interesting compilation, arranged by Crosby numbers, listing approximately eighteen cent and six half cent varieties. A blue ink note in John J. Ford's hand reads: "B. M. Mehl Papers 3/59." The notes in black ink present here generally record where and when particular specimens were purchased and, in several instances, Breen records the next owner as Sears. Several important cents were purchased at the Jackman sale, one, the 6 F, came from the Lyman sale, others were "Bought of Mehl," also Van Vorhees, U. S. Coin Co., Chapman, and Bird. The 2 C, "Only one specimen known from this die," lacks a provenance. Those half cents so noted came from Mehl, Tilden, and the Jackman and Gable sales. Included is a 2 C: "This half cent is not described in Crosby, but I have a specimen."

1235 ❧ Siegel, Robert A., Auctions. [JOSIAH K. LILLY]. THE JOSIAH K. LILLY COLLECTION. PART V: UNITED STATES PROOFS, ENCASED POSTAGE, FRACTIONAL CURRENCY, CARRIERS AND LOCALS SHEETS. New York, September 13-14, 1967. 111, (1) pages, 995 lots, illustrated, prices realized list, annotated, Original printed card covers. Fine. (100.00)
John Ford's annotated sales room copy of the catalogue. The encased postage stamp section, from lot 257 to 376, is annotated, including starting prices, prices realized, and bidders' initials written in green ink, along with notes on condition and comparisons with specimens already in Ford's collection, written in red ink. Unique. Also present are Ford's handwritten compilation of purchases and the original two page Siegel invoice for 28 lots, totaling $5,798.00. It appears that Ford bought four lots, including 291 @ $1,050.00, for New Netherlands, and the remaining 24 lots, totaling $4,283.00, on his own account.

1236 ❧ Siegel, Robert A., Auctions. [JOSIAH K. LILLY]. THE JOSIAH K. LILLY COLLECTION. PART V: UNITED STATES PROOFS, ENCASED POSTAGE, FRACTIONAL CURRENCY, CARRIERS AND LOCALS SHEETS. New York, September 13-14, 1967. (2), 151-111, (1) pages, 995 lots, illustrated, annotated. Original card covers, bid sheet removed. Fine. (100.00)
Another annotated sales room copy, autographed at the head of the title. Here, Ford has continued recording in green ink the starting prices, prices realized, and bidders' initials for lots 257-376, inclusive, i.e., the remainder of the encased postage section to the end of the fractional currency listings. The entire encased postage stamp section is far more extensively annotated, in both red and black ink, featuring copious [illegible] lacking comparisons with specimens already in Ford's collection and occasional other notes present in the previous example. The fractional currency section features starting prices, prices realized, and bidders' initials written in green ink, along with interesting [illegible] brief descriptive notes in black ink. Another unique and most interesting example of this notable sale catalogue.

1237 ❧ Smith, Andrew) Mason), Publisher. VISITOR'S GUIDE AND HISTORY OF THE UNITED STATES MINT, PHILADELPHIA, PA. ELABORATELY ILLUSTRATING EACH DEPARTMENT, THE BUSINESS ROUTINE, ALL SCIENTIFIC AND MECHANICAL OPERATIONS IN EVERY STAGE OF THE WORK, THE WONDERFUL MACHINERY, RARE COINS, RELICS, AND CURIOS IN THE CABINET. CURRENT COINS OF THE WORLD, COLONIAL AND CONTINENTAL CURRENCY, ANCIENT GREECE AND ROME. WITH OVER 1600 FINE ENGRAVINGS AND FULL DESCRIPTIONS. BIOGRAPHY, HISTORY, STATISTICS, INSTRUCTION, ENTERTAINMENT. VALUATIONS OF CURRENT COINS, DOMESTIC AND FOREIGN, WITH MUCH INFORMATION FOR THE BUSINESS MAN, STUDENT, AND GENERAL READER. Philadelphia, 1885. (2), 175, (1) pages, finely engraved steel frontispiece portrait of Daniel Fox, lithographic title preceding the frontispiece and printed title, illustrated throughout. 23.5 x 16 cm. Original brown-maroon cloth, decorated in gilt, black and blind, incorporating on the upper cover Smith's delightfully engraved device of a portly Miss Liberty astride an eagle in flight, with a balance in one hand, and dispensing coins from the horn of plenty with the other, floral-patterned endsheets. Fine/very fine. (200.00)
A very nice example of this completely rewritten and expanded version of Smith's earlier Mint guides, this example being the variety featuring over 1600 fine engravings. Probably the first issue of at least two other varieties exist. Quite scarce. Though seemingly worthy competition to the ubiquitous Evans mint histories, it was the first and only edition in this format. While Evans reused many of the engravings present here depicting minting activities, a number included here are inscribed Copyright secured 1885, which precluded their [illegible] making this volume then only source

1238 ✣ Smith, H. P. [CLARENCE E. JOHNSON]. THE NUMISMATIC COLLECTION OF CLARENCE E. JOHNSON, OF NEW YORK CITY. New York, October 25-26, 1883. 47, (1) pages, blank leaf, 1031 lots, first day of sale, lots 1-539, priced in pencil with buyers' names or initials, also with other notations, second day of sale, lots 540-1031, priced in pencil with occasional notations. 23 x 15 cm. Original printed gray card covers. Fine. (100.00)
David Proskey's annotated sales room copy, marked "Private" on the front cover. Adams C+: "1812 Oaxaca $1. 1878 $1 patterns." Low bought the Oaxaca "cast Dollar of Ferdinand VII" for $10.25.

1239 ✣ Smith, H. P. [SANDHAM & CUSHING]. THE NUMISMATIC COLLECTIONS OF ALFRED SANDHAM AND GEORGE CUSHING OF MONTREAL, CANADA. New York: Messrs. Bangs & Co., January 18-19, 1884. 53, (1) pages, 916 lots, priced throughout in ink, extended in pencil, with many page totals recorded, and occasional notations on condition, a few lots apparently the property of "H. P. S(mith)," etc. 23 x 15 cm. Original printed gray card covers a trifle worn and dusty. Near fine. (100.00)
David Proskey's "Priced" copy, so marked in pencil on the front cover. Adams B-: "Proof 1843 1¢. Proof 1828 ½¢. Fine Greek. RR Canadian medals, tokens – an important consignment." Also present here are several pages of handwritten computations, apparently by Proskey and one by "E. O. E." of Bangs & Co., suggesting that most of the material in the sale, including the Canadian, was the property of David Proskey, or perhaps that Proskey was representing the actual principal. Most interesting.

1240 ✣ Smith, H. P. [STEWART DOUGLAS]. WAR MEDAL COLLECTION OF STEWART DOUGLAS, ESQ., LATE OF BIRMINGHAM, ENG., TOGETHER WITH CONSIGNMENTS OF MISCELLANEOUS COINS, ETC. New York, June 4-5, 1885. 64 pages, 1185 lots, priced in pencil with buyers' names or initials, also with other notations. 23 x 15 cm. Original printed gray card covers a trifle dusty. Fine. (100.00)
David Proskey's annotated sales room copy, marked "Private" on the front cover. Adams B+: "1794, 1839 $1. 1796 $2.50. Fine British war medals, world decorations. Jibe at Frossard, Massamore. 1826 $5." As Adams notes, of a date run of large cents, lots 766-827, Smith observes: "None of these cents have been oiled to produce 'Baltimore Proofs'; none have been scoured with Irvingtononhudson brick, to make them 'bright red.'"

1241 ✣ Smith, H. P. [STEWART DOUGLAS]. WAR MEDAL COLLECTION OF STEWART DOUGLAS, ESQ., LATE OF BIRMINGHAM, ENG., TOGETHER WITH CONSIGNMENTS OF MISCELLANEOUS COINS, ETC. New York, June 4-5, 1885. 64 pages, 1185 lots, a number of pencil prices and annotations. 23 x 15 cm. Original printed gray card covers a trifle dusty. Fine. (100.00)
David Proskey's "Property Catalogue," so marked in pencil on the front cover. In the catalogue, lots consigned by Proskey and the prices they brought are recorded, apparently in the hand of Smith. Included are the large cents lots commented upon in the prior lot. On a small sheet of paper also present here, Proskey's computations of sale proceeds is recorded on one side in pencil; on the other side is the following ink note: "Recd New York June 29th 1886 [1885?] — from David Proskey the sum of One Hundred and fifty five 88/100 dollars balance in full to date, (signed) H. P. Smith, $155.88." This, and a prior lot, seem to confirm a "common-law" marriage before the two formally exchanged vows upon the formation of the New York Coin and Stamp Company a few years later.

1242 ✣ Smith, H. P. [GERMAN COLLECTION]. THE GERMAN COLLECTION OF ANCIENT AND MODERN COINS. New York, November 6, 1885. 33, (1) pages, 584 lots (plus lots 585-591 in manuscript), priced in pencil with buyers' names or initials, also with other notations. 23 x 15 cm. Original gray card covers just a trifle discolored. Fine. (100.00)
David Proskey's annotated sales room copy, marked "Private" on the front cover. Adams C+: "Tetradrachm of Bactria. 1879 $20 pattern in copper." According to Proskey, the final consignment, lots 558-584, was "Newlin's." The 1879 $20 pattern, lot 582, appears to have been valued at $15.00 but was bought in by Newlin for $2.00.

1243 ✣ Smith, H. P. [CHAS. WHITE]. THE CABINET OF MR. CHAS. WHITE OF NEW YORK CITY, COMPRISING A REMARKABLY FINE AND FULL SERIES OF U. S. SILVER AND COPPER COINS, WITH FEW MEDALS. New York: Sale No. 18, March 9, 1886. 20 pages, 506 lots, priced in pencil with buyers' names or initials, also with other notations. 23.5 x 15 cm. Original printed gray card covers. Fine. (100.00)
David Proskey's annotated sales room copy, marked "Private" on the front cover. Adams B-: "MS 1798/97 10¢. 1824/22 10¢. MS 1805 25¢. 1823 25¢. 1853/52 25¢. 1796, 1797 50¢. 1838, 1839, 1851, 1852 $1."

1244 ◆ Smith, H. P. [BERLIN COLLECTION]. THE BERLIN COLLECTION OF ANCIENT AND MODERN COINS AND MEDALS, WITH A NUMBER OF NUMISMATIC WORKS. New York, January 14, 1887. 25, (1) pages, 495 lots, priced in pencil with buyers' names or initials, also with other notations. 24 x 16 cm. Original printed gray card covers a trifle stained at spine. Fine. (100.00)

David Proskey's annotated sales room copy, marked "Private" on the front cover. Adams C+: "Some nice ancients, else vin ordinaire."

1245 ◆ Smith, L. Bayard. CATALOGUE OF THE MEDALLIC MEMORIALS: COINS, MEDALS, TOKENS AND CARDS OF "WASHINGTON" BELONGING TO L. BAYARD SMITH. No place or date of issue (early twentieth century). (4), 152 leaves of original typescript on versos only, ruled in red, very fine sepia photograph frontispiece depicting both sides of the Washington Centennial Inauguration Medal, annotated in pencil and ink. Quarto: 28.5 x 23 cm. Handsomely bound in period style in later black three quarter morocco, flat spine ruled, decorated, and lettered in gilt, top page edges gilt, marbled endsheets. Virtually as new. (500.00)

An apparently unique inventory of the important collection purchased en bloc in the late 1930s by E. C. C. Boyd. According to the introductory text, Bayard's collection included 1,037 pieces, including "no different varieties and some fifty silver specimens. It included "466 different medals described in W. S. Baker's Work," so numbered, and a table of translations of Latin legends appearing on the medals. The descriptions are quite detailed and include legends, devices, metal, size, and often additional interesting notes, including rarity, provenance, etc. The annotations appear to be in several different hands and are also interesting and informative, and appear to often record specimens in metals not included in the original total of 1,037 pieces.

1246 ◆ Smythe, R. M. OBSOLETE AMERICAN SECURITIES AND CORPORATIONS, ILLUSTRATED WITH PHOTOGRAPHS OF IMPORTANT REPUDIATED BONDS. New York, 1904. (2), 979, (9) pages, frontispiece and 18 additional halftone plates depicting bonds, obsolete bank notes, and other financial securities. 23.5 x 16.5 x 4 cm. Original red cloth, gilt, binding just a title discolored. Near fine. (250.00)

1st Edition, first printing with thick ink "stamp" withdrawn on title verso. Rarely encountered. This edition appears to be superior and [illegible] to the [illegible] well known 1920 Yehuda Extinct Securities, which comprises less than half the length and lacks [illegible] illustrations.

1247 ◆ [Society of the Cincinnati]. EIGHT PUBLICATIONS. As follows:

1) [Lorimier, Louis]. Bibliographie de l'ordre américain de Cincinnatus en France. D'après Americain de Osa Bird Carpenter, secrétaire général de l'ordre aux Etats-Unis, et des documents inédits. Paris: Extrait de la Revue d'histoire diplomatique, 1913. 41/2, 12 pages. Light staining and [illegible] including some [illegible] water stains. Light dampstaining to all. As described. (100.00)

1248 ✣ Sotheby, Wilkinson & Hodge. [BRUCE CARTWRIGHT]. CATALOGUE OF THE VALUABLE AND EXTENSIVE COLLECTION OF ENGLISH, AMERICAN, EUROPEAN & OTHER FOREIGN COINS, MEDALS, TOKENS, &C. FORMED BY THE LATE BRUCE CARTWRIGHT, ESQ., OF HONOLULU (HAWAII ISLANDS). London, June 20–28 1907. v, (1), 145, (1) pages, 1256 lots, 13 very fine plates, ruled in red and priced in black ink with buyers' names throughout. Later crimson quarter morocco, unlettered, original printed wrappers bound in. Fine. (200.00)

Cartwright's main collection of American coins was sold in 1913 by Samuel H. Chapman. The sale at hand also featured many American pieces, including high denomination United States gold coins and, most notably, Cartwright's important collection of pioneer gold coins. Lots 168-317 and 1247-1252 comprise rare American coins and medals, sixteen of which, mainly private gold coins are depicted on one of the plates. These included a $45.34 Kohler ingot (to Spink @ £207) and a J. S. Ormsby $10 (to Lincoln @ £262). American buyers attending the sale included Mitchelson, Steigerwalt, and Hesslein, though presumably many others were represented by the major London coin firms of the day.

1249 ✣ Sotheby, Wilkinson & Hodge. [RASHLEIGH]. CATALOGUE OF THE RASHLEIGH COLLECTION OF COINS, THE PROPERTY OF EVELYN W. RASHLEIGH, ESQ. London, June 21-July 1, 1909. v, (3), 200 pages, 1185 lots, 18 fine plates of coins, occasional pencil prices. Later blue cloth, gilt. Fine. (100.00)

Manville & Robertson 23. Grierson page 299. Clain-Stefanelli 5735. Quite scarce. An important collection of early British, Anglo-Saxon, English, Scottish, Irish, Anglo-Gallic and Colonial coins. Begun in the late eighteenth century by Philip Rashleigh, this famous and valuable collection was greatly augmented by his great-nephew Jonathan and in 1900 was given to Jonathan's son Evelyn. A note in Ford's hand cites lot 1126, the "Newby farthing in gold," which brought the princely sum of £83.

1250 ✣ Sotheby, Wilkinson & Hodge. [CALDECOTT, HUTH, & PARSONS]. CATALOGUE OF THE COLLECTION OF COINS AND TOKENS OF THE BRITISH POSSESSIONS & COLONIES FORMED BY J. B. CALDECOTT, ESQ. WHO IS RELINQUISHING THIS SERIES. London, 11-13 June, 1912. iv, (2), 50 pages, 486 lots, 6 fine plates, ruled in red and priced with buyers' names or initials throughout Original printed green card covers taped at spine, else fine. (also) Sotheby and Co. CATALOGUE OF THE VALUABLE COLLECTION OF COINS AND MEDALS, THE PROPERTY OF THE LATE REGINALD HUTH, ESQ. FIRST PORTION. THE ENGLISH, SCOTTISH, IRISH & COLONIAL COINS. London, April 4-7, 1927. 74 pages, 738 lots, 14 fine plates. Original printed green card covers a trifle sunned. Fine. (also) Sotheby & Co. CATALOGUE OF THE COLLECTION OF ANGLO-SAXON, NORMAN, ENGLISH, IRISH, SCOTTISH, ANGLO-GALLIC AND COLONIAL COINS, THE PROPERTY OF H. ALEXANDER PARSONS. London, October 28-November 1, 1929. 142, (2) pages, 907 lots, 10 fine plates. Original printed green card covers a trifle sunned. Fine. (150.00)

Clain-Stefanelli 8485, 9783, & 9807. Three notable British collections featuring rare American colonial coins.

1251 ✣ Sotheby, Wilkinson & Hodge. [BARON PHILLIPPE DE FERRARI LA RENOTIERE]. CATALOGUE OF THE FAMOUS & REMARKABLE COLLECTION OF BRITISH AND COLONIAL COINS, PATTERNS & PROOFS FROM GEORGE III TO THE PRESENT DAY, FORMED BY A NOBLEMAN, RECENTLY DECEASED. London, March 27, 1922. (4), 77, (1) pages, 724 lots, 16 fine plates, priced in black ink with buyers' initials or names throughout. Original printed green card covers a bit dusty and worn at the spine, internally fine. (250.00)

Clain-Stefanelli 9761. An extremely important sale which realized £8051.3.6.

1252 ✣ Souder, B. F., Publisher. THE UNITED STATES MINT. A BRIEF HISTORY OF THE INSTITUTION, WITH A FULL DESCRIPTION OF THE MANNER IN WHICH GOLD, SILVER, NICKEL AND COPPER ARE CONVERTED INTO MONEY. VALUABLE TABLES OF FOREIGN COINS, WITH THEIR VALUE IN U. S. COIN, TOGETHER WITH OTHER INFORMATION IN REGARD TO THE MINT, OF GENERAL INTEREST. Philadelphia: B. F. Souder, 1881 (Copyright, 1878, by Stephen T. Souder, front cover dated 1880). New Edition. 16 pages, different woodcut views of the Mint on the title and front wrapper. 23 x 15 cm. Original printed pale gray wrappers a trifle dusty and worn, once folded vertically. Very good or better. (175.00)

Ex Bauman L. Belden, with printed name slip affixed to upper wrapper. An obscure predecessor of the popular and greatly expanded A. M. Smith and George G. Evans Mint histories. The 1870 first edition was authored by William Runkel but his name is omitted from later issues; subsequent editions list S. T. Souder on the front cover and title. The publication had gone through at least a half dozen editions by the time this 1881 imprint was published. All appear to be quite rare. This is the latest edition, and only the second example of it, that we have encountered, and it is the first attributed to B. F. Souder, presumably Stephen T. Souder's son.

1253 ❖ Sparks, Jared (Everett, Edward). THE LIFE OF GOUVERNEUR MORRIS, WITH SELECTIONS FROM HIS CORRESPONDENCE AND MISCELLANEOUS PAPERS; DETAILING EVENTS IN THE AMERICAN REVOLUTION, THE FRENCH REVOLUTION, AND IN THE POLITICAL HISTORY OF THE UNITED STATES. Boston: Gray & Bowen, 1832. Three volumes. First Edition. xii, 520 [last page mis-numbered]; vi, 531, (1); iv, 520 pages, fine frontispiece portrait, "Engraved by J. B. Longacre from an Original Painting by T. Sully," index. Handsomely bound in antique tan quarter calf, marbled paper sides, five raised bands ruled on either side in gilt, dark brown leather spine labels, gilt, page edges untrimmed, intermittent foxing. Very fine. (300.00)

Ex M. A. Ogden, with his ink stamp on titles and occasionally elsewhere, Howes' U.S.IANA S-825, The Dictionary of American Biography notes that a "series of brilliant articles on the Continental finances which [Morris] contributed under the signature 'An American' to the Pennsylvania Packet, February-April 178, brought him a year later the invitation from Robert Morris, newly created superintendent of finance, to serve as his assistant. This position the younger Morris (who was not a relative of the Superintendent) held from 1781 to 1785, his most notable service being a plan for a decimal system of coinage…which was later simplified and perfected by Jefferson and Hamilton."

1254 ❖ Stack's [JAMES W. FLANAGAN]. CATALOGUE OF THE COL. JAMES W. FLANAGAN COLLECTION OF GOLD COINS. New York, March 23–25, 1944. 119, (1) pages, 1681 lots, text illustrations, heavily annotated. Contemporary red cloth, gilt. Generally fine. (150.00)

An interesting sales room copy, featuring prices realized and many buyers' names or initials written in pencil, with notes on rarity, condition, etc. Computations on the last page include a note that the sale brought $107,187.00. This sale featured the first appearance at auction of "the finest known 1933 Double Eagle," a "perfect gem," but it was confiscated by the United States Government before the sale. Though the catalogue states that the "piece has cost the Col the tidy sum of $2200.00," a pencil note states "Cost $1200.00," followed by "$1400 option."

1255 ❖ Stack's. [J. J. BELL]. CATALOGUE OF THE J. F. BELL (JACOB SHAPIRO) COLLECTION OF UNITED STATES AND PIONEER GOLD COINS. New York, December 7–9, 1944. 86, (2) pages, 1073 lots, text illustrations, heavily annotated. Contemporary red and crimson cloth, gilt. Fine. (150.00)

Choice offering also boasting scarcity, featuring extensive prices realized and buyers' names or initials written in blue pencil in an unidentified hand, along with expected estimates in pencil in John Ford's price code. Computations on the last page include a note that the sale brought $113,010.00. Original Owners Ex: Superb gem 1861, 1854-S $2.50, complete $5; 1815, 1827 $5; 1798/97 $10, ultra high 1907 $20. Duplicate Ex: Fine $1.00; Brilliant Proof 1855 $55 round."

1256 ❖ Stack's. [R. L. MILES, JR.]. R. L. MILES, JR. COLLECTION OF UNITED STATES COINS. PARTS ONE & TWO: UNITED STATES GOLD, SILVER & COPPER COINS. New York, October 25–26, 1968 & April 10–12, 1969. Two volumes. 101, (3); 101, (1) pages, 1019 & 1741 lots, text illustrations, prices realized lists. Original pictorial brown boards, housed in the original matching slipcase. Near new. (250.00)

The Stack's Hardbound Library. Rarely offered with the slipcase. Part I inscribed: "To John Ford — With happy memories of some enchanting hours over and over swapping R. L. Miles, Jr." Part II inscribed: "Dear John — All I can think of to say is thanks for everything. Merry Xmas."

1257 ❖ Stack's. OLD COLONIAL PHOTOS. Two cardboard mailing cartons weighing fourteen pounds, sent by Stack's to John J. Ford, Jr. on February 4, 1991. Containing over one hundred 5 x 8 inch prints of coins, along with additional parts thereof in various exposures, along with seven hundred some odd 4 x 5 inch coin prints, and approximately two hundred 3 x 5 inch file cards, each with photographs cut to size of both sides of a coin. Generally very fine. (500.00)

A unique assemblage of thousands of photographs of rare and great colonial coins. In a handwritten note included in one of the boxes, George W. Stack writes: "Dear Mr. Ford, Well, Early Spring cleaning at the office brings you two boxes of old colonial photos." Included are photographs of pieces from the John J. Ford collection, including his portrait like piece, along with a remarkable variety of choice American colonial coins from other sources.

1258 ❖ Stack's. [DAVID QUELLER]. UNITED STATES COINS, FEATURING SELECTIONS FROM THE DAVID QUELLER AND FAMILY COLLECTION. New York, October/March 12–13, 1997. 128 pages, 1876 lots, illustrated throughout, 7 color plates. Quarto. Original dark gray-blue cloth, gilt, original printed card covers bound in. As new. (200.00)

Special Union Hard Cover Edition. Number 50 of 150 signed by Harry, Larry, and Susan Stack.

1259 ⌖ Star Company, Numismatic Department, The. THE OLD COIN NEWS, PUBLISHED IN THE INTEREST OF NUMISMATICS. VOLUME I, NOS. 1–12 & VOLUME II, NO. 1. New York, January, 1930–February, 1931. iv, 91, (1); 23, (1) pages, text illustrations, 30 +3 plates of coins printed on thick card stock. Contemporary blue half morocco, gilt, marbled endsheets, spine a trifle rubbed and faded. Very fine. (100.00)

All issued. Scarce. A brave, well-executed attempt to popularize the collecting of foreign and ancient coins and medals in this country. Mainly comprised of a thousand or so listings of coins, medals, and numismatic books for sale, several interesting articles are also appended, one by Ragnar Cederlund entitled "The Necessity Coins of Landau, 1702." American coins are not neglected; patterns, including "AR. 1804. 10 dollars. Reeded edge. (Regular Dies.) A. W. No. 23" @ $500.00, and various other regular issue pieces and medals are offered for sale. Also appended are reprints of sections of Doughty on cents and Maris on New Jersey coppers. The generally well-executed halftone plates depict Russian, British, and a great many desirable coins from throughout the world.

1260 ⌖ Stewart, Frank H. YE OLDE MINT. BEING A BRIEF DESCRIPTION OF THE FIRST U. S. MINT, ESTABLISHED BY CONGRESS IN THE YEAR 1792, AT SEVENTH STREET AND SUGAR ALLEY (NOW FILBERT STREET) PHILADELPHIA. Philadelphia: Frank H. Stewart Electric Co., 1909. 24 pages, 6 attractive halftone plates depicting: 1) Mint Office Building; 2) Coinage Building; 3) Vault within a Vault; 4) Basement of Coinage Building; 5) Planchets for Copper Cents, Half Cents and Silver Centre Cents, also Piece of Scrap Copper from which a Half Cent was Struck, all found while excavations were being made…; 6) Coins found in excavations… [cents and half cents]. 22.5 x 15 cm. Original printed tan card covers a trifle dusty. Fine. (with) THE FIRST UNITED STATES MINT. FIRST BUILDINGS ERECTED BY FEDERAL GOVERNMENT, 1792. NOW BELONGING TO THE FRANK H. STEWART ELECTRIC CO., 35 N. 7TH ST., PHILA. Original postcard, undated, printed in colors, depicting "Ye Olde Mint," and its next door neighbor, "Frank H. Stewart Electric Co." 14 x 9 cm. Tipped in on recto of frontispiece plate of preceding volume. Very fine. (150.00)

Ink stamp of J. de Lagerberg at head of front cover. Ye Olde Mint is the author's first of several works on the topic. In 1907, Stewart's electrical supply firm purchased the group of three brick buildings comprising the first United States Mint, in operation from 1792 until 1832. Abandoned and forgotten, Stewart endeavored to renew interest in this historic site. Quoting from his 1924 History of the First United States Mint: "I made up my mind that none should ever criticize me for destroying the First United States Mint without an attempt at preservation. Here was a building that was unique in the history of the United States." The plates are of particular interest, especially the one depicting clipped planchets, silver centre cent blanks, etc.

1261 ⌖ Taxay, Don. THE U. S. MINT AND COINAGE: AN ILLUSTRATED HISTORY FROM 1776 TO THE PRESENT. New York, 1966. First Edition. xii, 400 pages. Original green cloth, lettered in black, dust jacket. Original russet cloth, lettered in silver dust jacket. Near new. (125.00)

All inscribed by the author: 1) "To John Ford with all good wishes, Don Taxay, 5/26/66"; 2) "To my friend and colleague with all best wishes, Don Taxay, 2/16/65"; and 3) "To John J. Ford, Jr., My old friend and colleague and numismatist extraordinary, with best wishes, Don Taxay, Dec. 7, 1970."

1262 ⌖ Thiel, Frank J. F., Assistant Treasurer of the United States, et al. CORRESPONDENCE CONCERNING THE "921" PEACE DOLLAR. Three 1924 letters, accompanied by a contemporary photograph, and two 1964 letters, also accompanied by a contemporary photograph. Fine or better. (100.00)

Included are: 1) an original typewritten August 19, 1924 letter on The Treasurer of the United States stationery, signed by Frank J. F. Thiel, reading: "I have just returned to Washington after an enjoyable visit in New York and in accordance with our conversation I am sending to you herewith a silver Peace Dollar dated 921. This would seem to indicate that the foundation of our Government goes back at least a thousand years. Kindly return the coin to me after you have looked it over and tell me what you think of it."; 2) a 4.5 x 7.5 inch photograph, very lightly "silvered," depicting both sides of the piece; 3) the carbon copy of an August 20, 1924 letter from Woodin's son-in-law, noting that Woodin "is out of the City at the present time" and suggesting that he hold the coin "in my safe deposit box until Mr. Woodin's return."; 4) Thiel's original August 23, 1924 letter, agreeing that the coin be held "until Mr. Woodin has an opportunity to look it over."; 5) an October 3, 1964 letter to John Ford, noting that "I just received a note from James G. Johnson, editor of 'Coin World', saying that you may be interested in Buying the 1921 Peace Dollar with the '921' date…I enclosed is a picture I had taken of this coin…let me know what you would offer for it."; 6) a glossy 3 x 3 inch photographic enlargement of the obverse of the coin; and 7) a photocopy of Ford's October 8 reply, wherein he writes that "In order to make you a fair offer on this piece we would have to examine it naturally …Upon its receipt, we will advise what we can pay for the item…"

Ex Library of Congress, Acquired by Ford at the November 17, 1994 Bowers and Merena sale, lot 548 @ $577.50; purchased in 1984, before binding, by Armand Champa from George Frederick Kolbe for $425. A most interesting feature entitled The Different Forms of Counterfeiting Coins reappears in most issues, and features line-drawn illustrations of counterfeit United States gold coins from dollars to double eagles, including a Spiel Marke $20, "Platinum" half eagles, both types of $1, and an 1855 Kellogg $20, initially noting that "none would give over $19 for it." Counterfeit trade dollars, and silver dollars through quarter dollars, are also depicted and discussed. Other interesting illustrations include Postal Notes, an American Express Company Money Order, a "Scale for Discounting Legal Tender Notes," a "Stolen $10 Canadian Note, on the Consolidation Bank of Montreal, Canada," etc.

The Boise City Assay Office Building

1265 ⌖ U. S. ASSAY OFFICE, BOISE CITY IDAHO TERRITORY. Original pale sepia photograph of the period, mounted on card stock, inscribed in red ink below the image as cited above. Mounting: 25 x 35.5 cm. Photograph: 21.5 x 31 cm. Mounting somewhat dusty. Fine. (200.00)

Depicted on the photograph is what appears to be a detailed, very realistic drawing of the proposed building, or perhaps a sketch of it done from the construction. Shown in the front and left side of the building, surmounted by one large and three smaller chimneys, with several persons and horses depicted in the foreground, along with a few other structures in the background. Presumably, the drawing was executed some time around 1869-1870, from which the Boise, Idaho office was established by Act of Congress until it began operations. The photograph appears to be of the same period.

Boldly inscribed on upper cover: "Bid Book Private/Henry Chapman." Adams B-: "Mint-marked silver. Low 62. AR. Maryland penny (copy). Proclamations, other Latin." In our September 25, 1999 Harry W. Bass, Jr. Library sale, David Proskey's sales room copy of this catalogue was sold, and in it, above lot 329, "The Baltimore Penny," he entered a circled "DP's," indicating that the item belonged to him. Wayte Raymond, following a physical description, notes that "This piece is from a slightly different die than the other two known specimens…This piece has been examined by eight or ten of the leading numismatists and experts of this country…two of these gentlemen have expressed doubts about the authenticity of the coin…" In the catalogue at hand, Henry Chapman, apparently one of the detractors, has entered the following note after that lot: "Start $500. US/no bidding/Proskey made statement/he considers it of the/times & a pattern like the others/False/Modern."

1274 ✧ United States Treasury Department. TREASURY CIRCULARS, FROM AUGUST 30TH 1842 TO JULY 1ST 1847. P. W. L. Manuscript title cited. Some ninety official Government documents, mostly printed, some handwritten, some postmarked, ranging from single sheets up to 19 pages. 26 x 21 cm. Housed in a contemporary cardboard folder with a handwritten label, contents once sewn, now coming loose or loose. Generally fine. (1,000.00)

A remarkable archive of original documents sent to Fall River, Massachusetts Collectors of the Customs P. W. Leland and C. J. Holmes. A number are signed in ink, and included are autographs of Secretaries of the Treasury W. Forward, J. C. Spencer, and R. J. Walker (multiple examples of the last two), along with numerous autographs of the Comptroller of the Currency and other Treasury officials of the period. The many circulars present here appear to cover the entire spectrum of relevant topics. Among documents of numismatic interest are a 6 page March 30 1843 circular "Relating to Treasury Notes…" an April 14, 1843 circular to Collectors and Receivers in Relation to Treasury Notes Received in Payment of Public Dues," an April 18, 1843 letter and listing, both signed in ink by Treasury Secretary J. C. Spencer, pertaining to "a description of the certain Treasury notes…purloined either from the Post Office or at the Custom House" a November 28, 1843 letter transmitting a 3 page "descriptive list of Treasury Notes, which have been abstracted…As these notes have been paid and cancelled they cannot be again put…" a June 15, 1846 circular featuring "the annexed act of Congress, approved the 22d May 1846, amending an act to establish the value of certain foreign coins and moneys of account…"; an August 25, 1846 circular "in relation to Treasury Notes, covered in portions of public dues," instructing collectors and receivers that "to insure greater safety the notes should be countersigned…" over a half dozen circulars pertaining to distributed to the Treasurers of the Philadelphia and Branch Mints. Others of interest include a June 15, 1846 circular "relating to the Act to tax the value of certain foreign moneys of account, in computation at the custom houses" and the Act of January 15, 1847 "to provide for the return of merchandise recovered from shipwreck, in certain cases, free from duty."

1275 ✧ United States Treasury Department. CIRCULARS, FROM JUNE 4TH 1853, TO MAY 19TH, 1855. Manuscript title cited. Over fifty official Government documents, mostly printed, some handwritten, a few postmarked, ranging from single sheets up to 24 pages. 26 x 21 cm. Housed in a contemporary cardboard folder, lacking upper cover, contents once sewn, now coming loose or loose. Generally fine. (350.00)

A remarkable archive of original documents sent to Fall River, Massachusetts Collectors of the Customs, mainly, it appears, to P. W. Leland. A number are signed in ink by Treasury Department officials of the period, and several feature the autograph of Secretary of the Treasury James Guthrie. Among documents of numismatic interest are May 1, 1854 General Instructions, No. 22 concerning "Macuquino Currency Found at Porto Rico" determining that "the Spanish Dollar of the United States, of the Coinage of 1853 and After, should be at the rate of one hundred and eighty cents…" and General Instructions, No. 75 concerning the "Currency of Switzerland."

Second pagination interleaved. 23.5 x 15.5 cm. Original red cloth spine and corners, black cloth sides, gilt, annotated. Fine. (250.00)

Copy Number 165 of 225, numbered copies. The first comprehensive work on fractional currency, based on the author's extensive collection. The early issues in their large format are largely annotated in black ink and green and blue pencil, presumably by E. C. C. Boyd and perhaps another collector of the series. Included are check marks, apparently recording the collection, many notes on rarity and varieties, additional plate numbers, and other items of interest. Unique and most interesting.

1277 ✣ Valentine, D. W. "FRACTIONAL CURRENCY" OF THE UNITED STATES. VOLUME 1 & VOLUME 2. New York: F. C. C. Boyd, 1924. First Edition. Two parts in one volume. 53, (1); 48 pages. Copy Number 98 of 225 clothbound copies. The Ex Archibald Firestone, with his name and address inscribed in black ink on the front flyleaf. Extensively annotated by Firestone, mainly in the Classification, with later notes apparently by F. C. C. Boyd. Firestone's annotations mainly appear to record specimens in his collection with their costs in code and sometimes acquisition dates and sources, mainly Hesslein and Chapman sales, along with interesting notes on rarity, varieties, new varieties, etc. A list of twelve important collections is written at the end. Unique and most interesting.

Newspaper format: 59.5 x 43.5 cm. All with a horizontal center fold, first issue slightly defective, somewhat fragile but generally very good thereafter. (100.00)
An interesting selection, including: news of the day; advertisements; mining company delinquency and assessment notices; local bank advertisements detailing their services (i. e., "Deposits received and accounts kept either in Coin or Currency," "Stocks, Legal Tender Currency, and National Bank Notes Bought and Sold"); a directory of "Virginia City's Most Prominent Business Men," including assayers C. Wiegand & Co. and Gold Hill Assay Office; etc. A "Special Dispatch to the Evening Chronicle" from San Francisco, dated July 17, 1877, concerns "The Mint Investigation," "including one case of the misappropriation of $1,500 to $2,000 in the years 1870 and 1871." An article in the July 30, 1877 issue entitled "The Comstock Mines," includes a "Weekly Review of Operations All Along the Lode."

1286 ✣ Willis & Co. WILLIS & CO'S BANK NOTE LIST, AND COUNTERFEIT DETECTOR. VOL. VIII, NO. 9. Boston: Hotchkiss & Co., and T. Groom & Co., June, 1851. 24 pages, engraving on the front cover and in the text depicting "the new Fifty Dollar Gold piece, stamped by the U. S. Assayer at San Francisco." Quarto: 29 x 19.5 cm. Original printed pictorial advertising brown paper covers, accompanied by an additional sheet on the same stock comprising 4 additional pages of advertising, covers a trifle worn and discolored. Near fine. (250.00)
Publication dates 11-1855. A particularly interesting issue of this short-lived publication, issued from 1851 to 1854, when financial difficulties brought it to an end. The early illustration of the Humbert Fifty Dollar, as is the text accompanying it: "There are few of these yet received in the Atlantic cities. Twenty that have been weighed at the U. S. Mint in Philadelphia, have been found to weigh 1308 grains and 1310 grains respectively. These coins are obviously not intended for circulation, the single being ill adapted for the pocket; but they are intended as a substitute for the gold dust in transportation from California to the Atlantic States, and to give it a certain value, while that of the dust has been found to vary. It is further proposed to convert gold dust into larger coins or bars, of 500 and 1000 each, and perhaps bars of 5500, or even larger sums. These would serve quite as well for the assets usually maintained by our banks, and could be more easily counted in large payments." Following it is an article on "New Three Cent Coins," including "a fac simile of the face and reverse of the coin." It serves mainly as a long diatribe on recent coin design: "...the head was entirely removed from the silver pieces, and a feeble, ill-designed, sitting figure took its place...the eagles and half eagles, half and quarter dollars, have become more clumsy and flat. The twenty dollar piece...is a miserable affair...The three cent piece caps the climax of bad design and poor workmanship." In an article entitled "Statistics of California Gold," dollar amounts totaling $1,517,000 are cited of gold dust "coined or stamped" by the U. S. Assay Office, Baldwin & Co., Dubosq & Co., and others, and the total yield of California gold for the first three months of 1851 is given as $16,030,000.

David Proskey's Annotated All the Kingdoms of the World Sale

1293 ✣ Woodward, W. Elliot. [PRIVATE COLLECTION: W. ELLIOT WOODWARD]. ALL THE KINGDOMS OF THE WORLD. CATALOGUE OF W. ELLIOT WOODWARD'S COLLECTION OF COINS, MEDALS, ETC. New York, October 13–18, 1884. (2), (5)-251, (1) pages, 4219 lots, priced in pencil with buyers' names or initials, also with other interesting and informative notations. 24.5 x 15.5 cm. Original gray wrappers, negligible marginal staining. Very good. (250.00)

David Proskey's annotated sales room copy: Adams A: "Boston-related material. 1802 5c. RR $5, $2.50 and gold patterns. Unique NJ. Definitive catalogs. The essence of Woodward." Proskey takes exception to some of Woodward's laudatory comments, editing Woodward's text describing lots 174-213 from "containing many good and desirable coins" to "containing neither good nor desirable coins." Proskey terms the section of Canadian coins "the worst lot I ever saw strung out." Of lot 3677, the "Unique Coin of New Jersey," Proskey corrects the date from 1789 to 1783, terms it "a fraud entire," and notes that "the owner started it at $80." Other entertaining commentary is peppered through the catalogue; one must admire Proskey's perseverance in recording the sale details of over 4,000 lots and can readily understand his occasional efforts to alleviate the tedium.

1294 ✣ Woodward, W. Elliot. [WIGHT COLLECTION]. THE MINT OF THE UNITED STATES. CATALOGUE OF THE NUMISMATIC COLLECTION OF MR. EDWIN B. WIGHT, COMPRISING A NEARLY COMPLETE SERIES OF THE ISSUES OF THE UNITED STATES MINT. New York, February 24–25, 1885. 64 pages, 1279 lots, priced in pencil with buyers' names or initials, also with other interesting notations. 24.5 x 15.5 cm. Original printed gray wrappers a trifle worn and sunned. Near fine. (150.00)

David Proskey's annotated sales room copy, marked "Private" on the front cover. Adams B+: "Proof 1855 $1. VF 1805 5c. Adams peace medal. U.S. war medals. Excellent 18c." "1855 proof sets." Judging from Proskey's many colorful critiques, Woodward's cataloguing was careless or Proskey's trousers were wadded up.

1295 ✣ Woodward, W. Elliot. WILLIAM B. CLARK. HERE, THERE, AND EVERYWHERE. CATALOGUE OF THE NUMISMATIC COLLECTION OF WILLIAM B. CLARK, OF HARTFORD, CONNECTICUT, WITH SOME IMPORTANT CONSIGNMENTS FROM THE CABINETS OF MESSRS. BLAKE AND COCHRANE. New York, April 2–3, 1885. (2), 50; 4 pages, 1248 + 7 lots, priced in pencil with buyers' names or initials, also with other notations. 24.5 x 15.5 cm. Original printed pale green wrappers a trifle discolored, self-covered addenda laid in. Fine. (150.00)

David Proskey's annotated sales room copy, marked "Private" on the front cover. Adams B: "1783 Nova Constellatio bit plus remarks. Silver medal lands. Pattern trade dollars. Date of proof sets." Proskey identifies lots 149-160, "A California Consignment," as "Dohrmann's," and notes that the gilt-plated "Moffat & Co. California gold slug" was "passed." The Nova Constellatio bit was likewise "passed." Proskey's critical comments throughout extend to the morals, though he can't resist observing that "The Blake Cents" are "all oiled."

1296 ✣ Woodward, W. Elliot. [J. COLVIN RANDALL]. CATALOGUE OF THE NUMISMATIC CABINET OF MR. J. COLVIN RANDALL, OF PHILADELPHIA, PENNSYLVANIA, COMPRISING AN EXTRAORDINARY COLLECTION OF THE ISSUES OF THE UNITED STATES MINT, IN GOLD AND SILVER, SEVERAL OF WHICH FOR CONDITION, AND ONE, AT LEAST, IN DESIGN, UNIQUE. SUCH A COLLECTION, IN GOLD AND SILVER MINT COINS, HAS NEVER BEEN OFFERED BEFORE. New York, June 29–July 1, 1885. iv, 131–76 pages, blank leaf, 1749 lots, priced in pencil with buyers' names or initials, also with other interesting and informative notations. 24.5 x 15 cm. Original printed pale green wrappers a trifle worn and discolored. Fine. (250.00)

David Proskey's annotated sales room copy, marked "Private" on the front cover. Adams A+: "Complete regular mint series, best ever for condition. Proof 1795 $1. 1854-O $20. 50 arrows. MS 1834 $5, etc., etc."

1297 ✣ Woodward, W. Elliot. [LADY NUMISMATIST]. CATALOGUE OF THE NUMISMATIC COLLECTION OF A LADY OF WESTERN NEW YORK. New York, February 1-2, 1887. 43, (1) pages, 965 lots, priced in pencil with buyers' names or initials, also with other interesting and informative notations. 24.5 x 15.5 cm. Original printed pale green wrappers a trifle worn and discolored. Fine. (150.00)

David Proskey's annotated sales room copy, marked "Private" on the front cover. Adams B-: "Woodward barbs in rare form. Bulk proofs. 20th century coins. Crooks and his copies." Proskey notes that he catalogued lots 900-917, "A Smyrna Invoice of Antiques."

1298 ⊹ Woodward, W. Elliot; Assisted by Ed. Frossard. [GEORGE MARION KLEIN/VICKSBURG]. (PLATES FOR CATALOGUE OF W. E. WOODWARD'S NINETY-FIFTH SALE OF COINS AND MEDALS, MAY 21, 22, 23, 24 AND 25, 1888). 6 fine photographic plates, Nos. I-IV, VII, & VIII. Loose, mostly a bit foxed/dampstained. Very good. (also) (PLATE FOR CATALOGUE OF W. E. WOODWARD'S ONE HUNDRED AND FIFTH SALE OF ANCIENT GREEK AND ROMAN COINS, ETC., FEBRUARY 4 AND 5, 1889). 1 fine photographic gold-tinted plate, gold-tinted. Loose, a trifle foxed/dampstained. Very good or better (500.00)

Seven rare original Vicksburg plates.

1299 ⊹ Yost, William L. AN INDEX AND ACCOUNT OF THE NUMISMATIC BOOKS & MANUSCRIPTS OF THE ARMAND CHAMPA LIBRARY... Anaheim, November 2, 1996. Third Draft and Preliminary Layout. Approximately 100 leaves, illustrated, arranged in eight tabbed sections. 8.5 x 11 inch sheets. Housed in a white leatherette three-ring binder. Essentially as new. (200.00)

A November 3, 1996 letter from Yost to John Ford present here reads in part: "I know you're probably wondering who the heck Bill Yost is, so I'll explain. I'm working on an index for the Champa Library and wanted to send you this draft since you have been so closely associated with Armand over the years of his building the collection. I'd very much appreciate it if you could give me any suggestions, criticism, or other input...I'd also like to ask you for any help you can give in the form of stories, remembrances, and other information regarding Armand or volumes which were included. I know many of the most important volumes were purchased from you." It was envisioned that Yost's yet-to-be-published work would include a history of the collection, provenances, author & dealer index, consignor index, title index, index of illustrations, and a master index.

1300 ⊹ (Zeddies, Michael). NOTEBOOKS ON TOKENS AND TOKEN PRICES. No place or date of issue. Two very thick notebooks, containing perhaps one thousand ruled sheets of handwritten notes featuring extensive data on New York tokens, along with sections on various other state issues including Alabama, California, Connecticut, Delaware, Georgia, Illinois, Kentucky, Louisiana, Maine, Maryland, Massachusetts, Michigan, Mississippi, Missouri, New Hampshire, New Jersey, Ohio, Pennsylvania, Rhode Island, South Carolina, Tennessee, Vermont, Virginia, Wisconsin, and "Locations Unknown. Also included are a number of token articles, or portions thereof, removed from The Numismatist, circa 1950s-1980s, auction listings, etc. Brief compilations of Low Numbers had by V. M. B., V. M. B. Collection of Low Numbers, Number of Cards Listed, Duffield Numbers that are OK, and Information on Store Cards, are present as well. Matching black Wilson Jones three-ring binders containing 8.5 x 5.5 inch sheets of notebook paper and other materials. Very good or better. (500.00)

Ex Bowers and Merena library, to John Ford in a 1997 private transaction. Unique. A remarkable, massive compilation by Michael Zeddies, of the Brand family, whose superb collection of tokens was auctioned by Bowers and Merena. Beyond its value as a record of a world-class collection and a source of prices/values from the 1850s to the 1980s, Zeddies has also transcribed a great deal of valuable historical information on issuers, gleaned from nineteenth century directories and a wide ranging variety of other primary and secondary sources. An important, most interesting compilation.

The Great Mirror of Folly

1396 ⌖ [Law, John & the Mississippi Bubble]. (Tijssens, Gijsbert & Langendijk, Pieter, Compilers). HET GROOTE TAFEREEL DER DWAASHEID, VERTOONENDE DE OPKOMST, VOORTGANG EN ONDERGANG DER ACTIE, BUBBEL EN WINDNEGOTIE, IN VRANKRYK, ENGELAND, EN DE NEDERLANDEN, GEPLEEGT IN DEN JAARE MDCCXX... (Amsterdam), 1720. Title leaf printed in red and black, 25, (1); 24; 8; 9, (1); 25-52; 26, 29-31, (1) pages [last pagination lacking pages 27- 28 as always], 69 finely engraved plates, the majority folding, including a fine full-length portrait of John Law, and the rare double-page plate of playing cards. Folio: approximately 41 x 26 cm. Contemporary calf sides, richly gilt, lacking spine, contents completely loose, a few plates slightly waterstained. (2,500.00)

Sabin 28932: "This great Theatre of Folly, representing the origin, progress, and downfall of the South Sea Bubb e in France, England, and Holland, is an exceedingly curious collection of emblematical plates, and caricatures on the scheme of J. Law and the Mississippi Company and the imitations of it in Holland, with their fatal results ...The engravings, which illustrate the rise and fall of the great speculation , are full of humor; many of them are exceedingly ludicrous, and some very obscene... So much offence was given to the English and French by this book that medals were struck by them in ridicule of the Dutch...The number of the plates in copies varies from sixty to seventy-four." Howes' U.S.IANA G-442: "Evidently issued in separate sections before being assembled into one volume; hence copies vary both in pagination and in plates." Kress 3217, Goldsmiths 5879. "Rarely does a single volume combine in itself so much economic interest and so many bibliographic puzzles as 'Het Groote Tafereel der Dwaasheid', or, The Great Mirror of Folly. Of the volume's real significance in economic literature there can be no doubt. The South Sea Bubble in England and the Mississippi Bubble in France gave rise to extensive crops of controversial books and pamphlets, to modest groups of commemorative or satirical drawings, and, especially in France, to a number of poetic effusions. In neither of these countries, however, did there appear such a stout and extravagant piece as this Dutch volume..." — Arthur Harrison Cole, The Great Mirror of Folly (Het Groote Tafereel der Dwaasheid): an Economic-Bibliographical Study, circa 1949. One of the great satirical plate books of the eighteenth century, comprising a remarkable chapter in the literature of John Law and the Mississippi Company.

Housed in a single volume. 22 x 15 cm. Superbly bound in contemporary navy blue full pin-grained morocco, sides panelled in gilt and blind, upper cover lettered in gilt, rear cover featuring an intricate gilt lozenge in its center, four raised spine bands, compartments paneled in gilt and blind, board edges gilt-dotted, intricate gilt inner dentelles, white moire doublures, all page edges gilt, silk headbands, red silk marker. Very fine. (1,500.00)

Acquired 6/18-26/82. According to a pencil note in John J. Ford, Jr.'s hand: "James Lorimer Graham to Century Assn., N. Y. C. Lot 351, Christie, Manson & Woods Int., Inc., N. Y. C., Sale #5152, 6/11/82." A remarkable Civil War memento from the Commander of the ironclad Monitor. Worden's letter, written in black ink and presenting him the volume at hand, reads: "To James Lorimer Graham Jun^{r}. From his friend & cousin John Lorimer Worden, R. Adm^{l} U. S. Navy, Florence, April 27th 1875." In the memorial, Worden "prays that—If it seems just and right to Congress after weighing all the advantages which accrued to the country from this naval victory, which resulted in destroying the Merrimac, to all intents and purposes, as effectually as if she had been sunk in the sea—there may be granted to him, his officers, and crew, the estimated value of the Merrimac…"

NUMISMATICS AND RELATED TOPICS

1401 • Adams, Edgar H. PRIVATE GOLD COINAGE. I: THE STATE ASSAY OFFICE OF CALIFORNIA, 1850. II: THE MOFFAT & CO. ISSUES, SAN FRANCISCO, 1849-53. III: VARIOUS CALIFORNIAN PRIVATE MINTS, 1849-55. IV: PATTERN AND EXPERIMENTAL PIECES OF CALIFORNIA, 1849-53. New York, 1911-1912. (2), v-xx, (3)-12; (2), (13)-56; (2), (57)-96; (2), [97]-110 pages, 11 plates. Quarto: 25.5 x 20.5. Original cross-grained crimson cloth, spine lettered in gilt. Fine/very fine. (100.00)

Eklim Stefanelli 1346: Apparently the first issue of the hardbound edition, comprised of the four offprints from the American Journal of Numismatics. Rare as such. Subsequent versions of the hardbound edition feature an added title leaf with an expanded title (Private Gold Coinage of California, 1849-55. Its History and Its Issues) and additional preliminary text, i.e., 28 (xxviii) instead of 20 (xx) pages. There is long pencil note in J. Hewitt Ford's hand on page 63, tracing the pedigrees of reeded and plain edge 1849 $10.00 Cincinnati Mining and Trading Company pieces.

1402 • Akers Numismatics, Inc., David. [PITTMAN & PRICE]. THE JOHN JAY PITTMAN COLLECTION. SELECTED NUMISMATIC RARITIES. PARTS ONE & TWO. Baltimore & Rosemont, 1997 & 1998. Two well-illustrated catalogues, both with prices realized list. Quarto. Original matching red leatherette, gilt. As new. (also) Akers Numismatics, Inc., David. THE THANE B. PRICE COLLECTION... Baltimore, 1998. Well-illustrated, prices realized list. Quarto. Original blue leatherette, gilt. As new. (150.00)

Special Hardbound Editions, No. 75 of 150 copies issued, printed labels on front pastedowns autographed by Gehring C. Pittman, David W. Akers, Thomas V. Mulvaney and Donald L. Stoufflman. Price catalogue label autographed by Price, Akers, and Mulvaney. The third Anderson volume, featuring foreign coins, is not present here.

1403 • Almack, Edward. REGIMENTAL BADGES WORN IN THE BRITISH ARMY ONE HUNDRED YEARS AGO. REPRODUCED IN FAC-SIMILE FROM THE PEN AND INK DRAWINGS IN THE NOTE BOOK OF A SILVERSMITH OF THAT TIME. THE REGIMENTS IDENTIFIED, AND NOTES BEARING ON THEIR HISTORY ADDED. London: Blades, East & Blades, 1900. (6), 92 pages, frontispiece and an additional plate, text illustrations. 26 x 19 cm. Original red cloth, gilt. Fine. (100.00)

1404 • American Art Association, Anderson Galleries, Inc. [DR. JOSHUA I. COHEN]. IMPORTANT AUTOGRAPHS FROM THE ESTATE OF DR. JOSHUA I. COHEN, BALTIMORE, MARYLAND. SIGNERS OF THE DECLARATION OF INDEPENDENCE, MEMBERS OF THE CONTINENTAL CONGRESS, AN EXTENSIVE CORRESPONDENCE OF CHARLES CARROLL OF

CARROLLTON, AND AN EXHAUSTIVE AND PRACTICALLY COMPLETE COLLECTION OF COLONIAL AND CONTINENTAL CURRENCY, ACCOMPANIED BY MANUSCRIPT MATERIAL FOR A HISTORY OF CONTINENTAL CURRENCY, LONG KNOWN AND ESTEEMED AS ONE OF THE FINEST AND MOST COMPLETE COLLECTIONS IN EXISTENCE. New York, January 15, 1930. (8), 44, (4), (2) pages, 194 lots. 23.5 x 15.5 cm. Original decoratively-printed tan card covers a bit worn and dusty. Very good/fine. (100.00)

Not in the American Numismatic Society Dictionary Catalogue, nor in Gengerke. Only the second example we have ever encountered; the first, priced and named, was in the June 1, 2004 Ford sale. The final nine pages of the catalogue were devoted to a detailed description of the highlight of the sale, comprised of over 2,700 pieces of colonial and continental currency, accompanied by a plate "Illustrating Some of the Many Varieties of Paper Money in the Cohen Collection."

1405 ⁘ Andrews, Arthur. AUSTRALASIAN TOKENS AND COINS. A HANDBOOK. Sydney: Issued by the Trustees of the Mitchell Library, 1921. (8), 163, (1) pages, 61 plates, annotated. Original blue cloth, gilt. Very fine. (125.00)

A typewritten note affixed to the front pastedown, signed in ink, reads: "The prices marked in this book are the approximate equivalents in U. S. dollars of the values published in the Reports of the Numismatic Society of New South Wales (Australia) on the Twenty-fourth of February, 1948, and were prepared by Sir Marcus Clarke, a leading collector of Sydney, and Gilbert C. Hyde, Honorary Numismatist to the Australian Museum, Sydney. (signed) G. C. Heyde." Clain-Stefanelli 8170. The original edition with superior plates. In the margins, values in most instances are written in blue ink for F, VF and EF specimens. Originally intended to be a catalogue of the tokens and coins in the Mitchell Library, this still important work was enlarged to include descriptions of all then-known varieties, with a brief historical introduction.

1406 ⁘ Associated Banks of Massachusetts. A REPORT UPON THE SUBJECT OF BANK NOTES; MADE TO THE EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE OF THE ASSOCIATION OF BANKS FOR THE SUPPRESSION OF COUNTERFEITING, MAY, 1854. Boston: Printed by Prentiss & Sawyer, 1854. 22, (2) pages. 19.5 x 12 cm. Original printed pink wrappers, once folded vertically. Fine. (150.00)

A most interesting and important report. After determining that none of the applicants were entitled to "the reward offered for some effectual means for preventing the alteration of Bank Notes, by the use of some peculiar ink or paper," the report goes into considerable detail concerning the rampant abuses of the day and possible technological means of alleviating them, since the "mischief, which we hoped that these efforts would furnish a more or less perfect check to, is daily on the increase."

1407 ⁘ Associated Banks of Massachusetts. SIXTH ANNUAL REPORT OF THE BOARD OF MANAGERS OF THE ASSOCIATION OF BANKS, FOR THE SUPPRESSION OF COUNTERFEITING. Boston: William A. Hall, Printer, 1859. 40 pages. 24 x 15 cm. Handsomely bound in recent gray-green polished quarter calf, gilt. Fine. (125.00)

An interesting report on the counterfeiting of bank notes, including a list of counterfeit notes and plates destroyed, and the names and sentences of the sixty-one persons convicted of counterfeiting in 1858, including "some notorious engravers and counterfeiters, who have been engaged in the business a long time, and were well known to the Association, but who have been shrewd enough to escape detection until this year." In their six years of operations, this alliance of 251 major New England banks paid for the sentencing of 184 counterfeiters, whose total time to be served was 738 years, 3 months. The report notes that "During the past year, counterfeits of Bank Notes have largely increased" and that "counterfeiters of American coin have largely increased during the last year, and their operations have become so numerous, and their counterfeits so perfect in weight, sound, and general appearance, as almost to defy detection." An interesting exposition of the various modes of counterfeiting bank notes is also featured. Appended is a list of member banks.

1408 ⁘ Atkins, James. THE COINS AND TOKENS OF THE POSSESSIONS AND COLONIES OF THE BRITISH EMPIRE. London, 1889. vi, (2), 402, (2) pages, text illustrations. Original blocked brown cloth, gilt, top page edges gilt. Very fine. (100.00)

Ex libris American Numismatic Society; printed Stack's label on lower pastedown.

1409 ⁘ Atkins, James. THE TRADESMEN'S TOKENS OF THE EIGHTEENTH CENTURY. London, 1892. vi, (2), 415, (1) pages. Later brown morocco-grained cloth, gilt, top page edges gilt, contemporary marbled endsheets retained. Very fine. (100.00)

An important advance over previous publications on the topic, although it stood as the standard reference for less than two decades. Scarce.

1410 ◆ Ball, Black, and Co., Manufacturer. PROCEEDINGS OE MEETING ON KEARNY MEDAL, AND ROLL OE OFFICERS ENTITLED TO WEAR THE SAME. MEDAL MANUFACTURED BY BALL, BLACK, AND CO., 565 & 567 BROADWAY. Brooklyn: Printed by A. H. Rome & Brothers, Stationers and Printers, 383 Fulton Street, 1864. 18 pages. 12mo: 18 x 11.5 cm. Original glossy royal blue stiff card covers, upper cover printed in gold within a decorative border, with a depiction of the medal in the center. Near fine. (100.00)

A rare publication documenting the November 29, 1862 "meeting of officers representing the regiments which served under Major-General Phillip Kearny," resolving to "select a design for the 'KEARNY MEDAL;' and to make arrangements for the manufacture of the same," limiting it to officers commissioned "previous to January 1st, 1863, and who have honorably served under Maj.-Gen. KEARNY in his Division..." The design was approved in January 1863, and Ball, Black, and Co. was authorized to manufacture the medal "at $15 each." This publication also records the roll of 317 officers, and their regiments, entitled to receive or wear the medal honoring Major General Phillip Kearny, who was killed in the Battle of Chantilly on September 1, 1862.

1411 ◆ Barfield, Rodney & Strawn, Keith. THE BECHTLERS AND THEIR COINAGE: NORTH CAROLINA MINT MASTERS OF PIONEER GOLD. Raleigh: North Carolina Museum of History, 1980. 65, (1) pages, numerous text illustrations, one in color. Quarto. Original crimson cloth, gilt, dust jacket. As new. (100.00)

The Limited Hardbound Edition. Inscribed in black ink on the half title: "To John Ford, Jr. Best Regards, Rodney Barfield & Keith Strawn, 13/January/1981." An excellent historical overview combined with a detailed illustrated catalogue of thirty-one separate types of Bechtler coins.

1412 ◆ Belden, Bauman L. WAR MEDALS OF THE CONFEDERACY. New York: The American Numismatic Society, 1915. 12 pages, text illustration, 1 plate. Quarto. Handsomely bound in recent gray-blue polished quarter calf, gilt, original printed tan card covers bound in. Very fine/near new. (125.00)

Sowers 464. Mulder 4-3-9-1. One of only 100 copies reprinted from the American Journal of Numismatics.

1413 ◆ Betts, Benjamin. SOME UNDESCRIBED SPANISH-AMERICAN PROCLAMATION PIECES. (Boston): Privately Printed, 1898. 25, (1) pages, 6 plates. Quarto. Contemporary purple cloth and paper boards, gilt. Fine. (100.00)

Ex-Library: Long Island Historical Society. Presented by Benjamin Betts of Brooklyn." One of a small number of copies reprinted from the American Journal of Numismatics.

1414 ◆ Betts, C. Wyllys. AMERICAN COLONIAL HISTORY ILLUSTRATED BY CONTEMPORARY MEDALS. Boston, 1972 Quarto-in-an reprint. [4], x, (3), 369, (1) pages, frontispiece, text illustrations, additional plates at the end. Original crimson cloth, gilt. Near new (100.00)

One of 500 (of 1,000) copies. The Bechtler reprint of this still indispensable work, featuring added illustrations and a price guide.

1415 ◆ BISCHOFF'S UNITED STATES COUNTERFEIT DETECTOR. New York, December, 1896. 37, (11) pages. (also) LUCAS & CO'S COUNTERFEIT U. S. GOVERNMENT AND NATIONAL BANK NOTE DETECTOR, INCLUDING DOMINION OF CANADA & BRITISH PROVINCES, WITH BANKS AND BANKERS' DIRECTORY. Chicago, May, 1881. 40 pages, folding Ready Reference Card laid in. (also) MICHELS' UNITED STATES COUNTERFEIT DETECTOR AND TRADE MARK MANUAL. Philadelphia, January, 1883. 32 pages. All three publications in the original paper covers. Generally very good or better. (150.00)

The May 1883 Leon C. Michels issue present here. "Published in the English, German, French, Spanish, Italian, Swedish and Chinese languages," is the only multi-lingual counterfeit detector we recall ever having encountered.

1416 ◆ Board of Trade of the City of Philadelphia. MEMORIAL OF THE BOARD OF TRADE OF THE CITY OF PHILADELPHIA, IN RELATION TO THE ESTABLISHMENT OF A BRANCH MINT AT NEW YORK. Philadelphia: C. Sherman, Printer, 19 St. James Street, 1852. 15, (1) pages. 24 x 15 cm. Original printed tan wrappers a bit dusty. Fine. (125.00)

Perhaps with reason, the Board rails against its own claim that "New York asks now for a Branch Mint, her real object being to grasp the principal Mint itself." Earlier, before asserting this premise they aver that "Jealousy is an attribute of weakness, and Philadelphia is too strong to entertain any such feeling. The rival of New York, at least, in activity, industry, skill, and extent of population; her superior in natural resources; and destined easily to excel her in those artificial means of communication with the heart of our country on which the commercial greatness of either is dependent; Philadelphia is too confident of the future to give way to a single envious feeling toward that great city." Autographed by Avis Bourne, Ken Lowe, Myron Xenos, Armand Champa, Frank Katen, Laurese Katen, Martin Gengerke, Scott Rubin, and six persons involved in the work's production.

1419 ✣ Bowers, Q. David. COINS AND COLLECTORS. New York, 1965. Second Printing. (4), 214 pages, illustrated. Original butterscotch cloth, dust jacket, inscribed and signed by the author. Very fine/near new. (100.00)
Inscribed in black ink on [all of] the front free flyleaf: "To John Jay Ford, Jr., who, should a detailed history of the numismatic field of the past two decades be written, would play a most interesting and important part… and who, like all-too-few others in the profession, shows a deep interest not only in numismatics but the stories, ephemera and history that goes with it. Q. David Bowers, Mar. 12, 1965."

1420 ✣ Bowers, Q. David. ENCYCLOPEDIA OF AUTOMATIC MUSICAL INSTRUMENTS. Vestal: Vestal Press, 1972. Fifth Printing. 1008 pages, color frontispiece, profusely illustrated. Quarto. Original pictorial cloth. Near new. (100.00)
Inscribed on recto of frontispiece in blue ink: "To John J. Ford, Jr. A long-time friend and the source and inspiration of many good ideas. When I first started in coins I admired your cataloging as the best in the field– and, to this day it has never been surpassed. Best wishes, Q. Davis Bowers, 15 June 1978."

1421 ✣ Bowers, Q. David. THE HISTORY OF UNITED STATES COINAGE AS ILLUSTRATED BY THE GARRETT COLLECTION. Los Angeles, 1979. xv, (1), 572 pages, 40 color plates, illustrated. Quarto. Bass, Jr. Foundation, (2002). 499, (1) pages, illustrated in color. Quarto. Original crimson leatherette, gilt. As new. (100.00)

Inscribed on front flyleaf: "With all the best to J. J. F. from Q. D. B., from Dave to John." Loosely laid in is a May 2, 2002 letter from Bowers to Ford, reading in part: "Not that you need any more hooks for the next five years, as I think you have 'the book' already at your bedside—but I do hasten to send you a complimentary copy of The Harry W. Bass, Jr. Museum Sylloge. We did not publish this book ourselves, but did it on behalf of the Bass Foundation, so the number of copies we are giving out is very limited. However, I wanted to be sure that you had one."

1424 ✣ Bowers, Q. David and Ruddy, James F.: Penn-New York Auction Company. THE PENN–NEW YORK AUCTION COMPANY PRESENTS AN AUCTION SALE OF RARE UNITED STATES COINS. Johnson City, July 29, 1957. 31, (1) pages, 955 lots, text illustrations, prices realized list. Original printed gray card covers just a trifle faded at edge. Near new. (150.00)

But a faint harbinger of things to come: the first auction sale catalogue conducted jointly by Q. David Bowers and James F. Ruddy. Scarce. In Rare Coin Review No. 77, Bowers wrote that "(t)he 1957 sale was a great success" but that his "status as a full-time college student" at the time prevented him "from getting more deeply involved in auction sales."

1425 ✣ Bowers and Ruddy Galleries, Inc. [GARRETT COLLECTION]. THE GARRETT COLLECTION SALES. PARTS 1–4. New York & Los Angeles, 1979–1981. Four volumes complete. Profusely illustrated, prices realized lists bound in throughout. Quarto. Original matching black cloth, gilt. As new. (125.00)

1437 ✣ Brown, Laurence. A CATALOGUE OF BRITISH HISTORICAL MEDALS, 1760-1960. VOL. I: THE ACCESSION OF GEORGE III TO THE DEATH OF WILLIAM IV. London, 1980. xxvi, 469, (1) pages, illustrated throughout. Tall quarto. Original blue boards, gilt, dust jacket. Virtually as new. (200.00)

Inscribed on front flyleaf: "To John, with many thanks for your help and advice, Laurence Brown." Included is the carbon copy of a letter from Ford dated February 3, 1981 and a two page response from Brown dated February 18, 1981. Ford writes that "I find several things that disturb me in connection with the series I know something about." After enumerating them, Ford continues: "Despite these errors, I have found MUCH that is new to me, particularly in connection with many minor issues. Now, you know why JJF has yet to write his first book!" Brown points out that "If I had once opened the door to medals such as the Indian Peace medals that normally come mounted I would have naturally had to let in all the other commemorative medals that were intended for wearing, thereby enlarging the book many times over." He also notes that "I am always willing to stand corrected by people, such as yourself, who have perhaps seen more examples than I, or have greater knowledge…"

Christopher Gustavus Memminger (1803-1888), was a member of the South Carolina house of representatives, and later commissioner of schools for Charleston. During the Civil War he served as Jefferson Davis' Secretary of the Treasury and oversaw the issuance of Confederate paper money. Capers was Memminger's personal secretary, well positioned to recount that heady if short-lived period.

Clain-Stefanelli 13465. Sigler 441. Grierson page 221: "L'un intérêt et d'une valeur exceptionnels." Perhaps the finest example we have ever encountered of the scarce original edition of this important reference, originally presented as a dissertation in 1916 to the faculty of Princeton University in Candidacy for the Degree of Doctor of Philosophy. Seven decades after publication, it remains a storehouse of useful and important numismatic information on United States coins, from half cents to half dollars, as well as fractional American paper currency. Although the work does not appear to be particularly rare, Pete Smith notes in his biography of Carothers that "Much of the original edition was destroyed in a warehouse fire."

Philadelphia, May 9, 1913. 28 pages, blank leaf, 616 lots. 23.5 x 15.5 cm. Original gilt-printed white paper covers just a trifle dusty. Fine. (125.00)
Adams B: "1832 $5. 1864 $1 gold. Choice $1 including MS 1870-CC, 1873-CC. Set of cents made by Smith, 1793-1857." Seldom offered. A substantial portion of Cartwright's widespread collection, also including American pieces and in particular pioneer gold coins, had been posthumously sold six years earlier in London (vide lot 1248).

1451 ✣ Chapman, Henry. [CLARENCE S. BEMENT]. CATALOGUE OF THE MAGNIFICENT SPECIMENS OF EUROPEAN COINS IN GOLD, SILVER AND COPPER, THE PROPERTY OF CLARENCE S. BEMENT, ESQ. New York, June 26–27, 1918. iv, (2), 93, (1), (8) pages, 999 lots, 9 fine photographic plates (modern impressions), prices realized list. Quarto. White cloth and boards, gilt. As new. (150.00)
Presumably a gift from John W. Adams and, as such, analogous to "sending coal to Newcastle." The genesis of this marvelous production dates back to 1950 when John I. Ford, Jr. purchased from Ed Rice the original glass negatives for both the Bement European and Jackman sale catalogues. Rice had acquired them as part of the Chapman estate and apparently only the 1918 Bement and Jackman sale sets survived, the glass negatives for the other Chapman sales having been broken in transit. Ford subsequently cajoled Adams into combining new impressions of the plates from the original negatives with copies of the text which Adams accumulated over time, in a noble, if unintentionally altruistic, venture. Only twenty copies of Bement were issued and the quality of the plates easily surpasses those in the original 1918 impressions.

Scarce work of unique conception and production. "Jean Cohen with best wishes to John I. Ford, Jr." A remarkable if quixotic effort, identifying some 50 different varieties examined by coin identifiers. The only inscribed example of this work we recall ever having encountered.

1455 ✣ Cooper, Denis R. THE ART AND CRAFT OF COINMAKING: A HISTORY OF MINTING TECHNOLOGY. London: Spink & Son, 1988. viii, 264 pages, numerous illustrations, some in color. Quarto. Original printed pictorial green boards. Near new. (125.00)
Indispensable to those interested in the minting process. Out of print.

Acquired 1/28/80 @ $32.50. Scarce.

1459 ⌖ Danforth & Hufty/Danforth, Bald & Co. TWO ORIGINAL PRINTED RECEIPTS, COMPLETED IN INK, FOR THE DELIVERY OF BANK NOTE PLATES. New-York: Office of Danforth & Hufty, No. 1 Wall-street/ Office of Danforth, Bald & Co., No. 1 Wall-street, 29th May/23d July, 1849. Two single pre-printed forms, complete in black ink in a lovely, flowing hand. 25 x 20 cm. Usual fold marks, minimal separation at two horizontal folds, else very fine. (125.00)
The first, Numbered 197, certifies "that we have this day placed our respective seals on One package containing the Plate of the Merchants Bank at Ellery viz.: One Steel Plate— Denominations 1. 2. 5." The second, Numbered 2, certifies "that we have this day placed our respective seals on One package containing the Plate of the Chemical Bank N. Y. viz.: One Steel Plate— Denom 10. 10. 10. 20." The text printed in italic represents the handwritten portions. These two interesting documents, the bank note firms' own copies, well illustrate the rough and tumble world of competing bank note companies in the United States during the period. In less than two months, Danforth's alliance had shifted, though it is unclear whether his association with Hufty had ceased. Hessler, in The Engraver's Line, places them together until 1850. The July 23, 1849 receipt present here appears to be only the second one issued by Danforth, Bald & Co. Such consolidations were seemingly an everyday occurrence, with the "big daddy" taking place nine years later when seven firms united to form the American Bank Note Company (one of them being Danforth & Perkins & Co., successors to Danforth & Hufty/Danforth, Bald & Co.).

Probably the best biography of Boulton, with an important numismatic chapter entitled "Coinage and Soho Mint."

1467 ✣ Dryfhout, John H. THE WORK OF AUGUSTUS SAINT-GAUDENS. Hanover and London: University Press of New England, 1982. xii, (2), 356 pages, color frontispiece, well-illustrated throughout in duotone. Quarto. Original brown cloth, gilt, pictorial color dust jacket. Virtually as new. (125.00)
Printed "Compliments of Q. David Bowers" placard; inscribed on front flyleaf: "To John J. Ford, Jr. With compliments of Dave Bowers and Ray Merena. June 10, 1983." A beautifully designed and produced work detailing the entire oeuvre of this prolific and influential American artist. Included are numerous illustrations and text on the coinage of 1907, along with Saint-Gaudens' medallic productions.

1468 ✣ Dye, John S. DYE'S GOVERNMENT COUNTERFEIT DETECTOR. Philadelphia, October, 1878; July, 1882; August, 1884; August, 1890; & December, 1904. Five issues. 48; 64; 64; 64; 64 pages. All in the original printed paper covers, a few minor faults. Generally very good. (150.00)
In the Official List of Coins, States Coins appearing in the 1890 and 1904 issues, it is noted that proof trade dollars were issued "up to 1884."

1469 ✣ Dye, John S. DYE'S COIN ENCYCLOPÆDIA: A COMPLETE ILLUSTRATED HISTORY OF THE COINS OF THE WORLD... AND COINS OF THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA... Philadelphia, 1883. 6, 4, 7-1152 pages, over 1,500 text illustrations of coins. Original yellow-brown pictorial cloth, stamped in gilt and black. Near fine. (125.00)
Apparently an early printing, perhaps the first, of this numismatic classic, issued shortly after the author's death. The publishers termed it "a universal history accurately illustrated of the coins of the world, precious metal resources, mintages, etc." The space given to American coins is impressive. Pages 19-256 are devoted to "British Colonial Coinages" and Fugio cents. The following chapter, entitled "American And Other Gold, and the Private Coinage of Gold in the United States" occupies pages 257-480, and the contents from page 1065 on are devoted to United States coins, including an appendix on the "History of the Recently Discovered Confederate Silver Dollar, by E. Mason, Jr., Numismatist."

Original straight-grained black cloth, covers intricately paneled in blind, gilt-lettered "GOLD & SILVER COINS & BULLION" in the center with a gilt impression of a Baldwin Horseman type "California Gold 1850 Ten Dollars" gold coin in between the two lines, contents negligible waterstaining. Very good or better. (125.00)

Seldom encountered in this binding. Originally published in 1850, New Varieties "was designed as a convenient and authentic manual for individuals or institutions dealing in the precious metals, and especially those engaged in the California trade, then newly opened. It also served the purpose of a supplement to a larger work by the same authors on the same subject, issued in 1842…The lapse of time and change of circumstances have required that it should be taken apart, reconstructed, and in various respects essentially altered…There is appended a reprint of the 'Pledges of History; or, A Brief Account of the Collection of Coins Belonging to the Mint of the United States,' which was issued by the Assistant Assayer in 1846, and of which scarcely a copy remains. Some interesting additions are made to this branch also…" Bound in all copies following the main text and coin plates is an extract of The Merchant's and Banker's Almanac for 1852 featuring additional information.

Original gray cloth, lettered in black. Fine/very fine. (100.00)
An important source of information on the early nineteenth century workings of the Philadelphia Mint. Born in Philadelphia in 1808, Sellers as a young boy roamed the mechanical shops of the city keenly observing their activities. Possessed of an uncommonly good memory, he began recording his reminiscences at age 75 in various issues of the American Machinist. An entire chapter in this fascinating volume is devoted to his observations of Mint operations and another is devoted to the activities of Jacob Perkins.

Text volume: 18.5 x 14 cm. Plate volume: 22.5 x 16.5 cm. Matching original blue cloth, gilt. Very fine/near new. (150.00)
Limited Edition Copy No. 9, signed by George Fuld, dated Feb. 1, 1960 (text volume) and May 15, 1959 (plate volume).

1479 ⌖ Gengerke, Martin. AMERICAN NUMISMATIC AUCTIONS/CONSIGNORS TO AMERICAN NUMISMATIC AUCTIONS. Woodside, 1990. Eighth Edition. (2), vii, (1), 271, (3) pages, some pencil annotations. Quarto. Original spiral-bound plasticized printed pale blue card covers. Virtually as new. (150.00)
A comprehensive, indispensable reference work listing over 13,000 American numismatic auction sale catalogues.

1480 ⌖ Gillingham, Harrold E. INDIAN AND MILITARY MEDALS FROM COLONIAL TIMES TO DATE. No place or date of issue: "Address delivered before the Historical Society of Pennsylvania January 10, 1927 and at the meeting of the Numismatic and Antiquarian Society February 15 1926." 97-125, (3) pages, 2 halftone plates. 24 x 16.5 cm. Original printed tan card covers a trifle worn. Fine. (100.00)
Inscribed on recto of first plate: "To the New York Numismatic Club, With Compliments of Harrold E. Gillingham, 29 March 1927." A very scarce offprint, comprising a useful source of information on the topic.

1481 ⌖ Gouge, William M. A SHORT HISTORY OF PAPER-MONEY AND BANKING IN THE UNITED STATES, INCLUDING AN ACCOUNT OF PROVINCIAL AND CONTINENTAL PAPER-MONEY. TO WHICH IS PREFIXED AN INQUIRY INTO THE PRINCIPLES OF THE SYSTEM, WITH CONSIDERATIONS OF ITS EFFECTS ON MORALS AND HAPPINESS. THE WHOLE INTENDED AS A PLAIN EXPOSITION OF THE WAY IN WHICH PAPER-MONEY AND MONEY CORPORATIONS AFFECT THE INTRESTS OF DIFFERENT PORTIONS OF THE COMMUNITY. New York: Published by B. & S. Collins, 1835. Second Edition. vi, (7)-42; (2), (5)-64 pages. 23 x 15.5 cm. Later green cloth, gilt, contents lightly foxed. Fine. (150.00)
Newman pages 7 & 33. A scarce edition of this landmark work, divided into two parts, the first comprising "An Inquiry into the Principles of the American Banking System" and the second entitled "A Short History of Paper Money and Banking in the United States." Written largely from a financial perspective, Gouge's work includes, however, the first review of, as Eric Newman puts it, "the eighteenth century American paper money experience." The work is also of numismatic value because of the detailed description it gives of the organization of state banks.

1482 ⌖ Graham, William. THE ONE POUND NOTE IN THE HISTORY OF BANKING IN GREAT BRITAIN. Edinburgh, 1911. Second Edition. xv, (1), 410, (2) pages, frontispiece portrait, 14 additional fine lithographic plates depicting bank notes. Original crimson cloth, gilt. Very fine. (100.00)
Scarce and important.

1483 ⌖ Grant, Bushnell & Co., Publishers. THE RECOGNIZED AUTHORITY. THE NATIONAL COUNTERFEIT DETECTOR. New York, April, 1909; September, 1914; October, 1923; October, 1931; August, 1932; June, 1937; & July-August, 1937. Seven issues. 64; 64; 64; 64; 64; 32; 32 pages, several issues with supplements. All in the original printed paper covers, lacking one rear cover, a few other minor faults, generally very good copies. (125.00)

1484 ⌖ Grant, Bushnell & Co., Publishers. THE NATIONAL COUNTERFEIT DETECTOR. New York, October, 1937; February, April, May, June, August, October, & December, 1938. Eight issues. 48; 56; 52; 55, (1); 44; 44; 44; 47, (1) pages, some issues with supplements. All in the original printed paper covers, generally very good or better copies. (125.00)

1485 ⁘ Grant, Bushnell & Co., Publishers. THE NATIONAL COUNTERFEIT DETECTOR. New York, January, February, April, May, June, July, September, October, & November, 1939. Nine issues. All 48 pages. All in the original printed paper covers, generally very good or better copies. (125.00)

1486 ⁘ Grant, Bushnell & Co., Publishers. THE NATIONAL COUNTERFEIT DETECTOR. New York, January, May, September, October, November, & December, 1940; January, May, June, August, November, 1941; September, 1947; & July, August, 1952. Fourteen issues. All 48 pages. All in the original printed paper covers, generally very good to fine copies. (150.00)

1487 ⁘ Grellman, J. R. ATTRIBUTION GUIDE FOR UNITED STATES LARGE CENTS, 1840-1857. Montgomery, 1986 & 1987. First & Second Editions. First Edition: two volumes, several hundred unnumbered pages, illustrated throughout. Quarto. Original matching brown leatherette three-ring binders, gilt. As new. Second Edition: several hundred pages, illustrated throughout. Quarto. Original brown leatherette, gilt. As new. (125.00)
Volume I of first edition inscribed: "To John J. Ford, Jr., Best wishes to a genuine numismatist and bibliophile, John R. Grellman, Jr." Volume II of first edition inscribed: "To John Ford, For whom I saved my MS-67 copy, John R. Grellman, Jr."

1488 ⁘ Griffin, Clarence. THE BECHTLERS AND BECHTLER COINAGE AND GOLD MINING IN NORTH CAROLINA 1814–1830. Forest City, 1929. (4), 15, (1) pages, illustrated. Original printed tan card covers. Fine. (100.00)
Clain-Stefanelli 12471. Rarely offered. The author notes that this was "the first complete sketch of the Bechtlers ever published." In his survey of the previous literature, Don Kagin wrote: "The fascinating issues of North Carolina were covered by Clarence Griffin's (sic) comprehensive account…to which comparatively little has been added."

1489 ⁘ Grueber, Herbert A. MEDALLIC ILLUSTRATIONS OF THE HISTORY OF GREAT BRITAIN AND IRELAND. Lawrence: Quarterman Publications, Inc., 1979 reprint. The complete set of plates, bound in one volume. Preliminaries, 183 plates, each with descriptive text, indexes. Large folio. Original blue cloth, gilt. Near new. (200.00)
Grierson page 165. Clain-Stefanelli 14691*. The most comprehensive visual record of British medals from the time of Edward III up to 1760.

1490 ⁘ G(uilloteau), V. MONNAIES FRANÇAISES: COLONIES 1670-1942, MÉTROPOLE 1774-1942. Paris, 1943. First Edition. 496 pages of text, 2 blank leaves, pages 500-829, comprising 330 fine plates of coins, pages 830-835. 12mo. Original green cloth, gilt, marbled endsheets, black slipcase. Very fine. (100.00)
Still utilized. The scarce original edition, generally preferred due to the high quality of the plates.

1491 ⁘ Gwynne, (John A.) & Day, (Clarence S.), Bankers. THE DESCRIPTIVE REGISTER OF GENUINE BANK NOTES, FOR THE DETECTION OF SPURIOUS AND ALTERED BILLS, CONTAINING ACCURATE, ELABORATE AND PLAIN DESCRIPTIONS OF THE NOTES ISSUED BY EVERY BANK IN THE UNITED STATES AND CANADA, CONVENIENTLY ARRANGED FOR REFERENCE, PREPARED UNDER THE SUPERVISION OF THE PUBLISHERS, WHO ACKNOWLEDGE THEIR INDEBTEDNESS TO THE SEVERAL FIRMS NOW COMPRISING THE AMERICAN BANK NOTE COMPANY FOR MUCH VALUABLE INFORMATION. New York, 1859. First Edition. 142 pages, a few illustrations and diagrams. Quarto: 30 x 21.5 cm. Original intricately blindstamped brown cloth, gilt, lacking free flyleaves. Good/very good. (100.00)
Clain-Stefanelli 13627. McKerchar 2076. Dillistin page 148. A rare, still useful work with descriptions of the genuine notes issued by over 1400 different banks.

1492 ⁘ Hartford Numismatic Society. AUCTORI CONNEC AND OTHER EMISSIONS. Richardson, 1959. (4), 31, (1) pages, 5 plates. Original printed blue cloth-backed card covers. Near new. (100.00)
Number 119 of only 200 copies printed. An important collection of short monographs on the colonial coins and currency of Connecticut.

1493 ❖ (Haseltine, John W.). [WILLIAM IDLER]. CATALOGUE OF A PRIVATE COLLECTION (WILLIAM IDLER) OF GOLD, SILVER AND COPPER COINS AND MEDALS, INCLUDING A CHOICE VARIETY OF VERY RARE AND VALUABLE UNITED STATES PATTERN PIECES. Philadelphia: Thos. Birch & Son, April 12, 1870. 16 pages, 336 lots, neatly priced throughout in ink, along with a few corrections and a buyer or two's name or initial. Quarto: 29 x 22.5 cm. Contemporary purple half morocco, decoratively ruled in gilt, extremities a bit rubbed. Near fine. (100.00)
Adams B: "Superb patterns, many appearing for the first time. Choice early silver. Assay medals." Haseltine's first, and only large format sale.

1494 ❖ Haseltine, John W. PRICE LIST OF CONFEDERATE NOTES AND BONDS. Philadelphia, 1876 or later. 4 pages. Single sheet, folded in half. Folded size: 22.5 x 14 cm. Near fine. (also) Haseltine, John W. PRICE LIST OF CONFEDERATE NOTES AND BONDS. Philadelphia, 1876 or later. 4 pages. Single sheet, folded in half. Folded size: 21.5 x 14 cm. Fine. (100.00)
Featuring the same title and similarly arranged, the typography and content of each of list differs., and prices are often lower in the second list present here. The last page of both lists offers books for sale, including Attinelli's Numsgraphics, though the type is condensed in the second list, allowing for information concerning an "Album for Confederate Notes. Just Out." These two lists, and perhaps another with the same title, appear to have been issued around the same time. All appear to be rare.

David Proskey's Annotated Sales Room Copy

1495 ❖ Haseltine, John W. [JAMES & LEWIS]. CATALOGUE OF AMERICAN & FOREIGN COINS, MEDALS & PAPER MONEY, THE COLLECTIONS OF JULIAN A. JAMES, OF ROCHESTER, N. Y., AND L. LEWIS, OF PHILADELPHIA, PA. New York, November 6-7, (1884). 62 pages, blank leaf, 1174 lots, priced in pencil with buyers' names or initials throughout, also with other notations, including commissions and Proskey's tentative bids, corrections, critical observations, etc. 24 x 16 cm. Original printed pink card covers a little faded. Fine. (100.00)

1496 ❖ Hawkins, R. N. P. & Baldwin, Edward, Editor. A DICTIONARY OF MAKERS OF BRITISH METALLIC TICKETS, CHECKS, MEDALETS, TALLIES, AND COUNTERS, 1788-1910. London, 1989. (7), xiii, 1004 pages, 32 plates. Original crimson cloth, gilt, dust jacket. As new. (125.00)
"[H.] H. for R. P. H. who was unable to sign it himself. E. Baldwin."

1497 ❖ [Hays, Josiah E.]. JOURNAL OF PROCEEDINGS OF THE COURT OF IMPEACHMENT IN THE CASE OF JOSIAH E. HAYES, TREASURER OF STATE. Topeka: State Printing Works, 1874. 95, (1), 352 pages. 21 x 14 cm. Original printed purple wrappers, spine sunned. Near fine. (100.00)
Kansas State Treasurer Josiah E. Hayes apparently mishandled treasury funds and was guilty of irregular and improper payments for military scrip. These extensive impeachment proceedings include depositions and testimony, and over two hundred pages are devoted to a comprehensive record of Union military scrip, showing, along with legitimate payments, "the carelessness, irregularities and violations of law in issuing the Price raid scrip, issued under an act approved February 26, 1867." Over 12,000 transactions appear to be recorded herein, of which over 1,500 are designated as being not signed by Treasurer, not endorsed by payee, duplicates, or without endorsement being witnessed. Columns are provided for "[illegible] No. Vouch/To whom paid/On what acct./Amount."

1498 ❖ Heath, Laban. HEATH'S INFALLIBLE COUNTERFEIT DETECTOR AT SIGHT... Boston, 1864. First (Pocket) Edition: Third Thousand. 31 (1) pages, 8 finely engraved plates of bank note design elements interspersed in the text, plate 6 serving as a frontispiece, plate 4 printed in red ink, plate 8 printed in green ink. 16mo: 16.5 x 10.5 cm. Original blindstamped maroon-brown cloth, gilt. Near fine. (175.00)
Newman 1-P-3.

1499 ⁘ Heath, Laban. HEATH'S GREATLY IMPROVED AND ENLARGED INFALLIBLE GOVERNMENT COUNTERFEIT DETECTOR, AT SIGHT... Boston, 1866. Second (Pocket) Edition. 39, (1) pages, double-page plate of impressions of genuine and counterfeit fractional currency notes following the title, 17 numbered finely engraved plates of bank note design elements, interspersed out of numerical sequence in the text, plate 15 comprising a finely engraved folding Heath bank note facsimile, plate 16 comprising a finely engraved folding counterfeit bank note facsimile, plates 2 & 5 serving as frontispieces, plate 5 printed in green ink, several plate numbers overprinted. 16mo: 17 x 11 cm. Original blindstamped reddish brown cloth, front cover horizontally lettered in gilt, spine ends chipped. Very good/fine. (175.00)
Newman 2-P-h-2. The first edition to feature illustrations derived from federal paper money.

1500 ⁘ Heath, Laban. HEATH'S GREATLY IMPROVED AND ENLARGED INFALLIBLE GOVERNMENT COUNTERFEIT DETECTOR, AT SIGHT... Boston, Mass., and Washington, D. C.: Published by Laban Heath, Teacher of Counterfeit Detection., No. 20 Washington Street, Boston, to whom all orders should be addressed; Innes and Niles, Stereotypers and Printers, 37 Cornhill, Boston, 1866/1867 (upper cover undated). Second Edition: Banking House and Counting Room Edition. 39, (5) pages, 4 facing illustrations of Heath magnifying glasses at the end with an intersecting tissue guard, finely engraved frontispiece, Heath bank note facsimile plate, plate of impressions of genuine and counterfeit fractional currency notes, 10 (numbered 2-11) finely engraved plates of bank note design elements, with original tissue guards, interspersed in the text, plate 5 printed in green ink. Small quarto: 25.5 x 19.5 cm. Original maroon pebbled cloth, upper cover lettered in gilt, spine and corners a little worn. Near fine. (200.00)
Newman 2-BH-?. Apparently unrecorded. It appears to most closely resemble Newman 2-BH-3, though it is clear that no facsimile Treasury Department letter, nor $100 First National Bank of Boston counterfeit note were ever present.

1501 ⁘ Heath, Laban. HEATH'S GREATLY IMPROVED AND ENLARGED INFALLIBLE GOVERNMENT COUNTERFEIT DETECTOR, AT SIGHT... Boston, 1870. Third (Pocket) Edition, Revised and Corrected. 40 pages, 4 illustrations of Heath magnifying glasses in the text, double-page plate of impressions of genuine and counterfeit fractional currency notes, 10 (numbered 2-10 & 17) finely engraved plates of bank note design elements bound in at the end, plate 4 printed in green ink. 16mo: 17 x 11 cm. Original green cloth, paneled in blind, front cover decoratively lettered in gilt, plates a bit discolored, else fine. (175.00)
Newman 3-P-5.

1502 ⁘ Heath, Laban. HEATH'S INFALLIBLE GOVERNMENT COUNTERFEIT DETECTOR, AT SIGHT. ILLUSTRATED WITH ENTIRE NEW PLATES OF BOTH GREENBACKS AND NATIONAL BANK NOTES... Boston, 1877. Twelfth (Pocket) Edition. 47, (1) pages, printed title preceded by a finely engraved title, 10 numbered finely engraved plates of bank note designs bound in following the text, (14) pages of advertising and promotional text bound in at the end with a text illustration of a Heath magnifying glass, last 3 plates printed in green and black. 16mo: 17 x 11.5 cm. Original dark maroon-brown cloth, paneled in blind, decoratively lettered in gilt, engraved title a trifle stained. Near fine. (175.00)
Newman 12-P-2. The text in this edition has been completely revised, and it is accompanied by new plates devoted entirely to $1, $2, $5, $10, $20, $50 & $100 United States Notes and National Currency.

1503 ⁘ Heath, Laban. HEATH'S INFALLIBLE GOVERNMENT COUNTERFEIT DETECTOR AT SIGHT. ILLUSTRATED WITH ENTIRELY NEW PLATES OF BOTH GREENBACKS AND NATIONAL BANK NOTES... Boston, 1877. Twelfth Edition. 41, (9) pages, blank leaf, printed title preceded by a finely engraved title, text illustration of magnifying glass, 11 numbered finely engraved plates bound in on linen hinges following the text, depicting large portions of the fronts and backs of National Currency and United States Notes, last 2 plates printed in green and black. 25 x 18.5 cm. Original russet cloth, lettered in gilt, plates a trifle foxed, margins a bit waterstained. Very good. (200.00)
Newman 12-BH-2.

1504 • Heaton, A. G. A TREATISE ON THE COINAGE OF THE UNITED STATES BRANCH MINTS. Washington, D. C., 1893. 54, (2) pages, a few pencil annotations. Contemporary purple-blue cloth, gilt. Very fine. (100.00)
Clain-Stefanelli 12524. In the preface, Heaton notes: "The writer, a few years since, after enriching his almost complete collection of silver and minor issues of the parent institution with all attainable varieties, became much interested in gathering United States coinage bearing the letters…commonly known as 'Mint Marks.'" This pursuit led to publication of the book and to the popularity of coin collecting on that basis. Although it achieved wide distribution at the time, copies are now scarce. Heaton's landmark work succeeded beyond the author's wildest dreams in creating a "new and zealous interest in modern United States coinage."

1505 • Henkels, Stan. V. [ROBERT COULTON DAVIS]. CATALOGUE NO. 747. LARGE AND RARE COLLECTION OF COLONIAL AND CONTINENTAL CURRENCY AND RARE AND SCARCE LOTTERY TICKETS. Philadelphia: catalogue compiled and sale conducted by Stan. V. Henkels at the Book Auction Rooms of Thomas Birch's Sons, October 17, 1895. 15, (1) pages, 276 lots. 25.5 x 17 cm. Original tan card covers, bottom margins a trifle chipped. Fine. (100.00)
Not in Gengerke, nor the American Numismatic Society Auction Catalogue. Though rather tersely catalogued, an important collection. Lots 1-223 feature colonial and continental paper money, the premier lot containing a "Complete collection of Continental notes, comprising every variety and denomination issued by the Continental Congress…in very fine condition. It was formerly owned by the late Robert Coulton Davis, who spared no pains or money to make it as fine as possible." For whatever reasons, it seems that auction sales of colonial paper currency have sometimes eluded the net cast by numismatic bibliographers; even Attinelli missed a few.

1506 • Hessler, Gene. THE ENGRAVER'S LINE. AN ENCYCLOPEDIA OF PAPER MONEY & POSTAGE STAMP ART. Port Clinton, 1993. x, 437, (1) pages, text illustrations. Small quarto. Original green cloth, lettered in silver, pictorial dust jacket. As new. (100.00)
Inscribed on front fly-leaf: "To John J. Ford, Jr. Fellow collector, and lover of U. S. government-related paper. Best wishes, Gene Hessler." A useful work, lengthy, and important in its execution comprising biographies of American bank note engravers, rarely acknowledged in the standard coin encyclopedias, and histories of select sculptors, and engravers.

1507 • Hilt, Robert P., II. DIE VARIETIES OF EARLY UNITED STATES COINS. VOLUME NUMBER 1: SILVER AND GOLD COINS 1794 TO 1798 DIES 1794 THROUGH 1797. Omaha, 1980. (10), 122, (6) pages, enlarged coin illustrations. Quarto. Original maroon cloth, gilt, conversion table laid in. Near new. (100.00)
Inscribed "To my friend and colleague, John J. Ford, I greatly appreciate your assistance and opinions. It was a pleasure to hear your comments as I prepared various of the great experts on early American numismatics. Respectfully yours, Robert P. Hilt." While some of the information in this work was previously known, this work is a major contribution to our knowledge and understanding of the earliest issues of United States coinage. Though voluminously researched—it was considered—by others, upon publication it was immediately so recognized by Ford.

1508 • Hocking, William John. CATALOGUE OF THE COINS, TOKENS, DIES AND SEALS IN THE MUSEUM OF THE ROYAL MINT. VOL. I: COINS AND MEDALS. VOL. II: DIES, MEDALS AND SEALS. London, 1906 & 1910. Two volumes. viii, 460; ii, 318 pages. Original matching blue cloth, gilt. Very fine. (125.00)
Still the best catalogue of the Royal Mint collections.

1509 • Hughes, Denver & Peck, Special Counsel. ARGUMENT IN SUPPORT OF THE RIGHT OF THE UNITED STATES TO HOLD THE COIN AND BUTTON CLAIMED BY THE BANK OF VIRGINIA, THE FARMERS' BANK, AND THE EXCHANGE BANK, ALL OF RICHMOND, VA. Washington, 1866. 22, (2) pages. 23 x 14.5 cm. Original printed tan wrappers a little worn and dusty, top outer corner a trifle dog-eared. Near fine. (125.00)
In this struggle, civil War era effort—involving a $100,000 loan in coin, authorized for "the use of the army of Northern Virginia." The "orders [had been issued] for the restoration of this coin," when Hughes, Denver & Peck "intervened to prevent it, and…conveyed the information that nothing but gold by private sale would show that this coin was liable to seizure and confiscation. This proof has been obtained…"

1510 • Irving, L. Homfray. CANADIAN MILITARY INSTITUTE. OFFICERS OF THE BRITISH FORCES IN CANADA DURING THE WAR OF 1812-15. Welland, 1908. (4), ix, [1], 309, (1) pages. Original green cloth, gilt. Near fine. (100.00)
Inscribed on front fly-leaf: "To John Sutherland Ford with the affectionate brother, L. Homfray Irving, Toronto, 22 January 1909."

1511 • Ivy, Steve/Halperin, James L., Publisher. LEGACY: FOR THE CONTEMPORARY NUMISMATIST. Dallas, July/August 1988-Summer 1990. Eleven issues complete. Quarto. All in the original color-printed paper covers. Very fine/near new. (100.00)

Three issues feature John Ford's mailing labels. A remarkably interesting, well-produced publication which regrettably is no longer being issued. Of particular interest are the interviews of contemporary American numismatic notables featured in each issue. Interviewees include Harry Bass, Jimmy Hayes, Margo Russell, Walter Breen, John J. Pittman, Lester Merkin, Elvira Clain-Stefanelli, Julian Leidman, Bob Leuver, and John J. Ford, Jr.

1512 • Kane, Patricia E.; et al. COLONIAL MASSACHUSETTS SILVERSMITHS AND JEWELERS. A BIOGRAPHICAL DICTIONARY BASED ON THE NOTES OF FRANCIS HILL BIGELOW & JOHN MARSHALL PHILLIPS. New Haven: Yale University Art Gallery, 1998. xxiii, (1), 1241, (3) pages, illustrated. Quarto. Pale green cloth, lettered in black, dust jacket. Virtually as new. (100.00)

A massive, indispensable reference.

1513 • Kann, E. ILLUSTRATED CATALOG OF CHINESE COINS (GOLD, SILVER, NICKEL AND ALUMINUM). Los Angeles, 1954. First Edition. 476, (2) pages, 224 plates. Original gray cloth, lettered in black. Very fine. (100.00)

Clain-Stefanelli 8643*. The original edition.

1514 • Katen, Frank J., Milford Coin & Stamp Co. . [1948 A. N. A. SALE] OFFICIAL PROGRAM AND AUCTION CATALOG. AMERICAN NUMISMATIC ASSOCIATION. 57TH ANNIVERSARY CONVENTION. Boston, August 21-25, 1948. 176, (12) pages, 2763 lots, text illustrations. Original blue cloth, gilt, original printed wrappers and priced realized list bound in. Very fine. (125.00)

The Special Hardbound Edition.

1515 • Kelly, James. [1950 A. N. A. SALE.] NATIONAL A. N. A. CONVENTION AUCTION SALE. UNRESTRICTED MAIL AND PUBLIC SALE OF UNITED STATES, FOREIGN AND ANCIENT COINS, CURRENCY, MEDALS AND OTHER NUMISMATIC MATERIAL. Milwaukee, August 25-29, 1950. 96, (8) pages, 1473 lots, including 16 plates, prices realized list. [bound with] American Numismatic Association. SOUVENIR JOURNAL. 59TH ANNUAL CONVENTION OF THE AMERICAN NUMISMATIC ASSOCIATION. Milwaukee, August 25-29, 1950. 52 pages. Original grained black cloth, gilt, original printed card covers of both titles bound in. Very fine. (100.00)

The Special Hardbound Edition, Ex Abe Kosoff, with his name stamped in gilt at the base of the upper cover. Inscribed in ink on the front flyleaf: "In appreciation for helping with the sale. Sincerely, J. A. Kelly." Acquired 8/4/58 @ $3.00. A scarce hardbound A. N. A. sale from one convention auctioneer to another. While Kosoff utilized special hardbound editions especially in later years as a promotional device, Kelly appears to have generally commissioned small editions especially early on. It is curious that Kosoff would have parted with the catalogue while Kelly was in his prime.

1516 • Kenyon, Robert Lloyd. THE GOLD COINS OF ENGLAND, ARRANGED AND DESCRIBED: BEING A SEQUEL TO MR. HAWKINS' SILVER COINS OF ENGLAND, BY HIS GRANDSON. London, 1884. [4], 217, (1) pages, frontispiece plate, 23 additional lithographic plates of coins. Handsomely bound in recent brown polished three quarter calf marbled paper sides and endsheets, sides ruled in gilt, five raised bands decorated in blind, dark brown leather spine label, gilt, top page edges gilt. Very fine. (100.00)

An exceptionally attractive example of this classic work.

1517 • Kisch, Bruno. SCALES AND WEIGHTS: A HISTORICAL OUTLINE. New Haven: Yale University Press, 1965. First Edition. xxi, (3), 297, (1) pages, well illustrated. Original brown cloth, lettered in gilt, dust jacket. Virtually as new. (125.00)

Clain-Stefanelli 16039. The best survey of the history of weighing and measuring from prehistoric times.

1518 ✣ Knox, John Jay. UNITED STATES NOTES: A HISTORY OF THE VARIOUS ISSUES OF PAPER MONEY BY THE GOVERNMENT OF THE UNITED STATES... WITH AN APPENDIX CONTAINING THE RECENT DECISION OF THE SUPREME COURT OF THE UNITED STATES AND THE DISSENTING OPINION UPON THE LEGAL TENDER QUESTION. New York: Charles Scribner's Sons, 1884. Second Edition, Revised. xii, 247, (1) pages, text illustrations, 3 fine tinted photo-lithographic plates of paper currency, 15 form plates of various notes, 1815 to 1864. 23.5 x 16 cm. Original red cloth, gilt, extremities a trifle worn. Fine. (150.00)

In the June 13-15, 1967 New Netherlands sale catalogue, John J. Ford, Jr. wrote of this work: "This text is probably best known for its illustrations of the U. S. Treasury Notes of 1842, 1843 and 1847. It is of inestimable value to those interested in the paper currency of the United States issued prior to the Civil War period, such as the interest bearing notes 1812-15, 1837-47 and 1857, 1860. No other book, to our knowledge, gives as readable an account of the history behind our paper money through the tumultuous (and often confusing) Civil War period."

1519 ✣ Knox, John Jay. UNITED STATES NOTES: A HISTORY OF THE VARIOUS ISSUES OF PAPER MONEY BY THE GOVERNMENT OF THE UNITED STATES... WITH AN APPENDIX CONTAINING THE RECENT DECISION OF THE SUPREME COURT OF THE UNITED STATES AND THE DISSENTING OPINION UPON THE LEGAL TENDER QUESTION. London: T. Fisher Unwin, 1885. Second Edition, Revised. xii, 247, (1) pages, 32 page list of Unwin publications bound in at the end, 3 fine tinted photo-lithographic plates of Treasury Notes, 15 form plates of various notes, 1815 to 1864. 23.5 x 16 cm. Original blue cloth, gilt. Fine. (150.00)

Clain-Stefanelli 13393. Sigler 1466. McKerchar 2095. Comptroller of the Currency from April 24, 1872 until May 1, 1884, Knox was influential in the successful implementation of the National Currency Acts. In an important article published in the February, 1862 issue of Hunt's Merchants' Magazine and Commercial Review, Knox early on urged the establishment of a national banking system with a safe, elastic, convertible, and uniform paper currency. His works, of which United States Notes and History of Banking in the United States are the most notable, are of monumental importance to the student of American currency, banking, and finance.

1520 ✣ Kosoff, A. [CLARKE/MELISH]. THE T. JAMES CLARKE COLLECTION, UNITED STATES LARGE CENTS AND THE THOMAS G. MELISH CATALOGUE. New York & Indianapolis, April 21–28, 1956. (6), 107 pages, 2639 lots, text illustrations, 13 plates of large cents, prices realized printed by each lot. Small quarto. Original brown leatherette, gilt, matching slipcase. Near new. (150.00)

1567 ✣ Scott & Company. [JOHN W. SCOTT]. CATALOGUE OF GOLD AND SILVER COINS, BEING GEMS IN THE COLLECTION OF MR. JOHN W. SCOTT. PART FIRST. New York, March 13, 1882. 32 pages, 400 lots, numerous text illustrations of coins, 1 fine chromolithographic plate of orders and decorations. 23 x 15 cm. Original printed blue wrappers a trifle sunned. Fine. (100.00)

Adams A-: "C. Bechtler $5. Mormon $2.50. 1826 $10. Sommer 6ℓ, 12ℓ. Season medal. Original confederate 50ℓ. Choice ancients. War medals." Perhaps the first American auction catalogue to depict a fractional California gold coin: a line drawing of an octagonal "California Gold 1854" eagle with scroll dollar appears under CALIFORNIA GOLD at the beginning of the catalogue. This section, the first fifty-eight lots of the sale, comprises "The largest collection of dollars and fractions thereof ever catalogued for public sale, all rare and nearly all as fine as when struck."

1568 ✣ Scott Stamp & Coin Co., Ltd. [GERALD E. HART]. CATALOGUE OF THE VERY VALUABLE COLLECTION OF CANADIAN COINS, MEDALS AND TOKENS, FORMED BY GERALD E. HART, ESQ., OF MONTREAL. INCLUDING MANY OF THE WELL KNOWN RARITIES AND GENERALLY IN THE CHOICEST CONDITION, TO WHICH ARE ADDED A FEW ANCIENT COINS, ENGLISH, FRENCH AND SPANISH GOLD, TOGETHER WITH MEDALS OF VARIOUS COUNTRIES, EMBRACING SOME RARE AMERICAN. New York, April 13, 1895. (2), 41, (1) pages, title printed in red and black, 619 lots, 2 halftone plates of medals and tokens. 23.5 x 15 cm. Original pictorial printed green wrappers, one half by one inch portion of top outer corner of front cover and title missing. (100.00)

Adams A: "Discourse on French mint. Superb Canadian with RR jetons, tokens and medals. Monroe, Johnson peace medals."

1569 ✣ Shafer, Neil. STANDARD CATALOG*/PROPOSED PHILIPPINE SECTION. (Racine), 1962. Original typescript. Cover sheet, twenty-nine 8.5 x 11 inch typewritten leaves, handwritten additions/corrections, added correction slips staples or taped on, back cover sheet. All stapled together at left edge. (also) Shafer, Neil. UNITED STATES TERRITORIAL COINAGE FOR THE PHILIPPINE ISLANDS. Racine, 1961. 63, (1) pages, text illustrations, ink annotations. Duodecimo. Original black leather-grained card covers, gilt. Very fine. (also) Shafer, (Neil). ORIGINAL GREATLY ENLARGED PENCIL DRAWINGS DEPICTING VARIETIES OF PHILIPPINE COINS. Eleven pencil sketches on nine stiff sheets of die varieties, many similar but not identical to those found in the 1961 work, accompanied by a sheet of pencil notes from Neil Shafer to John J. Ford, Jr. on 11 x 12 inch or smaller sheets. Very fine. (also) Five 4 x 5 inch photographic negatives in photographic envelopes dated January 11, 1960, depicting the Manila Mint, Figuera's coin designs, and a 1902 letter of Captain Taylor. Also present is Ford's carbon copy of a 1963 letter to Shafer, listing coins returned. (125.00)

An interesting assemblage of materials, apparently a new edition of Shafer's work, prepared for inclusion in the never-published nineteenth edition of the Standard Catalogue.

1570 ✣ Sheppard, T. & Musham, J. F. MONEY SCALES AND WEIGHTS. London: Spink & Son Ltd., 1923. (4), vi, 221 pages, text illustrations, handwritten slip recording "Marks on Weights" housed on rear pastedown a neatly executed 5 page typescript ruled in red comprising a "List of Makers' Names" bound in at end. Circa 1950s green cloth, spine a bit sunned, original decoratively-gilt panel laid on the upper cover, contents slightly browned as usual. Fine. (150.00)

Numismatic ex libris William Greenell Wallace. Clain-Stefanelli 16067. The scarce original edition of this still utilized work, featuring a useful index of makers presumably compiled by Wallace.

1571 ✣ Shiells, Robert. THE STORY OF THE TOKEN, AS BELONGING TO THE SACRAMENT OF THE LORD'S LAST SUPPER. New York, (1891) & Philadelphia, 1902. First & Second Editions. vi, (3), 10-170; xii, 9-196 pages, text illustrations, 9 plates of tokens in the second edition. 16mo & 12mo. Both volumes in the original blue cloth, gilt. Fine. (150.00)

First volume ex libris Long Island Historical Society. One of the few American works on Communion tokens. Both editions are scarce.

1572 ✣ Simmonds, Peter Lund. THE BRITISH ROLL OF HONOUR. A DESCRIPTIVE ACCOUNT OF THE RECOGNISED ORDERS OF CHIVALRY IN VARIOUS COUNTRIES, AND THEIR INSIGNIA, ALSO DETAILED LISTS OF THE BRITISH SUBJECTS (NOW LIVING) WHO HAVE BEEN ENROLLED IN THESE ORDERS. London: Dean and Son, (1887). viii, 560 pages, frontispiece and 2 additional chromolithographic plates, text illustrations, some full page, advertising front flyleaves, erraia slip tipped in. Original decorated red cloth, gilt, binding a bit soiled. Near fine. (100.00)
Mulder 1291. Clain-Stefanelli 15183: "Foreign orders awarded to British subjects."

1573 ✣ Smith, A. M. ILLUSTRATED ENCYCLOPÆDIA OF GOLD AND SILVER COINS OF THE WORLD; ILLUSTRATING THE MODERN, ANCIENT, CURRENT AND CURIOUS, FROM A. D. 1885 BACK TO B. C. 700. FINENESS, WEIGHT, FACE VALUE AND METAL WORTH. FULL DESCRIPTION WITH EXACT FAC-SIMILE OF OVER SIX THOUSAND COINS. NAME LISTS, STATISTICS, HISTORICAL DATA, FULL INDEX. TABLES FOR CALCULATION, REDUCTION, COMPARISON, &C. A FINANCIAL AND NUMISMATIC LIBRARY, COMPLETE IN ONE VOLUME. Philadelphia: Published by A. M. Smith, 1886. 511, (1) pages, superbly engraved frontispiece portrait of the author, delightful lithographic title preceding the printed title, numerous text illustrations. 25 x 19 cm. Original green cloth, upper cover decoratively stamped in black, spine lettered in gilt, chocolate brown endsheets. Very fine. (100.00)
A nineteenth century American numismatic bestseller, issued in a wide variety of publisher's cloth bindings, most incorporating on the upper cover, as here, Smith's delightfully engraved device of a portly Miss Liberty astride an eagle in flight, with a balance in one hand, dispensing coins from the horn of plenty from the other. Despite their plentitude, copies are rarely encountered in very fine condition as here. Primarily a wine merchant, Smith (born Anders Madsen Schmidt in Denmark) became interested in numismatics in the mid-1870s and published several numismatic works before this, his numismatic magnum opus, appeared. It may have been written to compete with John S. Dye's popular 1883 Coin Encyclopedia, and, judging from current availability, was at least as successful. A delightful feature of this work is the extensive use of reproductions of numismatic frontispieces and vignettes taken from early numismatic publications.

1574 ✣ SO-CALLED DOLLARS. A file folder, captioned in ink as cited, containing various reference materials, described below. (125.00)
Included are: seven original plate paste-ups, apparently Ford/New Netherlands productions, depicting both sides of nearly fifty so-called dollars in superb condition, including Teshe pieces; a John W. Haseltine "Centennial 1776-1876 Continental Dollar" advertising flyer, inscribed in pencil by Lyman Low: "Enclosed with catalogue of sale Dec 6, 7, 8, & 9th 1875"; a 1995 advertising flyer from Overton Coin Co. offering 1906 Zebulon Pike medals in silver and bronze, proofs and uncirculated, which "have lain in a U.S. bank for 49 years"; plus two news articles on the topic removed from The Numismatist.

1575 ✣ [Society of Army Historic Research]. THE JOURNAL OF THE SOCIETY OF ARMY HISTORICAL RESEARCH. VOL. I-VOL. IV. London, September, 1921-December, 1925. Four volumes complete. (2), 279, (1), 24; (2), 201, (1), (2), iv, (2), 52; (2), 280; (2), 232 pages, many text illustrations, including medals and gorgets, a number of plates, some folding, some in color. 25 x 16 cm. Matching contemporary blue buckram, gilt, bindings a bit discolored and worn but sound, internally fine. (125.00)
Titles of specific numismatic interest present here include E. H. Leslie's Medals which have been awarded to Women. British War and Medals and Decorations of Major-General Sir Alexander Dickson, and General Sir Collingwood Dickson; and H. Oakes-Jones serialized The Evolution of the Gorget. Of American interest is W. Y. Baldry's Hessian Troops in the American War of Independence.

1576 ✣ Society of California Pioneers. CATALOGUE OF GOLD, SILVER, COPPER, BRASS, BRONZE AND PORCELAIN COINS AND MEDALS, COMPOSED OF THE WELL KNOWN COLLECTIONS OF DR. SPIERS AND C. T. WARD, JR., BESIDES ADDITIONS FROM 1877 TO THE PRESENT TIME. THE COLLECTION IS COMPOSED OF THE MOST RARE AND VALUABLE MEDALS AND COINS OF ALL NATIONS FROM THE EARLIEST COINAGE OF THE ANCIENTS, DOWN TO THE PRESENT TIME. San Francisco, 1909. Second Edition. 153, (1) pages. Original gray card covers, a few minor faults. Very good. (100.00)
The best edition. Rare. An extensive catalogue of a major collection, placed on display at the San Francisco Mint by the Society. Perhaps the most famous coin, an 1804 dollar, turned out to be a silver plated electrotype. Newman & Bressett note that it was listed as a pattern in Adams & Woodin's 1913 work (A-W 26) "but properly delisted in 1959 in J. Hewitt Judd's revision."

1577 ◆ Sotheby's. [SS CENTRAL AMERICA]. TREASURE FROM THE SS CENTRAL AMERICA: GLORIES OF THE CALIFORNIA GOLD RUSH. New York, December 8-9, 1999 (postponed to June 20-21, 2000). 206, (2) pages, 250 lots, profusely illustrated, often in full color. Quarto. Original olive-green printed boards, lettered in white, pictorial endsheets, pictorial full-color dust jacket. As new, in the original shrink-wrap. (100.00)
Special Hardbound Edition.

1578 ◆ Spaulding, E. G. A RESOURCE OF WAR—THE CREDIT OF THE GOVERNMENT MADE IMMEDIATELY AVAILABLE. HISTORY OF THE LEGAL TENDER PAPER MONEY ISSUED DURING THE GREAT REBELLION. BEING A LOAN WITHOUT INTEREST AND A NATIONAL CURRENCY. Buffalo: Express Printing Company, 1869 (1875). Second Edition. iv, 32, (iii)-viii, (5)-213, (1), 104 pages, pencil annotations. Original russet cloth, sides paneled in blind, spine lettered in gilt. Very good or better. (100.00)
Quite scarce. Cooper Union New York ink stamp on title and elsewhere. A prominent banker, Elbridge Gerry Spaulding was elected to the House of Representatives as a Whig in 1849. Turning Republican, he was again elected to Congress in 1859. On December 30, 1861 Spaulding introduced into the House of Representatives a bill for the issuance of legal-tender treasury notes payable upon demand, thus acquiring the sobriquet "father of the greenbacks." His bill became law on February 25, 1862, authorizing the issuance of $150,000,000 of legal-tender notes or greenbacks. Spaulding's work is an in-depth account of the events surrounding introduction and passage of the law authorizing legal tender notes and the subsequent consequences. It provides much valuable background information for students and collectors of early federal paper money.

1579 ◆ Stack, Joseph B. & Morton M., Publishers. NUMISMATIC REVIEW: A SCIENTIFIC DIGEST PERTAINING TO COINS, MEDALS AND PAPER MONEY. NOS. 1-16. New York, 1943–1947. 706 pages, 164 plates, other illustrations. Sixteen numbers complete, as issued in fourteen. Quarto. Original matching printed cloth-backed gray card covers. Very fine. (100.00)
Publication of Numismatic Review was short-lived but it is a major source of useful information on a wide variety of numismatic topics. Edited by Thomas Ollive Mabbott, the Board of Advisors reads like a numismatic "Who's Who." Over three hundred brief monographs covering the entire range of numismatics are found in the pages of this interesting publication. The "Board of Advisors" included Agnes Baldwin Brett, Earle Caley, Howard Gibbs, Guido Kisch, Bruno Kisch, Lenox Lohr, Howard Newcomb, A. F. Pradeau, Jacob Spiro, Carl Würtzbach, J. W. E. Pearce, and Paul Tinchant.

1580 ◆ Stack's. [A. C. GIES]. THE A. C. GIES COLLECTION OF HALF DOLLARS. LISTING THE HAZELTINE [sic] & GIES VARIETIES, ALSO THE PRICES REALIZED AT THE PUBLIC AUCTION SALE ON SATURDAY, OCTOBER 19, 1940. New York, (1940). (4), 69, (1) pages, prices realized printed alongside each description. Original blue cloth, lettered in yellow. Near new. (100.00)
Limited Hardbound Edition of 100 copies. No. 38. August C. Gies (1855-1944) was a prolific collector. The Stacks described him as being "one of the most ardent students of numismatics," noting that "when this collection was described, Mr. Gies was the oldest living collector in the United States, having commenced his collecting activities in 1864."

1581 ◆ Stack's. [GEORGE H. HALL]. CATALOGUE OF GEORGE H. HALL COLLECTION OF UNITED STATES AND PIONEER GOLD, SILVER AND COPPER COINS. New York, May 15–19, 1945. 132, (4) pages, 2392 lots, text illustrations, prices realized, neatly handpriced in ink. Original brown cloth, gilt. Very fine. (100.00)
The Special Hardbound Edition.

1582 ◆ Stack's. [EMPIRE COLLECTION]. PRICED CATALOGUE. THE EMPIRE COLLECTION. UNITED STATES SILVER AND COPPER COINS. New York, November 12–15, 1957. 112 pages, 1916 lots, text illustrations, prices realized printed in red alongside each lot. Original deep crimson pebbled cloth, gilt, matching slipcase, sale prospectus laid in. As new. (100.00)
The Special Hardbound Edition. JOHN J. FORD, JR. impressed in gilt at base of upper cover.

1583 ✣ Stack's. [MILTON A. HOLMES]. THE MILTON A. HOLMES COLLECTION OF UNITED STATES, FOREIGN, ANCIENT GOLD, SILVER & COPPER COINS, PAPER MONEY. New York, October 5–8, 1960. 160 pages, 4135 lots, text illustrations, prices realized list bound in. Original deep crimson pebbled cloth, gilt, original printed card covers bound in. Very fine/near new. (100.00)
The Special Hardbound Edition. Inscribed on front flyleaf: "To John J. Ford, Jr. With our best wishes, (signed) Harvey G. Stack, Benjamin Stack, (and) Norman Stack."

1584 ✣ Stack's. [FAIRBANKS]. FAIRBANKS COLLECTION. UNITED STATES SILVER AND COPPER COINS. FEATURING A COMPLETE SET OF SILVER DOLLARS (1794–1935), INCLUDING THE 1804. New York, December 10, 1960. 48 pages, 698 lots, text illustrations, prices realized list bound in. Original deep crimson pebbled cloth, gilt, original printed card covers bound in. Near new. (100.00)
The Special Hardbound Edition. Inscribed on front flyleaf: "To John J. Ford, Jr., with our best wishes, signed/ Harvey G. Stack, Norman Stack, (and) Benjamin Stack." Scarce.

1585 ✣ Stack's. [JAMES. A. STACK]. UNITED STATES COINS. FEATURING THE JAMES. A. STACK, SR. COLLECTION AND OTHER IMPORTANT CONSIGNMENTS. New York, October 19-20, 1994. 167, (1) pages, 1615 lots, illustrated throughout, 20 color plates, prices realized list. Quarto. Original dark burgundy leatherette, gilt, original printed pictorial card covers bound in, translucent dust wrapper. As new. (100.00)
Special Edition Hard Cover Catalogue. Number 10 of 50, signed by Harvey and Larry Stack.

1586 ✣ Stautzenberger Anthony Joseph. THE ESTABLISHMENT OF THE CHARLOTTE BRANCH MINT: A DOCUMENTED HISTORY. Austin, 1976. First Edition, First Printing. viii, 90, (1), 91-186, (1) pages, occasional illustrations. Quarto. Original green cloth, gilt. Very fine. (also) Birdsall, Clair M. THE UNITED STATES BRANCH MINT AT CHARLOTTE, NORTH CAROLINA: ITS HISTORY AND COINAGE. Easley, 1988. xvi, 123, (1) pages, illustrated, 4 color plates. Quarto. Original blue cloth, gilt. Very fine. (150.00)
The first work is inscribed, "Thursday July 15, 1976. Dear Mr Ford, Jr.! I hope you enjoy reading my book with as much pleasure as it gave me to write it. With best wishes, Anthony Joseph Stautzenberger." The gilt printing on the red title panel of the second volume is "double-struck," a characteristic that John Ford apparently found more desirable than a "perfect" copy.

1587 ✣ Stephens, Stephen DeWitt. THE MAVERICKS: AMERICAN ENGRAVERS. New Brunswick, 1950. xx, 219, (1) pages, 14 plates, 2 depicting banknotes. Original black cloth, gilt. Near new. (100.00)
Wants and Important. Included are over one hundred detailed descriptions of bank notes engraved by the Mavericks

1588 ✣ Storer, Malcolm. ADMIRAL VERNON MEDALS, 1739-1742. Boston: Massachusetts Historical Society Proceedings, October, 1918-June 1919, Volume LII, 1919. xv, (1), 356 pages, portrait and other full-page plates, text illustrations, including a Manly Washington medal and an early broadside advertising it (the Storer work comprises pages 187-276 with a separate 16 page Key depicting 42 medals; pages 6-7 on the Manly medal are also by Storer). Original brown cloth, gilt. Very fine. (100.00)
Knox Numismatic Library ink stamp on half-title. Acquired 2/6/70 @ $25.00. Scarce and important.

A report by E. W. Hubard, from the Committee on Public Lands, on "the expediency of revising the law authorizing the issue of scrip upon Virginia land warrants, and of authorizing the reception of such scrip, and all other scrip issued by the United States, in fee simple, or in payment for, land or land claims, to be received in payment for lands subject to private entry in all land offices in the United States." An important source of information.

1596 • United States Secretary of the Treasury. REPORT FROM THE SECRETARY OF THE TREASURY WITH MONTHLY STATEMENTS OF THE AFFAIRS OF THE BANK OF THE UNITED STATES, AND OF THOSE STATE BANKS SELECTED AS DEPOSITORIES OF THE PUBLIC MONEY, IN COMPLIANCE WITH A RESOLUTION OF THE SENATE OF THE 5TH MAY, 1834. (Washington), December 9, 1834. 609, (1) pages, mainly tables. 23 x 15 cm. Handsomely bound in dark brown half calf, decoratively ruled in blind, one green and two tan leather spine labels, gilt, marbled endsheets, minor browning. Very fine. (125.00)
Acquired 2/2/78 @ $150, subsequently bound. Circular ink stamp of the Secretary of the Senate on first page. A treasury of detailed information on the operations and issues of the major state banks throughout the country, along with the Bank of the United States.

1597 • United States Treasury Department. HISTORY OF THE BUREAU OF ENGRAVING AND PRINTING, 1862–1962. Washington, D. C., (1964). xviii, 199, (1) pages, frontispiece, fine intaglio plate of color vignettes of the four Bureau of Engraving and Printing Buildings, fine intaglio plate of Lincoln, lithographic color coat of arms plate, text illustrations. Original pictorial cloth. Virtually as new. (100.00)

Clain Stefanelli 13614. Rare in this state of preservation. Published to commemorate the centennial anniversary of its establishment, this excellent history of the Bureau was printed in a relatively small edition and quickly went out of print. It is of considerable importance to numismatists and philatelists alike. The original edition, containing actual steel-plate printed vignettes, including one in colors, is far preferable to the reprint.

1598 • Valentine, D. W. THE UNITED STATES HALF DIMES. New York: American Numismatic Society Numismatic Notes and Monographs No. 48, 1931. (4), 79 pages, 47 fine double–page enlarged plates of coins. 16mo. Pebbled black cloth. Very fine. (100.00)

American Numismatic Society Numismatic Notes and Monographs No. 48. Inscribed in ink at base of title: "With best wishes, D. W. Valentine, Oct. 4–1931." Signed copies of this numismatic classic are virtually unknown.

1599 • Venn, Theodore J. LARGE UNITED STATES CENTS. A MONOGRAPH ON THE BIG COPPER "PENNIES" COINED BY THE U. S. GOVERNMENT FROM 1793 TO 1857. Chicago: published by the author, 1915. 31, (1) pages. Octavo: 23.5 x 16 cm. Original gray card covers decoratively tied at the spine as issued, covers a trifle sunned. Fine. (125.00)

One of only 100 copies issued.

1600 • Vermeule, Cornelius. NUMISMATIC ART IN AMERICA: AESTHETICS OF THE UNITED STATES COINAGE. Cambridge: The Belknap Press of Harvard University Press, 1971. xix, (1), 266 pages, well illustrated. Original black cloth, lettered in silver, dust jacket. Near new. An extract of Vermeule's overview of the topic, published in Museum Notes, 1976, is loosely laid in. (100.00)

A loosely laid in handwritten note from the author on a printed Museum of Fine Arts, Boston card reads: "To Charles Wormser, in remembrance of over twenty years friendship and with all best wishes, Cornelius Vermeule, Boston 25 May 1971." Clain-Stefanelli 12508*. An important, highly regarded publication; the only substantial work ever written on the topic. Curator of Classical Art, the Museum of Fine Arts, Boston and adjunct lecturer on Fine Arts, Harvard University at the time of publication. Vermeule's classical training and keen interest in numismatics are combined in this most personal work tracing the iconographic origins of United States coinage from its beginnings in 1792.

1601 • Vlack, Robert A. A CATALOG OF EARLY AMERICAN COINS. Anaheim, 1963. First Edition. (6), 4, (2), 6–10, (3), 12–17, (2) pages. Original printed pale green card covers lightly sunned. Very fine. (also) Vlack, Robert A. EARLY AMERICAN COINS. A COMPREHENSIVE LISTING WITH VALUATIONS OF EARLY AMERICAN COINS AND TOKENS USED IN THE AMERICAN COLONIES AND EARLY AMERICA, PRIOR TO THE ESTABLISHMENT OF THE UNITED STATES MINT ISSUE OF 1793, INCLUDING THE WASHINGTON ISSUES UP TO 1796. WOODWARD'S PRIVATE COLLECTION OF COIN CATALOGUES, AMERICAN AND ENGLISH, AND OTHER PAPERS AND PAMPHLETS, RELATING TO AMERICAN COINS AND COINAGE. New York, May 17-21, 1864. Cover title cited. 2 blank leaves, 160 pages, 2 blank leaves, 3122 lots, neatly priced throughout in red ink. 26 x 16 cm. Original printed pink wrappers a bit worn, soiled, and faded, internally fine. (125.00)
Adams A+: "Set of 6 Season medals. 1836 proof set. Proof 1797 50c. MS 1804 25c. Al. 1822 10c. Gem copper. Superb colonials. A landmark early collection, noted for its choice large cents and outstanding American colonial coins. The original printed wrappers—often not present in bound copies of the catalogue—are indispensable in that they provide the only title ever issued and, on the inside front and back cover, a detailed overview of the collection's significance, along with other interesting commentary.

1610 ✣ Woodward, W. Elliot. [LEVICK, EMERY, ILSLEY & ABBEY]. PRICED CATALOGUE OF AMERICAN COINS, MEDALS, &C., FROM THE CABINETS OF J. N. T. LEVICK, J. OSBORN EMERY, F. I. ILSLEY, AND L. H. New York, October 18-22, 1864. 155, (1) pages, 2942 lots, handpriced throughout in ink, buyers' names largely written in pencil. 24.5 x 16 cm. Original printed russet wrappers a trifle worn and dusty. Near fine. (150.00)

The Special Priced Edition. Very scarce. An exceptional sale, rated A+ by Adams and featuring a Brasher doubloon, the famous 1799 Abbey cent, rare quarter dollars, early proof sets, Washingtonia, and much more. The total of $9,780.16 was the second highest ever achieved by an American coin auction sale. Substantial buyers recorded herein include Levick, Bogert, Hodge, Hughes, Marshall, Zanoni, Edwards, Cohen, Strobridge, Appleton, Emery, Bailey, Lilliendahl, et al.

1611 ✣ Woodward, W. E. [JOSEPH J. MICKLEY]. PRICES AND NAMES COMPLETE. W. E. WOODWARD MICKLEY COLLECTION. LEAVITT STREBEIGH & CO.... (New York), October 28–November 2, 1867. 1616 ✣ Woodward, W. Elliot. [JOHN E. BURTON]. CATALOGUE OF JOHN E. BURTON'S COLLECTION OF AMERICAN AND FOREIGN COINS AND MEDALS, ANCIENT COINS, COIN SALE CATALOGUES AND FRACTIONAL CURRENCY. New York, October 26-28, 1881. 78 pages, blank leaf, 2034 lots, 2 fine heliotype plates. Original printed pale green wrappers a trifle worn and sunned, unopened. Fine. (150.00)
Thick Paper Copy. Adams A-: "Superb cents: discovery Sheldon 33. Complete 51. MS 1795 1c. MS 1804 25c. 1827 25c. 1650 pine tree." One plate illustrates large cents; the other depicts rare silver coins, along with a 1650 Pine tree shilling and 1652 sixpence, and a 1879 Goloid set.

1617 ✣ Wright, Benj. C. BANKING IN CALIFORNIA: 1849-1910. San Francisco: H. S. Crocker Company, Printers, 1910. 201, (1), ii pages, tables, 15 plates of financial institutions, including the San Francisco Mint. 23.5 x 16 cm. Original dark brown cloth, gilt. Near fine. (150.00)
An important source, featuring information on California gold, pioneer bankers and merchants, the U. S. Mint, including "The Big Fire and the Mint," etc. Apparently quite scarce.

1618 ✣ Wright, John D. THE CENT BOOK: 1816-1839. St. Joseph, 1992. (28), 335, (3) pages, coin enlargements throughout the text, 27 plates of coins with text, rarity table. Quarto. Original white cloth. As new. (100.00)
Inscribed: "For John J. Ford, Jr. — in hopes that you find it both entertaining and helpful — John D. Wright, 30 July 92."

1619 ✣ Wroth, Lawrence C. A HISTORY OF PRINTING IN COLONIAL MARYLAND, 1686-1776. Baltimore: Published by the Typothetae, 1922. First Edition. (2), xiv, (2), 275, (3) pages, facsimile plates. Original gray-green cloth, gilt, top page edges gilt. Fine. (100.00)
Ex libris John Clyde Oswald, printing historian and author. One of only 500 copies issued.

1620 ✣ Würtzbach, Carl. ORIGINAL HOLOGRAPH LETTER TO H. C. HINES, WRITTEN IN AMERICAN NUMISMATIC ASSOCIATION STATIONERY. Lee, May 21, 1915. Single sheet. 27 x 20.5 cm. Usual fold marks. Near fine. (100.00)
An interesting letter recounting B. G. Johnson's 1906 sale of the George Rice collection, written during Wurtzbach's tenure as a member of the American Numismatic Association Board of Governors. Betraying his German heritage, he employs the umlaut when writing his surname here, while the roster of officials on the letterhead omits it. Though parsimonious in his punctuation, this letter appears to be free of spelling errors, suggesting that the many found in his pictorial album of Massachusetts colonial silver coins issued many years later are attributable to others. Some punctuation has been added to the portions of this letter, cited below, to facilitate reading: "I have at last located that 99 over 98 cent; it was owned for years by George W. Rice of Detroit, an old time collector, and was the pride of his heart. His coins were sold Apr. 13-14 1906 by the St. Louis Stamp & Coin Co. at St. Louis. B. G. Johnson was manager at the time. I always thought his hobby was to put St. Louis on the map, numismatically speaking. At any rate, he made a mistake that time and Mr. Rice suffered accordingly, altho most of the coins were over described... I saw the cent at the time Mr. Smith compared it with his and I remember he was satisfied and did not bid on it. Also I think the Rice cent superior to the extent that the color is much better; perhaps Mr. Smith's was a trifle sharper struck." I thought perhaps you would be interested in partial pedigree. Glad you secured so many nice 94's. All of Rice coins sold low it nearly broke the old man's heart.

1621 ✣ Wyllie, Robert E. ORDERS, DECORATIONS AND INSIGNIA, MILITARY AND CIVIL, WITH THE HISTORY AND ROMANCE OF THEIR ORIGIN AND A FULL DESCRIPTION OF EACH. New York: G. P. Putnam's Sons, 1921. xxi, (3), 269 pages, 29 plates, some in color. Original blue cloth, lettered in black. Very fine/near new. (100.00)
Suetens 94. Clain-Stefanelli 15195.

1622 ✣ Young, James Rankin. THE UNITED STATES MINT AT PHILADELPHIA. ILLUSTRATED. Philadelphia: For Sale by Capt. A. J. Andrews, Odd Fellows' Temple, 1903. 96 pages, including 9 pages of advertisements at the end, numerous halftone illustrations in the text. Small quarto; 25.5 x 17 cm. Modern red and gray cloth, gilt, tears in a few blank margins neatly repaired. Very fine. (125.00)
An interesting work, apparently designed to take the place of the venerable Evans mint histories. Unfortunately, it did not meet with success. Only the one edition was published, and the initial printing must have been small. In reality, it was not a mint history but a pictorial record with brief accounts of the various Mint departments. Today, it remains useful as the only available source of detailed contemporary illustrations of the third Philadelphia Mint building, derived from photographs taken shortly after construction.

1623 ✣ Zay, E. HISTOIRE MONÉTAIRE DES COLONIES FRANÇAISES D'APRÈS LES DOCUMENTS OFFICIELS. Paris, 1892 & 1904. The principal work and the supplement, bound in one volume. (4), 380; 26 pages, text illustrations. Brown cloth, gilt. Fine. (100.00)

Ex libris American Numismatic Society Library; printed A. Kosoff label in upper left corner of front pastedown. Clain-Stefanelli 9023". Still widely used as a reference, the work was based on Zay's fine collection, donated to the Bibliotheque Nationale in 1908.

1624 ✣ Zieber, Eugene. HERALDRY IN AMERICA. Philadelphia: The Bailey, Banks & Biddle Company, 1909. Second Edition. 427, (1) pages, color frontispiece, numerous text illustrations, 8 plates, 2 in color. Original red cloth, gilt, all page edges gilt. Very fine/near new. (100.00)

A useful work, described by John Ford in the June 13-15, 1967 New Netherlands sale, as follows: "Invaluable to any serious numismatist interested in other than the regular coinage series. A book of extreme importance. The origins, development, and historical aspects of colonial to modern (nineteenth century) American Heraldry are explained and illustrated, and a Glossary is included that explains practically every heraldic term likely to be encountered. The chapter on Colonial Societies and American Orders complements the data given in the work by Hood & Young, while the data on American Seals (from British to Territorial and State), would be of use to the collector interested in such diverse fields as Colonial Paper Money and National Bank Notes."
